Death Valley

Few athletic arenas in sport have more tradition than Clemson's Death Valley. From rubbing Howard's Rock, to Running Down the Hill, to the exuberant 81,000 fans, Clemson Memorial Stadium is among the best facilities in the nation regardless of the level of play. One of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the nation, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened in 1942, and combines tradition with the modern conveniences of the 21st century to make Saturday afternoons in the fall a truly special occasion.

Clemson will play three ACC bowl teams in Death Valley during the 1997 season. Florida State, ranked #1 at the end of the 1996 regular season, Carquest Bowl participant Virginia, and '97 preseason top 10 ranked North Carolina will all come to Death Valley to highlight the home schedule in the months of September, October and November, respectively.

Clemson opens the 1997 season against Appalachian State on September 6, the first time the Mountaineers have come to Clemson since 1991, Clemson's last ACC Championship season. Clemson's first ACC game will follow on September 13 at N.C. State and the first league home game will be on September 20 when Florida State comes to Clemson.

Clemson's other two non-conference games will be October 4 against UTEP and at South Carolina on November 22nd. The visiting team has won the last six Clemson vs. South Carolina games. Clemson has won seven of the last eight meetings between the two teams in Columbia.

It will be Clemson's first-ever game against UTEP and first game against a team from Texas or from a team currently in the Western Athletic Conference since 1980 when Rice came to Clemson. Clemson will have one open date in 1997, on October 18th.

For the second straight year, Clemson will play four of its first six conference games on the road. For the sixth straight year, Clemson will play six games at home and five on the road.

The starting times for the first five games have been established, while the last six game's start times will be released 11 days prior to the game. Clemson already has one game on

The preseason personnel numbers document a firm foundation for the Clemson football program as it enters its 102nd season. Tommy West has labored many hours the last three years to bring Clemson the depth it had in the 1980s when he was an assistant coach for a program that had the third best winning percentage in college football for that decade.

Now in his fourth full season as head coach, Tommy West welcomes back a record 54 lettermen and 16 starters for the 1997 season. These are numbers that bring optimism for the coming season. Over the years, Clemson has won 81 percent of its games in seasons it has had 49 or more returning lettermen. Since 1970, Clemson has averaged 9.8 wins per season for campaigns that feature leadership provided by at least 16 returning starters.

Among the 28 returning lettermen on offense (most in the ACC) are Clemson's career rushing leader, the number-four ranked total offense leader in Clemson history and the first offensive tackle-guard duo in Clemson history to start every game as a freshman, sophomore and junior.

Among the 21 returning lettermen on defense are the school's number-six ranked tackler of all-time, and five of the top six tacklers from the 1996 defense that tied a school record for sacks (46). The Clemson team returns five players who were first or second-team All-ACC in 1996, the most returning All-ACC players for the Clemson program since 1990. That corp of team leaders will be a key to Clemson's drive for a third straight bowl, and fourth in the last five years.

Tommy West's program has made progress over his first three years, improving in the ACC standings from sixth to third to second, respectively. The Tigers have been in the national rankings each year and have played their best football at the end of the season in each campaign. West has an 8-2 record in November since he has been the head coach of the Tigers.

"I am looking forward to this season," said West. "Everyone has shown a great attitude towards the offseason workouts and comes into the Fall ready to compete. I think a positive attitude and healthy competition will be a strength of this team."

"Everyone will be competing for a starting position. My first year we had to move players around to positions they had never played before because we had a lack of depth in certain areas. The area we have progressed the most is probably in the offensive line."

"One preseason publication for 1997 ranked our offensive line third best in the nation. My first year here we were probably third from the bottom."

West was pleased with the progress his team made in Spring practice. "You always go into Spring practice trying to improve the fundamentals at each position and I feel we accomplished that," said West. "We created some depth and that is important as you head into a season. The secondary was the only area in which we had to create starters. We found some starters and then will create some depth in that area in the Fall."

"Our major accomplishment on offense was an improvement in the play-action passing game. We showed an ability to spread the ball around in our passing game." Three different tight ends caught passes in the Spring Game. "Defensively we improved our overall attitude. We had our motors running defensively in the Spring. They showed some pride in playing defense at Clemson."

West sees strengths and weaknesses on either side of the ball as he heads into his fourth full season. "I am happy where we are right now in terms of experience on both lines. We have five returning starters in the offensive line (counting the tight end position) and three of those players were all-conference last year. A fourth is going to be an all-conference player some day."

"Obviously having Raymond Priester back as our all-time leading rusher is a key for us. He has had a great career so far and we are looking for a great senior year from Raymond. He is one of the top players in our conference and in the nation."

At times it takes four opponents to bring down Priester, the only active player in Division I who holds his school's rushing record on a game, season, and career basis.

Greene is in the top five in Clemson history in completions, passing yardage, and percentage.

"Defensively we have some outstanding players in the front seven, led by Anthony Simmons, who is as good as there is in the country. We have some depth in the front, but are very shallow in terms of numbers in the secondary. Antwan Edwards had a solid sophomore year, but we must replace three other starters. We had only four scholarship players in the secondary for our Spring practice."

West will also be working with new coordinators on both sides of the ball this Fall. "I am very pleased with both coordinators. Steve Ensminger has outstanding credentials and has significant experience with successful programs (Georgia and Texas A&M).

"We hope to see improvement in the play-action passing game this Fall compared to last year. Steve and the quarterbacks made a lot of progress in that area last Spring. We are not going to revamp our offense, because we have done some good things offensively the last couple of years.

"But we want to show improvement overall and there are some new wrinkles in our approach. We will have the tight ends and running backs involved in the passing game more than in the past. That is the major difference, we will have more people catching the ball.

"What we are striving for is running the ball when we want to and throwing the ball when we want to. We don't want to be in the situation where we are throwing the ball because we have to.

"Reggie Herring, our defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach, has been on our staff for the last three years and is respected by everyone involved in our program. He knows our personnel and we look to continue our tradition of having outstanding defenses with Reggie at the helm.

"We expect to run well at the linebacker position and upfront. We can put some speed on the field in the front seven. We obviously need some cornerbacks to come on for us because we don't have a lot of experience in that area."

Overall, this is the most senior dominated team West has had at Clemson. "I feel good about this senior class. This is a special group for me because the seniors predominantly are players from our first recruiting class. They have been through some ups and downs, but know what it takes to be successful. I think this will be an outstanding group of leaders."

Offense

(8 Returning Starters, 28 returning Lettermen)

Clemson returns eight starters on offense, including players responsible for 70 percent of the rushing yardage, 100 percent of the passing yardage, 74 percent of the reception yardage and 63 percent of the scoring. Clemson led the ACC in rushing last year and ranked 27th in the country in that area.

The Tigers return five of the six starting offensive linemen, plus Doak Walker Award candidate Raymond Priester, the only active Division I player who is his school's rushing record holder on a game, season and career basis. With the arrival of Steve Ensminger as offensive coordinator, West hopes Clemson will improve its passing attack and become a more balanced team in terms of yardage.

Priester, a senior in his fourth year as a starter, had 1345 yards a year ago in 12 games, and averaged 5.2 yards per carry, quite an accomplishment considering many teams keyed on his every carry. He has accomplished 3,010 career yards, and is the pre-season ACC offensive Player of the Year according to The Sporting News.

"While all starting jobs are open to competition this Fall, it will take a heck of pre-season performance to take the starting tailback position away from Raymond Priester," said West with a grin. "Raymond is one of the best backs in the nation because he is so consistent. He gives maximum effort on every play in every practice.

"I don't know what I will do when Raymond leaves Clemson. He probably does as much for an offense as any player I have ever been around. Everyone loves Raymond, but I don't think everyone appreciates what he means to our program. He is a leader in many ways."

Crooks and Horne give Clemson two veteran wide receivers who rank in the top 15 in Clemson history in total receptions and yards per catch, respectively.

Priester, ranked as the fourth best back in the nation by the Sporting News preseason issue, closed the 1996 season strong with four straight 100-yard games, including 151 yards in the Peach Bowl against LSU, a performance that broke four Clemson records. He already holds nine Clemson records and needs just 149 all-purpose running yards to become Clemson's career leader in that category. He already owns the top two rushing seasons in Clemson history.

Joining Priester in the backfield should be sophomore fullback Terry Witherspoon. The native of Monroe, NC sat out last year, but was the biggest surprise of Spring practice. He had 120 yards rushing to lead all backs in the Spring Game and had a 159-yard performance in the next to the last scrimmage. The 6-0 240-pounder gives Clemson two power backs in 1997.

Returning letterman Sam Zanders suffered a torn ACL in Spring practice, but should return this fall. Zanders had 125 yards rushing and a 4.8 average in limited duty as a freshman. Travis Macklin is another returning letterman fullback who will see action. A first-year freshman or two will be in the running back picture this Fall.

Nealon Greene returns at quarterback with 29 starts under his belt. Seventeen of those starts have resulted in Clemson victories and the native of New Jersey has taken Clemson to a pair of top three ACC finishes and a pair of bowl games. He has been Clemson's starter in every game the last two seasons.

Greene has completed 54 percent of his passes in his career and has thrown for 3507 yards, fifth best in Clemson history. He is also fourth in Clemson history in career total offense and needs just 56 completions to become the Tigers career leader in that category. Last year Greene was third in the ACC in passing efficiency, as he completed 111 of 219 passes for 1446 yards and eight scores. He also ran for 190 yards and three scores.

Two red-shirt sophomores will compete with Greene this Fall. Billy Luckie played in five games a year ago and completed 14-23 passes for 184 yards, a 61 percent completion mark and an efficiency rating of 128. He suffered a shoulder injury in the Spring and played just two snaps in the Spring Game. Brandon Streeter played in three contests and threw just two passes last year, but had a fine Spring Game, hitting 7-11 passes for 95 yards. Streeter is a Dean's List student.

The Tiger signal callers have two receivers returning who have been starters over the course of a season at some time in their careers. Kenya Crooks led the Tigers in receiving last year with 30 for 444 yards. He caught a pass in every game a year ago, and now has 61 career receptions, 14th best in Clemson history.

Tony Horne averaged four receptions and 68 yards per game receiving in the five games he played last year. Horne is Clemson's big play man on offense, as he had eight catches of at least 20 yards and averages 16.8 yards a catch for his 50-reception career, 10th best in Clemson history.

Six more returning lettermen give the Tigers some depth at the wide receiver position. The list is led by Brian Wofford, a sophomore who had 15 catches for 141 yards, the second most receptions by a first-year freshman in Clemson history. Justin Watts had four catches for 37 yards in his freshman year, but tore an ACL and did not go through Spring practice. Mal Lawyer is also a sophomore who should figure in the wide receiver picture. He was the top receiver in the Spring Game.

The strongest area of the entire Clemson team might be the offensive line. All-conference performers Jim Bundren, Glenn Rountree and Lamont Hall give West a nucleus that should be among the best in the ACC. Bundren and Rountree have started 35 straight games together as a tackle and guard tandem, and they were a key reason Clemson averaged 240 yards a game rushing and 28.5 points per game over the last six games of the regular season. Bundren, who holds the Clemson record for career starts by an offensive tackle, was a first-team all-conference choice, while Rountree was a second-team choice. Both were first-team selections to the ACC All-Academic team.

Bundren has a chance to join Steve Fuller as the only players in Clemson history to be named first-team All-ACC on the field and in the classroom, twice.

"I feel a lot better about Jim and Glenn in our starting lineup than I did four years ago," said West. "We had to move them from defense to offense just to put 11 starters on the field in 1994. It has been fun to watch them improve each year. Now they are among the best at their position in the nation.

Wilson is one of the most underrated players in college football.

"They are total opposites. Glenn is very intense and emotional. When the game is exciting, so is Glenn. Jim is more consistent, but not as emotional. Both are players you appreciate when the game is over, because they have been giving their all on every play. When Raymond Priester has a 100-yard game, he usually has Jim and Glenn to thank first.

"John Latina should get a lot of credit for the improvement of our offensive line. He coached the entire line in 1994, our first year back at Clemson. He has brought that line along and now they are considered among the best units in the nation."

Hall had eight catches for 101 yards last year when he became the first Clemson tight end in 10 years to make an all-conference team. The native of Clover, SC, is an outstanding blocker. Also returning to start for another season in the offensive line are tackle Holland Postell and guard Zane Lewis.

Postell started every game last year as a sophomore and is a star of the future. He graded 83 percent in Clemson's win over NC State a year ago. Lewis moved into the starting lineup at midseason and Clemson's offensive improvement paralleled his insertion into the first team. Matt Butler is another player returning with significant experience as a starter and the junior is capable of playing guard or center.

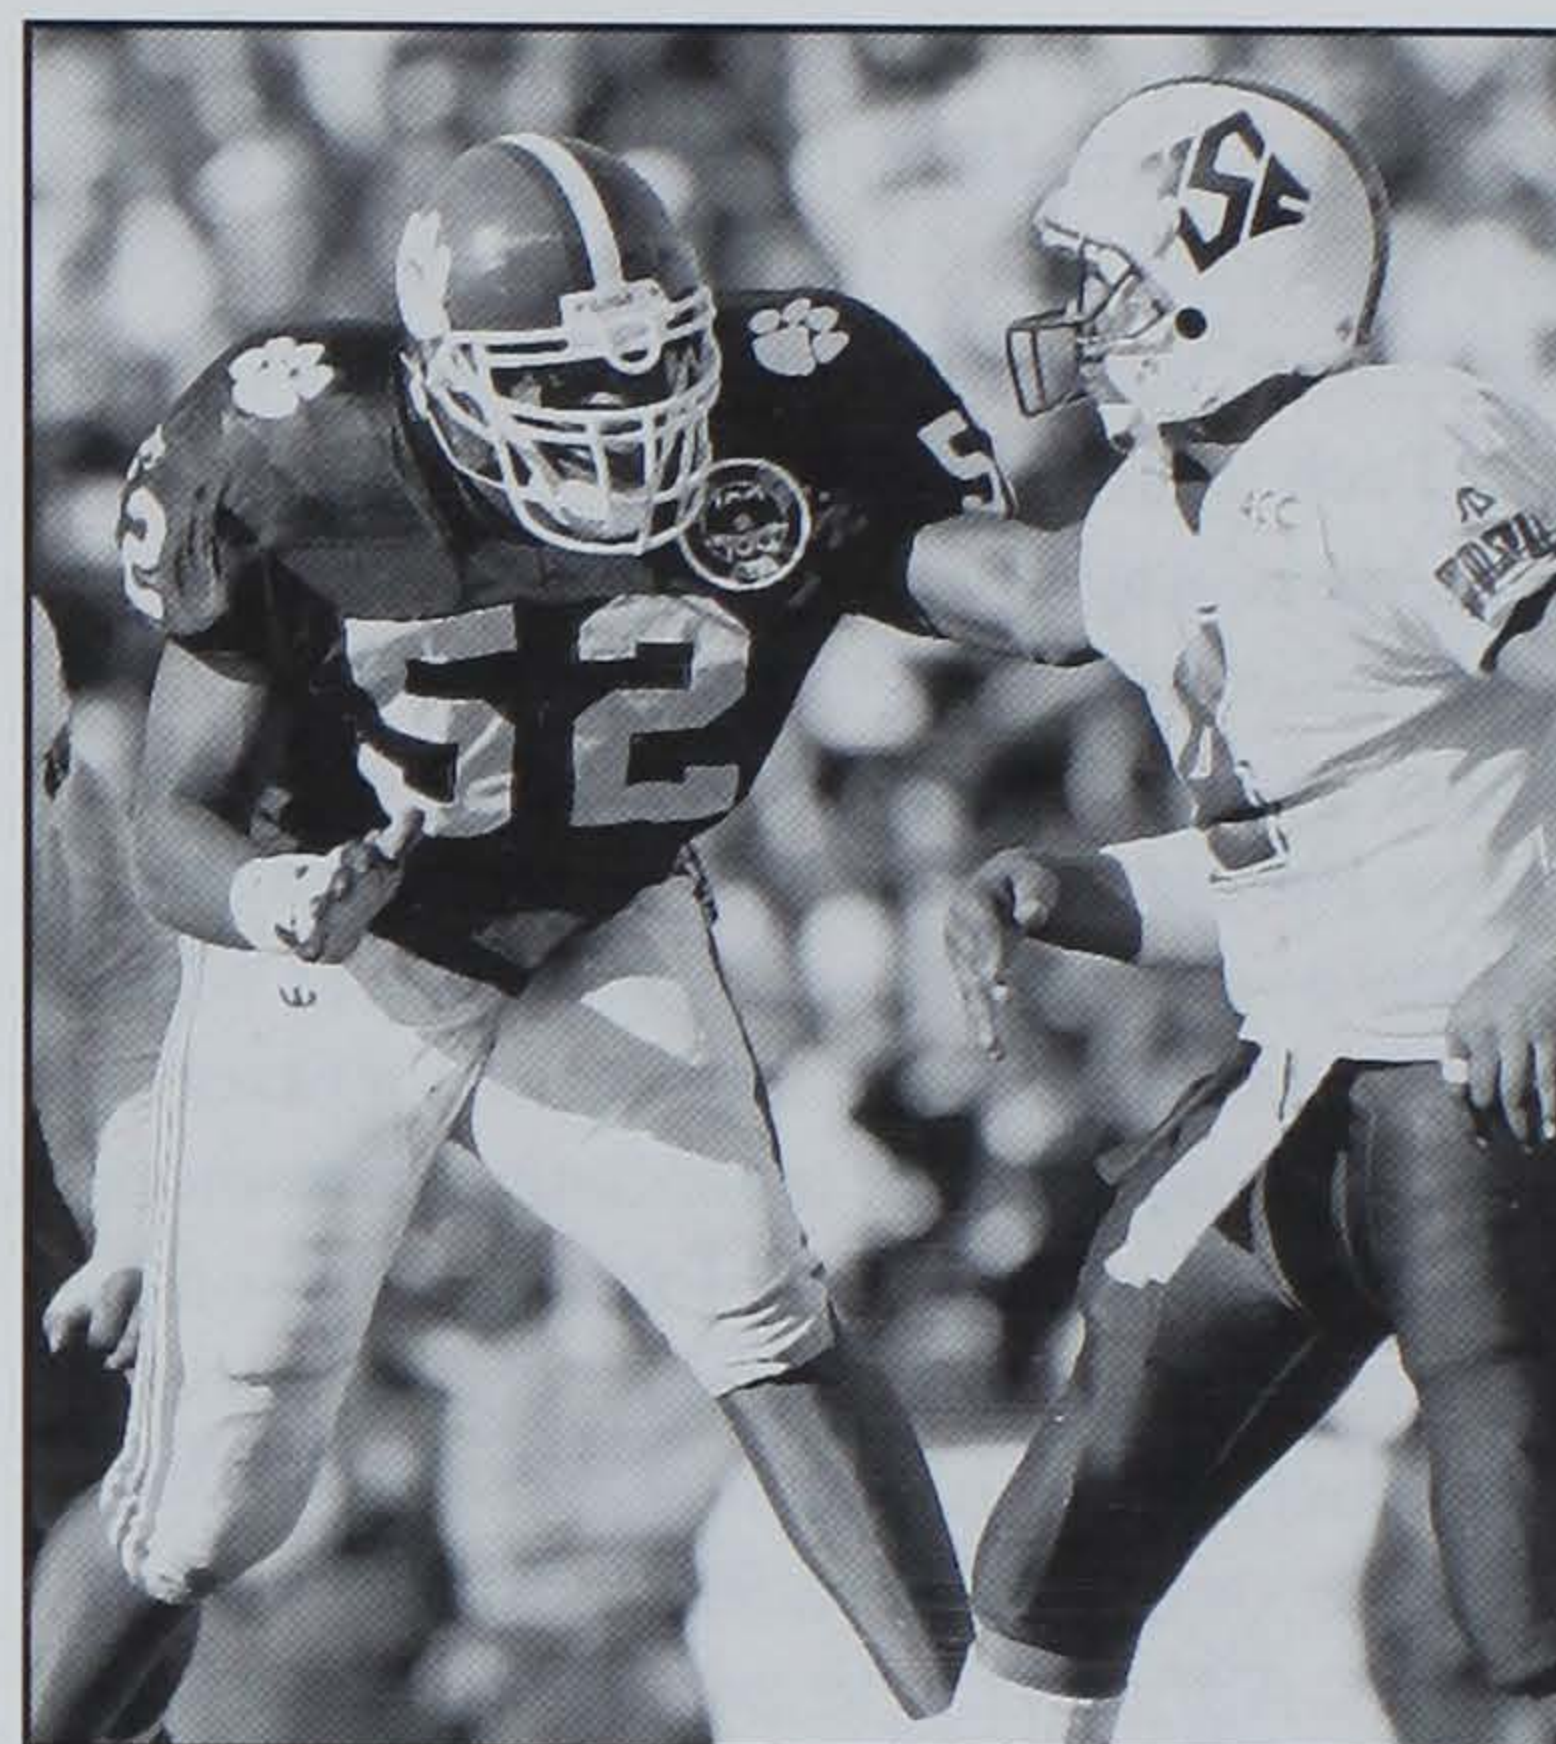

Jamie Trimble, a second-team All-ACC center a year ago, is the only starter missing off the offensive line. His place in the lineup should be taken by Ed Altman or Jason Gamble. Altman was a backup seeing significant playing time until he tore an ACL in the Wake Forest game. Gamble red-shirted last year, but was a junior college All-American two years ago. He is listed as the starting center heading into the Fall.

Defense

(6 returning starters, 21 returning lettermen)

Tommy West welcomes back five of his top six tacklers from a defense that held LSU to just 10 points and All-American Kevin Faulk to 2.8 yards per rush in the Peach Bowl. Clemson should be especially strong in the front seven where five starters returning, including first-team All-American Anthony Simmons.

"We have always been a defense that prides itself on stopping the run and that should be a strength of this defense," said West. "We have one of the best in the nation in Anthony Simmons. Like Priester on offense, Anthony Simmons' level of consistency is just amazing. He has never had a bad game for Clemson. He just enjoys playing the game."

Simmons statistics reflect West's appraisal. The 1997 Butkus Award candidate and preseason first-team All-American had at least 11 tackles in every game last year and in his two-year career he has had double figures in tackles in 21 of the 24 games. The junior inside linebacker from Spartanburg, SC already has the sixth highest tackle total in Clemson history (328) and he set the single season tackle mark last year with 178. That broke the record of 175 set by Clemson legend Jeff Davis, the captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team.

Simmons also ranked second on the team in sacks (7) and tackles for loss (16) last year and averaged a tackle every four plays he was on the field. He led Clemson in tackles in 10 of the 12 games and was a prime reason Clemson held nine of the 12 opponents under 140 yards rushing last year.

"We have had some great linebackers at Clemson and Anthony deserves to be considered among the best we have had. He has had only two bad practices and we found out after one of them that he was playing hurt and just didn't tell anyone. He comes to play every day and has the great instincts as well as the talent. He studies the game and is a very intelligent player."

Joining Simmons in the starting inside linebacker slot will be Mond Wilson. The senior has played in Simmons shadow the last two years, in fact the Sporting News 1997 preseason issue calls Wilson one of the most underrated players in the nation. In 1996 he had 130 tackles, an average of 10.8 per game, seventh best in the ACC. Simmons and Wilson became the first Clemson linebacker duo to exceed the 125-tackle mark in the same season since 1978. Both players had 18 tackles in Clemson's important win over Georgia Tech at midseason.

Also competing for playing time at inside linebacker will be Chris Jones, who had an injury plagued sophomore year, and sophomore Harold Means. Jones has averaged a tackle every 4.0 plays in his career, while Means had 17 tackles last year as a reserve. He was a high school teammate of Simmons at Spartanburg High. John Thompson is another returning letterman who will be a contributor at inside linebacker.

The outside linebacker position returns starters Adrian Dingle and Howard Bartley. Dingle had 68 tackles last year, sixth best on the team, and had 14 tackles for loss and six sacks. He came on strong last year, posting 13 tackles and four tackles for loss in the last two games combined. Bartley was the comeback player of the year on defense starting nine games and making 50 tackles coming off a torn ACL the year before.

Rahim Abdullah was a big play performer himself and is in fact listed as the starter ahead of Bartley coming into the Fall. He collected 11 tackles for loss and six sacks among his 36 total tackles last year. He had his best game of the season in the regular season finale against South Carolina when he had eight tackles and two tackles for loss. Also involved in the outside linebacker derby are Rudy Currie (19 tackles) and O.J. Childress (24 tackles). Both are also leaders of the Clemson special teams.

Clemson must replace two starters on the defensive front, first-round NFL draft choice

Plantin must step up to fill the void left by first-round draft choice Trevor Pryce.

Trevor Pryce (20 tackles for loss, 7.5 sacks) and Brett Williams (62 tackles, 8 tackles for loss). The leader of the down linemen in '97 is Raymond White, who had 94 tackles as a middle guard, most by a Clemson defensive lineman since 1991 and fifth most in Clemson history by an interior lineman. White's 94 tackles were third best on the team and among the top five in the ACC among defensive linemen.

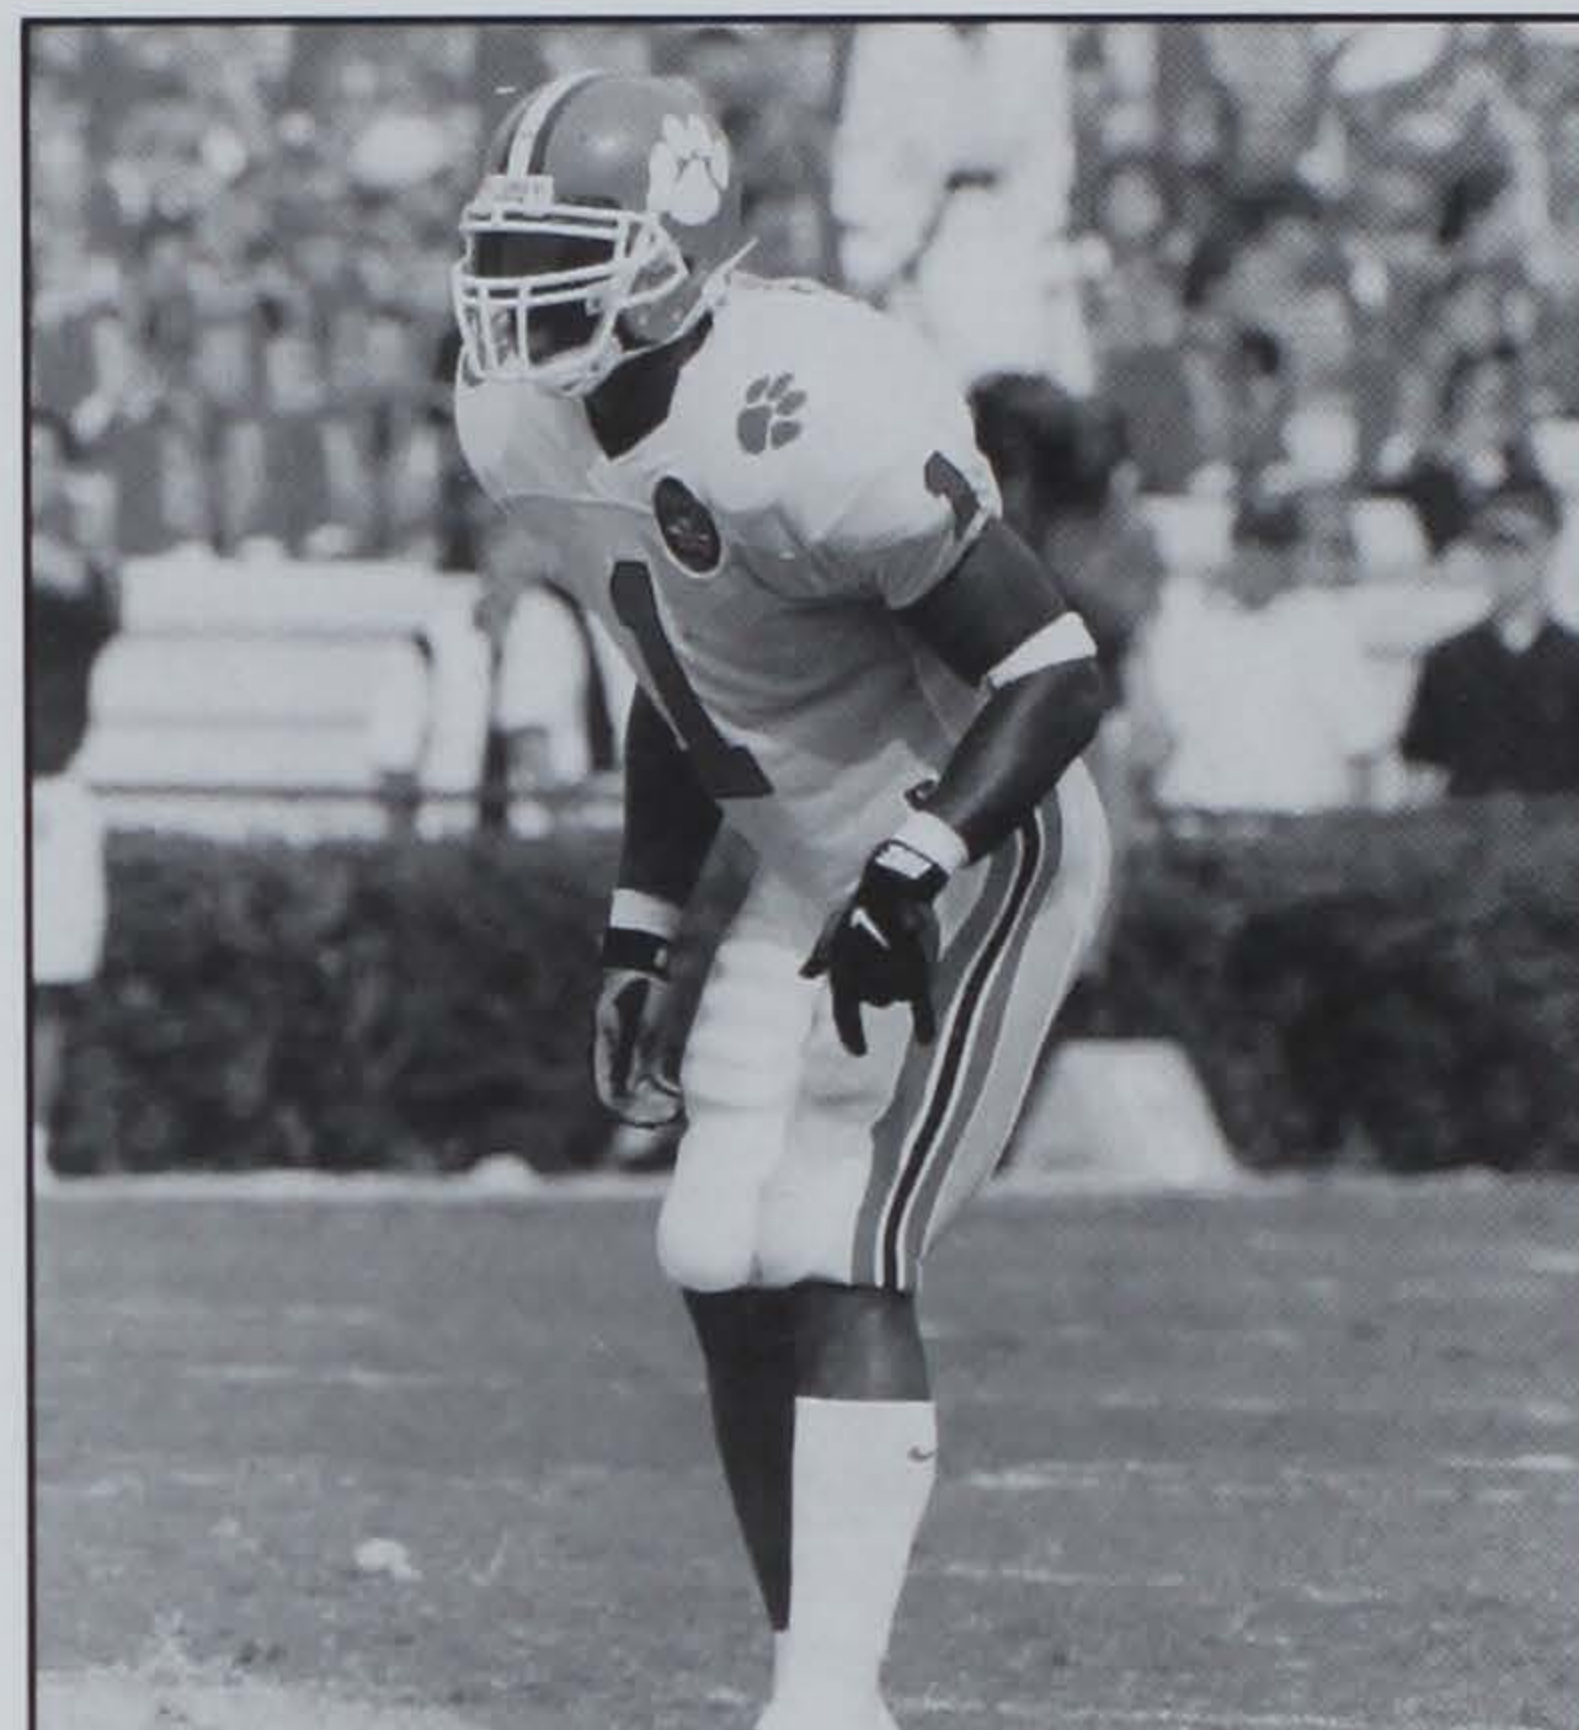

"Raymond White is the epitome of a student-athlete," said West of the lineman who will play his final season as a graduate student. "He gets as much from his ability as anyone on our team. He overachieves everywhere; on the field, in the classroom and in the weightroom. Every coach wishes he had more Raymond Whites on his football team."

Clemson has two backups from last year who should move into a starting role on the defensive line. Tony Plantin started four games last year and had 26 tackles, including four tackles for loss. An active down lineman, Plantin holds the Clemson single game record for quarterback pressures with seven against Duke in 1995. Lorenzo Bromell was an improving lineman as the year went on and finished with 19 tackles, including two sacks. He had an outstanding Spring, capped by a six tackle, three-tackle-for-loss performance in the Spring Game. Bromell is a junior college transfer, while Plantin is a true senior. Donald Broomfield is a two-year letterman who will also see significant time.

The Clemson secondary is the area that will need a lot of help when the freshmen report for practice in August. And, there is help coming as West had a top 15 recruiting year that features some outstanding defensive backs. West has only four veterans who have played in a game in the secondary. The leader of the secondary is Antwan Edwards, who had 83 tackles from a starting safety position last year. Edwards started every game and also had two interceptions, including a 58-yard return against South Carolina. Edwards ranked fifth on the Clemson team in tackles last season and is an all-star candidate.

"Antwan Edwards has gone from the youngster to the veteran in one year. He got off to a slow start last year because of an ankle injury, but this should be a big year for him. He needs to become one of the leaders of this team."

The other three returning lettermen in the secondary have just three career starts between them. Michael Allen is the most experienced with 230 plays and three starts last year as a safety. The all-around athlete, who is also an accomplished artist, had 13 tackles last year in his first year in the secondary. DoMarco Fox played 88 snaps last year in the secondary and had 15 tackles, while Damond Ward had eight tackles, all on special teams. Fox had a shoulder injury and missed half of the Spring. Ward was among the top tacklers in the Spring Game. Converted wide receiver Rod Gardner, a red-shirt freshman, will see time at safety, where his 6-4 frame should help him cover the deep ball.

Special Teams

Clemson returns both its starting punter and placekicker from 1996, the only ACC team that can make that claim. Kevin Laird had a 37.2 average on 69 punts, but had 24 boots inside the 20, a Clemson single season record. He had seven punts inside the 20 against LSU in the Peach Bowl, breaking Dale Hatcher's single game record, and he also set a Peach Bowl mark with a 63-yard punt.

Matt Padgett is the returnee in terms of placekicking. The sophomore had seven field goals in 12 attempts last year, including a 48-yarder in the win over NC State. He did not participate in Spring practice, as he is a starting outfielder on the Clemson baseball team. David Richardson, a senior from Clemson who was 2-3 last year, handled the chores last spring along with red-shirt freshman Ryan Romano. Michael Brice, a third letterman kicker last year, missed spring practice due to surgery, but he is expected to return this Fall.

Four players return who have experience in terms of kickoff returns. Tony Horne is the best in that area as he had a 26.5 average on eight returns in 1996. He and Antwan Edwards will be candidates to return punts.

Priester Sets Career Rushing Record Set 4 Records vs. LSU

Clemson tailback Raymond Priester established four school records with his 151-yard rushing effort in the Peach Bowl against LSU. The rising senior became the school's career rushing leader (3010), broke his own single season rushing mark (1345), set a school record for all-purpose running yards in a season (1460), and set the school record for 100-yard rushing games in a career (12).

It was the second straight year Priester had gone over the 1,300-yard mark. He is the first Clemson player in history to have a pair of 1,000-yard seasons in his career, obviously the first to do it in consecutive seasons. He went over the 1000-yard mark in 1996 on a 35-yard run in the fourth quarter against NC State in the 10th game of the 1996 season. Priester had 1322 yards in 1995 as a sophomore.

Priester closed the season with quite a "rush" as he had at least 122 yards in each of the last four games and averaged 139 yards per game during this time. He had 122 yards rushing at Virginia in Clemson's victory over the 15th-ranked Cavaliers, 146 against N.C. State and 137 against South Carolina. He concluded the season with seven 100-yard rushing games, tying the Clemson single season mark of seven set by Kenny Flowers in 1985.

Priester also showed his abilities as a receiver against N.C. State and South Carolina, gaining 30 yards on three receptions against N. C. State, and four for 39 including his first career receiving touchdown against South Carolina. He had 176 all-purpose yards against the Pack and against South Carolina.

While Priester gets a lot of the credit for his rushing total, he is the first to credit his offensive line. "Reaching 1,000 yards again was as much a team goal. The offensive line took pride in it because they are just as much a part of the accomplishment as anyone, especially Jim Bundren and Glenn Rountree who have started every game in the offensive line over the last three years."

Priester already holds or is tied for nine

Clemson rushing records on a game, season or career basis. He is the only active player in the country who holds his school's game, season and career rushing records.

He needs just 149 all-purpose rushing yards to become Clemson's career leader in that category (Buddy Gore, 3273, 1966-68) and he is approaching Terry Allen's record for rushing yards per game in a career. Priester has 86 yards per game and Allen had 89.6 between 1987-89. He also needs just 19 carries to break Gore's record for carries in a career. Gore had 600 and Priester has 582.

Simmons 6th in Career Tackles After 2 Years

While Raymond Priester set the Clemson single season rushing record against LSU, All-America linebacker Anthony Simmons was establishing the single season tackle record on the other side of the ball. Simmons had 14 tackles against LSU in the Peach Bowl, giving him 178 tackles for the season. He broke Jeff Davis's record of 175 tackles established in 1981, Clemson's National Championship season.

Simmons recorded a career high 20 tackles against South Carolina in the final regular season game and had at least double figures in tackles in every game in 1996. He was Clemson's top tackler in 10 of the 12 games. The LSU game was the 21st double figure game of his 24-game career. Simmons obviously also set the Clemson record for tackles per game in a season with 14.8. He led the ACC in tackles per game in 1996, after ranking third in the league as a freshman.

In 1996 as a sophomore, Simmons was named a first-team All-American by Sporting News and a second-team All-American by Football News. He was a third-team AP All-American as a freshman, the first freshman in Clemson history to make an AP All-America team.

Simmons now has 328 tackles for his career to rank sixth in Clemson history. He has the most tackles in Clemson history in a two-year period and is just 187 tackles short of the career record of 515 by Bubba Brown, set between 1976-79. Brown played four years.

Simmons already has more tackles than former Clemson greats Levon Kirkland, Michael Dean Perry, Terry Kinard and William Perry. In fact, Simmons already has more tackles than seven of the 11 starters on Clemson's Centennial team, which was announced this past September.

Simmons is the first player in Clemson history to reach 300 tackles just 23 games into his career. He averages 13.67 tackles per game for his career, the top figure in Clemson history by over two tackles per game. Bubba Brown currently ranks second on the per game basis with 11.2

Simmons had his 178 tackles on just 709 plays, or a tackle every 4.0 snaps. As a freshman the native of Spartanburg averaged a tackle every 3.94 plays. Thus, Simmons has averaged a tackle every series of downs over the first 24 games of his career.

Simmons had a career high four tackles for loss against Furman, including a pair of sacks. Including his 16 tackles for loss last year, he now has 27 tackles for loss for his career in just 24 games. No Clemson linebacker in history has averaged a tackle for loss per game over his career. In addition to leading the team in tackles, he also ranked second in sacks with seven.

Clemson Players Among Best According to Sporting News

Five Clemson players, led by first-team All-American Anthony Simmons, are ranked among the best at their position in the nation according to the 1997 preseason college football issue of The Sporting News. It also named Raymond Priester as the preseason offensive ACC Player of the Year.

Simmons, a first-team Sporting News All-American as a sophomore, is ranked as the number-one inside linebacker in the nation and is a member of the publication's preseason first-team All-America squad for the second straight year. The native of Spartanburg led Clemson in tackles each of the last two years, including a record 178 stops last season. Simmons has been named a 1997 preseason All-American according to Sporting News, Playboy, Game Plan, Lindy's and Football Digest.

Priester is ranked as the fourth best running back in the nation according to Sporting News in addition to his selection as the conference preseason Player of the Year on offense. The highest ranked senior running back in the nation, Priester is the only current running back in the country who holds his school's rushing record on a game, season and career basis. The only backs ranked ahead of Priester are Curtis Enis of Penn State, Kevin Faulk of LSU and Ron Dayne of Wisconsin. He is also a third-team preseason All-American according to Game Plan.

Clemson quarterback Nealon Greene is ranked as the ninth best all-purpose quarterback in the nation. Entering his fourth year as Clemson's starting signal caller, Greene is ranked in the top five in Clemson history in passing yardage, completions and completion percentage. He has 17 career wins as a starting quarterback entering this year.

Three other Tigers are ranked in the top dozen at their position nationally. Offensive tackle Jim Bundren, named a first-team preseason All-American by Football Digest and College Football Preview, is ranked as the seventh best offensive tackle in the nation. Bundren has started 35 consecutive games for the Tigers and is one of the reasons for Priester's record setting accomplishments. Defensive tackle Raymond White is ranked as the 11th best defensive tackle in America. Tight end Lamont Hall is ranked 14th among tight ends by Lindy's and is a second-team All-American by Game Plan.

In the ratings according to units, Clemson has two rankings. Clemson's linebacker corps is ranked fifth in the nation according to the Sporting News. In addition to Simmons, Clemson also returns the ACC's number-seven ranked tackler in Mond Wilson, junior inside linebacker Adrian Dingle and junior Howard Bartley.

Clemson's offensive line is ranked fifth best in the country by Lindy's. In addition to Bundren, Clemson returns All-ACC players Glenn Rountree and Lamont Hall and returning starter Holland Postell. The presence of junior college All-American center Jason Gamble also is a reason for the high ranking.

In picking its preseason All-ACC team, Sporting News named Priester, Bundren, Rountree, White and Simmons. Mond Wilson and punter Kevin Laird were named second-team preseason All-ACC.

Ensminger Joins Clemson Staff as Offensive Coordinator

Steve Ensminger, most recently the offensive coordinator at Texas A&M, was named offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Clemson in January, 1997.

I am excited to have Steve Ensminger join our staff," said Tommy West. "When I talked to other coaches about candidates for this job, his name always came up in the conversation. We are looking to improve our passing game and he has the credentials. He has had a productive passing game at every stop in his career.

"We have answered a lot of questions about the future of our offense with this announcement. We need to be effective throwing the ball. We have hired a proven quarterback coach."

Texas A&M averaged 404 yards per game in 1996, 230 a game rushing and 174 a game passing. The Aggies averaged 29 points a game for a 12-game schedule that included games against five ranked teams (BYU, Colorado, Kansas State, Texas Tech and Texas). The Aggies threw for over 2000 yards and had over 2700 yards rushing in 1996. Additionally, the Texas A&M offense had four rushers with over 600 yards and a receiver with 57 receptions for 872 yards. Starting Quarterback Brandon Stewart threw for over 1900 yards and nine touchdowns. The Aggies threw 27 passes per game.

Ensminger, a native of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, played for LSU, 1976-79. He was the MVP of the LSU team in 1979 and still holds two LSU passing records and played in three bowl games. When he concluded his career he ranked second in LSU history in passing yardage, just behind Bert Jones and ahead of Y.A. Tittle. He played in the CFL for the Hamilton TigerCats.

The 38-year-old has coached at Nichols State (Wide receivers, 1981-83), McNeese State (QBs/Wide Receivers, 1984-87), Louisiana Tech (Offensive coordinator, 1988-90), Georgia (passing game coordinator, quarterbacks, 1991-93) and Texas A&M (offensive coordinator/QBs 1994-96).

Ensminger was a significant reason Georgia quarterback Eric Zeier set 61 school and 11 SEC passing records between 1991-93. Georgia ranked ninth in the nation in total offense in 1992 with a 450.4 yards per game. The team was 10th in the country in scoring with 32 points per game.

Herring Named Defensive Coordinator David Bibee Added to Staff as Outside Linebackers Coach

Inside linebackers coach Reggie Herring was elevated to the defensive coordinator role, and David Bibee has been added to the Clemson staff as outside linebackers coach, Head Coach Tommy West announced on February 27th.

Herring has been the inside linebackers coach for the Tigers the last three years. He has already coached in three bowl games for the Tigers and has been to a bowl game 15 times in his career, three as a player at Florida State and 12 as a coach. Herring is the coach of current Clemson two-time All-American Anthony Simmons.

Herring also has coaching experience at Oklahoma State (1981-85), Auburn (1986-91) and TCU (1992-93). He was the defensive coordinator at TCU prior to his moving to Clemson. He was an All-American at Florida State and is a member of the FSU Hall of Fame.

Bibee has 17 years of coaching experience, including 10 years as an assistant head coach. In 1996 he coached the secondary at Tennessee Tech. His top player was Robert Taylor, who had nine interceptions and was named a first-team All-American.

Prior to his year at Tennessee Tech, Bibee served as assistant head coach and secondary coach at South Carolina between 1989-93. He was assistant head coach, secondary coach and recruiting coordinator at Appalachian State between 1984-88. Bibee also had coaching stints at Austin Peay (1981-83), Middle Tennessee State (1980), North Alabama (1979) and Mississippi (1978).

Bibee is a 1977 Tennessee graduate. He played quarterback and defensive back for the Volunteers, including two years with Tommy West. He played on two Tennessee bowl teams. The 41-year-old native of Bristol, TN was a star quarterback at Tennessee High school.

Eight Tigers Honored by ACC in 1996

For the second straight year eight different players were honored as first or second-team All-ACC by the Atlantic Coast Sports-writers Association. Offensive tackle Jim Bundren, defensive tackle Trevor Pryce and inside linebacker Anthony Simmons all were named first-team All-ACC. It was the first time for both Bundren and Pryce, while Simmons was named to the first team for the second straight season.

Simmons became just the second Clemson player in history to be named All-ACC as a freshman and sophomore. Terry Allen, star running back with the Washington Redskins, did it in 1987 and 1988. Simmons led the ACC in tackles with 178. Bundren, who has started 35 straight games, was a key reason Clemson led the ACC in rushing. Pryce was a two-time ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week selection and he led the Tigers in tackles for loss with 20.

Five Clemson players were chosen second-team All-ACC, including three on the offensive line. Center Jamie Trimble, who was a two-time ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week, Glenn Roundtree, who has started 35 straight games at guard, and tight end Lamont Hall, all made second-team all-conference. Hall is the first Clemson tight end to make an all-conference team since 1986 when Jim Riggs was chosen.

Raymond Priester was a second-team all-conference choice for the second straight year. Priester, who led Clemson in rushing in 11 of the 12 games, ranked second in the ACC in rushing. Dexter McCleon was the fifth Tiger chosen to the second team. McCleon tied for the team lead in passes broken up this year with six and had 44 tackles. He also led the team in punt return yards with 105.

Five of the eight first or second-team All-ACC players will return for the 1996 season.

Two Tigers on All-ACC Academic Team

Jim Bundren and Glenn Roundtree, two anchors of the Tiger offensive line in 1996, were named to the 1996 All-ACC Academic Football Team. Bundren was also named first-team All-ACC on the field and in 1997 will attempt to become just the second player in Clemson history to be an academic and on-field first-team All-ACC selection, twice. Steve Fuller (1977-78) is the only other Tiger to do it.

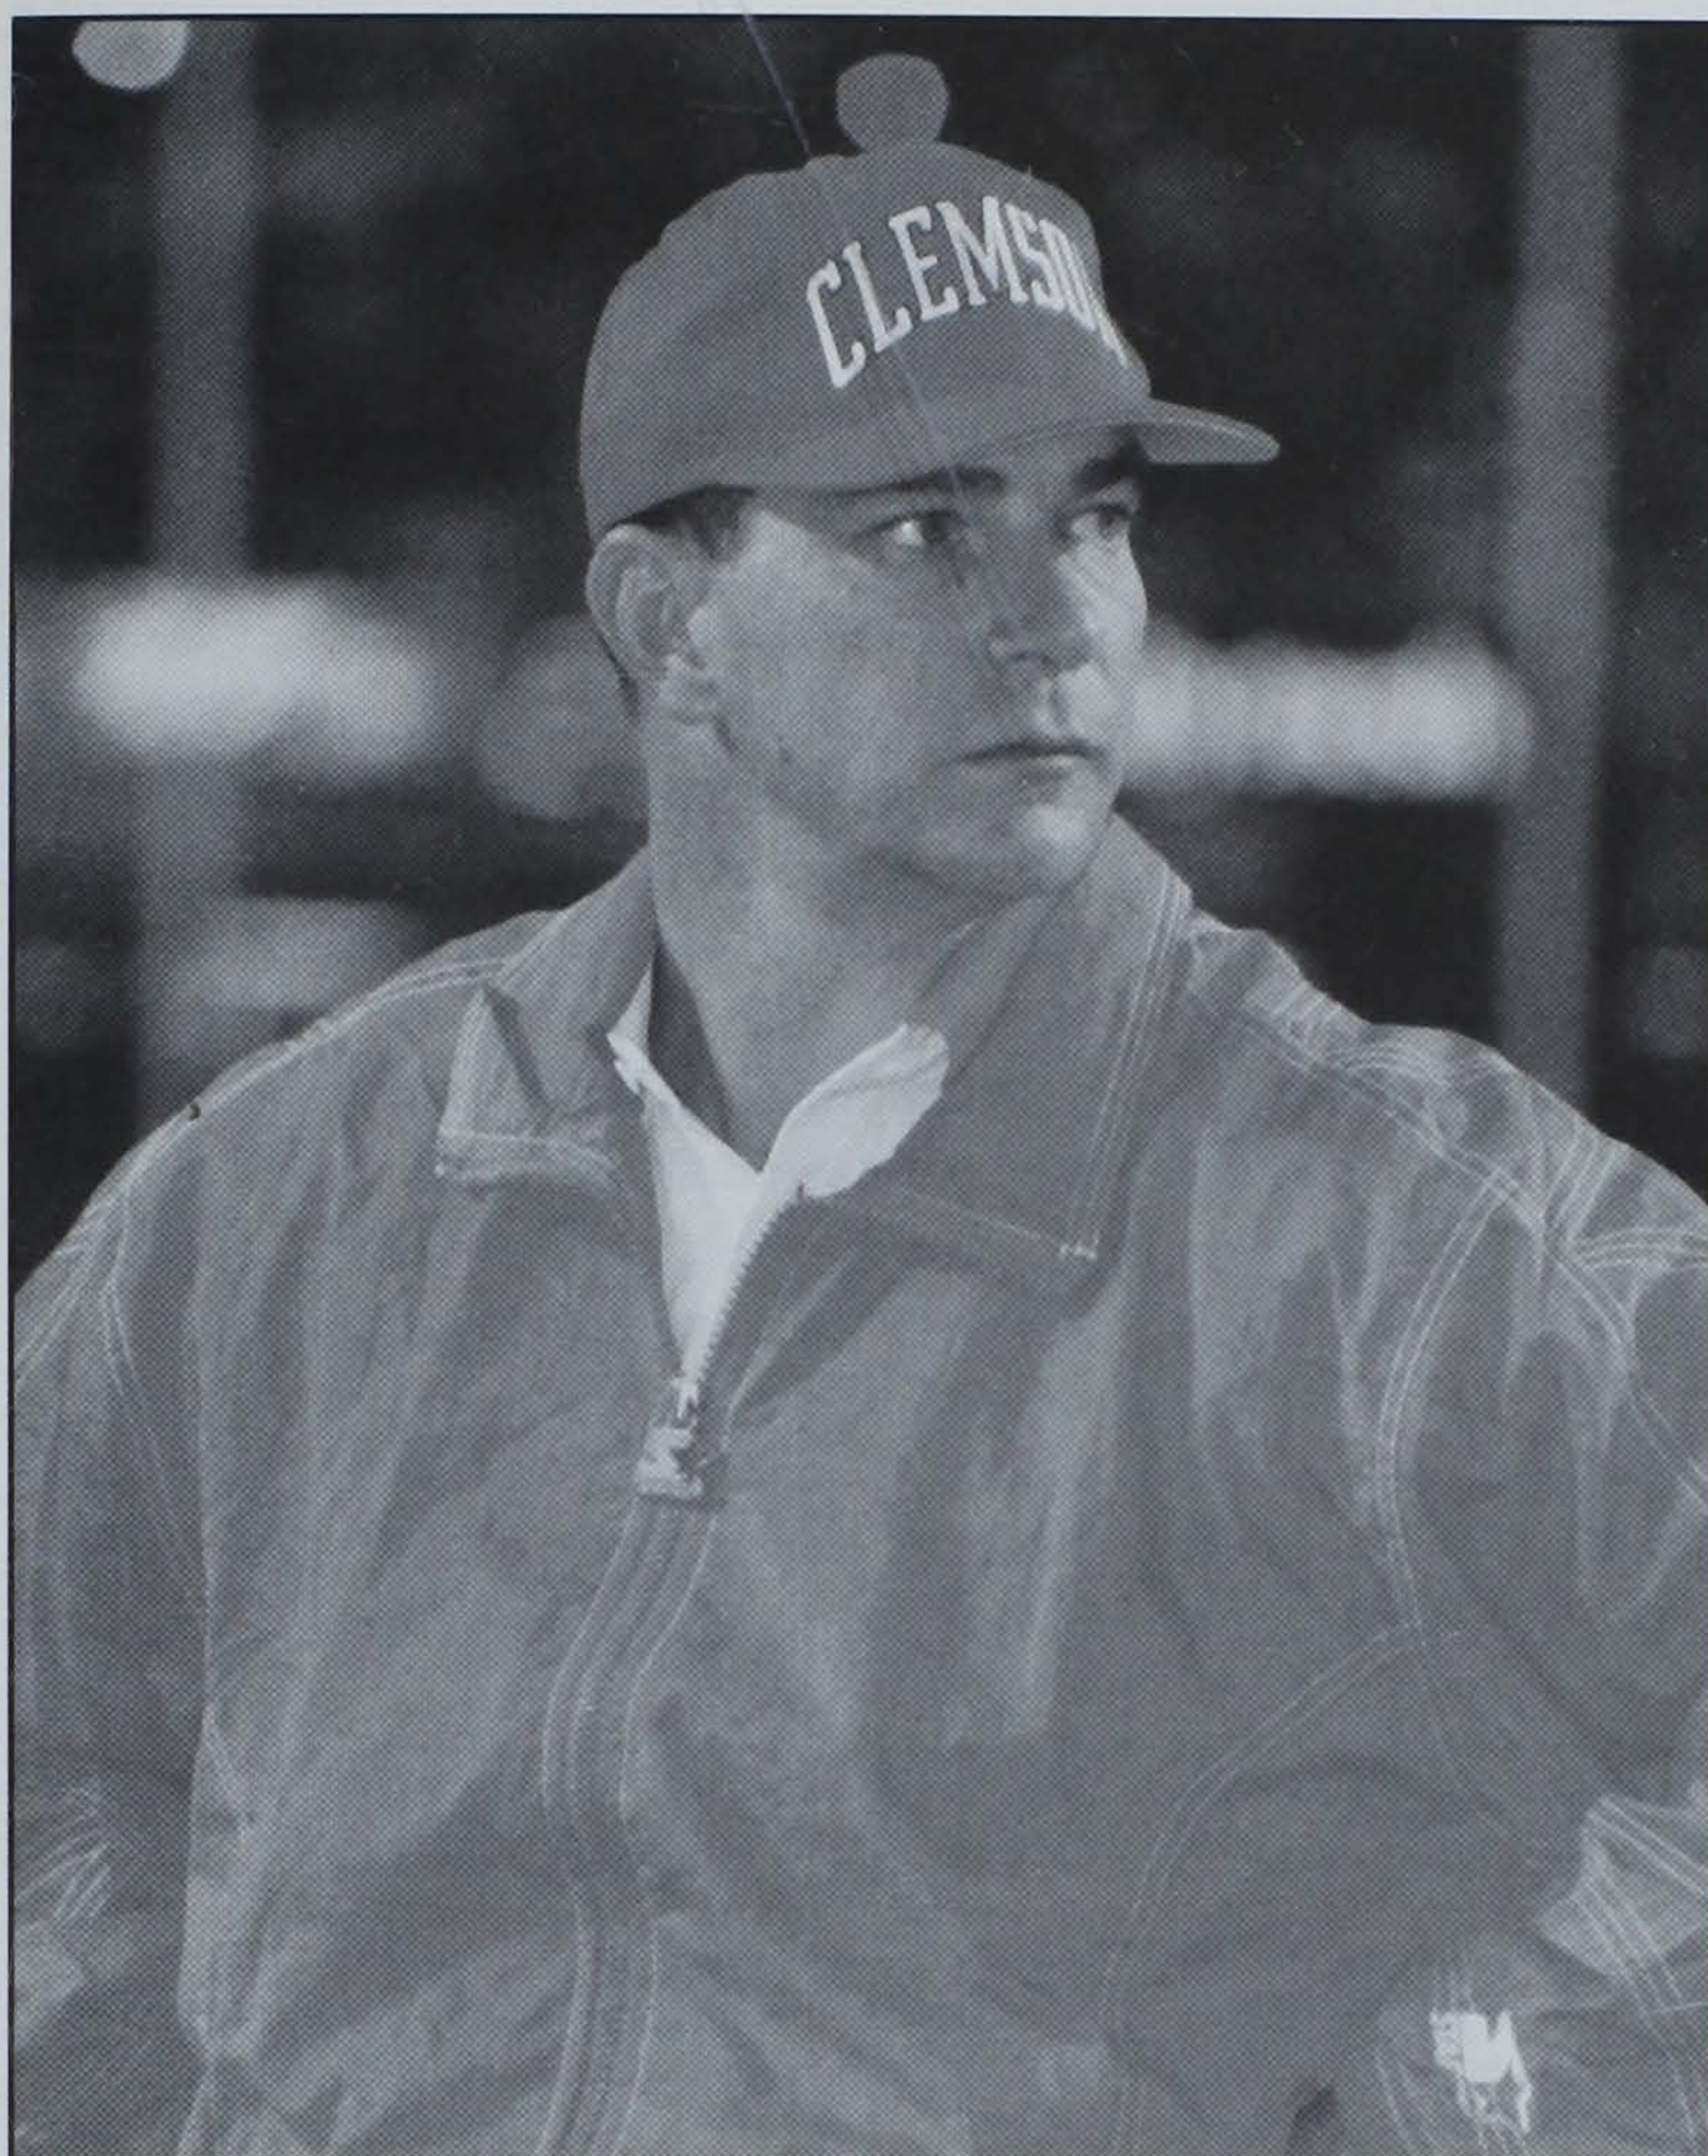

Roundtree, majoring in Agronomy, used his 3.69 overall GPA to make the 1996 All-ACC Academic squad. The senior from Suffolk, Virginia, was named a second team All-ACC performer in 1996 also, and, like Bundren, has started 35 consecutive games.

Clemson Bowl Experience

Clemson has now appeared in a bowl game three of the last four years, giving the Tigers a lot of players with postseason bowl experience. Entering the 1997 season Tommy West has 24 players on his roster who have played in two bowl games, including six players who have started in two bowl games.

Four players on offense, Jim Bundren (OT), Glenn Rountree (OG), Nealon Greene (QB) and Raymond Priester (TB) have started two bowl games. The two defensive players on the Clemson roster who have started two bowl games are Raymond White (DT) and Anthony Simmons (LB).

The 24 players who have played in two bowl games are divided evenly on offense (10) and defense (10), while four special teams players have appeared in two bowl games. In addition to the 24 players who have participated in two bowl games, 17 other active Tigers have played in one bowl game. Thus, 41 of Clemson's returning players have been in a bowl game.

Clemson Coaches Have Bowl Experience

Clemson's nine assistant coaches have coached in a combined 48 bowl games, including 25 games with Clemson. Les Herrin has the most bowl experience with the Tigers among the active assistants. Clemson's assistant head coach has been to seven bowls with the Tigers, while wide receivers coach Rick Stockstill has been to six bowls with the Tigers.

Defensive coordinator Reggie Herring has the most bowl game experiences on the current staff. The Peach Bowl was his third bowl with the Tigers, but his 12th overall. Herring has been to 15 bowls as a coach or player.

Turnovers, Rushing Margin the Key

Turnover margin and rushing margin have long been cited as the key stats by Clemson coaches and we have the stats to prove it, in 1996 and over the long term. In Clemson's last victory against N.C. State, Clemson had just one turnover on offense and forced four defensively, thus coming away with a +3 turnover margin. Clemson also outrushed N.C. State, 291-77.

Clemson was 7-0 last year and 17-1 under Tommy West when it wins the turnover margin and rushing margin in the same game. The only loss took place at Duke in 1994, a contest in which Clemson had a +1 turnover margin and won the rushing game, 127-60. Duke still won 19-13.

Since 1977, or 20 years, Clemson has an incredible 106-6-2 record in games in which it wins the turnover margin and the rushing margin. That is a 94 percent winning percentage.

100-Yard Rusher, 200-Yards Rushing

Clemson had both a 100-yard rusher and over 200 yards rushing as a team against South Carolina, yet lost the game, an unusual occurrence for the Tigers over the years. Raymond Priester had 137 yards rushing against the Gamecocks and Clemson rushed for 240 as a team, yet lost 34-31. Since 1980, Clemson is 73-14-1 when it has a 100-yard running back. When it comes to a 200-yard game for the team, Clemson was 5-1 last year and 105-16-4 since 1980, including a 38-7-1 record in the decade of the 1990s.

Tigers Over Last Six Regular Season Games

Clemson has been a good team down the stretch under Tommy West. Clemson won five of its last six regular season games after starting 2-3 in 1996. In 1995, Clemson got off to a 3-3 start, then won its last five regular season games. In West's first year the Tigers were 2-5 at the start, then won three of their last four games.

The Tigers were 3-1 in November last year and Clemson is 8-2 in the month during West's career. Included are a pair of road wins over top 15 teams, at North Carolina in 1994 and at Virginia in 1996. Actually, October 17 seems to be the magic change day for Clemson football. Maybe it has to do with the leaves changing or something. But, since 1988, Clemson is 41-12 in games played after October 17, a .777 winning percentage. Clemson is 32-20-1 in games played before October 17 since 1988, a .613 winning percentage.

Simmons-Wilson Provide One-Two Punch

Clemson has one of the best one-two punches in college football at the inside linebacker position. Rising junior Anthony Simmons and rising senior Mond Wilson both had at least 130 tackles for the season, the first time since 1978 that Clemson had a pair of linebackers with at least 130 tackles. That season Bubba Brown had 170 and Randy Scott had 134.

In the 1997 Sporting News preseason issue, Wilson is listed as one of the top 20 under rated players in the nation.

Simmons accomplishments have been well documented. He had at least 11 tackles in every game last year and has had at least double figures in tackles in 21 of the last 24 games. Simmons had 178 tackles last year, an all-time Clemson record, while Wilson had 130.

Wilson has played in Simmons shadow the last two years, but he had seven double figure tackle games last year, including a career high 18 tackles in the win over Georgia Tech. He led Clemson in tackles against NC State with 12 and also had an interception and a tackle for loss. Wilson and Simmons combined for 36 tackles in the Georgia Tech game, 18 apiece.

Clemson vs. Ranked Teams

Clemson added another ranked victory to its growing list of big wins with the win at Virginia last November the second ranked win for the Tigers in 1996. The Tigers defeated 22nd ranked Georgia Tech on October 19th to gain another ranked victory. Virginia was ranked 15th when the Tigers gained the win at Charlottesville, Clemson's third road win over a ranked team in the 1990s.

Clemson has had 17 wins over Top 25 teams in the last 10 years and has had at least one ranked win in nine of the last 10 years. Clemson had a streak of nine straight years with at least one ranked win broken in 1995.

At the time, only Miami (FL) had a streak as long.

White Had 94 Tackles

Raymond White moved from defensive tackle to middle guard last year and he adjusted very well to the change. The junior had 94 total tackles last season, third on the team and fifth best in Clemson history for a defensive lineman. His total for last year was two better than Jeff Bryant had in an All-America season of 1981. White's total was the most by a Clemson defensive lineman since Rob Bodine had 108 in an All-American 1991 season. White was outstanding late in the season and had double figures in three of the last six games, including 10 against South Carolina in the regular season finale. He had a career high 12 tackles in two of the last five games, against Georgia Tech and Virginia. He was a key to Clemson holding both C.J. Williams of Georgia Tech and Tiki Barber of Virginia to under 3.3 yards per carry. The two had just 141 yards in 48 attempts between them.

The Virginia game was the third time last year that White had a double figure tackle effort. The native of Mississippi had 11 tackles in the victory over Wake Forest. He had at least six tackles in each of the last 11 games and has averaged 9 tackles a game over the last nine contest.

White, who was named a first-team Strength All-American last year, became the first middle guard to have double figures in tackles in a game since the 1993 North Carolina game when Carlos Curry had 10 tackles. White's 12 tackles against Georgia Tech and Virginia were the most by a Clemson middle guard since 1991 when All-American Rob Bodine had 13 against Georgia Tech.

Greene Over 4000 yards Total Offense

Nealon Greene moved ahead of DeChane Cameron into fourth place on Clemson's career total offense list in the Peach Bowl. He now has 4228 yards for his Clemson career. He became just the fifth player in Clemson history to reach the 4000-yard mark when he had 213 yards of total offense against South Carolina.

Greene now ranks in the top five in Clemson history in total offense, passing yardage, completion percentage, interception avoidance, and completions. He needs just 10 completions to move ahead of Steve Fuller on the all-time completions list and needs just 22 to become the third Tiger in history to reach 300 completions. Rodney Williams is the all-time leader with 333. Greene, despite injury, has started 27 straight Clemson games and the Tigers are 17-10 in those 27 contests. He has an overall record of 17-12 as a starting quarterback at Clemson.

White hopes to improve on his near record-setting performance in 1996.

Alumni, Famous

Who are the most famous Clemson alumni. Certainly, Senator Strom Thurmond, a member of the class of '22 who also ran cross country at Clemson, would have to be among the most famous former Tigers. This past Spring he became the longest serving senator in United States history when he broke the record of 41 years, nine months and 30 days set by the late Carl Hayden, a Democrat from Arizona. Thurmond's career in the Senate began in 1954 when he won as a "write-in candidate", a feat that has yet to be matched. He has won a seat in the Senate eight times.

Thurmond, at 94, probably won't break the House record of 53 years that was set by Jamie Whitten, a Mississippi Democrat. With his victory last November establishing another six-year term, Thurmond will be 100 at the end of this term. He still follows the Clemson Tigers and you never know when he might come by the press box and tap you on the shoulder while the game is in progress.

South Carolina Governor David Beasley is a Clemson alum. He played baseball for the Tigers in 1976 as a reserve outfielder. He has been known to frequent Clemson baseball games in recent years, including 1995 when he threw out the first ball of the season opener.

A former Tiger who is moving up the famous ladder is Jane Robelot, now with CBS news in New York. Those of us in the Sports Information Office are especially proud of Robelot because she is a former SID office student assistant. Look in some old press guides and you are liable to see Jane in the background keeping stats at basketball games.

If you are a collector of video tapes of Clemson games, check out ESPN's telecast of the 1982 Clemson Spring Game. Just prior to the game, a young lady runs on the field to stop the game. That's Jane. She was just following instructions from the producer, who was still in the commercial. Most people would have gone to the referee. Jane figured if they couldn't snap the ball, the game couldn't begin. That's Jane, go right to the source.

Now she is in New York as the primary host of the CBS This Morning Show, weekdays from 7:00 AM to 9:00 AM.

Antonio, John

This man holds a special place in the hearts of Tiger fans and in the pocketbooks of sports marketing entrepreneurs. Antonio invented the Tiger paw, the distinctive logo of the Clemson athletic teams that has become synonymous with this University's athletic success. Antonio was an innovative account executive with Henderson Advertising in Greenville, and prior to the 1970 season, unveiled the Paw as Clemson's new logo. It has shown up all over the country on items owned by Clemson fans. Many institutions with a feline as mascot have used the logo, or an impression of it.

Antonio also came up with the phrase, "Fly the friendly skies of United," when he worked for the Leo Burnette Agency in Chicago. "I've never had a logo or an emblem copied as much as the Tiger Paw," said Antonio, now 67 and living in Greenville.

Antonio still remembers the day he made the presentation of the Tiger Paw to Frank Howard, then the Clemson Athletic Director. "He wasn't saying much at all," recalled Antonio in an article in the Greenville News by Alyce Atkinson on Feb. 16, 1997. "I kind of thought I was losing this fight." At this point Antonio pulled out an orange football helmet with a tiger paw painted on the side.

"Coach Howard's eyes got as big as saucers and he smiled. From there it was downhill. Coach Howard wanted that helmet." Those Tiger paws are still on the Clemson helmets today.

Athletics and Academics

The Clemson athletic department provided more than $1 million in financial support to University programs and operations during the 1996-97 fiscal year. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund was the recipient of over $200,000 during the year. The fund was created to help meet the need for more non-athletic academic scholarships to the university.

The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund, one of the largest academic endowments at Clemson, surpassed the $3.5 million mark during the 1997 Spring semester. More than 30 students who are not athletes, are benefitting from the fund. The money for the fund comes from several different sources, but it is all raised by activities of the athletic department, including player-of-the-game contributions, as well as matching gift contributions.

The athletic department made a $100,000 gift for computer equipment in the New Student Center in 1996. Additionally, the athletic department contributed $200,000 towards an innovation in teaching Award that is sponsored by the student government. Over the last nine years, athletics has contributed more than $11 million in financial support to Clemson University.

Attendance

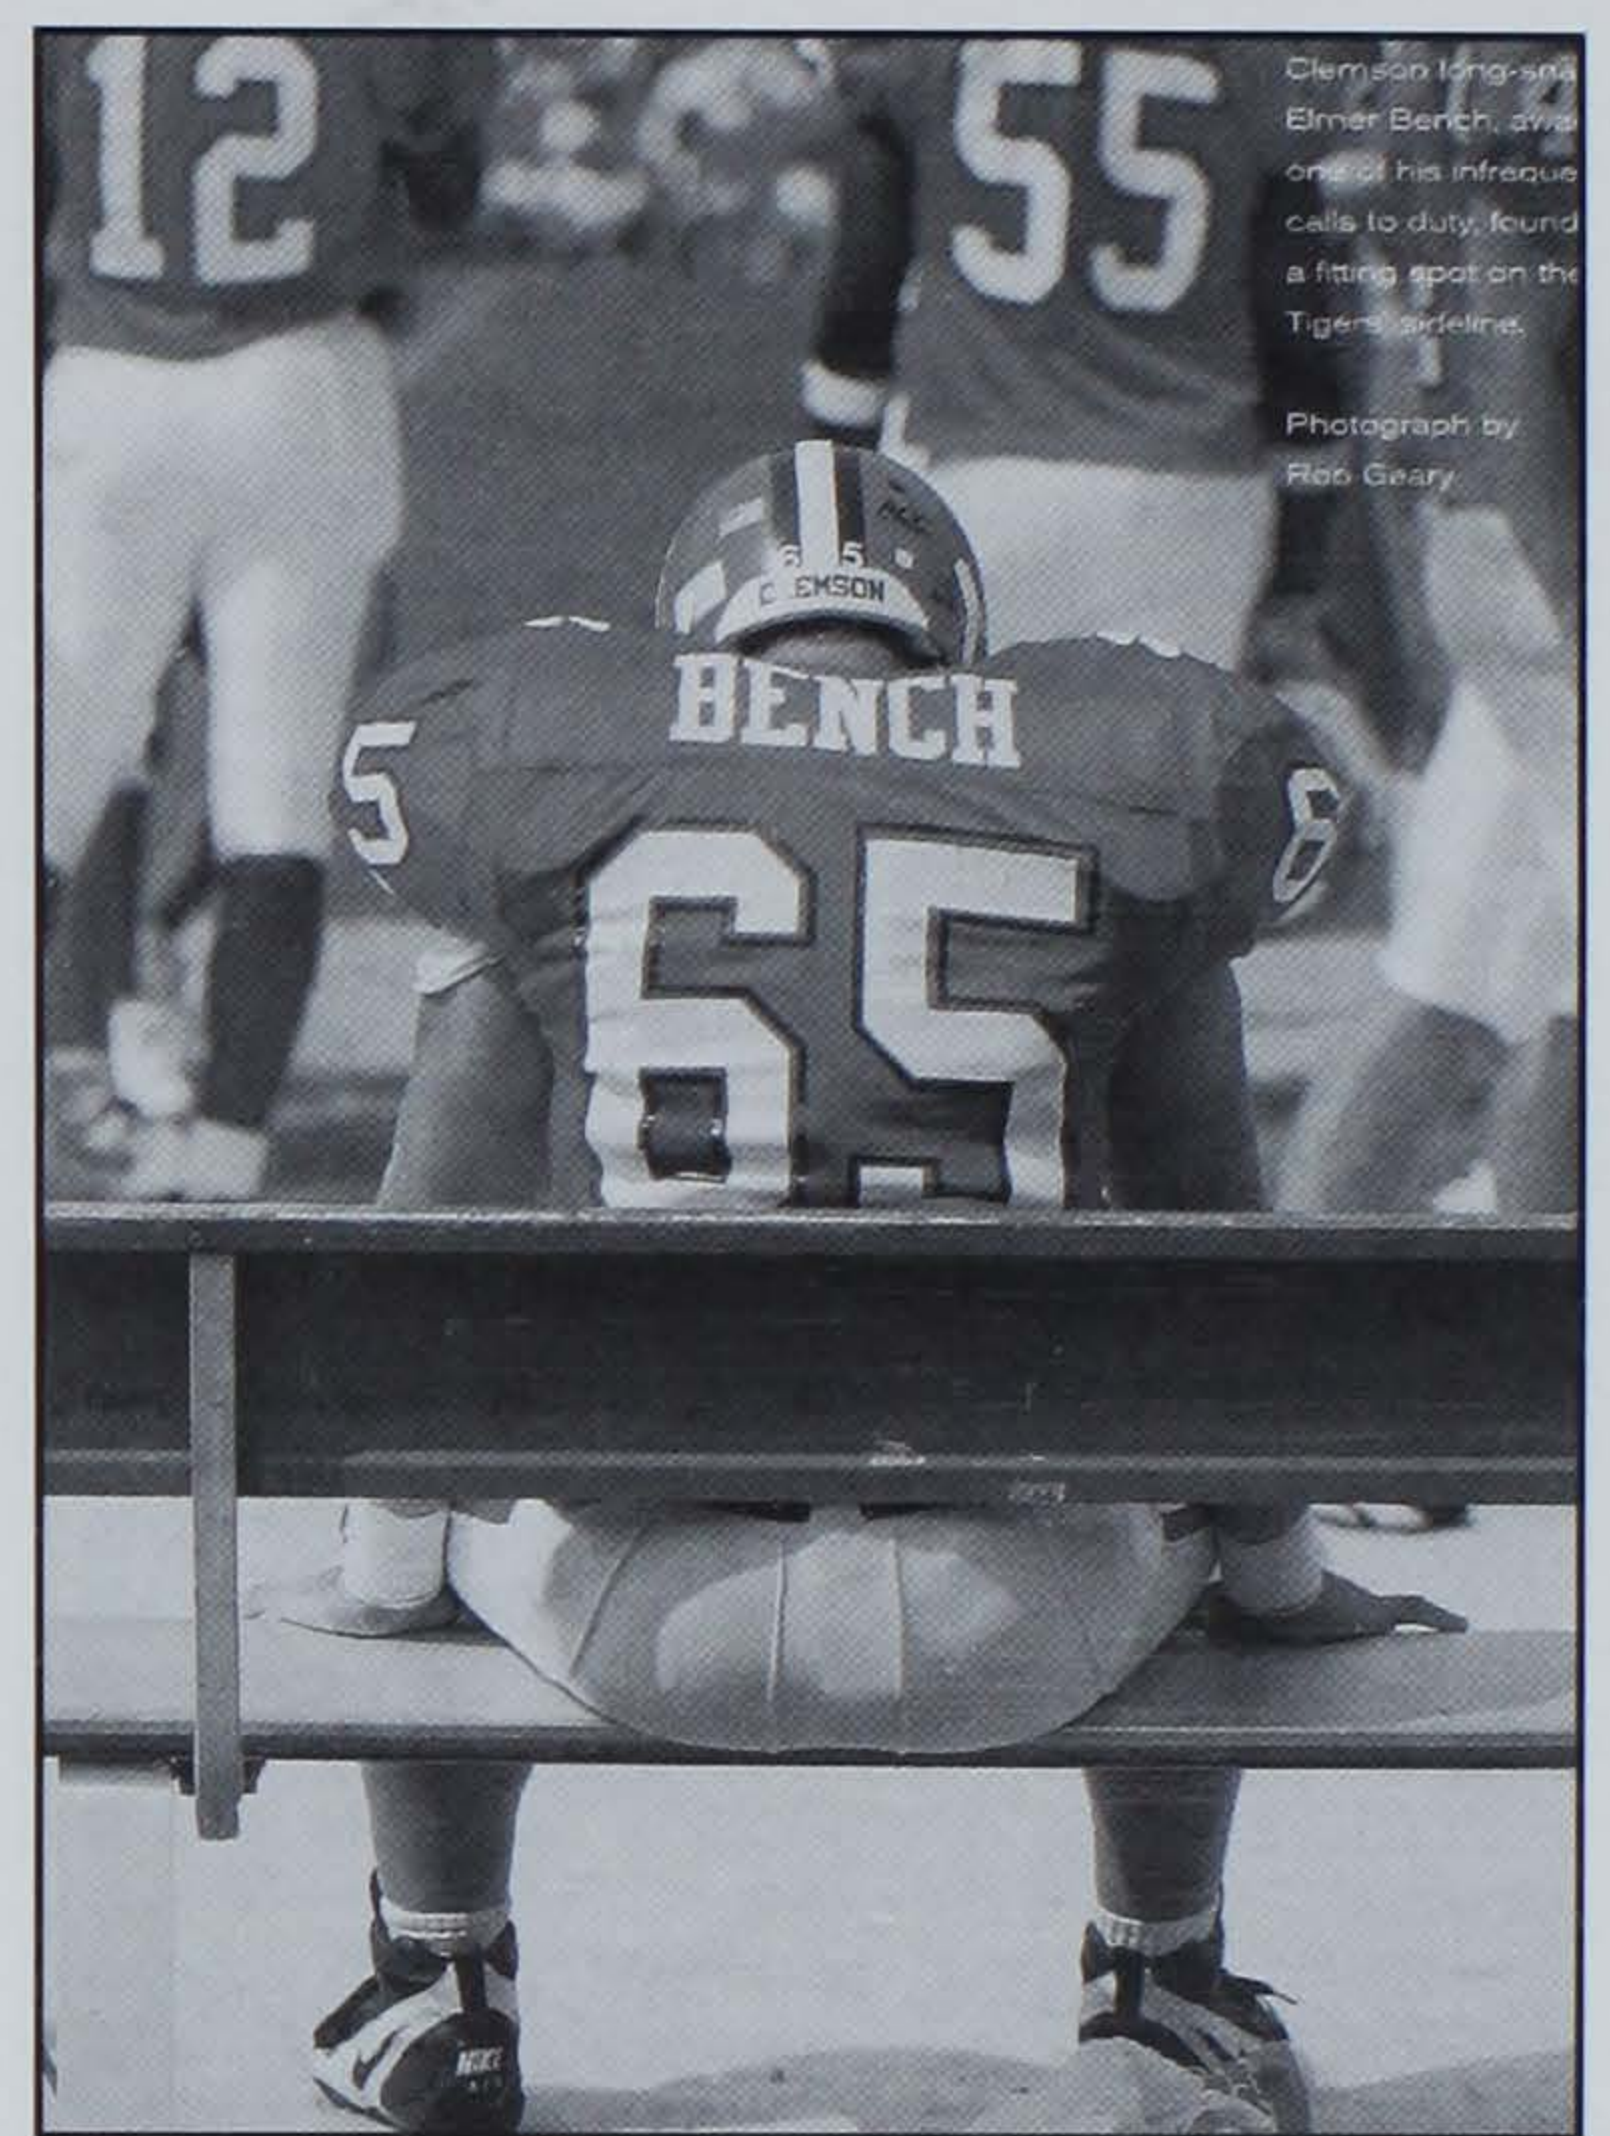

Clemson ranked 18th in the nation in average football attendance last year with an average of 67,232. It marked the 14th straight year that Clemson ranked in the top 20 nationally in attendance. Clemson has a seating capacity of 81,474, but with standing room we are capable of going over the 85,000 mark. The record crowd was set in 1994 for the South Carolina game when 85,872 attended the game.

Auburn Series

Clemson and Auburn, two Southern Football powers who have not met on the gridiron since 1971, will play a four-year series starting in 2005. The four-year contract will feature two games at Clemson and two at Auburn. The 2005 and 2007 games will be held at Clemson, and the 2006 and 2008 contests will be played at Auburn. All four games will take place on the first Saturday in September and are currently slated to be the season opener for each school in each season.

The teams last met in 1971 when a fifth-ranked Auburn team led by Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan, handed Clemson a 35-13 defeat. Auburn has won the last 11 meetings between the teams. All of those contests were played between 1952-1971.

Clemson's last victory over the War Eagles took place in 1951, a 34-0 Clemson triumph. It gave Clemson five wins in six outings against Auburn between 1946 and 1951. The 34-18 Clemson win in 1947 over Auburn featured the greatest quarterback performance in Clemson history. Bobby Gage threw for four touchdowns and gained 374 yards in total offense, both Clemson single game records, in the Tiger triumph. The following year Clemson won 7-6 in Mobile, a key victory in Clemson's drive to a perfect season in 1948.

Bench was the subject of a full page picture in Sports Illustrated's Review of College and Pro Football.

The first three coaches in Clemson football history were Auburn graduates. Walter Riggs, Clemson's first head coach and later University President, was Clemson's coach in 1896 and 1899 and was an 1893 Auburn graduate. William Williams, Clemson's mentor in 1897, was an 1896 Auburn grad, while John Penton, Clemson's head coach in the fall of 1898, had graduated from Auburn in the previous spring.

Bench, Elmer

Clemson has the most famous long snapper in college football. Elmer Bench is in his fourth year as the walk-on snapper and he handles his job very well. He is one of the reasons Clemson has ranked among the best in the nation in field goals and punting over the last three seasons. He is the first four-year starting snapper in Clemson history.

As a walk-on Bench is not the most publicized player on the Tiger team. But, in last year's Sports Illustrated Presents The Year in Pictures NFL and College Football, Bench was featured in a full page photo. The image of Bench sitting on the bench was of particular interest to Rob Geary, the photographer, and the editors of the magazine.

Calhoun, John

This Senator from the state of South Carolina proposed a bill in the house in 1955 making it a state law that Clemson and South Carolina had to meet in football once a year.

Clark, Dwight

One of the great pro football success stories belongs to Dwight Clark. A Clemson Tiger between 1975-78, the wide receiver was a starter in 1977 and 1978, but still caught only 33 passes for his entire career. He was a key contributor on the 1978 ACC Championship team that was 11-1 and ranked sixth in the final poll, but he was never even second-team All-ACC.

The San Francisco 49ers drafted him in the 10th round in 1979 and he was a surprise squad member in that season. Then Clark and Joe Montana started working together and before you knew it Clark was leading the league in receptions and was a pro bowl starter. He concluded his career as the 49ers all-time leader in receptions with 506, reception yards (6750) and touchdowns (48), marks Jerry Rice has since broken.

Today, Clark is the 49ers' coordinator of football operations/player personnel. Some of his touchdown receptions weren't as long as that title, but his job does allow him to travel to Clemson now and then to scout the talent level of his beloved Tigers.

Clark is one of two former Tiger gridgers now serving as a vice president of an NFL team. Mark Richardson, a letterman outside linebacker for the 1981 National Championship Tigers, is a vice president with the Carolina Panthers.

Clemson, SC

The city of Clemson has a population of about 11,000 fulltime residents. But, on Saturday afternoons in the fall, when over 80,000 fans are in the stands, that population increases significantly. In fact, Clemson moves all the way to the second largest city in the state on home football Saturdays when over 80,500 fans are in the stands.

On those days, only Columbia is larger. Charleston's latest population reading was 80,414, so that is why we have to list the qualifier at 80,500. So, depending on the size of the crowd, Clemson becomes either the second or third largest city in South Carolina on home football Saturdays.

Colors

Clemson's official colors are Northwestern purple (PMS 541) and burnt orange (PMS 165), but many of Clemson's athletic uniforms are predominantly orange and white. Clemson has worn all orange for special games, and in 1991 wore purple jerseys with white pants and orange helmets for the N.C. State and California games.

According to legend Clemson used to have a pale purple and gold as the official colors. But, Jess Neely changed that because he wanted uniforms that were more colorfast. It seems that the weather and constant washings were causing the uniforms to fade. So Neely worked with the Clemson school of textiles and developed deeper colors for uniforms, colors that held up under the rays of the sun and the workings of the washing machines.

Cone, Fred

Fred Cone will be inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor this fall during ceremonies prior to the season opener against Appalachian State.

The all-star Tiger running back of the 1948-50 era will join Frank Howard, Banks McFadden, Steve Fuller and Jeff Davis as members of the group that is honored on the North side facade of Memorial Stadium.

Cone was named as the starting tailback on Clemson's One Platoon Centennial Team last fall and is a charter member of the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame. He was a starter and top ball carrier on two of the three undefeated Clemson teams since 1900. He was an All-Southern choice in 1950 when he rushed for 845 yards, the highest single season total over the first 71 years of Clemson football. The 1952 Clemson graduate was also the recipient of the 1950 Teague Award, which is given to the top amateur athlete, regardless of sport, in the Carolinas.

The native of Pineapple, AL was the first player in Clemson history to go over 2000 yards rushing and he still ranks 11th in Clemson history with 2139 yards. He is still second in total touchdowns scored with 30 and is the only football player in Clemson history to average over 10 points per game for the course of a season. His 15 touchdowns scored in 1950 still rank second in Clemson history.

Cone, called "the best player I ever coached," by Frank Howard, went on to an eight-year NFL career, including seven with the Green Bay Packers. He is a member of the Packers Hall of Fame. In his seven pro seasons in Green Bay he scored 455 points, including 74 in 1957 when he led the NFL in scoring.

Cone came back to Clemson and served as an assistant football coach under Howard and later as head of the Clemson intramural department. He is now retired and living in Blairsville, GA.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that, and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any other school, as the Tigers won or shared the ACC title in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1978, 1981, 1982, 1986, 1987, 1988 and 1991. Clemson won the Southern Conference in 1940 and 1948. Clemson tied for the ACC title in 1965 so Clemson has 12 outright and one tied ACC titles.

Country Gentleman

Clemson is famous for its Tiger mascot and pushups after each score. But, the school used to have two mascots. In addition to the Tiger, the school used to have the Country Gentleman, a student dressed in purple tails and top hat, carrying a cane. The Country Gentleman concept came about as a result of references to Clemson made by Greenville News sportswriter Carter Scoop Latimer as the Country Gentlemen. Clemson had the two-mascot system between 1954 and 1972.

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley because his teams always got killed. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard start calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on. It is now in its 56th year.

Many people think the name is derived from the fact that there rests a cemetery outside the fence on the pressbox side of the stadium. But, although it would make sense, the name was first coined by Lonnie McMillian.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Clemson Memorial Stadium, call (864) 656-2999. The Clemson University police number is (864) 656-2222. For health care at the stadium first aid is available at Gates 9, 13, 16 and 20 in the upperdecks.

Endowed Positions

Through the IPTAY Office, Clemson has established an endowment of positions program. The program began in April of 1994 when members of IPTAY attended the 85th birthday of legendary head coach Frank Howard. Contributions were made at the festive event and by others who could not attend, thereby endowing the Clemson Head Coaching position.

Since then many generous IPTAY members have endowed various positions in all sports.

Cone, seen here receiving his All-Time Clemson Team Award, will be inducted into the Ring of Honor this fall.

The first to do it was the Bill Hudson Family, which endowed the Clemson offensive tackle position. Bill Hudson was a stalwart tackle at Clemson in the late 1950s and went on to a pro career with the San Diego Chargers, Boston Patriots and Montreal Alouettes. He played in the 1962 AFL Pro Bowl.

The program is now up to 33 endowments counting all sports. A list of the endowments is on the IPTAY page (40) of this press guide.

Esso Club

When you want to cover a Clemson football weekend and capture the true flavor of the entire proceedings you have to make a pit stop at the Esso Club. If this sounds like a combination bar and gas station, well, you're right. They don't sell gas there anymore, but Clemson fans for many years have frequented this famous weekend watering hole. It is a favorite establishment for Brent Musberger, regardless of the network he represents. Clemson fans come from all backgrounds and you will find a representative from the varied backgrounds on any football weekend.

Farm All-American

There are all kinds of All-America teams, none more unique than the Successful Farming team chosen by Successful Farming Magazine of Des Moines, IA. The national scholarship program recognizes 24 football players from all divisions of college football. All athletes selected to the team are honored with a $1,000 scholarship donated in their name to their school's general scholarship fund.

Clemson offensive guard Glenn Rountree, an agronomy major at Clemson who earned his degree this past August, is a two-time selection to this team. Rountree was selected for his ability on the field, he was chosen second-team All-ACC as a junior, his ability in the classroom, and his connections to farming. Rountree was brought up on a farm in Virginia and is now studying agronomy at the postgraduate level.

Goalposts

NCAA regulations stipulate the pipe must be 4" in diameter, must have posts that are 20' or more in height and 18-6 apart. This is the same width as the pros and closer than the 23-4 of previous college years. The crossbar is 10' high. The Clemson student body tore down the goalposts in the end zone with the grass bank after Clemson's emotional 52-27 win over Maryland in 1983, the only time the goalposts have come down at Clemson.

Graveyard

Clemson has 44 wins over Associated Press ranked teams over the years, but some wins stand out. Winning over a ranked team in Death Valley is one thing, but gaining victory over a ranked team on an opponent's home field is an extraordinary accomplishment.

To document these victories Clemson has constructed a "Graveyard" at the entrance to the Clemson practice fields behind the Jervy Athletic Center. This is an appropriate place because hard work in preparation for these games is essential. Current Head Coach Tommy West already has two of these victories to his credit, at 19th ranked North Carolina in 1994 and at 15th ranked Virginia in 1996.

Hash Marks

The old hashmarks were 53' 4" from each sideline. In 1993 they were moved to an even 60' from each sideline, meaning there is 6' 8" more area for the running backs to turn the corner and put that much more pressure on the outside linebackers to cover them than there was prior to 1993.

In 1938, the hash marks were moved from 30 feet away from the sidelines to 45 feet. Then in 1947, they were moved to one-third of the field, or 53' 4". And, that was the distance until the 1993 season.

Heisman, John

Yes, the same guy they named the trophy after used to coach at Clemson. You have to go back to the 1900-03 era to find him, but he brought Clemson its first unbeaten season in 1900, a 6-0 ledger. Heisman coached at Clemson for four seasons making an astronomical $1800

a year, the same amount most PGA events pay for a last place finish in an average weekend event.

In 1904 Georgia Tech offered him $2250 plus a percentage of the gate, and he was gone to Atlanta. Clemson should have scraped up the extra money to keep him. With John Heisman as head coach, Clemson beat Georgia Tech 73-0 in 1903, but two years later, with Heisman at Georgia Tech, the Yellow Jackets downed the Tigers, 17-10. Coaching does make a difference.

Homecoming

Clemson will face Virginia on Homecoming on October 11 this year. This is the first time since 1991 that Virginia has been Clemson's homecoming opponent. Clemson is 7-0-1 against the Cavs on Homecoming with the only blemish a 20-20 tie in 1991. The Tigers are 23-1-2 since 1970 on Homecoming with the only loss coming to Georgia Tech in 1989.

The first homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922 when Centre defeated Clemson at Riggs Field, 21-0. Clemson has celebrated Homecoming every year since 1922 with the exception of the 1930 and 1938 seasons.

Clemson has a 53-17-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a .747 winning percentage and has outscored the opposition 1548-955 in those previous 73 games. The average margin of victory is 21 to 12. Last year Clemson defeated Georgia Tech, 28-25 on Homecoming.

Hoover, Doc

Assistant Athletic Director and Head Trainer Fred Hoover has quite a streak going. He doesn't let us talk about it that much, but it is worth noting. The 1953 Florida State graduate has now worked 422 consecutive Clemson football games. Ironically, his 400th consecutive game worked on the Clemson sideline was against Florida State, his alma mater, in 1995.

Someone needs to monitor his eating habits because you would certainly think a trainer, who hangs around sick people all the time, would have gotten ill at least once over the last 38 years. Well, he has been sick at times, but never on Saturday afternoons in the fall. Hoover is number one in the Clemson athletic department in terms of longevity of service.

Hunter, Bill

Dr. Bill Hunter is the man to call if you are doing a story on "Running Down the Hill", the most celebrated entrance in all of sport. Dr. Hunter is still a Clemson resident and was a starter on Clemson's 1942 team, and he was one of the first Tiger players to run down the hill. He still follows the Tigers avidly and rarely misses a home sporting event.

Inflation I

A ticket to the Clemson-South Carolina game in 1896 cost 25 cents. Two thousand people attended the game. This year's ticket for the game in Columbia is $25.

Inflation II

When Clemson first built Memorial Stadium in 1942 the construction cost of the 20,000 seat stadium computed to $7.20 a seat. When Clemson added 15,000 seats with an upper deck over the north stands in 1983 the average cost was $866 a seat.

IPTAY

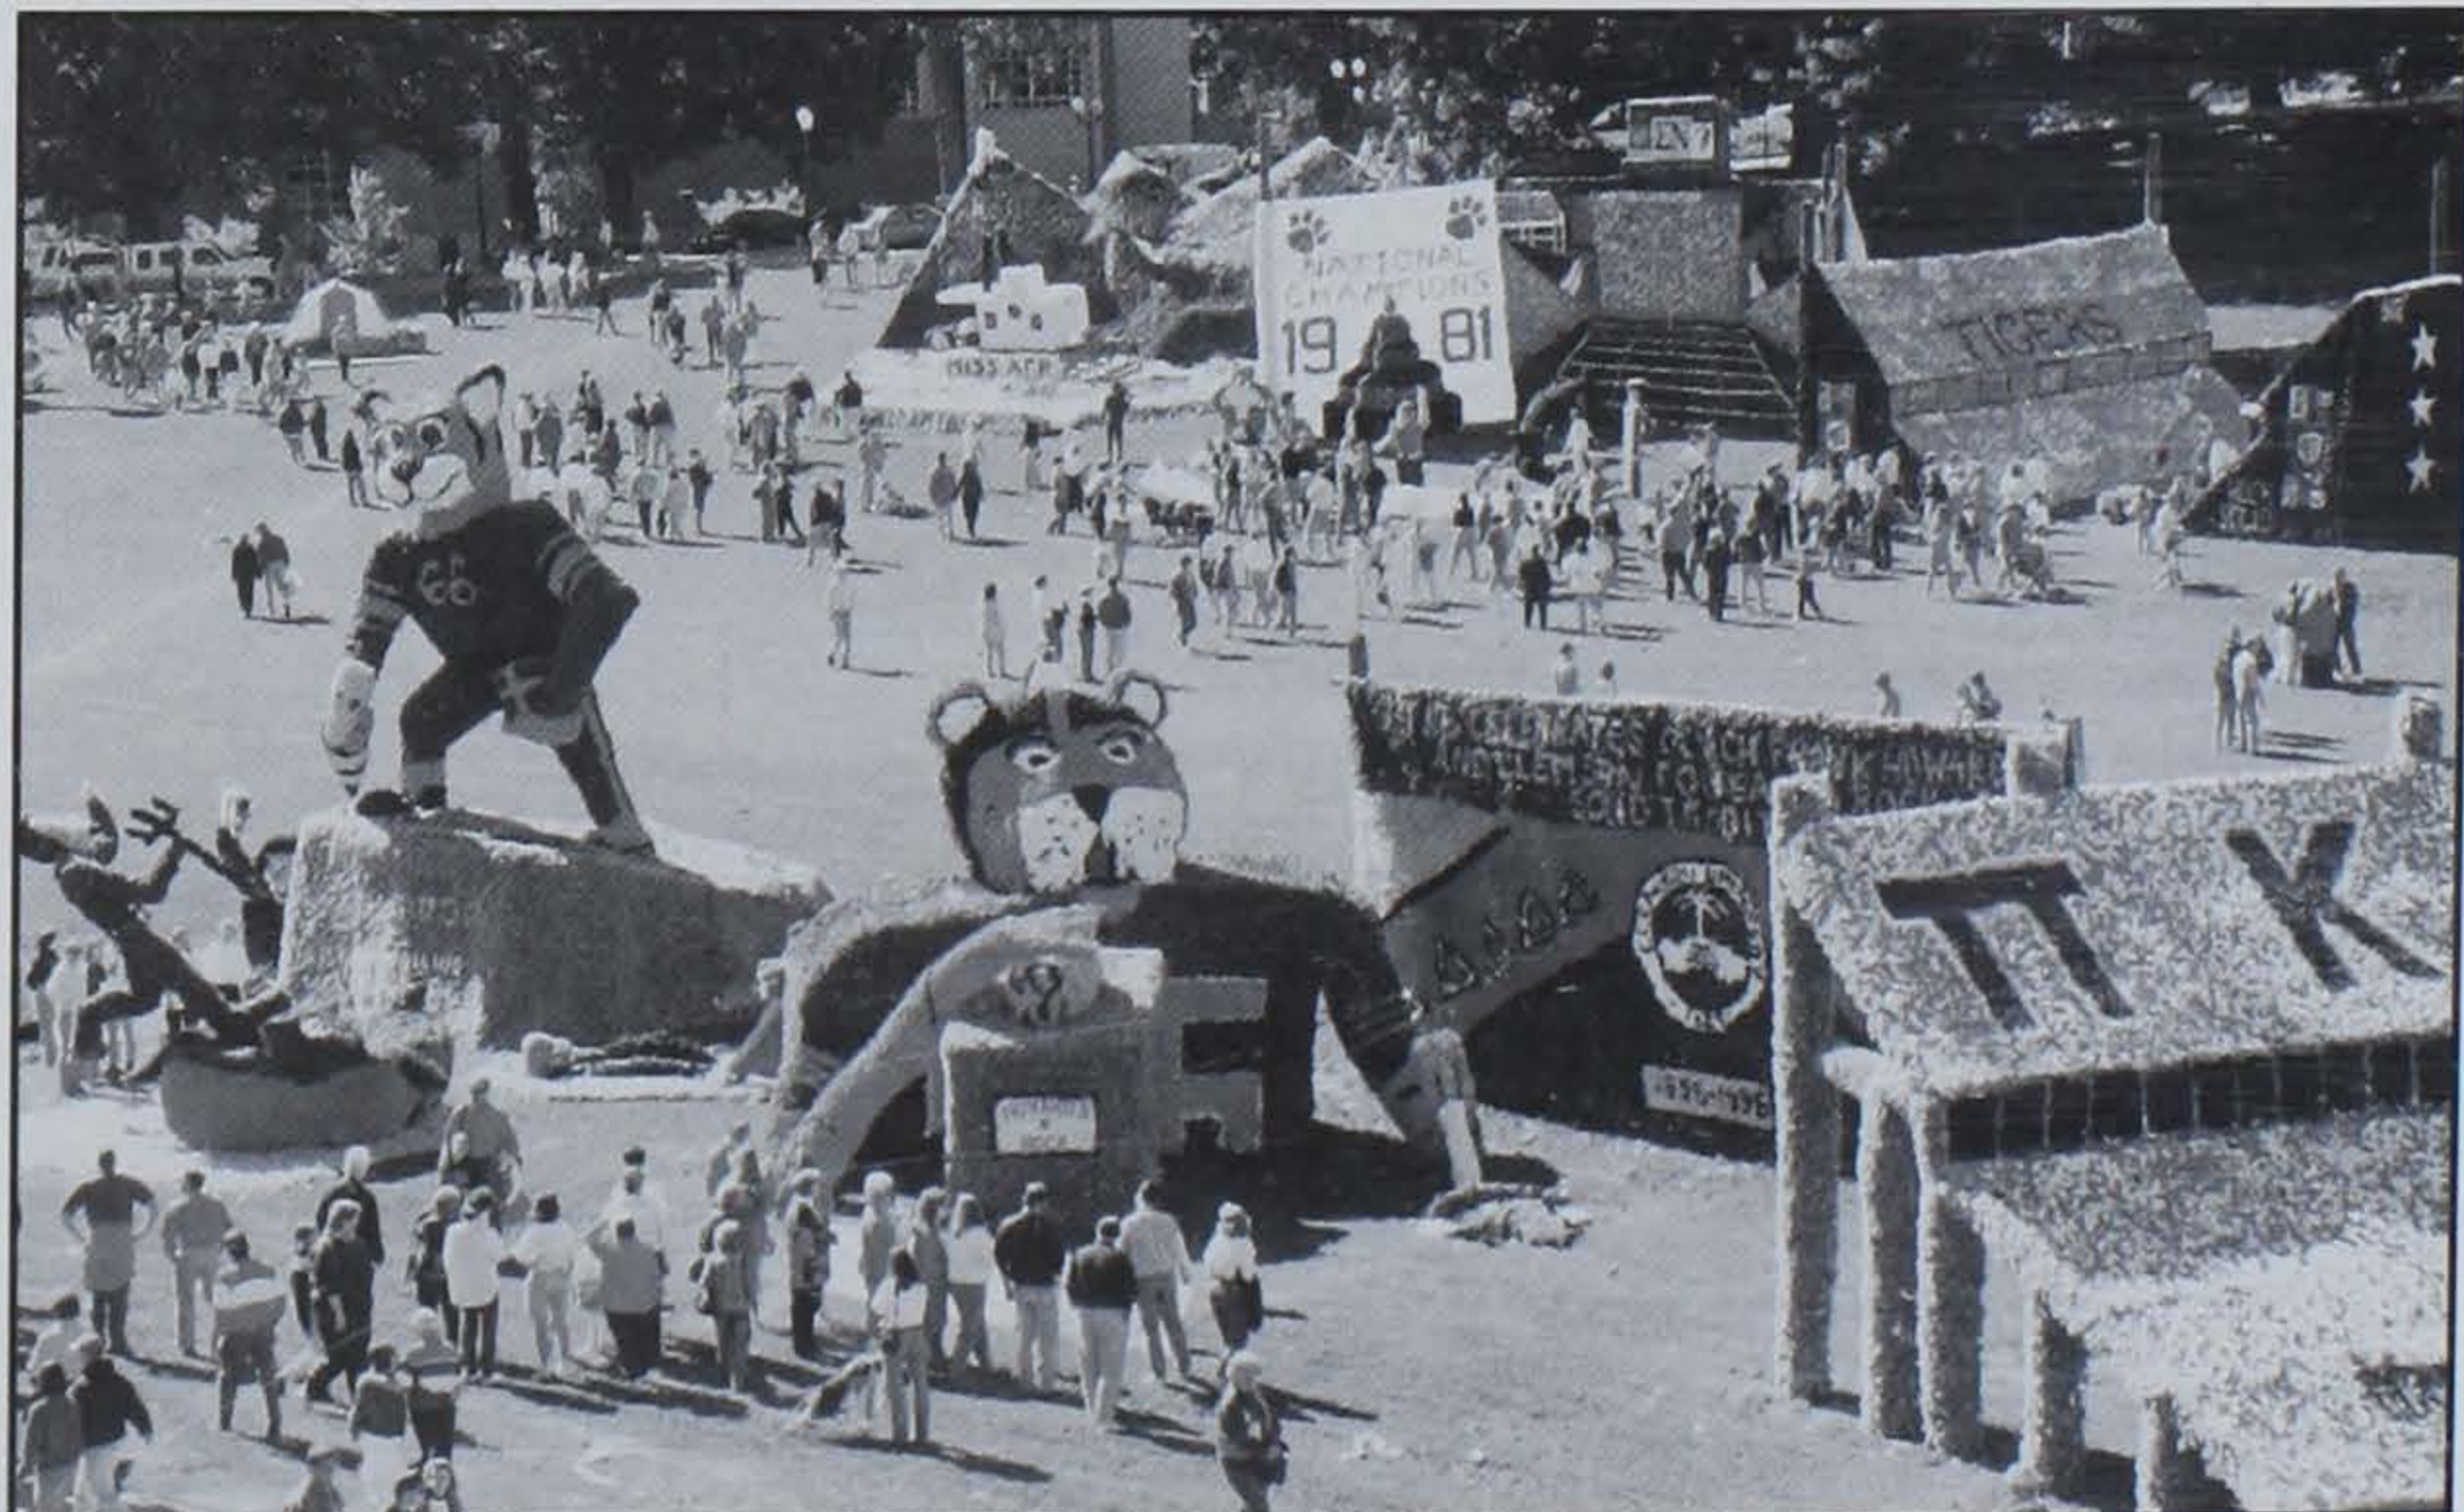

IPTAY, Clemson's athletic scholarship fund-raising foundation is one of the cornerstones of the Clemson Athletic Department. The foundation provides the funds for all athletic scholarships and has also been responsible for the funding of many facilities, including Vickery Hall, Clemson's athletic academic advising building that is featured on the inside front cover of this book. That facility and thus IPTAY have a lot to do with the football team reaching a 2.29 GPA last year, the highest it has been over the course of the a year on record.

IPTAY stands for "I Pay Ten a Year", the original name with a meaning derived from the minimum contribution of its donors when the organization began in 1934. It changed to "I Pay Twenty a Year" then "I Pay Thirty a Year." Three years ago the minimum donation was increased to $100 a year. There are currently nearly 20,000 members of IPTAY and the organization raises over $6 million a year.

IPTAY does a lot more for Clemson and its students than pay tuition for athletes. IPTAY also funds band travel, contributes to the improvement of athletic facilities, both varsity and non-varsity, and has established the IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment.

Legend I

Frank Howard was known as Legend I around Clemson and he will always be known as the legend. Clemson lost one of the rocks of its tradition when he passed away at the age of 85 last January 28, 1996. Incredibly, he died 13 years to the day after the passing of his former teammate Bear Bryant.

Homecoming is a festive time at Clemson. The spirit carries over to the field where Clemson is 23-1-2 since 1970 on this special day.

Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame on December 5, 1989. He was a member of nine Halls of Fame, posted 165 wins in his 30 years as Clemson head coach and had 96 victories, tied for the second highest total in ACC history. He captured eight conference titles, took the Tigers to six bowl games and six Top 20 seasons.

Even with these accomplishments, we will remember his incredible wit, to his final days, his positive influence on young people, many of whom went on to be successful in fields outside of athletics.

Legend II

SID at Clemson between 1955-88 football seasons, Bob Bradley has officially retired from his SID slot. He has seen 462 consecutive Clemson football games so he is considered the Cal Ripken (used to be Lou Gerig) of football SIDs in America. He has been President of CoSIDA, has been in the Clemson and SID Hall of Fame forever, and is a former Recipient of the Arch Ward Award as CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year.

In November of 1988 the press box at Memorial Stadium was named The Bob Bradley Press Box. At his retirement banquet in the summer of 1989 he was presented with an automobile by the Athletic Department (complete with bow at midfield at Memorial Stadium) and the financing for a pontoon boat from his former student workers, the ACC Sportswriters Association, SIDs from around the country and the ACC office.

He still puts in quite a few hours for us (everyday) and actually has scored more baseball games in retirement than he did in his last year as SID. He has also completed two books on Clemson football. Give Bob a call at (864) 656-2114 to purchase an ideal Christmas present.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under Section T on the North Side and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There also is one under the North Top Deck.

Memorial Stadium

Here are some height measurements in Memorial Stadium that were determined by Mark Kistler in a survey he performed for a class in 1991:

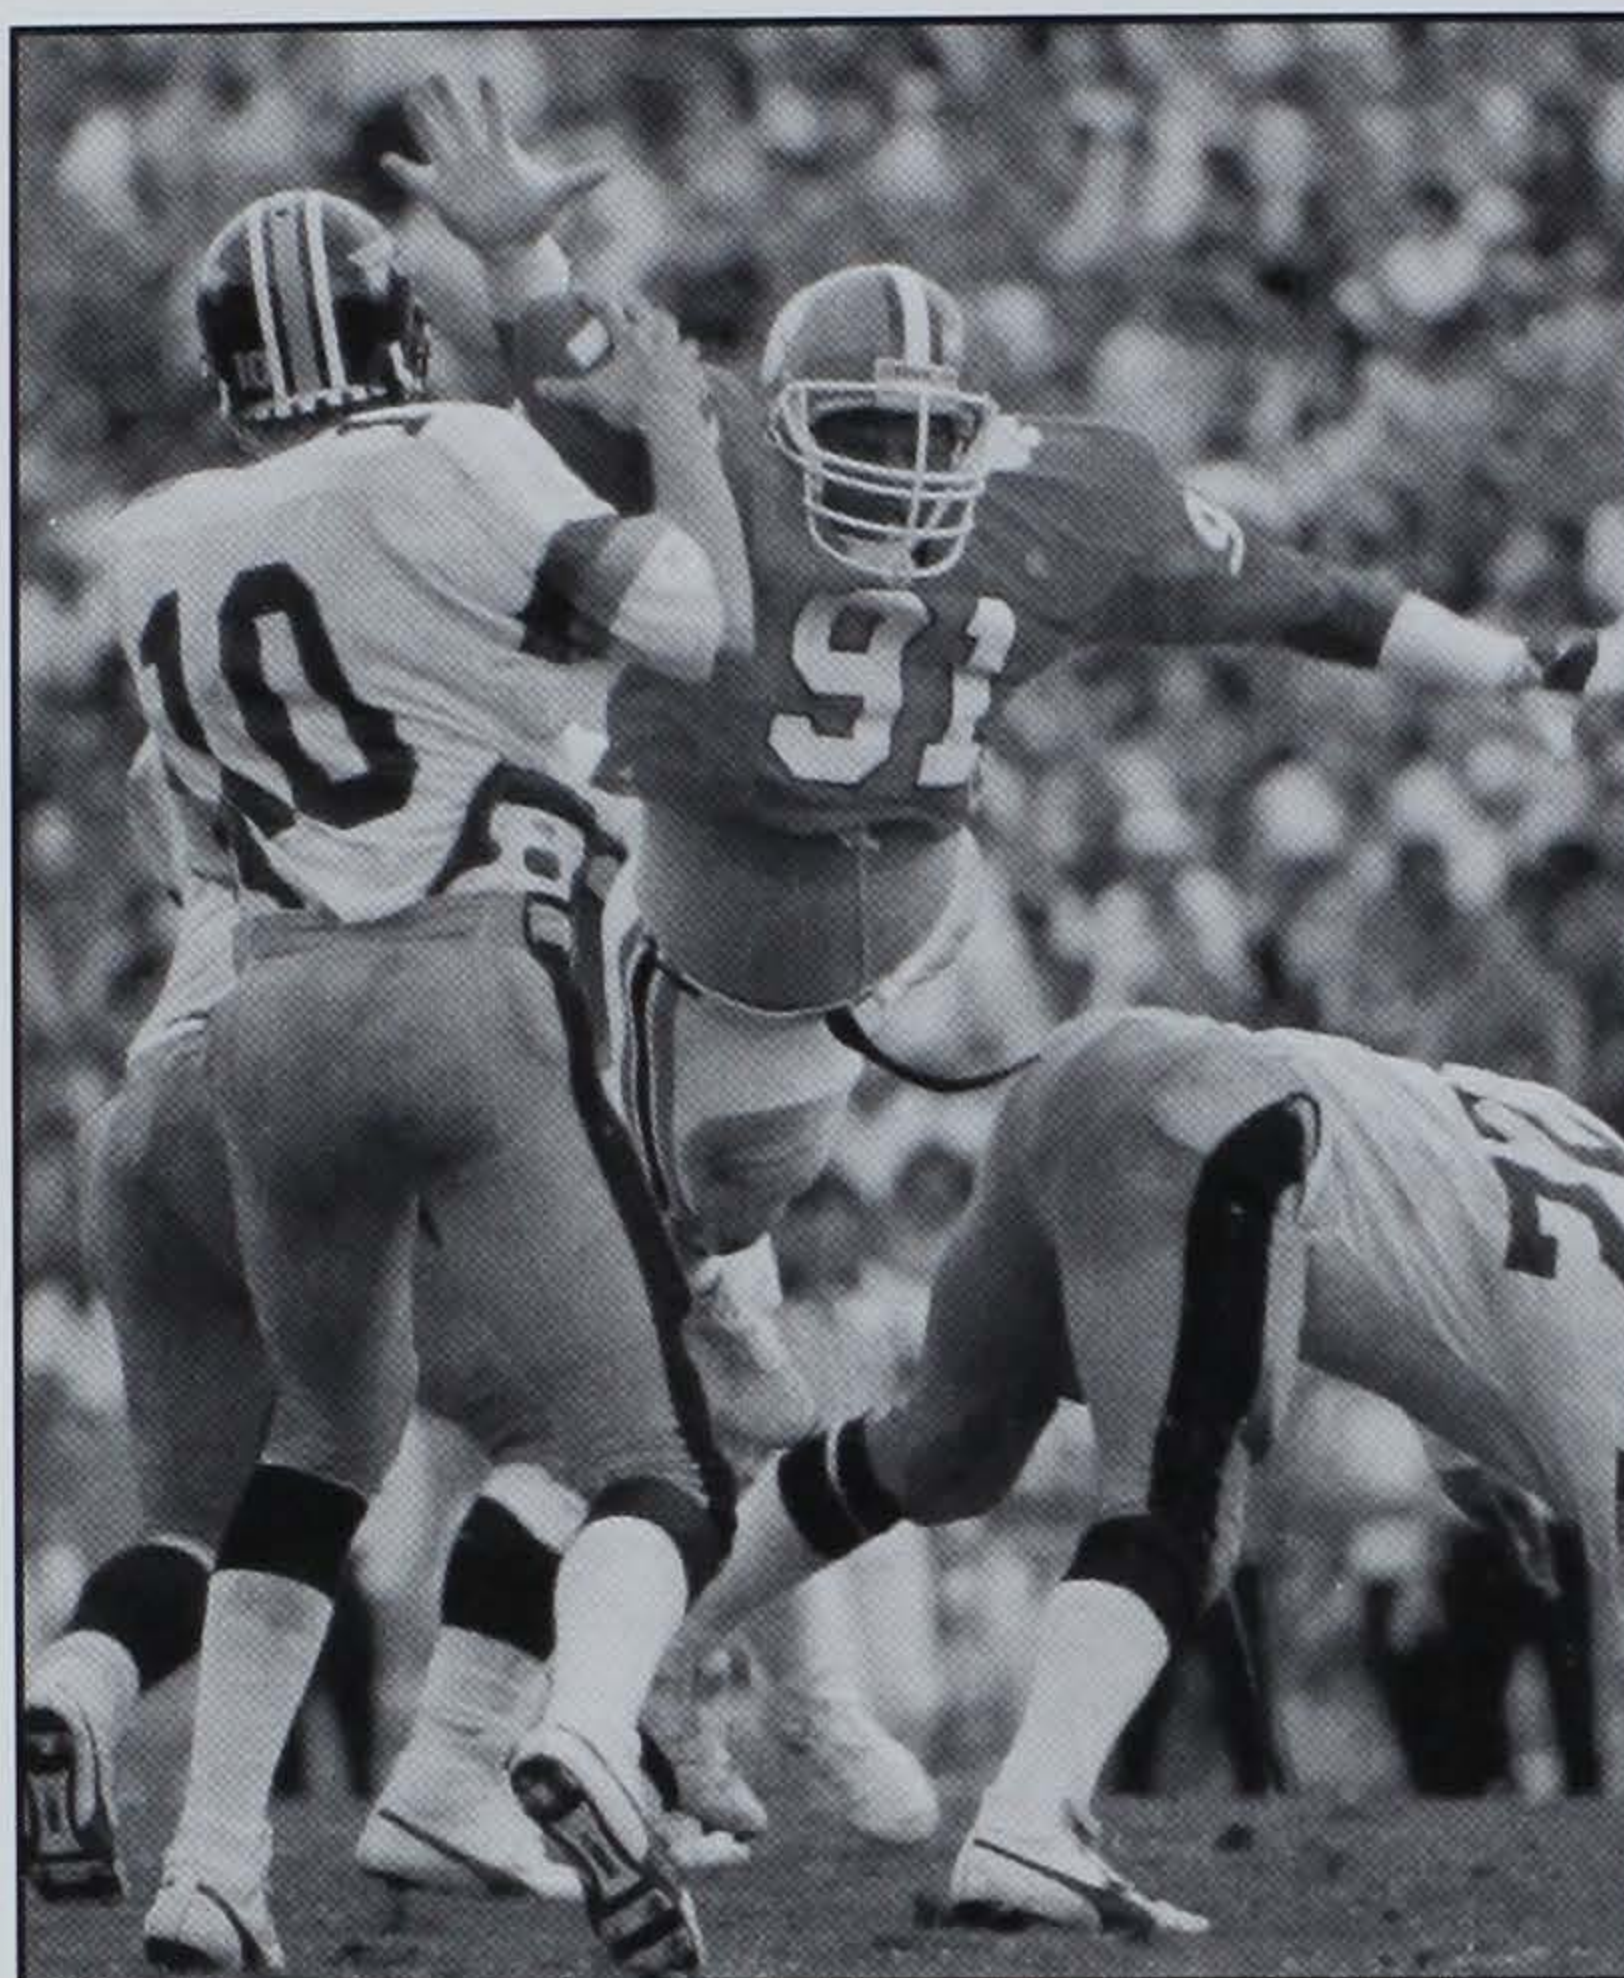

Height above the middle of the 50-yard-line to:

Top of the South Upper Deck:	159 Feet
Camera Deck on South Side:	92 Feet
Top of the Hill:	27 Feet
Mounted Rock on the Hill:	26 Feet
Top of West End Zone:	47 Feet
Top of Upper Deck, North Side:	177 Feet

It is also interesting to note that the distance from the Rock to the bottom of the hill, or the path the team takes when it runs down the hill is exactly 100 feet. The middle of the field is a foot higher than the back of the end zone at the bottom of the hill. That explains why Death Valley drains well.

Nickname

Clemson's nickname derivation goes back to the turn of the century. In those days many of the players wore long hair due to lack of helmet strength for more head protection. These long manes might have gained Clemson the name lions had it not been for the orange and purple striped jerseys and stockings the players wore. The stripes resembled Tigers.

John Heisman's 1900 team was called the Tigers and Clemson used an insignia of a Tigers head with bared fangs with the motto 'Eat Em Up Clemson'. Another theory on the nickname concerns Clemson's first coach. Walter Merritt Riggs came to Clemson to coach the football team in 1896. His previous school was Auburn, which is also known as the Tigers.

Night Games

Clemson has not had many home night games over the years. There have been just 17 overall dating back to a September 25, 1948 win over Presbyterian. The Tigers are 12-4-1 at night over the years, an outstanding record so you might expect administrators to schedule more games at night.

But, for most of the history of Clemson football the school's fan base has reached a circumference of over 300 miles. Realizing this fact, Clemson administrators have attempted to schedule the time of home games to allow fans to make it to the game and back home in the same day.

Clemson did not have a home night game between 1956 and 1991. In 1992 tradition was broken when the Florida State game was televised by ESPN. The novelty of the night game in Death Valley, against a Top 10 opponent, certainly did not hurt attendance. Clemson fans gave a positive response to that night game (even though Clemson lost 24-20). In 1995, Clemson kicked off its centennial celebration of football with a 6:39 PM start for the Georgia game. In 1996 the South Carolina game was played at night.

Publication founded by former Clemson Assistant SID Al Adams that is in its 20th season of issue. Al is no longer with the paper, but it is still going strong. Overtime

Clemson did not have any overtime games in 1996, the first year of overtime in Division I college football. Last season there were 49 overtime games in Division I and Division I-AA combined. The average number of overtime periods, or possessions was 1.62 in Division I-A and 1.83 in Division I-AA. Eight of the 49 overtime games lasted three or more periods.

The number of overtimes was a concern for the NCAA rules committee in the offseason. In an attempt to cut the number of overtimes in the future, going for two-point conversions after a touchdown will now be mandatory starting with the second overtime period.

Panthers, Carolina

Clemson was the home of the Carolina Panthers in their inaugural season, 1995. It was a busy year to say the least, but the benefits to the University will be far reaching. The University realized about $2 million to be used toward scholarships and other fiscal benefits that will help Clemson students for many years to come.

Clemson Memorial Stadium was busy that fall. The field took a beating as 16 games were played on Frank Howard Field between August 3 and December 17. A total of 975,534 fans attended the 16 games in Death Valley. That breaks down to 427,776 for six Clemson home games, 441,625 for eight Panther regular season games and 106,131 for two Panther exhibition games. Clemson averaged 71,296 for its six home games and Carolina averaged 54,776 for its 10 games in the facility.

Penn's Thin Natural Leaf

Type of chewing tobacco Frank Howard chewed in the forties. When they were pouring the concrete for the stadium in 1942 Howard put a plug in each corner of the stadium, giving it his form of an artistic signature.

Perry, Michael Dean

Michael Dean Perry was known as William's Little Brother when he played at Clemson from 1984-87. Little did people know at the time that Michael Dean would exceed William's accomplishments on the gridiron. Michael Dean, who was a rookie in 1988, was chosen to the NFL Pro Bowl for the sixth time last year, a record for a former Clemson player. In his second year in Denver, he has been named All-Pro four times and is still regarded as one of the quickest defensive linemen in the NFL.

Phillips, Jim

"Voice of the Tigers" in his 30th year providing commentary on Clemson football. Phillips won the Brian Piccolo Award of broadcasting in 1982 when he gave the play-by-play account of the Western Carolina game only five days after back surgery. He recreated most of that game while standing up with a walker. He is also the voice of Clemson basketball and baseball. His voice is in the minds of nearly all contemporary Clemson fans when they recall a memorable Clemson moment. During his Silver Anniversary season (1992-93) Phillips was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame.

Professional Honors

Last year was a big year for former Tigers in the NFL. A record five former Clemson players were chosen to the Pro Bowl, more than any other school. The five players who made the Pro Bowl were Terry Allen (Washington Redskins), Chris Gardocki (Indianapolis Colts), Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Chester McGlockton (Oakland Raiders) and Michael Dean Perry (Denver Broncos).

It was the greatest year of accomplishment at the NFL level for Clemson players in history. Here is a summary of special honors for Clemson players in 1996.

Riggs Field

Currently the home of Clemson's national championship soccer program (1984 and 1987), but it was the home of Clemson football prior to Memorial Stadium. The field is named after Walter Merritt Riggs, Clemson's first football coach. He coached Clemson in 1896 and 1899. He had an 8-5 record for those two seasons, but ironically, he never coached a game at Clemson. All of his 13 contests as head coach were played on the road.

Rings

A total of 16 former Clemson players have picked up 23 Super Bowl rings over the years. Jeff Bostic leads the way with three Super Bowl Championship rings. Wayne Simmons was the latest Tiger to win a ring as he was a starter for the Green Bay Packers in 1996.

Terrence Flagler, Dwight Clark, Bennie Cunningham, Jim Stuckey, and Charlie Waters are the former Tigers with two Super Bowl championship rings. Eight of the last 11 years Clemson has had at least one representative on the Super Bowl Championship team. Clemson has had at least one representative play in the Super Bowl 11 of the last 12 years, including Jerome Henderson, now a defensive back with the New York Jets, who has played in recent Super Bowls with Buffalo and New England.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to Run Down the Hill (see Running Down the Hill) the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones' 19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 120 players for homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing

Rule Changes

Here is a list of rules changes passed by the NCAA Rules committee for the 1997 season:

*Agreed to start the game clock when the ball is kicked on kickoffs, except with two minutes or less remaining in either half.

*Agreed to start the clock on the ready-for-play signal after a forward fumble that goes out of bounds.

*Prohibited fouls on scoring plays from being enforced on the kickoff or in the next period. Only dead-ball fouls after a field goal or point after attempt could carry over.

*Prohibited defensive players from delivering unnecessarily hard hits on an opponent from behind the line of scrimmage who is in position to receive a pitchout.

*Deleted the requirement that the ball be kicked within one yard behind the restraining line on the free kick after a safety.

*All extra points will be two-point attempts after touchdowns scored in the second overtime or later.

*Adjusted the rules to require more blocks to be penalized as illegal chop blocks and crack back blocks.

*Failure by the punt defense to give a punt returner six feet area to catch the ball will result in a 15-yard penalty, not five yards as in the past.

room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 P.M. game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill (exactly 100 feet top to bottom) and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971 and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 255 times heading into 1997.

How in the world did the tradition of running down the hill start? There is no long involved explanation, it used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942 the football lockerrooms were up the street in Fike Fieldhouse.

When the players were finished getting dressed they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill". Coach Howard continued the tradition when lockerrooms were finally built inside the stadium because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the hill. That's when the buses came into use to spend the trip from the lockerroom to the other side of the stadium. Clemson now has a record of 186-62-7, a 74 percentage winning mark, when they run down the hill. Clemson is 6-9 (40 percent) when it doesn't use the hill as its entrance. Coach Tommy West did not want to change the tradition with stats like that.

This is the green grass section of the hill, which is located in the East Stands. (See Running Down the Hill.)

Skyboxes

The prime location to watch a Clemson football game. Memorial Stadium is one of just a handful of on-campus college stadiums to have private executive suites. Clemson has more executive suites than any other on-campus stadium in America (108 total, with 74 available for sale to individuals and corporations) and the average cost, including an average of 22 tickets, is $18,000 a year.

The suite is completely furnished with 22 theater seats, has a stereo system, kitchenette, closed circuit TV, maid service, meals, program and is completely temperature controlled. Fans have their choice of piping in crowd noise, the PA system or the Clemson radio network.

Spiers, Bill

Clemson currently has two former punters in professional sports. Yes, you can name one off the top of your head, All-Pro punter Chris Gardocki of the Indianapolis Colts, who led the NFL in net punting in 1996. He was an All-America placekicker and punter with Clemson between 1988-90.

The other professional is Bill Spiers....of the Houston Astros. Spiers, now in his eighth year in the Major Leagues, was Clemson's starting punter in 1986 after he answered an advertisement by former coach Danny Ford in the student newspaper. Spiers averaged 39.6 yards a punt that year, still 10th best in Clemson history.

Spiers, who has played with Milwaukee, New York Mets and Houston in his career, was having one of his best years in the majors in 1997 when we were at deadline for this press guide. The native of Camden, SC was hitting .307 with the Astros, a career high.

Super Soper

Clemson is one of the few schools in the country that owns its own "Super Soper". This vehicle soaks up excess rain on the playing field and has saved many a baseball game at Clemson.

The Soper has also been used as soccer matches. In 1995, the machine was used for the first time at a Clemson football game. A deluge let loose just prior to the Clemson-Duke game on November 11, 1996 and the Super Soper made the field, which had been used by the Tigers and the Carolina Panthers, playable.

Television

While all Clemson fans, especially those from far reaches of the United States, love to watch those Tigers on TV, the networks do throw a wrench into making weekend plans. But, the ACC schools in general and Clemson in particular certainly gain significant benefits from a financial standpoint and a recruiting and exposure standpoint.

As a result, the ACC has established a policy that commands each institution to move at least two gametimes for television reasons per year if asked. That means Clemson really has no choice but to move a game from a 1:00 PM start to 2:30 PM, 3:30 PM, 4:00 PM, 7:00 PM, 7:36 PM, or whatever ESPN or ABC wish. The networks normally have to give you 12 days notice, but it could be as few as six days. We realize this is an inconvenience to our fans, but if we wish to remain a conference member....

The current television contract determines future ACC appearances based on the number of appearances each league has had in recent years. Each conference has a minimum number of appearances a year, but if a team declines to move a game, it counts toward the appearances, even if the game is not televised. Plus, there is a loss of revenue. So, the penalty on the ACC, not just Clemson, has become too great if the ACC strives to continue to improve its football reputation.

Clemson knows it will be on television against Florida State on September 20, at 3:30 as ABC will televise the contest. The Clemson at Georgia Tech game on September 27 will be shown on ESPN and will begin at 7:30 PM.

Spiers led Clemson in punting in 1986 and is in his eighth year in the major leagues.

Tie Breaker

Teams that have played 60 minutes without determining a winner will flip a coin after regulation and alternate possessions from the 25-yard-line at the same end of the field. The team that is ahead after an equal number of possessions from 25 yards out wins. If a team doesn't score in four downs, it can retain possession by getting a first down.

A defensive player can win the game by returning a fumble, interception or blocked kick the length of the field to the other end zone. But, if the player is tackled inside the 25-yard-line, the ball reverts to the 25, where his team's offense starts its possession.

Tigerama

World's largest pep rally, this is one of the best examples of Clemson spirit. The Friday night before Homecoming about 35,000 people come to Memorial Stadium for a combination pep rally, beauty pageant, fireworks display and skit presentation. It was the brainchild of former Clemson legend Gator Farr, who was the master of pep rallies in the 1940s and 1950s. This is not to be confused with Barnyard Burn, which is something special for South Carolina home games. It involves a bon-fire that torches a chicken coop. It is held the Friday night prior to the South Carolina game and takes place in the parking lot outside the stadium.

Tiger Mascot

The Clemson Tiger just celebrated its 40th anniversary in 1995. The mascot is one of the most celebrated in the nation. Many mascots do pushups after each team's score, but it was the Clemson mascot (Zack Mills in 1978) that started the tradition. In 1993-94 the Tiger Cub, emblematic of the Tiger Cub Club, was started. This smaller Tiger gets into just as many mischievous circumstances during a Clemson football weekend.

Weather

Every one of our major audiences for this press guide (fans, the media, recruits, coaches and administrators) has interest in the weather. We get a lot of calls from people making their first trip to Clemson for a football game and they want to be prepared. Well, if you are playing the percentages, prepare for a sunny day, about 70 degrees.

Over the last 19 years the average temperature for a Clemson home game has been 68.15 degrees. Of the 116 home games played during this time, the weather has been predominantly sunny 72 times. It has rained just 11 of the last 116 games at Death Valley, over the last 19 years.

The 1992 season was probably the worst weather year at Clemson in some time as it was predominantly cloudy for five of the six games and the average temperature was just 62.83 degrees, the coolest since 1981 (62.67).

Overall, Clemson usually plays in good weather. The Tigers have had to play in the rain just 20 times in the last 19 years regardless of site. Only three years in the last 19 has it rained as many as three games, in 1986, 1993 and 1995. In 1986 it rained on three consecutive Saturdays, against N.C. State, Wake Forest and North Carolina.

It has not snowed for a Clemson game since 1936 when the Tigers played Furman. That is also the last time Furman beat Clemson. The most unusual weather for a Clemson game took place at the Georgia game in 1962. The temperature dropped 30 degrees between the beginning of the game and halftime and during intermission a hailstorm sent fans to cover. The second half was delayed 30 minutes to get the ice off the field.

Will Call

Located at Gate 13 at Clemson Memorial Stadium, Tim Bourret usually drops the passes off by 11:00 A.M. for a 1:00 P.M. game.

Clemson's Tommy West enters his fourth full season as head coach with continued improvement on his mind. He has set the foundation for that improvement as the Tigers have 16 returning starters and 54 returning lettermen for the 1997 season.

Improvement each year at Clemson seems to be the theme of West's tenure as the Tigers head mentor. After finishing sixth in the ACC in his first full year in 1994, the Tigers finished third in 1995, and second last season. He has led Clemson to bowl appearances in consecutive years, the first time that has happened since the 1990 and 1991 seasons.

Each of his three teams has made significant improvements as the year progressed, which an 8-2 November record attests. Each of the last two years, Clemson has fashioned a five-game winning streak late in the year to gain a berth in a bowl game.

The 1996 season had a slow beginning as the Tigers were 2-3 after five games. West rallied his troops to win five out of the last seven games, including two wins over top-25 opponents. The only two losses in the streak were by three points apiece. Clemson finished with a 7-5 mark and played in the Peach Bowl.

The Tigers finished tied for second in the ACC with a 6-2 record. Late season wins over ranked ACC foes Georgia Tech (28-25) and Virginia (24-16) proved to be vital ingredients to another Clemson bowl invitation.

Every year West has been at Clemson, the Tigers have exceeded preseason expectations. Each year Clemson's final place in the ACC has been higher than its predicted finish. Also the Tigers have appeared in the top-25 poll at least once all three seasons. The upward trend of the program should continue as the Tigers return eight starters on offense and six on defense in 1997.

His Tigers have established themselves as one of the more physical teams in the conference. His hard nosed approach has produced a Clemson team that has led the ACC in rushing the last two seasons. In addition to that, junior tailback Raymond Priester became the first Clemson player in history to rush for over 1,000 yards in two seasons during a career and he is the school's all-time leading rusher.

Clemson's defense has also earned a reputation of a physical group. West's 1995 team led the ACC in scoring defense and ranked 10th in the nation in that category.

In 1995, West entered his second year at the helm of the Clemson football program with success on his mind, and success is what he achieved. He guided the Tigers to an 8-4 season, a third-place finish in the ACC standings, and a January 1 bowl game.

West coached the Tigers in his second bowl game, the 50th annual Gator Bowl. The young team won its last five regular season games, four of them by at least 17 points.

were picked fifth in the 1995 ACC preseason poll, but thanks to the third best offense in Clemson history (400 yards per game), and a defense that ranked 10th in the nation against scoring (16.2), Clemson finished third in the ACC standings with a 6-2 record, its best league finish since the Tigers won the ACC title in 1991.

The 1995 campaign was truly one in which Clemson excelled in every area. The Tigers ranked fourth in the country in rushing (260 yards per game), yet also led the ACC in yards per pass attempt (8.07). Defensively, Clemson rated in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense (122.0), passing efficiency defense (101.1), and turnover margin (+0.73). In terms of special teams, Clemson was the only school in the nation to have an individual ranked in the top 25 in punting, placekicking, punt returns, and kickoff returns.

Tommy West was named head coach of the Clemson Tigers on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl victory in an eight-year period.

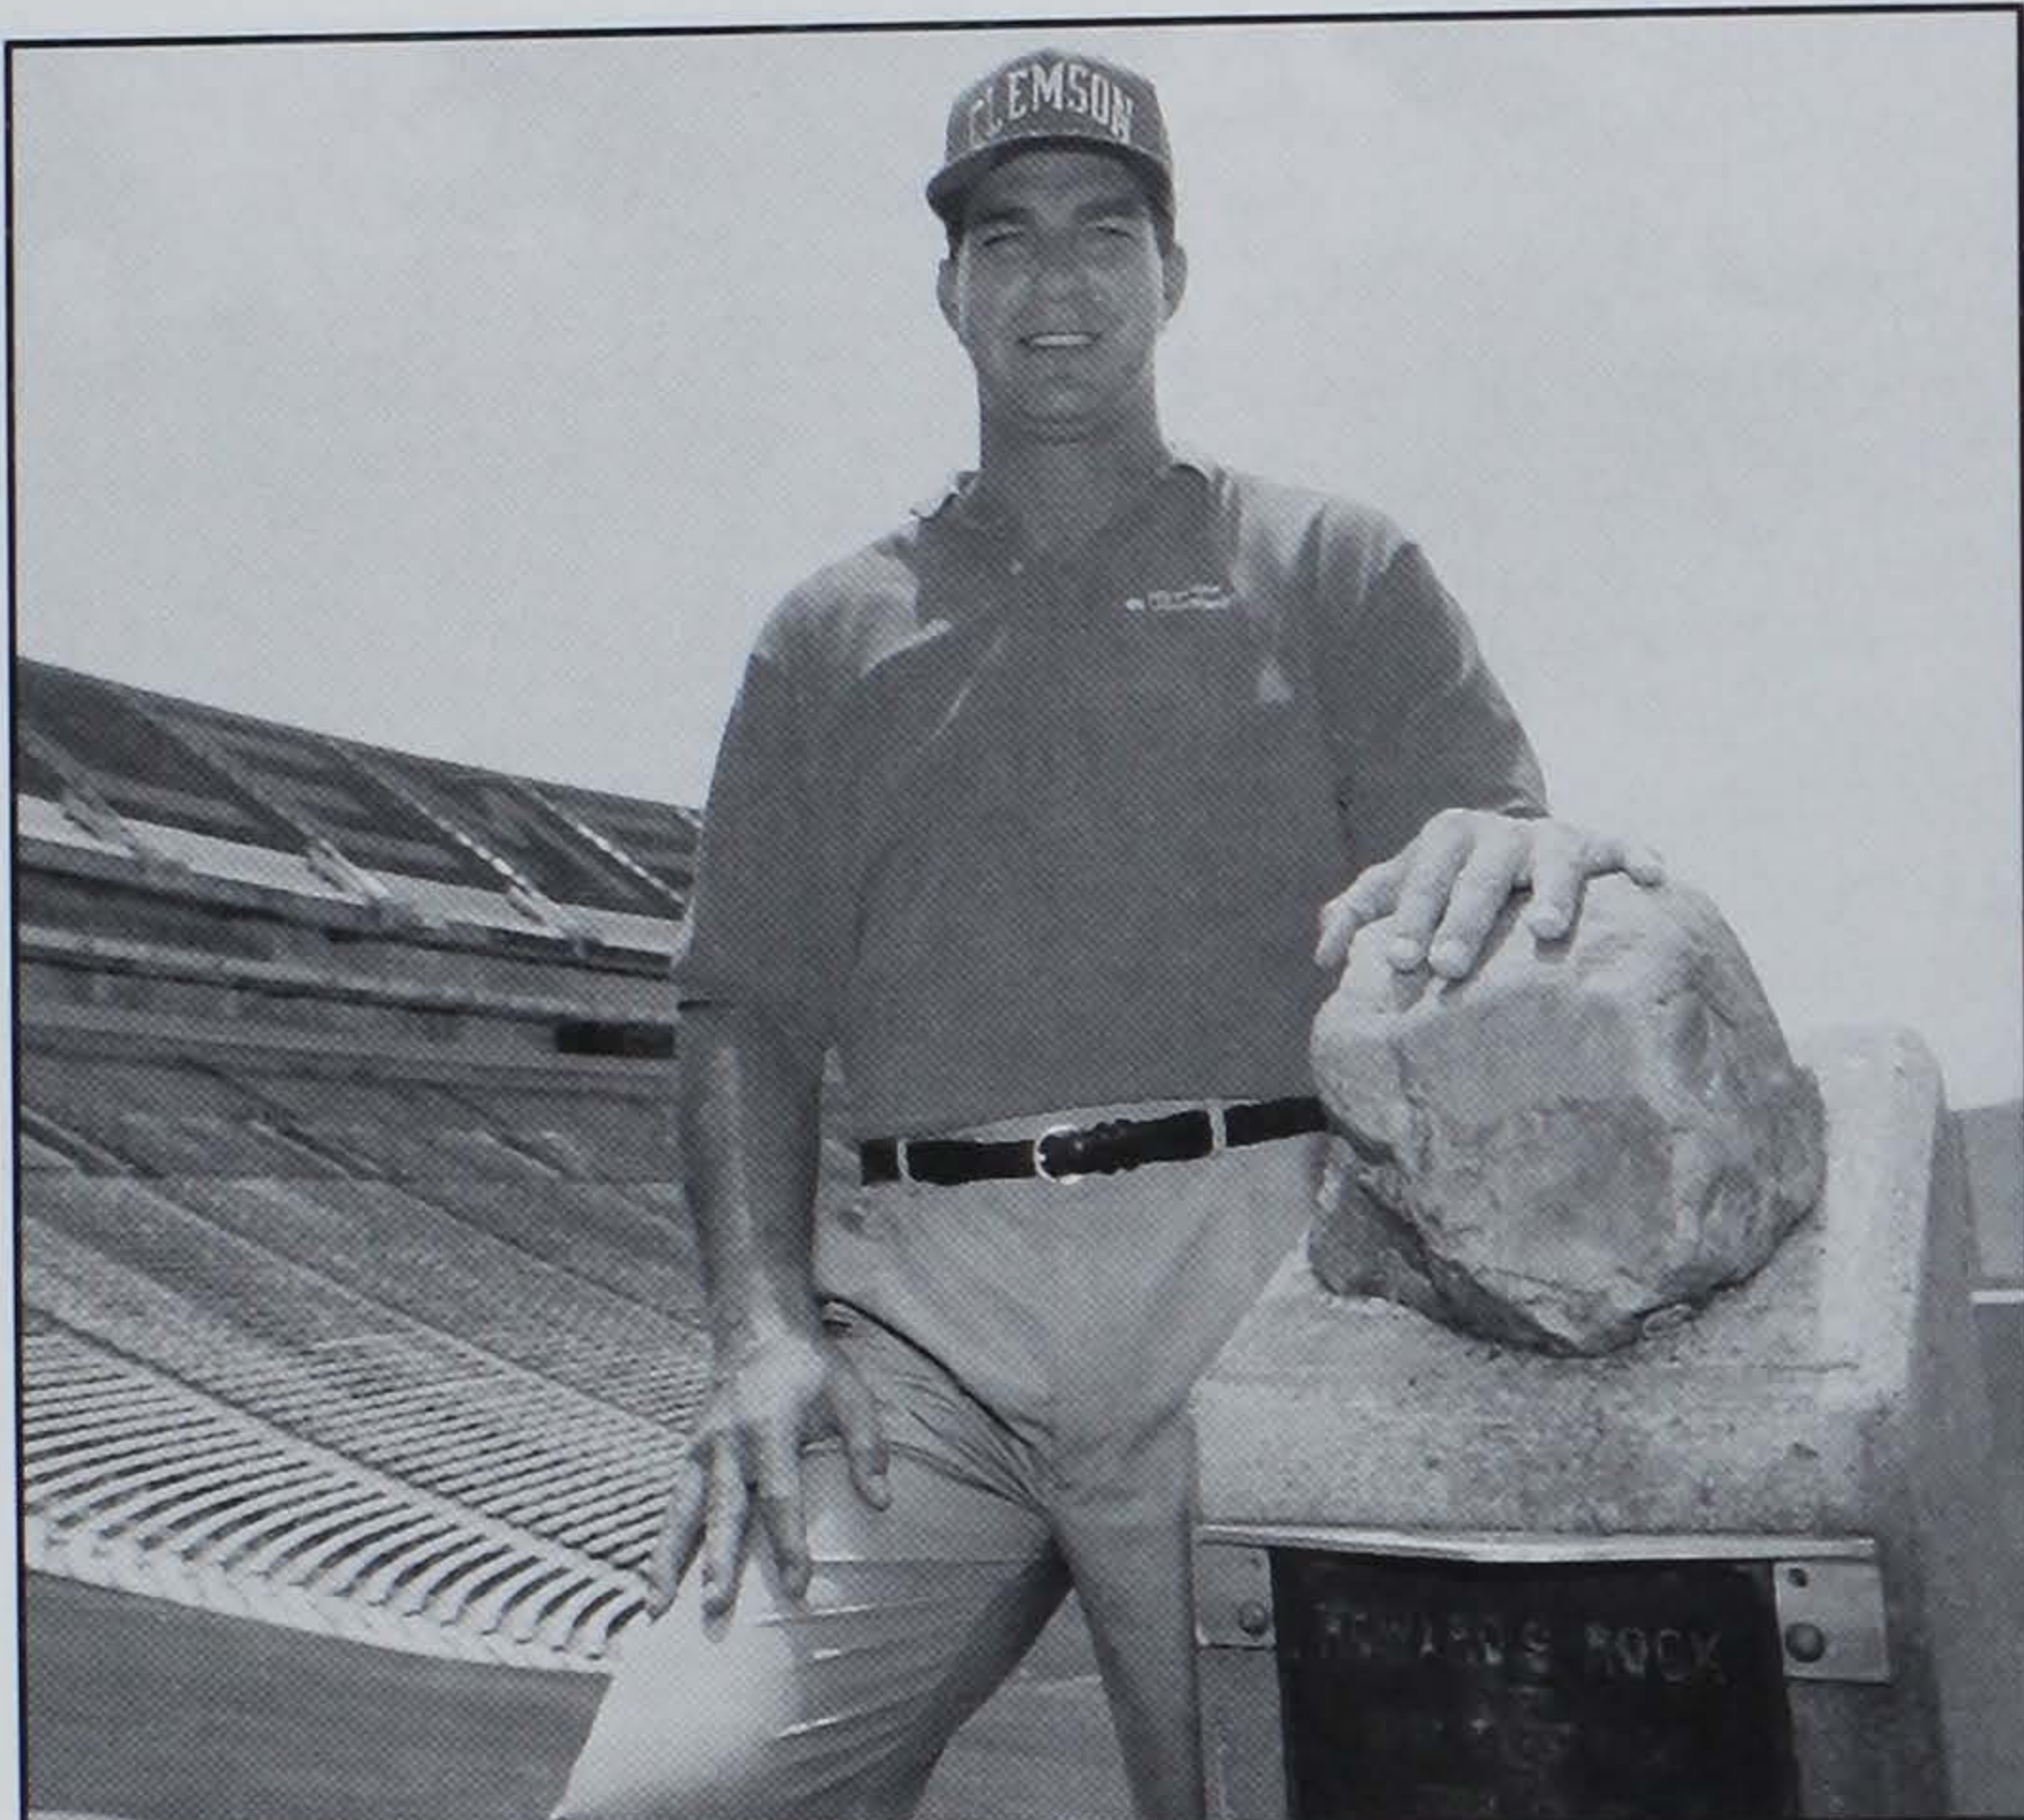

With his win as Clemson's head mentor in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

In his first full season, West guided the Tigers to a 5-6 record, and it was a season that showed week-by-week improvement. The '94 club, which featured the youngest Clemson offensive unit in 50 years, finished with a number-one ranking nationally in turnover margin, a landmark ranking in Clemson football history. The Tigers were ranked as high as 21st in the USA Today poll, and finished the season with three wins in its last four outings, including a decisive conquest of #12 North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

West's defense ranked 14th in the nation against the run and 17th in scoring defense. The aggressive unit forced 29 turnovers and was one of the most reliable in the nation inside the redzone. The team had just two lost fumbles, fewest in a season in NCAA history.

The West family gathers at Clemson's football landmark, Howard's Rock.

West's teams have shown improvement each season, as Clemson's ACC finish will attest.

West also recruited one of the most impressive and productive freshman classes in Clemson history. Eighteen freshmen lettered in 1994, most for a Clemson rookie class since the 1940s. At times, the Tigers started seven freshmen on offense, including five first-year freshmen at the "skill positions." Last winter, he and his staff recruited a third consecutive top 20 class according to most recruiting services.

West's teams have also shown improvement and broken records in the classroom. Last year 20 Clemson football players made the ACC honor roll, the highest total in Clemson history. The team's GPA for the entire academic year was also the highest on record.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89.

During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his first era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1995.

Last season Clemson had five former players that were NFL Pro Bowl selections, the most from any college in the nation. West recruited or coached three of the five during his assistant coaching days at Clemson.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Wayne

Simmons (Green Bay Packers), Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings), and John Johnson (New Orleans Saints) were starters in 1994 in the NFL. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl with a win over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons.

He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yard pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, a major league player for 15 years, was West's teammate on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a fifth-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 9.

What are the selling points of the Clemson program?

"The Clemson people are the number-one selling point of our program. That includes everyone from the school president to athletic director Bobby Robinson through our supporters and the student body.

"Bobby Robinson certainly gives us the opportunity to be a first-class organization. Financially, we have the money to do what is necessary for our student-athletes to be successful in every phase athletically and academically.

"We have a great winning tradition and we have great traditions at Clemson. We have won a national championship, have more league championships and top 25 seasons than any program in our league. We also have the great traditions of running down the hill, Howard's Rock, Tigerama etc. Gameday at Clemson typifies the color and pageantry of college football."

What are your views on players leaving early for the NFL?

"I think it has taken away from the quality of play, but you really can't blame either side. I don't think you can blame the NFL and you can't blame the player. The economics of the situation are just too great.

"Some people complain about players leaving college. But, if your son was a mechanical engineering major and he was offered $500,000 to work for a firm after his junior year I think it would be hard to pass up."

Do you prefer to be ranked in the preseason polls?

"It certainly means more to be ranked at the end of the season, but being ranked in the preseason is certainly a positive for your program.

"For us, it is another sign of progress in the program. We were picked fifth in the conference in 1995 and weren't in anyone's top 20. In 1997 we have been in many top 20 preseason polls. It shows we have made progress and that people feel confident about your program.

"A lot of coaches don't like to be ranked in the preseason because it adds pressure. But, at Clemson you are supposed to win every game, so it doesn't add more pressure. The expectations are always high."

What are the long term goals of this program?

"We would like to be a program that plays on New Year's Day consistently. We don't want to be a real good team one out of five years, we want to be considered a team that will be playing on New Year's Day every year. The key to doing that is playing consistently throughout the season."

What coaches had a big influence on you in your youth?

"I've learned from every coach I've played and worked for. I probably had the greatest Little League baseball coach ever in a guy named Ted Ivey. I was blessed to have grown up in Gainesville, GA, it was a great community where we had good coaches. There was a lot of emphasis on sports in Gainesville, but they had things in perspective. I also had a lot of respect for Coach Bobby Grohn (high school football coach). He has been a big influence on me."

Did it take you a long time to decide to come back to Clemson?

"Not at all! Clemson is certainly a special place to me. Lindsay and I started our married life here, our first eight years together were spent in Clemson. There couldn't be a better place for me. There was no decision involved. When you work at a place for eight years and you really enjoy the people and the environment, it makes an impression on you. There is just something special about Clemson."

When did you first think about being a coach?

"The first time I thought about going into coaching was when I was being recruited.

No one really asked me about what I wanted to do after I finished playing until the recruiting process. When you are in high school you think you will play forever. I love the competition, I love the college atmosphere. I can't see myself in any other field right now."

Does your experience as a Division I player at Tennessee help you coach Division I players today?

"I don't think you have to play at a major college to be a good coach. Having played at a major college allowed me to associate with outstanding coaches, but my personal opinion is that there are more outstanding high school coaches than there are college coaches. We spend a lot of time with high school coaches in the recruiting process and we run into some outstanding people. I have a lot of respect for high school coaches, especially the ones in this area."

Would you be in favor of a college football playoff?

"I'm not totally against a playoff, but I love the bowl games and the bowl system. There are some problems with the bowl structure right now. I don't think we should have 15 games in three days or six games going on at the same time.

"The big question is what is best for college football. Is a playoff best for college football, or is it best for the top four or five programs? I am not for an eight-team playoff at the end of the year and everyone else stay home.

"I like the bowl structure, even though there are some controversies at the end of the year. Basketball is different because they can play four times in 11 days. But, at the end of the year, there is just one winner."

Who are some athletes you admire?

"The guy I have a lot of respect for is Nolan Ryan. He stood the test of time. I admire people who can be successful for more than one or two years. Jack Nicklaus was 46 when he won the Masters, Arnold Palmer was competitive for 30 years and Muhammed Ali was a great champion for many years.

"The thing about Nolan Ryan was his work ethic. He thought about baseball 365 days a year, he had to pitch that long at that level."

Assistant Head Coach/ Defensive Line

Western Carolina '71

Les Herrin is the dean of football coaches at Clemson. The assistant head coach is in his 13th season with the Tigers. In addition to his administrative duties as assistant head coach, he is the Clemson defensive line coach. Herrin has been a defensive coach at Clemson for all but one of his seasons and has coached such notable players as Chester McGlockton, Brentson Buckner, Jeff Davis and Trevor Pryce.

The 49-year old native of Waycross, GA, has coached under three different head coaches (Danny Ford, Ken Hatfield, Tommy West) at Clemson, one of just three assistants in Clemson history to do that. He is the only member of the current staff who was on Clemson's 1981 National Championship coaching staff.

Herrin's leadership ability was evident at a young age when he was named captain of the football team in his playing days at Western Carolina. Herrin was also the team MVP as a senior and Defensive MVP as a junior. Herrin earned his B.A. degree in Education from Western Carolina in 1971 and his Master's degree in Health and Physical Education the following year.

After serving as defensive coordinator at Appalachian State in 1980, Herrin joined the Tiger staff in 1981. In the national championship season (1981), he coached inside linebackers. One of those linebackers, Jeff Davis, was the ACC MVP that year and went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Davis was honored in 1995 by his induction into the Clemson Ring of Honor. Herrin also coached 1989 All-Pro linebacker Johnny Rembert of the New England Patriots in his first tour of duty at Clemson. In his first two seasons at Clemson, the defense ranked in the top 10 in the nation in rushing and scoring defense.

After brief stints at East Carolina and North Carolina, Herrin returned to Tigertown as defensive line coach where he continued to produce nationally renowned defenses. In 1989, Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in rushing, scoring, and total defense. In 1990, the Tiger defense led the nation in total defense and was second in rushing and scoring defense.

In 1991 Clemson won the ACC championship and Herrin's talented group had a lot to do with that. The players he coached on an everyday basis included Chester McGlockton, current three-time All-Pro with the Oakland Raiders. Brentson Buckner, 1993 All-ACC tackle who played with the Pittsburgh Steelers in the Super Bowl in 1996, and first-team All-American Rob Bodine, who led the nation in tackles for loss, were all members of that team.

In 1996, Herrin's defensive line produced 20 sacks and the number 28 pick in the 1997 NFL draft, defensive end Trevor Pryce by the Denver Broncos.

Through the 13 years he has been at Clemson, the Tigers have won four ACC titles, played in seven bowl games, had six top 20 seasons and seven seasons of at least eight wins.

Herrin and his wife Shirley have a son, Deke, who is currently a student at Clemson.

Offensive Coordinator/ Quarterbacks

Louisiana State '79

Steve Ensminger enters the 1997 season as the new coordinator of the Tiger offense. After serving as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Texas A&M the previous three years, he brings to Clemson 16 years of offensive coaching experience, and extensive knowledge of both the running and passing game.

While at Texas A&M, his Aggie offense averaged 404 yards per game in 1996 and it featured a balanced attack of 230 yards rushing and 174 passing. The Aggies averaged 29 points per game for a 12-game schedule that included games against five ranked teams (BYU, Colorado, Kansas State, Texas Tech, and Texas). The Aggies threw for over 2000 yards and had over 2700 yards rushing last season. Additionally, the Texas A&M offense had four rushers with over 600 yards and a receiver with 57 receptions for 872 yards. Starting quarterback Brandon Stewart threw for over 1900 yards and nine touchdowns. The Aggies threw 27 passes per game in 1996.

Ensminger is a native of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, home of another group of Tigers, Louisiana State University. Ensminger played for LSU from 1976-79 and lettered at quarterback all four years. He was the MVP of the LSU team in 1979 and still holds two LSU passing records: most touchdowns in a game (4) and longest touchdown pass play (82 yards).

He also participated in the 1977 Tangerine Bowl, 1978 Liberty Bowl, and 1979 Tangerine Bowl with LSU. When he finished his career, he ranked second in LSU history in passing yardage, just behind Bert Jones and ahead of Y.A. Tittle.

Ensminger then moved on to play in the Canadian Football League with the Hamilton TigerCats in 1980. He played one year in the CFL before moving into coaching.

The 38-year-old has coached at Nicholls State (Wide Receivers, 1981-83), McNeese State (Quarterbacks/Wide Receivers, 1984-87), Louisiana Tech (Offensive Coordinator, 1988-90), Georgia (passing game Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1991-93), and Texas A&M (Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1994-96).

Ensminger was a significant reason Georgia quarterback Eric Zeier set 61 school and 11 SEC passing records between 1991-93. Georgia ranked ninth in the nation in total offense in 1992 with a 450.4 yards per game average. The team was 10th in the country in scoring with 32 points per game.

Georgia went to the 1991 Independence Bowl and the 1992 Citrus Bowl with Ensminger in charge of the passing game.

"I am excited to have Steve Ensminger join our staff," said Head Coach Tommy West. "When I talked to other coaches about candidates for this job, his name always came up in the conversation. We are looking to improve our passing game and he has the credentials. He has had a productive passing game at every stop in his career."

"We have answered a lot of questions about the future of our offense. . . We have hired a proven quarterback coach."

Ensminger is married to the former Amy Marie Gonzales and they have three children: Krystalin (12), Steve (10), and Brittany Rose (6).

Defensive Coordinator/ Inside Linebackers

Florida State '81

Reggie Herring enters the 1997 season, his fourth at Clemson, as the inside linebackers coach and is assuming the duties of defensive coordinator. This will be Herring's first year as the defensive coordinator for the Tigers, but his third year as a coordinator of a Division I team. He was the defensive coordinator at Texas Christian in 1992 and 1993. Herring will be coaching a talented core of inside linebackers, including All-American Anthony Simmons and All-Star Candidate Mond Wilson.

Herring graduated from Florida State with a B.S. in criminology in 1981. He was a three-year starter for the Seminoles at linebacker, the position he has played or coached for the last 20 years. Florida State posted a 38-6 record in his four years and made three bowl trips, two to Miami for the Orange Bowl and once to Orlando for the Citrus Bowl.

In the 1980 season he was voted an AP All-American. He was also inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame in 1989. He combined with current Clemson wide receivers coach Rick Stockstill to lead the Seminoles to the 1981 Orange Bowl, a narrow defeat against Oklahoma. Herring also was a team leader, as he served as the team captain in 1980. He played on three Florida State teams that finished the season with a top 15 AP ranking, including a number-six finish in 1979 and number-five finish in 1980. Those were the first two top 10 finishes in the Bobby Bowden era at FSU.

As a coach, the intense and motivational Herring started his career in 1981 as a linebackers coach at Oklahoma State. He became a full time coach his first year out of college, a rarity in the profession. He served as a Cowboy for five years. The program went to the 1981 Independence Bowl, the 1983 Bluebonnet Bowl and the 1984 and 1985 Gator Bowls.

For six years starting in 1986, he was a linebacker coach at Auburn where he worked under Pat Dye. The Tigers went to the 1987 Citrus, the 1988 Sugar, the 1989 Sugar, the 1989 Hall of Fame and the 1990 Peach Bowls during his career with Auburn.

In 1992, he was named defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Texas

Christian, where he served for two seasons. Herring seized the opportunity to come to Clemson in December of 1993 when he was named the inside linebackers coach.

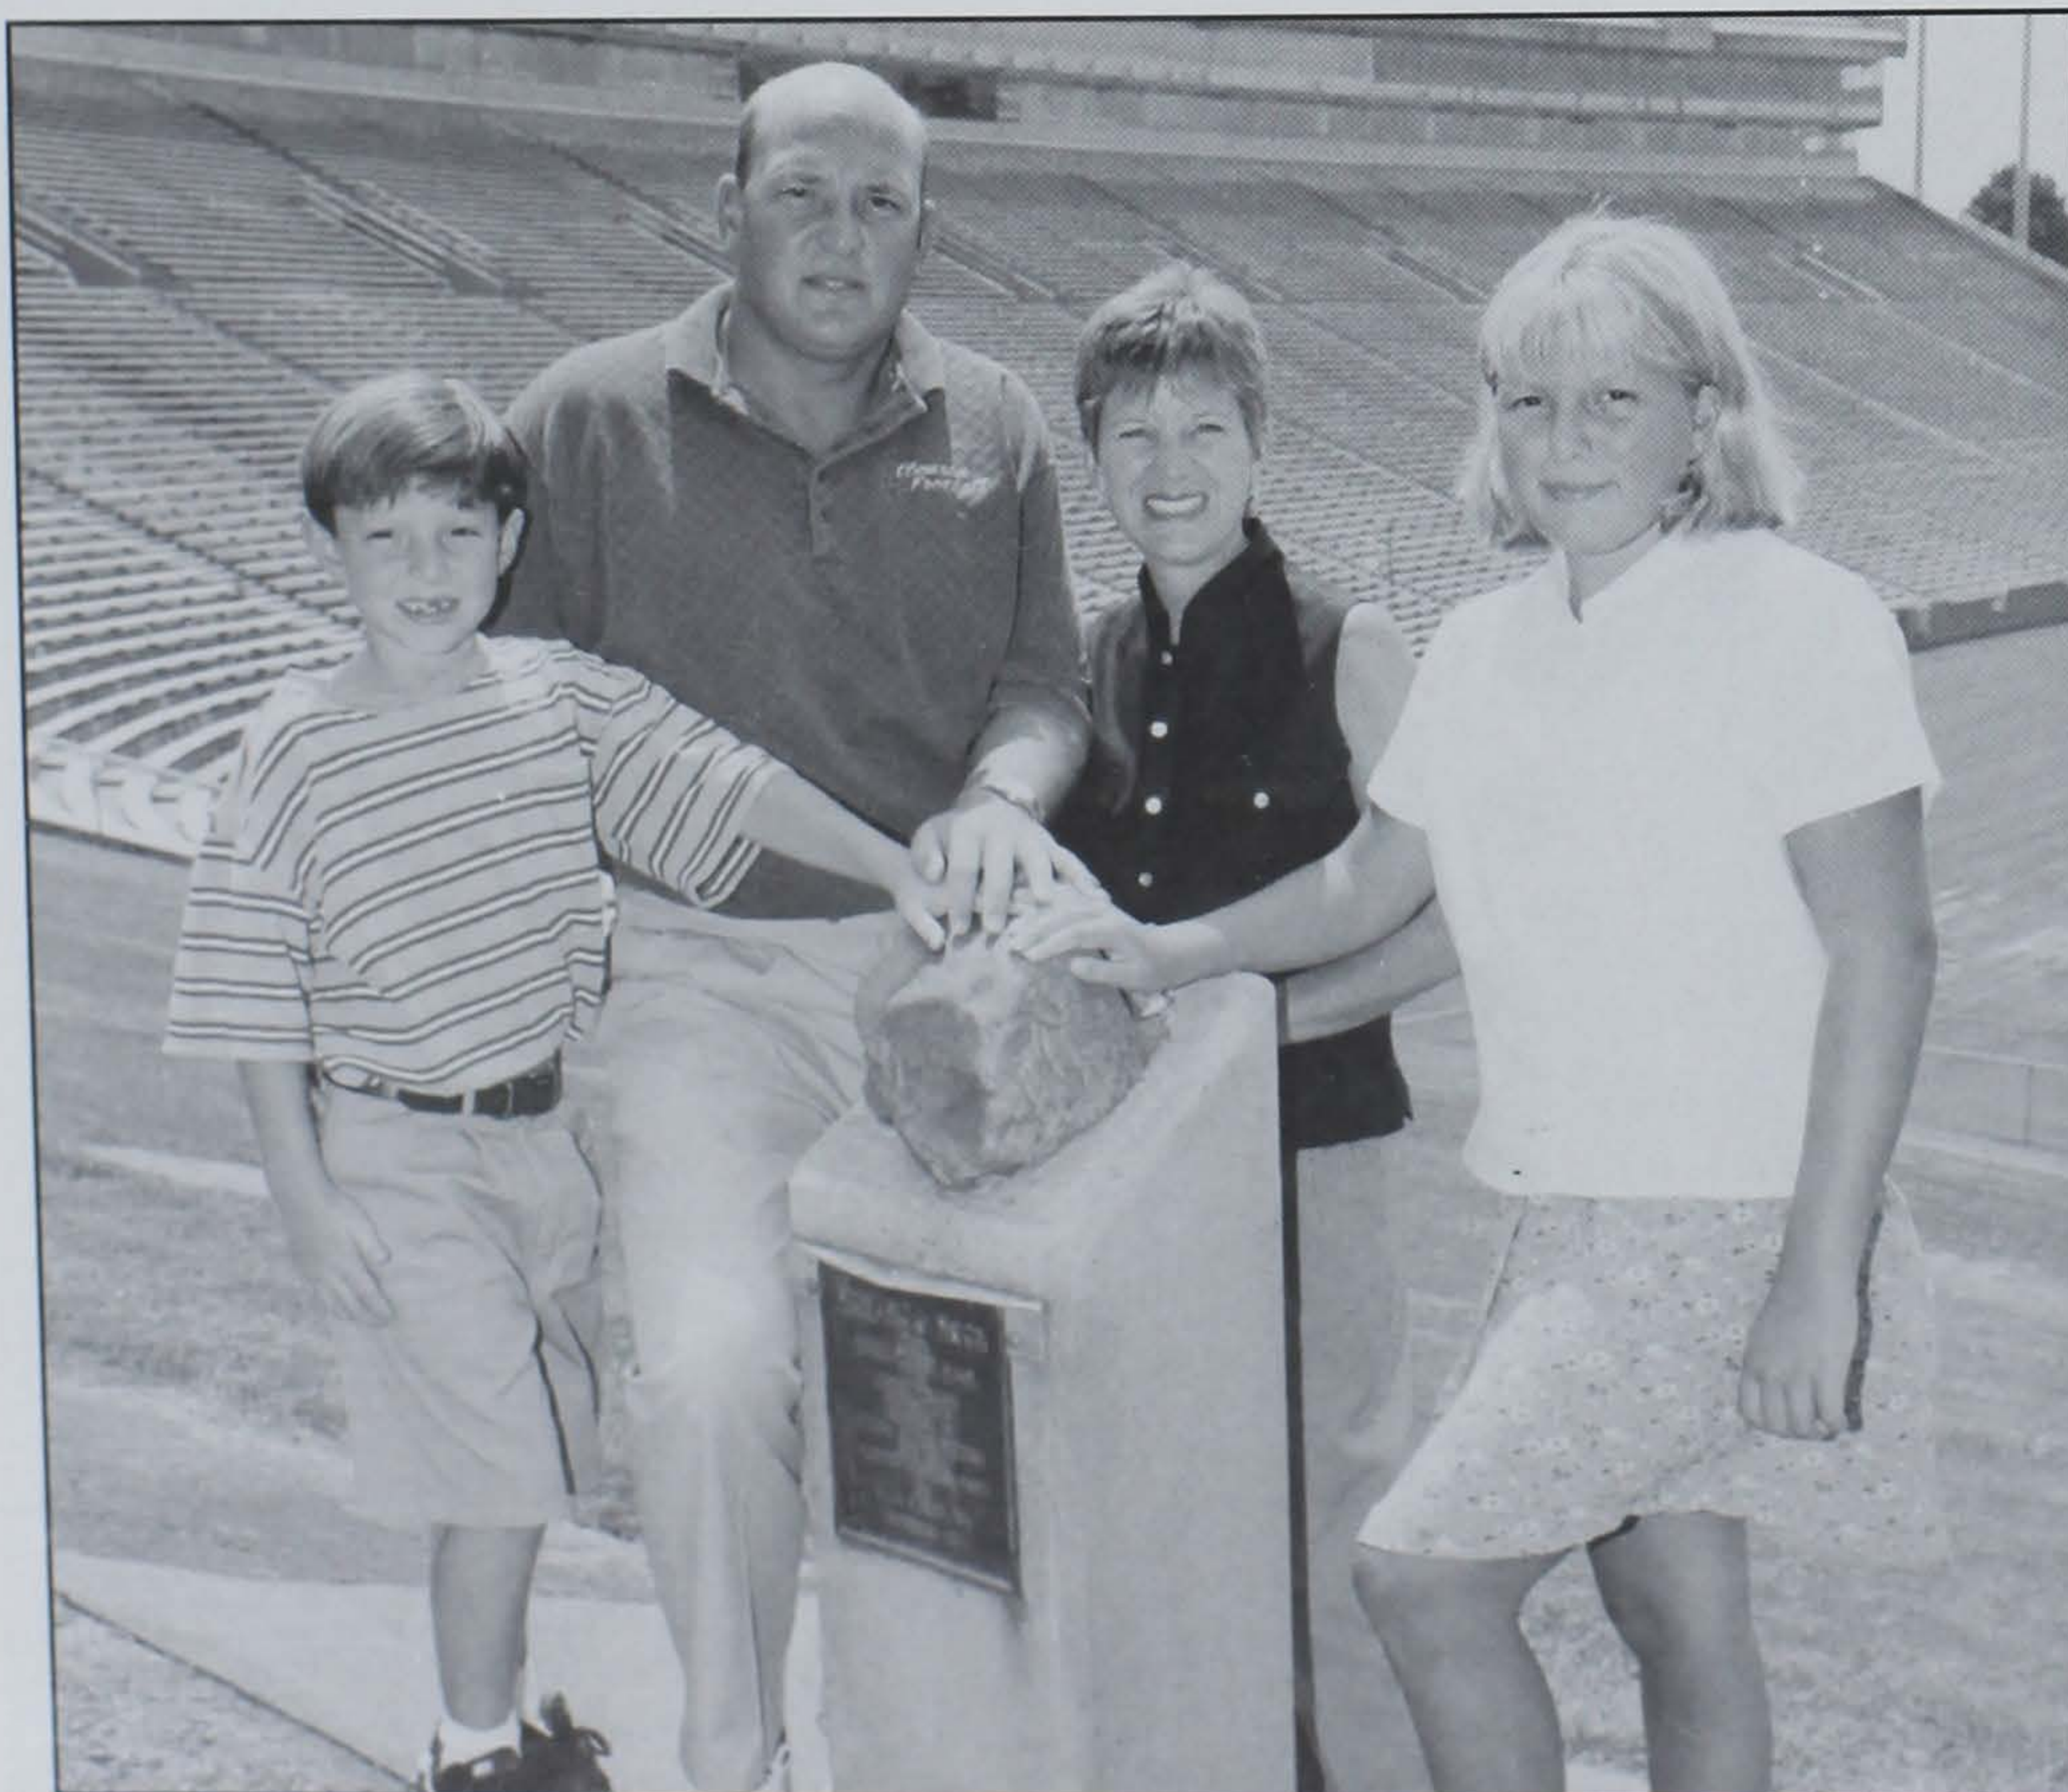

"Reggie does an outstanding job with our inside linebackers," said Tommy West. "He does a great job motivating his players and they know their assignments. Reggie had that toughness as a player and he has been able to instill that quality in his players."

Overall, Herring has been a part of 15 bowl teams in his career, three as a player and 12 as a coach, including three bowl games for the Tigers, the 1993 Peach, the 1996 Gator, and the 1996 Peach. In his first full season at Clemson, 1994, he coached Tim Jones and Mike Barber. Jones was a first-team All-ACC pick and Barber made the Seattle Seahawks roster.

In 1995, Herring coached a successful crop of inside linebackers led by third-team AP All-American and UPI National Freshman of the year Anthony Simmons. Herring's other inside linebacker, Andye McCrorey, was no slouch either as he was finished fourth on the team in tackles with 83 tackles and was named first-team CFA Academic All-American.

Last season, Herring's pack of inside linebackers led the team in tackles with The Sporting News' first team All-American Anthony Simmons ranking first with a record 178 and Mond Wilson second with 130.

Herring is married to the former Lisa Ward of Griffin, Georgia. The couple has one daughter, Caroline, and one son, Adam.

Tennessee '77

David Bibee enters his eighteenth year of coaching college football, and his first at Clemson. He has 10 years experience as an assistant head coach. Bibee takes over the task of outside linebackers coach for the Tigers, a position that has a rich tradition in Tigertown. With his coaching experience and the talent of his current players, Bibee plans to enhance that reputation.

Bibee played football at Tennessee and was a member of the 1973 Gator Bowl and 1974 Liberty Bowl teams. During two of his playing seasons he was a teammate of Tiger Head Coach Tommy West. Bibee earned a B.S. in Health Education from Tennessee in 1977.

He began his coaching career with the Volunteers as a graduate assistant coach in 1976. He then spent the 1977 season at his prep alma mater, Bristol's Tennessee High School, before moving onto Mississippi for one campaign as co-head coach of the junior varsity squad in 1978.

Bibee then moved east and spent time as the secondary coach and recruiting coordinator for North Alabama in 1979. Then Bibee moved on to two Ohio Valley Conference schools. He was the secondary coach and recruiting coordinator for Middle Tennessee State in 1980 and served in the same capacities for Austin Peay in 1981 and 1982.

Then it was onto the Southern Conference and Appalachian State. Bibee served as assistant head coach, secondary coach, and recruiting coordinator at Appalachian State from 1983 through 1988. During this stint, the Mountaineers won two Southern Conference Championships, twice led the nation in turnover margin, and annually ranked among the nation's best in scoring defense.

Bibee headed to Columbia and the SEC as he began a five year stint at South Carolina in 1989. He served as assistant head coach and secondary coach for the Gamecocks from 1989 through 1993.

While at South Carolina, Bibee coached Ernest Dixon, the 1992 and 1993 George Terry Best Attitude Award winner and currently a member of the New Orleans Saints. He also coached Gerald Dixon, a former Cleveland Brown and current member of the Cincinnati Bengals.

After coaching at South Carolina, Bibee spent two years in private business. He then made his way back into the Ohio Valley Conference in 1996, as he became the defensive secondary coach and recruiting coordinator for the Golden Eagles of Tennessee Tech.

He also served as the co-defensive coordinator for the 1990 Blue-Gray All-Star Classic, and has had articles published in various coaching manuals.

Bibee, 43, is a native of Bristol, Tennessee, and is married to the former Lisa Carter. The couple has three daughters, twins, Ashlee and Allison (12), and Lindsay (6).

Running Backs/ Special Teams

Yankton College '83

Clemson has been on a record pace in terms of rushing offense since Rich Bisaccia came to Clemson in December of 1993. Each of the last two years Clemson has led the ACC in rushing, including a number-four national finish in 1995 when Clemson averaged 260 yards per game.

Under Bisaccia, tailback Raymond Priester set the Clemson All-time records for single game rushing yards, 263, rushing yards in a season, 1,345, and most rushing yards in a career with 3,010.

Bisaccia, the youngest coach on the Tiger staff, wears many hats at Clemson as he also handles the special teams and serves as the recruiting coordinator. His special teams unit was the only one in the nation to have an individual rank in the top 25 in field goals, punting, punt returns, and kickoff returns in 1995.

Bisaccia graduated from New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT. He earned his degree in health and physical education from Yankton College in 1983. While at Yankton College, Bisaccia was a four-year starter and the team captain from 1979-82.

The Philadelphia Stars of the USFL signed him as a free agent in 1983.

Bisaccia's first coaching job was as the offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) in 1983. After five years at Wayne State, he moved to South Carolina for a six-year career. In 1989, Bisaccia became the volunteer assistant coach for defensive ends at South Carolina. In 1991, he was named the tight ends coach, then was promoted to running backs coach and special teams coach at South Carolina in 1992. He held that role for the 1992 and 1993 seasons. Clemson came calling in December of 1993 and named Bisaccia as its running backs coach, and in charge of special teams and the recruiting process.

In his young coaching career, Bisaccia has coached in four bowl games. In 1988, he helped the Gamecocks to the Liberty Bowl. In his debut as a Tiger assistant, he coached in the 1993 Peach Bowl victory over Kentucky. One of his players, Emory Smith, caught a 57-yard pass reception to set up the game winning touchdown in the final minute and was named MVP. Bisaccia also coached in the 1996 Gator Bowl and the 1996 Peach Bowl against LSU.

As evidence to his coaching success, Clemson drastically improved its running game when he came to the Tiger program. Bisaccia coached the ACC's leading ground gainer in 1995, tailback Raymond Priester. Priester's 1322 yards rushing, broke Terrence Flagler's record of 1258 yards.

Priester and fullback Emory Smith combined for 2,034 rushing yards in 1995, the highest figure ever by a Clemson starting backfield. Priester came back to break his own record in 1996 as he ran for a Clemson record 1,345 yards. Clemson had a 100-yard rusher in seven games in 1996.

Bisaccia is an outstanding teacher, especially when it comes to holding on to the football. Clemson has just 8 lost fumbles by running backs in three seasons, including a national low and NCAA record of two lost fumbles in 1994.

The 37-year old native of Yonkers, NY, is married to the former Jeanne Jons of Sioux City, Iowa. Bisaccia holds the distinction of having the most children among the Clemson coaches. The couple has three daughters: Michele (13), Elizabeth (8), and Madeline (4); and one son: Richard Oakley (3).

Bisaccia and his wife, Jeanne, and children Michelle, Richard Oakley, Madeline, and Elizabeth.

Defensive Backs

Gardner-Webb

Charlie Harbison been Clemson's secondary coach for just two seasons, but he has already contributed to Clemson's defensive back tradition. In 1995 Clemson led the ACC in pass defense. In 1997, four of his proteges could be playing in the NFL. Lamont Evans (Washington Redskins) and Brian Dawkins (Philadelphia Eagles) were in the NFL in 1996. Dawkins made numerous All-Rookie teams. Dexter McCleon was a second round draft pick of the St. Louis Rams, while Peter Ford signed a free agent contract.

The 37-year-old native of Shelby, NC graduated from Crest Senior High School in Boiling Springs, NC. During his high school career he ran track and was a top player on the football team.

Harbison received a bachelor's degree in business administration from Gardner-Webb College. While attending Gardner-Webb, he was a standout in both track and football as a defensive back. After his collegiate career, he was drafted by the Buffalo Bills and played with the Bills in where he played with Buffalo for two more seasons.

"We are excited to have Charlie Harbison as one of our coaches. He grew up in this area and is familiar with this part of the country in general and Clemson football in particular," said Tommy West. "He has experience at many levels of the game and has done an outstanding job with our secondary. The players look at him as a coach with professional experience."

Another reason for the respect he has from his players is the level of accomplishment by the Tigers. The Tigers ranked sixth in the nation in interceptions with 21 in 1995 and most of those were captured by players coached by Harbison. Brian Dawkins earned second-team All-America honors, while Leomont Evans was an All-ACC player. McCleon was an All-ACC player in 1996.

Harbison's first coaching experience came in 1983, when he was the defensive backs coach for Gardner-Webb. He remained with that program for two seasons. After his playing days were over, he reen-

Harbison tried his hand at the United States Football League, playing for the Breakers, 1983 in Boston and 1984 in New Orleans. In 1985, it was back to the NFL, tered the coaching ranks as linebacker coach in 1988 at East Lincoln Senior High School in North Carolina.

In 1990, he moved on to the pro ranks, this time as a linebacker coach for the Charlotte Barons of the MLFS. In the spring of 1991 he stayed at the pro ranks, but switched leagues, by becoming the defensive backs coach and special teams coach for the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks of the World League of American Football. In the fall of that year, he coached defensive backs at Lincolnton Senior High School. Harbison coached defensive backs for the Carolina Cougars of the PSFL in the spring of 1992.

In the fall of 1992, he returned to Gardner-Webb for two seasons as the wide receivers coach. In '92, Gardner-Webb played in the NAIA championship game and was the South Atlantic Conference champion with a 12-2 record.

Harbison then tried his hand at the Arena Football League in the spring of 1993, his third different professional league, coaching defensive backs and wide receivers for the Charlotte Rage. In the spring of 1994, he was the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach for the Rage.

Harbison made his debut at the Division I level in the fall of 1994, coaching defensive backs at Texas-El Paso. Up to that point, Harbison had coached eight different teams in less than four years.

He found a home at Clemson in 1995 and was a major reason the Tigers played in a January 1 bowl game in his first season with the program.

Centers & Guards

Virginia Tech '79

John Latina enters the 1997 season, his fourth at Clemson, as the offensive centers and guards coach. Latina may be coaching the best group of offensive linemen ever to put on the orange and purple. The group of Jim Bundren, Zane Lewis, Jason Gamble, Glenn Roundtree, and Holland Postell are ranked pre-season as the third best offensive line in the country by Street & Smith.

That ranking is a testimony to the efforts of Latina who took over the most inexperienced offensive line in Clemson history in 1994. Each of the last two years Clemson has led the ACC in rushing. His line is a big reason Raymond Priester has set the Clemson career rushing record in just three seasons.

Latina, a former Virginia Tech offensive lineman who once played in Death Valley, joined the Tiger staff after a successful career at Kansas State.

Latina received four letters at Virginia

Tech as an offensive lineman from 1975-78. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1979. "We have one of the top offensive line coaches in the nation in John Latina," said Tommy West. "I have known him and respected his coaching abilities for a long time. Our offensive line is ranked third in the nation by one publication this preseason. When he took over in 1994 we must have been third from the bottom."

Latina's coaching career began immediately after his playing days were over. In 1979, he was an assistant coach at his alma mater in Blacksburg, and he coached the Gobblers in the 1981 Peach Bowl. He then moved to Pittsburgh for the 1982 season where he worked with an outstanding Panther team quarterbacked by Dan Marino. The team amassed a 9-3 record and played in the Cotton Bowl.

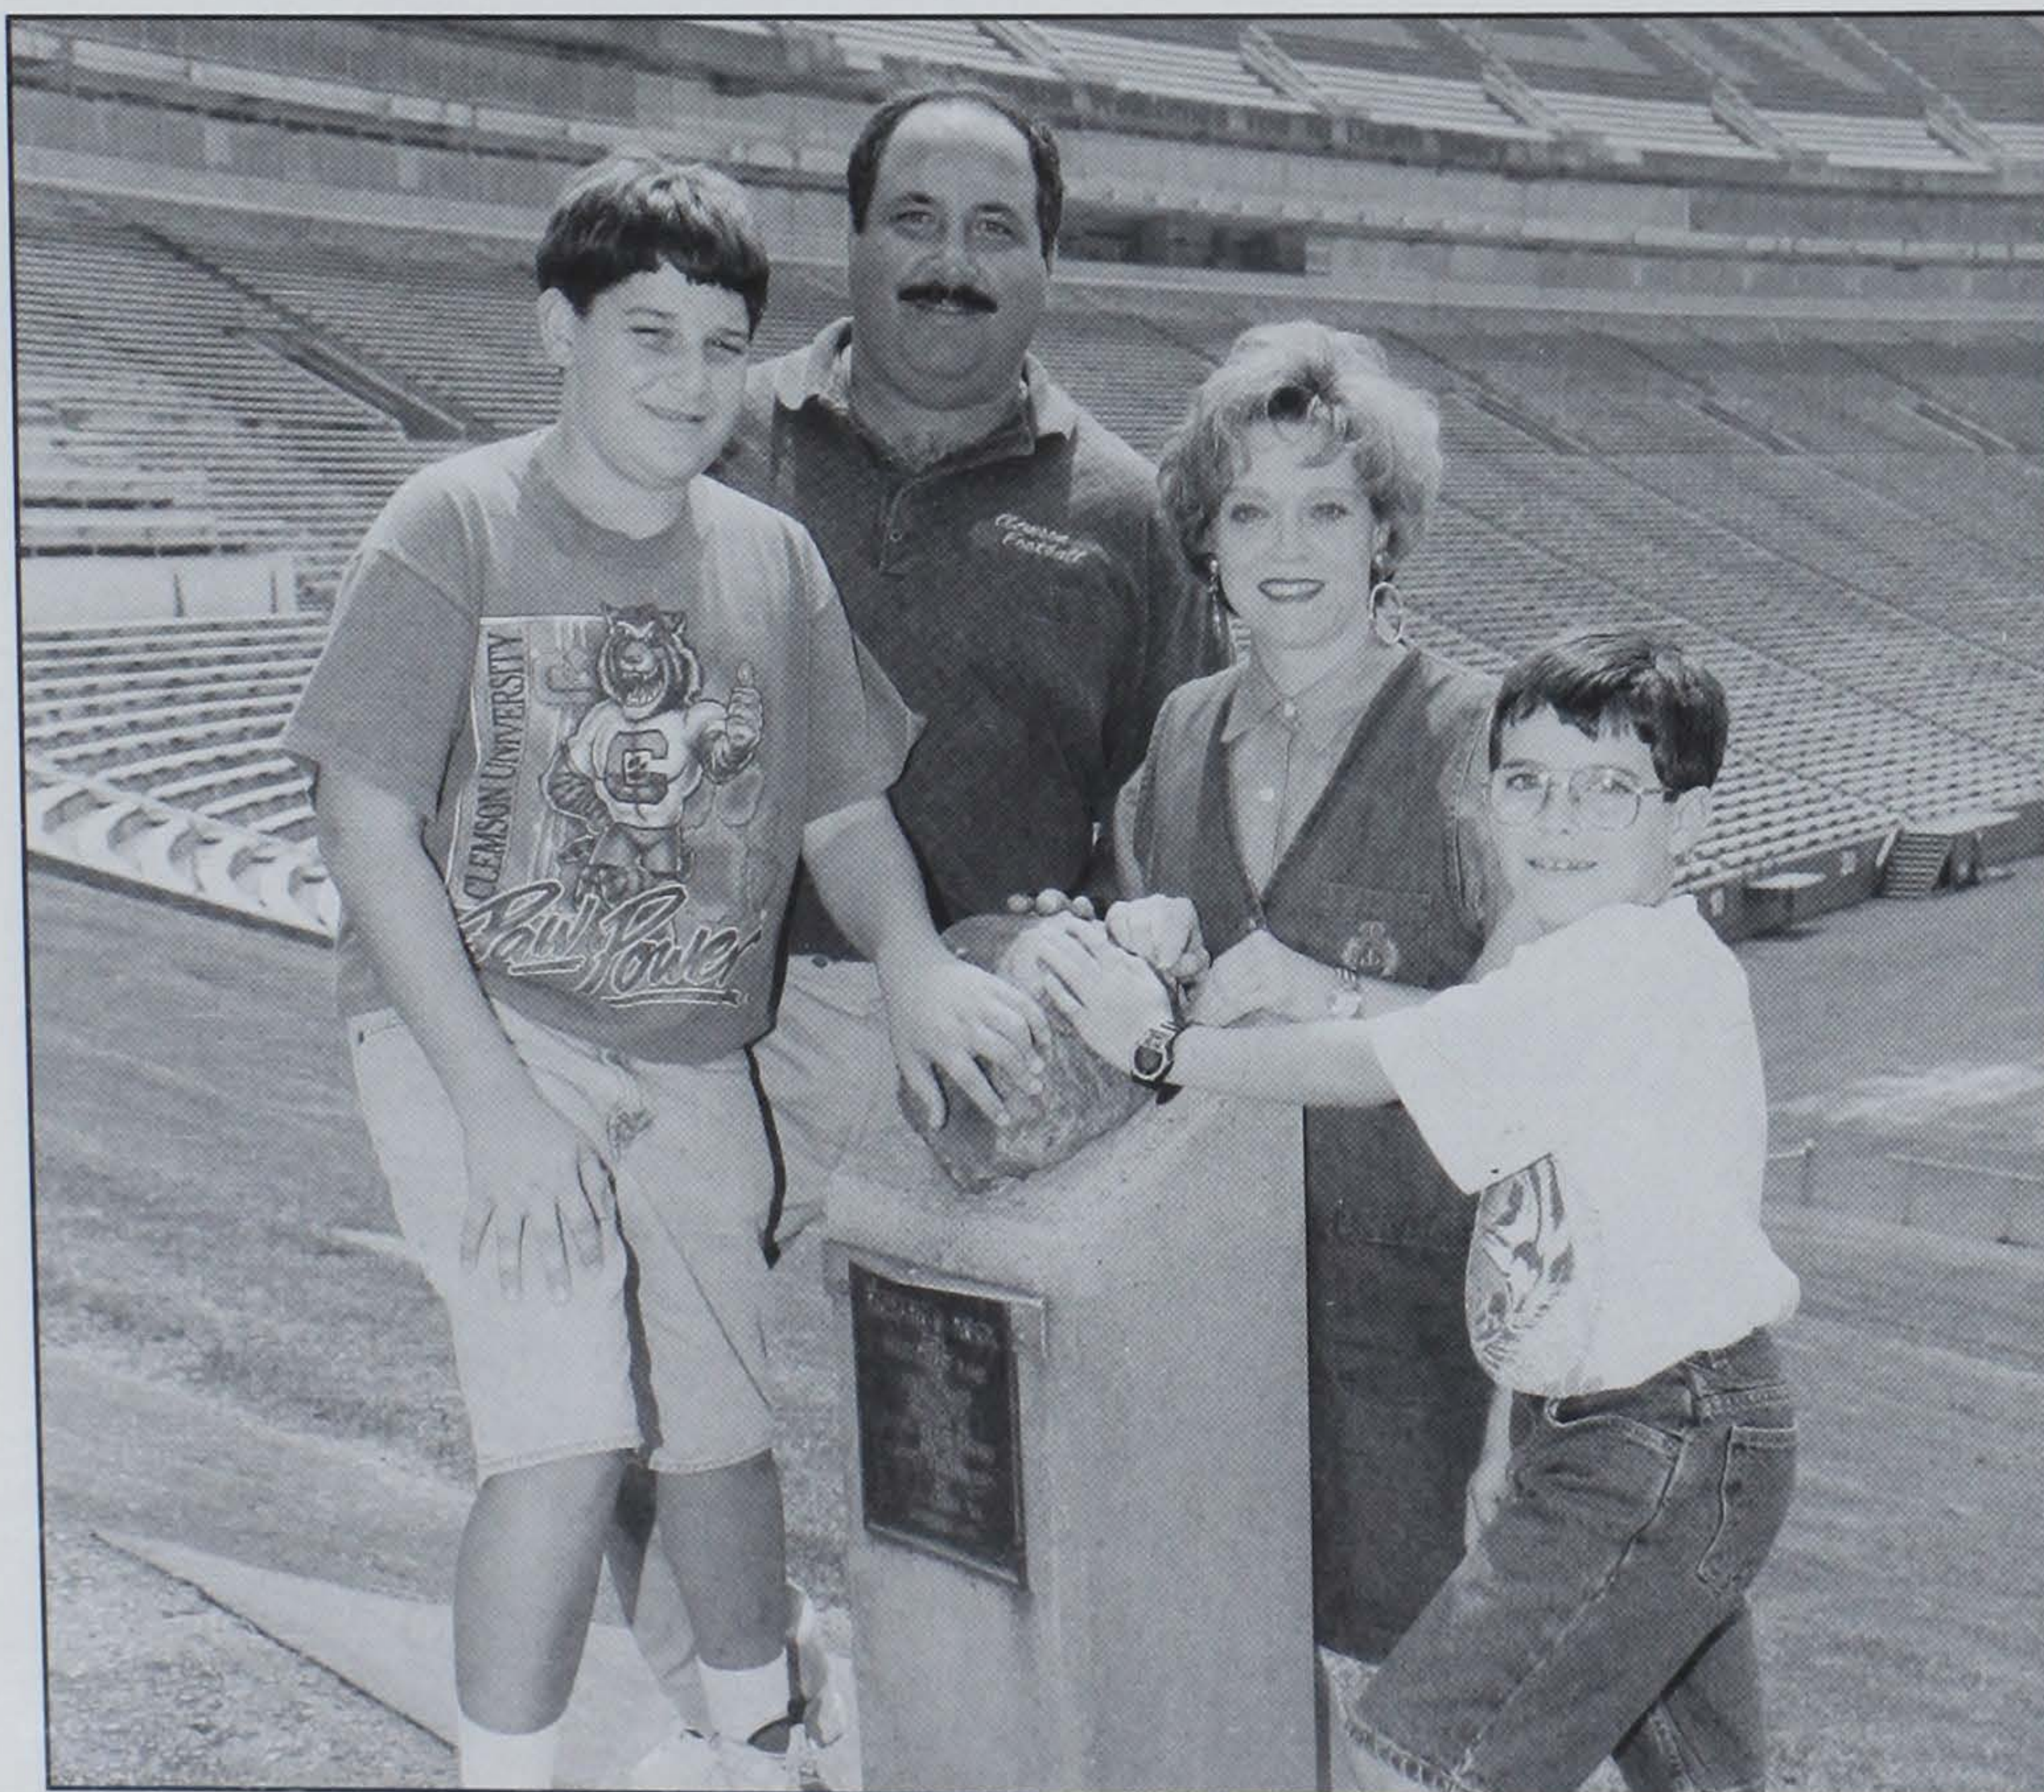

In 1983, Latina was named as the offensive line coach at Temple. There, he coached the offensive line that blocked for first-team All-American Paul Palmer, who was the nation's leading rusher. After six years in Philadelphia, Latina went out west to Manhattan, KS, to coach Kansas State. For five years he was the running game coordinator and offensive line coach. His offensive line helped to lead the Wildcats in 1993 to the Big Eight lead in passing, averaging 245 yards per game. In 1991, Kansas State set a school record with 4,231 yards in total offense, including 1,756 yards rushing, the most by a Kansas State team in 10 years. The 1992 Kansas State team played in the Copper Bowl, just the second bowl appearance in Wildcat history.

Latina arrived at Clemson as the offensive line coach in December of 1993 when Tommy West was named Clemson coach. He has already coached the Tigers in three bowl games, the 1993 Peach, the 1996 Gator, and the 1996 Peach.

The 1996 Clemson team, in particular the running game, was a direct product of Latina's coaching. Glenn Roundtree and Jamie Trimble were both named to the All-ACC second-team. His offensive line opened up the holes that allowed Raymond Priester, Kelton Dunnican, and Emory Smith to amass over 2,000 yards on the ground and sixteen touchdowns. Clemson's line allowed just 23 sacks in 12 games.

Latina should receive much credit for the Clemson improvement in terms of total offense since his arrival. He inherited an offensive line devoid of returning starters in 1994. The team made nearly a 1000-yard rushing improvement from 1994 to 1995 and doubled their rushing touchdown total.

Wide Receivers

Florida State '82

Rick Stockstill enters his ninth consecutive season at Clemson as an assistant coach. He has experience as a wide receivers and quarterbacks coach at Clemson. His contributions in terms of on-field coaching and recruiting are significant reasons Clemson has been to bowl games in six of his eight seasons with the program.

The Tigers passing game should be on the rise with a new offensive coordinator and a veteran receiving corps, and Stockstill plans to have his group primed to make a strong contribution. His top three returning pass receivers had over 900 yards last year and averaged 14.2 yards per catch.

Stockstill graduated from Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL, in 1977. After graduating from Florida State in 1982 with a B.S. degree in physical education, he immediately went into coaching. "I was always interested in coaching," Stockstill states. "By the time I got to high school I had decided that I wanted to go into coaching. I think any athlete who grows up in a coaching family has a head start on the field." Stockstill played for his dad at Fernandina Beach High School.

As a member of Bobby Bowden's first recruiting class, Stockstill earned three letters, made three bowl trips, and was selected to play in two all-star games after his senior season. In 1981, Stockstill, the team-captain, was named an Honorable Mention All-American by the Sporting News. He helped Florida State to two Top 10 final AP rankings and wins over perennial powers in Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Ohio State, and Nebraska in his career.

He teamed with current Clemson line-backer coach Reggie Herring to lead the Seminoles to the first two top 10 rankings of the Bobby Bowden era. Although Stockstill never played a game in Death Valley, his brother, Jeff, played for the Tigers from 1979-82 and was a key reserve on the national championship team.

Rick's first coaching job was at Bethune-Cookman where he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 1983 to 1984. In 1985, he moved to Central Florida to become the Assistant Head Coach and wide receivers coach. After four years at Central Florida, Stockstill came to Tigertown in 1989, as the quarterbacks coach, a position he had for four years. In 1992, he was the passing game coordinator and in 1993, he was the co-offensive coordinator and the wide receivers coach.

As a player, Stockstill was a part of the 1977 Tangerine Bowl, 1980 Orange Bowl, and 1981 Orange Bowl with Florida State. He also participated in the 1982 East-West Shrine Bowl and the 1982 Japan Bowl All-Star games. As a coach, he has been on six bowl staffs including victories over West Virginia in the 1989 Gator Bowl, Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl, and Kentucky in the 1993 Peach Bowl.

In his first year (1989) as quarterbacks coach at Clemson, he helped lead Clemson to a single-season record for completion percentage (60%). In 1991, the offense led by DeChane Cameron, the all-time winningest quarterback in Clemson history in terms of percentage, led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense. He also co-coordinated the #6 offense in Clemson history in 1995.

Stockstill and wife Sara have one son, Brent, and recently added one daughter, Emily, this past February.

Offensive Tackles/ Tight Ends

Georgia '74

Mac McWhorter enters his second year at Clemson as the offensive tackles and tight ends coach. McWhorter, 47, and a native of Atlanta, GA, shares the duties of the offensive line with coach John Latina. In his first year at Clemson he coached first-team All-ACC tackle Jim Bundren, who is a pre-season All-American in 1997. The Tigers led the ACC in rushing in 1996 and McWhorter's work with the line had much to do with an offense that showed steady improvement over the course of the season.

During McWhorter's five years at Georgia, three of which were shared with offensive coordinator Steve Ensminger, the Bulldogs set school records in many categories. The 1992 team established a Bulldog record for yards per rush in a season with an average of 5.6 yards per carry. The 1993 team completed 63 percent of its passes, a school record. The 1994 team completed a record 25 touchdown passes and set a school mark and ran track. McWhorter attended Georgia and received a bachelor's degree in education in 1974. He was a three-year letter-winner at Georgia as an offensive player, and was an All-Academic Southeastern Conference performer in 1972 and 1973.

In 1973, he was an AP All-Southeastern Conference offensive guard and Honorable Mention All-American in '73 as the permanent offensive captain of the Bulldogs. In 1973, he also had the highest grade point average on the football team. Georgia played in the 1971 Gator Bowl and the 1973 Peach Bowl during his career.

McWhorter began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Duluth High School in 1974 and went on to become an assistant coach at Douglas County High between 1975-78. He was the head coach at Villa Rica High in Georgia in 1979, where he was named Carroll County Coach of the Year.

McWhorter jumped to the college ranks in 1980, when he was named to the Georgia for total offense with 5135 yards, an average of 467 yards per game.

McWhorter graduated from Therrell High School in Atlanta, GA in 1969, where he played football

Tech coaching staff. From 1980-81, he coached receivers and was the special teams coordinator. From 1981-82, he was an assistant coach who handled the offensive line and the special teams. In 1982, he became head recruiter at Georgia Tech and still handled the offensive line. From 1983-85, McWhorter, was an offensive line coach for the Yellow Jackets. In 1985, he was named the Assistant Head Coach, and handled operations and the offensive line. The Yellow Jackets played in one bowl when he was in Atlanta, the 1985 All-American Bowl.

He then moved across the border to coach at Alabama in 1987, where he was the Assistant Head Coach and coached the offensive line under Bill Curry. That team was ranked in the top 20 and played in the Sun Bowl. In 1988, McWhorter became the Administrative Assistant to the Head Coach and was the offensive line coach.

In 1989, McWhorter took his first head coaching position at the college level when he was named the Head Coach at West Georgia College. McWhorter joined the Duke coaching staff in 1990 as an offensive line coach and director of football operations.

After two seasons in Durham, he returned to his alma mater, Georgia, in 1991 to coach the offensive line and tight ends. He was also director of football operations in Athens. He remained with the Bulldogs and Ray Goff for five seasons, three of which ended in bowl games.

McWhorter and his wife, Rebecca, have three children, Katie, Hamilton, and Kasay.

Since becoming Clemson University's 13th president on May 22, 1995, Constantine W. "Deno" Curris has begun to build a vision for the future based on identifying and enhancing those qualities that make the university distinctive.

In working to create a strong foundation to support Clemson's goal of becoming a national university, Curris has redirected resources to critical areas, set the recruitment of top students and faculty as well as an increase in research funding as high priorities, and established a select commission of alumni and friends to offer advice and counsel.

Curris' first challenge upon coming to Clemson was filling key administrative vacancies and building a sense of teamwork and cooperation among deans and executive officers—a task which is largely completed. In addition, he has established a goal of recruiting more young professors to counter a graying of the Clemson faculty.

Another immediate priority was increasing Clemson's involvement with state leaders and working with other institutions to reverse declining state funding trends. The efforts helped secure an increase in general state funding for higher education as well as a capital bond bill designed primarily for the state's colleges and universities.

Curris has also focused more attention on the university's information technology infrastructure, which had often been neglected during years of budget cuts during the early 90's. Using $2 million of savings from restructuring, Curris funded a plan to extend the information technology network campus-wide, providing network access to all faculty and bringing 2,000 dormitory rooms online. It was merely the first step in a long-range plan to attain and maintain technological currency in the classroom.

Another of Curris' early accomplishments has been upgrading many basic student and administrative services, such as admissions recruiting, plant maintenance and class registration systems.

Curris also believes in seeking input from experts outside the university. The Commission on the Future of Clemson University was created by the Board of Trustees on Curris' recommendation to build on earlier planning and self-study efforts. In May, more than 200 alumni and friends—leaders in industry and the professions—came to campus for the Commission's first meeting, to hear reports on the university's goals and offer perspective and insight to help the university plan for the 21st century.

Building strong foundations is a tested strategy that Curris used while president of both Murray State University—where he oversaw extensive campus renovations and improvements—and at the University of Northern Iowa—where he led a move to raise admissions standards and strengthen academic programs.

A native of Lexington, Kentucky, Curris received a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Kentucky, a master's in political science and public administration from the University of Illinois, and a doctorate in higher education from the University of Kentucky.

Curris is also a national leader in higher education. He is a past Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and was a featured participant in a 1997 national videoteleconference on "The New Public University: How Do We Compete in a Changing Environment?" Curris is also one of 25 presidents currently serving on the national Kellogg Commission on the Future of Land-Grant Universities.

When his schedule permits, Curris enjoys gardening, fishing, and reading. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney and author, and they have a son Robert Alexander, and a daughter, Elena Diane.

IPTAY is widely regarded nationally as the father of Athletic Fundraising. It all started in 1934 and from a private meeting of a small group of Clemson supporters has sprung an organization that raised over $8 million last year. The organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 18 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA.

The organization also has helped finance facilities that contribute to the well-being of student-athletes on and off the field. Vickery Hall is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. It is a major reason Clemson student-athletes have had their highest cumulative GPA on record for five consecutive semesters.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, currently helping over 30 students at Clemson.

IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett has continued to keep Clemson among the best in the nation in terms of fund-raising by the establishment of the IPTAY Endowment Program. In April of 1994, he kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five-year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college playing days, or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. "Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program and that was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson."

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world. We went to him and explained the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going, and he accepted."

Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three-year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962. Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about this program will grow. Success builds on success. People who are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that."

Besides the Hudson's family endowment four other football endowments were made and one managers position in the first year. Now there are over 30 positions endowed. The goal of the program is to get every position endowed. "From the free safety to the number three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed," said Bennett.

"We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further for the positions they have endowed. That will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports."

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved."

And with more involvement Clemson will have a very secure future for generations to come.

George Bennett is the Executive Director of IPTAY.

George Bennett Executive Director

George Bennett says the wheels are off and that he has thoroughly enjoyed being back at Clemson these past four years. Bennett returned to Clemson on February 14, 1993, and as he says, "The second time around is definitely better."

He thanks Athletic Director Bobby Robinson for giving him another chance to try to do a better job for Clemson.

A 1955 Clemson graduate, Bennett was an Assistant Athletic Director for Business at Clemson for eight years (1971-79), and his final two years, he was the Executive Secretary of IPTAY. Under his leadership, annual contributions to IPTAY doubled to more than 2.3 million and memberships increased from 9,800 to 15,000.

In 1979, Bennett left Clemson to become the Associate Athletic Director for Financial Development at Vanderbilt University. Bennett initiated programs for the Commodore Club that resulted in memberships going from 650 members to more than 6,000 and contributions increased from $275,000 in 1979 to over $2.2 million in 1986. Bennett also was instrumental in raising funds to rebuild the Vanderbilt Football Stadium. In 1984, Bennett was named the National Athletic Fundraiser of the Year at the National Conference of Athletic Fundraisers.

In April, 1986, Bennett was named the Athletic Director at Furman University. During his time at Furman, the football team won the National I-AA Championship. Bennett returned to Nashville, TN, in 1989, where he served as the Vice-President for Development at Baptist Hospital.

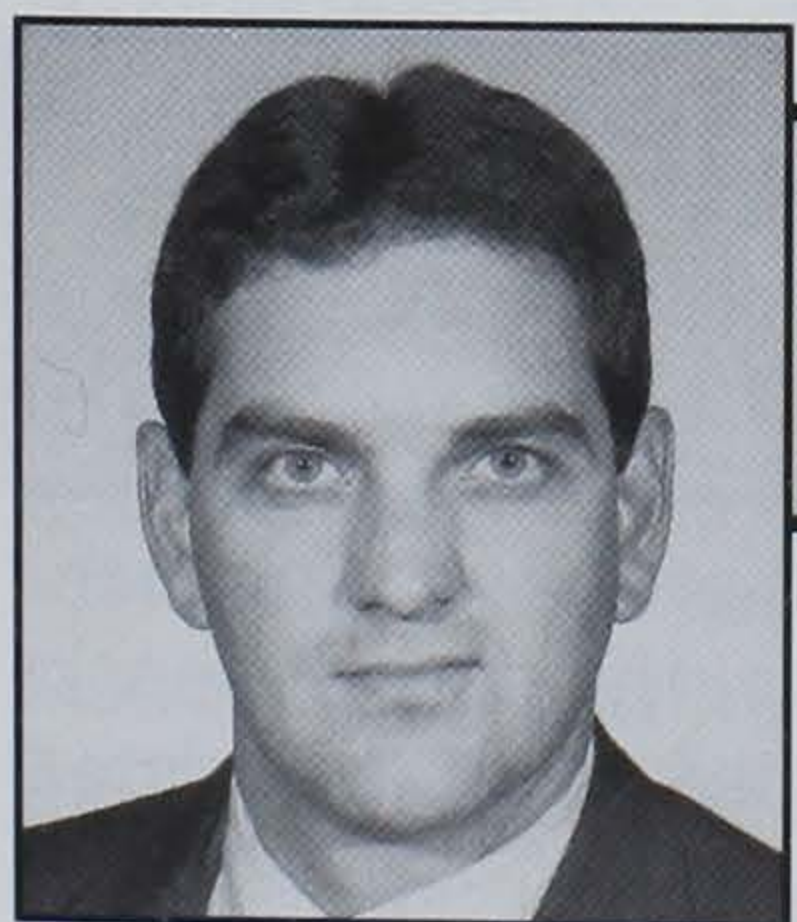

Bennett has twice been honored by Clemson. He is a member of Clemson's Athletic Hall of Fame and, in 1986, he received the Alumni Association's Distinguished Service Award.

Bennett's civic responsibilities have been numerous. In Clemson, he has served as President of the Chamber of Commerce and has been President of the Clemson Sertoma Club. He has been a member of the Board of Governors of the Chamber in Nashville. He held a similar position in Greenville. He and his wife, Nancy, served as co-chairs on two United Way Campaign Cabinets in Nashville. The Bennetts have also been active in the churches in their communities and have worked mainly with college students. Bennett is a member of the Greenville Executive Sertoma Club.

Bennett's ties to athletics at Clemson date to his undergraduate days. As a varsity cheerleader for three years and head cheerleader his senior year in 1954, he asked his father to buy a small cannon and thus began the tradition of firing the cannon after a touchdown was scored. During his college years, Bennett was President of Blue Key, The CDA, and served as a class officer. He has continued his association with Tiger Brotherhood.

Bennett's current projects with IPTAY are the expansion of endowments to name positions on athletic teams and the proposed "Avenue of Champions."

A native of Columbia, SC, he and his wife, Nancy (who has a Master's degree from Clemson and was elected to the City Council in Clemson last November) have been married 37 years. They enjoy activities with their two children, Jeff and Bonnie and their families in addition to attending as many Clemson athletic events as their schedules will allow. Their grandchildren are Tiger Cubs--Megan (10), Bennett (6), Brooks (5), and Augusta (3).

Bert Henderson Assoc. Executive Director

Bert Henderson is in his 12th year with IPTAY. His diverse background with Clemson University dates back to 1978 when he began his career as a trainer with the Athletic Department.

He began full-time employment under Fred Hoover in 1980 and served as basketball trainer from 1982-84. He handled all travel arrangements and a majority of the administrative duties for Clemson basketball.

In 1984, he joined the Clemson Alumni Association where he was instrumental in setting up Clemson clubs and also coordinating away game headquarters. In April, 1985, he rejoined the Athletic Department as IPTAY's first Associate Executive Secretary.

Henderson demands excellence and his record shows that he does not settle for less in fund raising. He has been instrumental in IPTAY's 340 Life members as well as working with a number of donors in establishing endowments, trusts, and wills. As Clemson begins a new Capital Campaign, he is working as the Development Director for Clemson Athletics through IPTAY. The success so far has been the establishment of 36 endowments for Athletics positions and scholarship aid. Other major gifts and trusts will help IPTAY secure the future for scholarships.

Henderson's duties also include working with the staff of the Orange and White. He is also the advisor for the IPTAY Student Advisory Board (ISAB). This thirty member group serves as a liaison between students and the Athletic Department. He has been the driving force behind the newly created Collegiate Level of the Tiger Cub Club program. Henderson is also involved with the Clemson Clubs and has numerous other duties in the administration of IPTAY.

Henderson is a 1978 graduate of Mars Hill College. He earned a master's degree from Clemson in administration and supervision. He is married to the former Lee Ann Hudson, and the couple has two children, Amy Lee (9/23/86) and Kimberly Ann (6/13/89).

Bob Mahony Assoc. Executive Director

Bob Mahony started with IPTAY as an associate executive director in February of 1989. He is a 1976 graduate of Clemson with a bachelor of science degree in building construction. He had been involved in commercial and residential construction in Columbia and the upstate since graduation.

In the summer of 1977, he began a career in construction with Bagnal Builders, a residential builder in Columbia. From 1981-1985 he was employed by McCrory Construction, also in Columbia, where he gained experience in commercial construction. Following a return to Bagnal Builders from 1985-87, he moved to the upstate where he worked with Trehel Corp. of Clemson and Hudson Construction of Seneca.

Mahony lettered in baseball at Clemson from 1974-76. He was a walk-on pitcher for coach Bill Wilhelm's baseball team in 1974. He later earned a full scholarship and was co-captain of the 1976 team that participated in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebraska. That team also won the ACC regular season and tournament. Following his career at Clemson, Mahony spent a short time with the Baltimore Orioles organization. For the past nine seasons, he has provided the color commentary for Clemson Baseball on the Clemson Sports Network.

In addition to his everyday responsibilities of soliciting new IPTAY members at every level and servicing the requests of current donors, his duties with IPTAY include the coordination of the IPTAY Representative and County/Regional Chairperson appointment and awards program. There are approximately 750 IPTAY Representatives throughout the country who solicit new IPTAY donors and monitor the activities of current donors in his or her particular area. Mahony also plans and coordinates special activities and meetings for the Representatives throughout the year.

Mahony is also responsible for planning and coordinating the Clemson Club Spring Meetings. Approximately 30 meetings are planned each year highlighting the athletic accomplishments and forecasts for each of the 18 varsity sports at Clemson.

Mahony is married to the former Robin Ann Lawrimore, a 1976 graduate of Clemson. The couple has two children, Robin Allison (9-1-80) and Marion Leigh (9-3-85). Bob has two brothers, Glenn and David, who are also graduates of Clemson, his father received his Doctorate Degree from Clemson after retiring from the Navy and his mother was Clemson's Tiger Brotherhood Mother of the Year in 1981.

Joey Batson Strength Training Director

Entering his first year as Strength Training Director at Clemson, Joey Batson brings much experience to the position. Batson is familiar with the Tiger program, having served as a graduate assistant under Gary Wade in the Strength and Conditioning area from 1985-88.

Prior to his return to Clemson, Batson served as the first full-time director of Strength Training at Furman University in Greenville. In addition to his four years at Furman, he also worked as the Director of Strength/Conditioning at Bowling Green and served a year at the University of South Carolina as assistant director of strength and conditioning.

Not only does Batson bring professional experience to the position, but he also brings experience as a player at the collegiate level. The Greenville native was a tight end at The Citadel in 1979 before transferring to Newberry College where he was a three-year letterman. He earned his B.A. in Physical Education from Newberry and his masters in Education at Clemson in 1988.

Batson is a member of several professional groups which include the National Strength and Conditioning Association, United States Weight Lifting Federation and American Drug Free Powerlifting Association. Batson is a regular speaker and instructor on the strength training circuit.

Batson, who started his employment as director on June 2, 1997, is married to the former Susan Malone of Berea. They have one child, Michael who was born June 5, 1996.

Tim Bourret Assistant AD/Sports Information and Public Relations

Tim Bourret is in his ninth year supervising the SID office, his fifth as an Assistant Athletic Director, and his 20th with the Clemson Athletic Department. He first came to Clemson as assistant SID under Bob Bradley in September of 1978 and was elevated to an associate SID position in July of 1980.

The 41-year old Bourret has edited 82 award-winning brochures in his career, including 26 that have dealt with Clemson football. The 1995 Clemson football program series was voted fifth in the nation by CoSIDA. The 1996 football series ranked in the Top 20 in the nation for the 10th straight year.

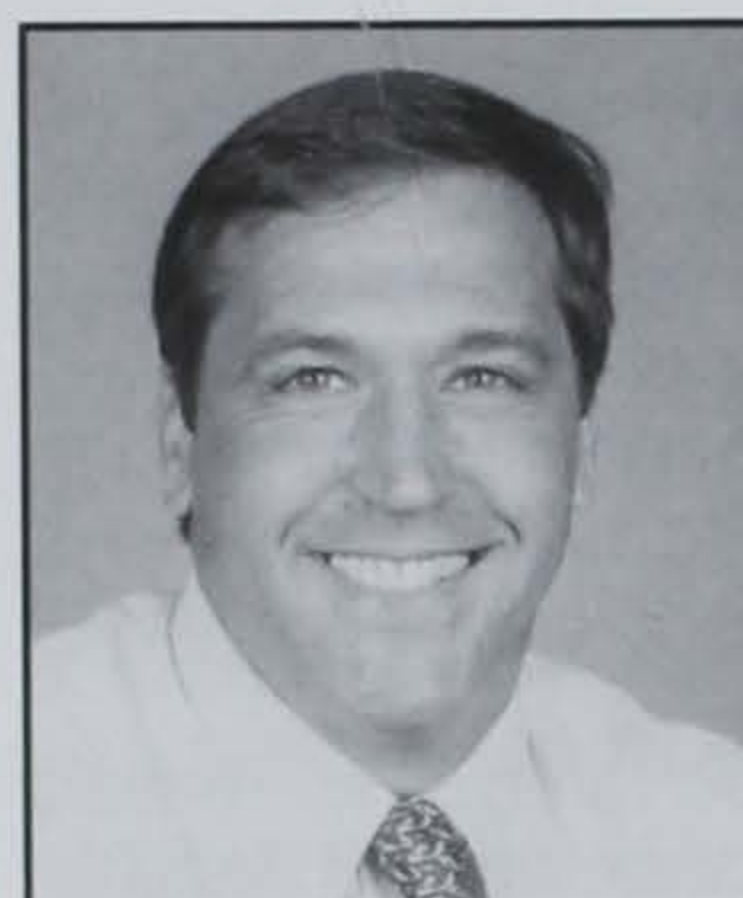

Bourret also has considerable radio experience, play-by-play and color. He has been the color voice of Clemson basketball since the 1980-81 season and served in the same capacity for Clemson football between 1982 and 1988. He gave up his football radio work to supervise the Clemson pressbox when Bob Bradley retired in 1989. He was also the play-by-play voice of Clemson postseason baseball between 1980-89.

Bourret is a native of West Hartford, CT and 1973 graduate of Northwest Catholic High School. He was an all-conference baseball player in high school and played in the 1973 American Legion World Series.

Following in his father's footsteps, Bourret earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame in business administration in 1977. He also earned his master's degree in communication arts from Notre Dame in August of 1978.

Bourret worked as an undergraduate and graduate assistant under Roger Valdiserri in Notre Dame's office for three years, where he was assistant editor of Notre Dame's 1977 football programs. The program series won Best in the Nation that year. He also served as commissioner of the school's famed "Bookstore Basketball Tournament" for three years, including the year it was featured in Sports Illustrated.

He joined former Notre Dame basketball coach Digger Phelps and Sport's Illustrated's John Walters as co-authors of the book "Basketball for Dummies." It will be released by IDG Books in October.

Bill D'Andrea Associate AD/Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment

Bill D'Andrea is in his seventh year as the Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment, but has been a part of the Clemson family for much longer.

Prior to being named as the Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment D'Andrea, 45, served as the Tiger offensive tackles coach from 1986 to 1989. He also served as the Clemson football recruiting coordinator in the spring of 1991. D'Andrea's ties to Clemson go back even further as he served as a graduate assistant for the Tiger football program in 1982 and 1983. He continues to serve as Executive Secretary of the Tiger Letterman's Association.

As Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment, D'Andrea oversees the day to day operations of Vickery Hall, Clemson's student-athlete enrichment program. This position covers three areas: academic progress of the student athlete, personal growth of the student athlete, and student-athlete career assistance. It would be hard to argue with the success of Vickery Hall under D'Andrea. In the spring semester of 1997, Clemson athletes enjoyed tremendous semester in the classroom with 180 athletes, managers and trainers earning a 3.0 or better, a school record for one semester. Clemson student-athletes had a 2.64 GPA in the Spring of 1997, also a Clemson record.

D'Andrea, a Morgan, PA native, received his undergraduate degree in criminal justice from Indiana St. in 1973, and earned a master's degree in education from East Carolina in 1975.

James Earle Assistant AD/Career Enhancement Coordinator

James Earle, the Career Enhancement Coordinator, is in his second year in that position, but has been associated with Clemson for at least 13 years.

As the Career Enhancement Coordinator, Earle is in charge of teaching marketability to student-athletes. He instructs athletes as to the intricacies of searching for summer jobs, internships and practicums, he teaches them about the functionality of resumes and teaches interview techniques. He works with postgraduates and enters into the community to assist Tiger student-athletes with their job pursuits.

In 1996, Earle added new responsibilities to his repertoire within the Vickery Hall program. He took over the academic advising of the men's track program.

Earle is both a former player and coach of the Clemson Tigers. The Easley native began his tenure with Clemson in 1984 as a strong safety and outside linebacker. He continued his education with the Tigers, received his master's degree in 1991, and acted as a graduate assistant coach in the process.

He moved on to Easley High School after receiving his master's in Guidance and Counseling and from there followed current head football coach Tommy West to UT-Chattanooga for a year before returning to his alma mater as the Tight Ends coach under West's direction.

Earle had a professional football stint with the Pittsburgh Steelers out of college in 1988, after leading Clemson in tackles. He was also named the nation's #6 outside linebacker by the Sporting News in 1987 and was an honorable mention All-ACC choice by the Associated Press while he played for the Tigers.

Van Hilderbrand

Associate AD/Ticket Manager

Any Tiger fan who has ever needed tickets or parking for a Clemson athletic event will recognize the name of Van Hilderbrand.

He has served the Clemson athletic department for 20 years and is in his 11th year as an associate/assistant athletic director. He is in charge of the ticket office and supervises all parking administration and also works with game day operations.

Hilderbrand is certainly familiar with the athletic department. He started his association there as a student employee in the office during his college career, 1970-74. In 1976 he filled the newly created position of assistant ticket manager, and in 1980 he was named Athletic Department Ticket Manager. In 1985 he was made an assistant athletic director.

It is Hilderbrand's responsibility to distribute the tickets to the thousands who attend all Clemson athletic events. Hilderbrand and his staff sell more football season tickets than any other school in the ACC. Clemson has been in the top 20 in the nation in attendance every year since 1983.

In the 17 years since Hilderbrand took the job as ticket manager, he has distributed more season tickets than ever before for football and basketball. He has met the challenge by keeping up with the technology of the profession.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson.

Hilderbrand graduated from Clover (SC) High School in 1970. He was the school's all-time leading scorer in basketball until 1993, when current Tiger gridder Lamont Hall broke his mark. Hilderbrand earned his degree in parks and recreation administration from Clemson in 1974. The 45-year old is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover and they have two children, Van Jr., who was born December 31, 1979, the day Clemson met Baylor in the Peach Bowl, and Lee Elizabeth, who was born October 2, 1985.

In his spare time, Hilderbrand enjoys golf and working with the Boy Scouts.

Assistant AD/
Head Trainer

Much of the credit for getting the Tigers on the field should go to Fred Hoover, who has completed 37 years as head trainer for the Tigers. The 66-year-old Hoover is responsible for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to Clemson's athletes. In addition, Hoover, who was named assistant athletic director in the summer of 1983, is a consultant for purchasing athletic equipment, supervising the medical staff, making travel arrangements, supervising the athletic training room and directing the training table.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Hoover graduated with a BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953. He served as trainer at his alma mater for two stints, 1952-53 and 1957-58, before coming to Clemson in 1959. He has never missed a Clemson football game, working 422 in a row heading into this year.

Professionally, "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administrative post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president, and he is an affiliate member of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine.

In 1981, Hoover was enshrined in the Citizens Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his work.

In the spring of 1982, he was named a consultant to the South Carolina Medical Association—Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. He is also past chairman of the NATA National Symposium Committee and is currently chairman of the South Carolina Board of Certification for Athletic Trainers. Hoover is also a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and is past president of the South Carolina Trainers Association. In October of 1990, Hoover was named an Honorary Member of the Clemson Alumni Physicians society.

In 1983, Hoover was the recipient of the Distinguished Service to Sports Medicine Award given by the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. In 1987, he was awarded the South Carolina Hall of Fame Distinguished Service to Sports Award. In 1994, the South Carolina Trainers Association created the Fred Hoover Award. It is presented for excellence in athletic training.

Hoover is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, IL, and the Hoovers have two children, Catherine, a 1980 Clemson graduate who is married, and Bryan who also graduated from Clemson. The Hoovers have one grandchild, Andrew Cole.

Huey won the university's Class of '39 award for excellence, one of the top faculty awards offered at Clemson. The award recognizes distinguished faculty representing the highest achievement of service to students, the university, and the community.

Huey's association with Clemson is not solely in an academic light, although he earned his bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in mechanical engineering from the university. Huey was an athlete during his undergraduate years with the Tigers. He was a member of the ACC champion mile relay team that posted a time of 3:14.2 in 1964. The outdoor track team finished second in the conference championship that year.

Huey is a member of the American Society for Engineering Education, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Society for the History of Technology, and the Society for Industrial Archaeology.

Tim Match

Tim Match was named Associate Athletic Director for Marketing and Public Affairs in 1996. Overall he has been a fulltime employee of the athletic department since 1989. Match, a native of Arlington, Ohio, is responsible for implementing the athletic department's sports marketing, sponsorship and licensing program.

The 1985 graduate of Bowling Green State University is also responsible for all post season football games and is the liaison for the athletic department with the Clemson Radio Network and the Clemson Coaches Television Show Network. He also serves as game manager for the Clemson football and men's basketball games as well as oversees the Memorial Stadium Executive suite program.

Prior to his return to Clemson, Match participated in an internship at the University of West Florida in the athletic department. He then moved on to Clemson where he worked in the sports information office as a graduate assistant.

After receiving his master's degree in PRTM with an emphasis in micro-computer management, he became the assistant sports information director at the University of Virginia. While at UVA, Match worked with the men's soccer, women's basketball, football and men's basketball programs. He returned to Clemson in 1989 as an associate sports information director, working directly with the men's basketball program, as well as editing the football and men's basketball programs for three seasons.

In 1988, the 32-year-old Match married the former Sharon Yoder of State College, PA. She is a 1984 graduate of Penn State and received her master's from Clemson in 1987. They have a son, Benjamin (3).

Steve Nelson

Associate AD/ NCAA Compliance

Steve Nelson became an Associate Athletic Director at Clemson in August of 1994. Nelson serves as the director of the university's compliance program. He also has duties reviewing contracts and monitoring gender equity, minority enhancement, and Title IX issues. Nelson recently coordinated the involvement of the athletics department in the on-campus NCAA self-study certification process.

As the director of compliance, Nelson works out of the athletic department and reports to both President Deno Curris and Athletic Director Bobby Robinson. Nelson's responsibilities include implementing rules education programs for coaches, student-athletes, boosters, and other individuals associated with the athletic department; maintaining and applying procedures for compliance with NCAA, conference, and university rules, and serving as a liaison with the NCAA and conference offices on rules-related matters. He is also responsible for monitoring student-athletes during the academic year.

Nelson came to Clemson from the NCAA office, where he served as an enforcement representative from 1989 to 1994. In that position, he was involved with examining institutional compliance programs; identifying eligibility, enforcement and eligibility issues, and interviewing student-athletes and coaches in connection with several NCAA investigations.

Nelson earned his bachelor's degree in economics from Macalester College, St. Paul, MN, in 1979. He graduated Magna Cum Laude and captained the men's basketball team. Twice he was named an all-conference selection.

He received a juris doctorate degree in 1985 from the University of Iowa College of Law. While in law school, he served as an editor for the Iowa Law Review. Nelson was engaged in the private practice of law for three-and-one-half years prior to his career with the NCAA. In addition to his law practice, Nelson worked as an advisor on employment and marketing issues for the Cedar Rapids Silver Bullets of the Continental Basketball Association in 1988-89.

Dwight Rainey

Senior Associate Athletic Director

When there is success in college athletics, experience is almost always a key factor. Senior Associate Athletic Director

Dwight Rainey is an example of success gained from a wide variety of experience.

Rainey is in his 22nd academic year with the Clemson University Athletic Department. For the past 12 years, he has overseen scheduling and administered other duties involving the football and men's basketball programs. He is also in charge of the Clemson weight room, equipment room, and sports information.

While football and basketball may be the two highest profile sports at Clemson, the 16 Olympic sports have also enjoyed enormous success. Rainey is the point man for those sports and oversees their day-to-day operation. The 1996-97 sports year was quite a success for those in the Olympic sports. There were eight top-25 finishes. Thirteen of the 16 teams advanced to postseason play. Five programs won ACC Championships, the most since 1988-89.

The success of the 1996-97 academic year should come as no surprise. In his 14 years overseeing the Clemson Olympic sports program, Clemson has been in the top-25 in the nation in the All-Sports Poll seven times.

Prior to moving into administration at Clemson, Rainey served as Bill Foster's top assistant in the men's basketball program for 13 years, five at UNC Charlotte and eight at Clemson. One of Rainey's coaching highlights was the 1979-80 team that finished with 23-9 mark. That squad advanced to the Final 8 of the NCAA tournament, the furthest a Clemson men's basketball team has advanced in the NCAA tournament.

Rainey has also had experience outside of college athletics. Between 1967 and August of 1970, he worked with a division of the Chrysler Corporation in Atlanta, GA. Rainey earned a B.A. in business administration from Shorter College in 1967 and a Master's degree from UNC Charlotte in 1972.

Rainey is married to the former Cheryl Dye, a native of Paris, MO. Cheryl has a daughter, Jenna (13).

Robert Ricketts

Associate AD/ Chief Financial Officer

Keeping the expense accounts of such a vast operation as the Clemson athletic department in order is no easy task, but Associate Athletic Director Robert Ricketts is well-qualified for the job. Ricketts is in his 12th year with the department and his 21st with the university.

As associate athletic director in charge of business operations, Ricketts handles all purchasing and expense accounts. This job is old hat to Ricketts who spent nine years working for Clemson in auditing and accounting departments. During these nine years, one of his main duties was the audit for the athletic department. He worked in the University's financial management division in accounting control and payroll benefits between 1976 and 1977, then worked in the internal auditing division and as an auditor between 1977 and 1980. In 1980, he was named an audit supervisor, a position he held until February of 1985. Thus, he has seen all sides of his job.

Ricketts earned an associate arts degree from Anderson College in 1969, and a business administration degree from Erskine College in 1971. He is also a 1967 graduate of T. L. Hanna High School in Anderson. After his graduation from Erskine, he entered merchandise management with the J.C. Penney Company of Greenville and Anderson. He worked for that company between 1972 and 1976, until he began his career with the University on May 28, 1976.

The native of Anderson has also completed the College Business Management Institute at the University of Kentucky. He is a member of the College Athletic Business Managers' Association and the Institute of Internal Auditors. Ricketts has previously served as secretary of the Clemson Recreation Advisory Committee for six years.

Ricketts and his wife, Kathey, have two children, Chesley (18) and Lindsey (14). His wife is employed in the Payroll/ Benefits Office at Clemson University.

Bobby Robinson

Athletic Director

The Clemson athletic program's commitment to excellence begins with Athletic Director Bobby Robinson. The program has been on the rise in just about all forms of athletics in recent years. Robinson's commitment to success in competition, academics and facilities has been the key to the level of distinction that the program has maintained during his 12 years as the director.

Clemson had another successful season on the field in 1996-97. Eight different teams were ranked in their sport's final top 20. Clemson joined Stanford as the only schools in the nation to have a team in a bowl game, the NCAA basketball tournament, and the NCAA Baseball Tournament.

It was also a landmark year academically. Clemson had a record number of student-athletes earn a spot on the ACC Academic Honor Roll. Nine of the 14 programs had a GPA higher than the student body average. The teams combined for a 2.64 GPA for the year, highest on record.

Under the direction of Robinson, the athletic department continues to support the university. Over $3.0 million has been contributed to the athletic academic scholarship fund; and band travel equipment, uniforms, and many other projects are funded by the department for the overall benefit of the student body.

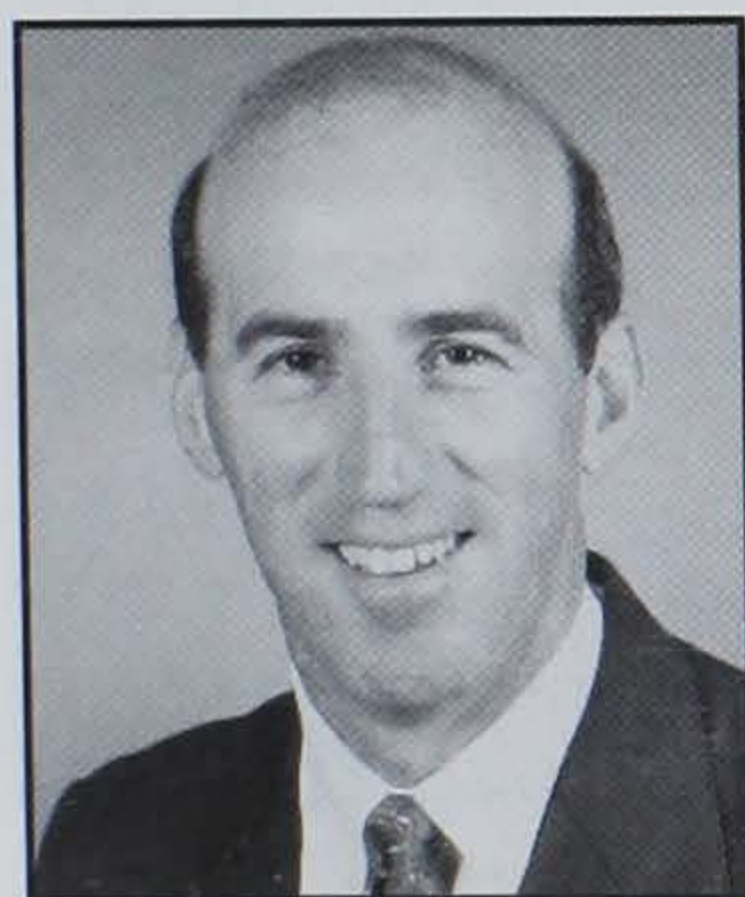

Robinson graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman. Robinson came to Clemson in 1970 to work in the housing office and after three years, he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department.

After serving the athletic department in various capacities, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director, and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title for six years, and his area of responsibility moved to primarily football and basketball. The native of Columbia became Athletic Director in March of 1985.

While serving his administrative duties, Robinson found time to coach the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach, Clemson won its first ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA Tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five finish.

Robinson has served on the NCAA golf committee, the CFA Board of Directors, the Division I-A Certification Committee, ACC Long Range Planning Committee, ACC Booking Office Committee, ACC Committee on Infractions and Penalties, ACC Gender Equity Committee, ACC Golf Committee, and ACC Committee to Study Football in the 1990's. He currently serves on the NCAA Championships and Competition Cabinet, serves as chair of the ACC Athletic Directors, is a member of the NCAA Bowl Certification Committee and the NCAA Football Issues Committee.

John Seketa

Asst. AD/Promotions

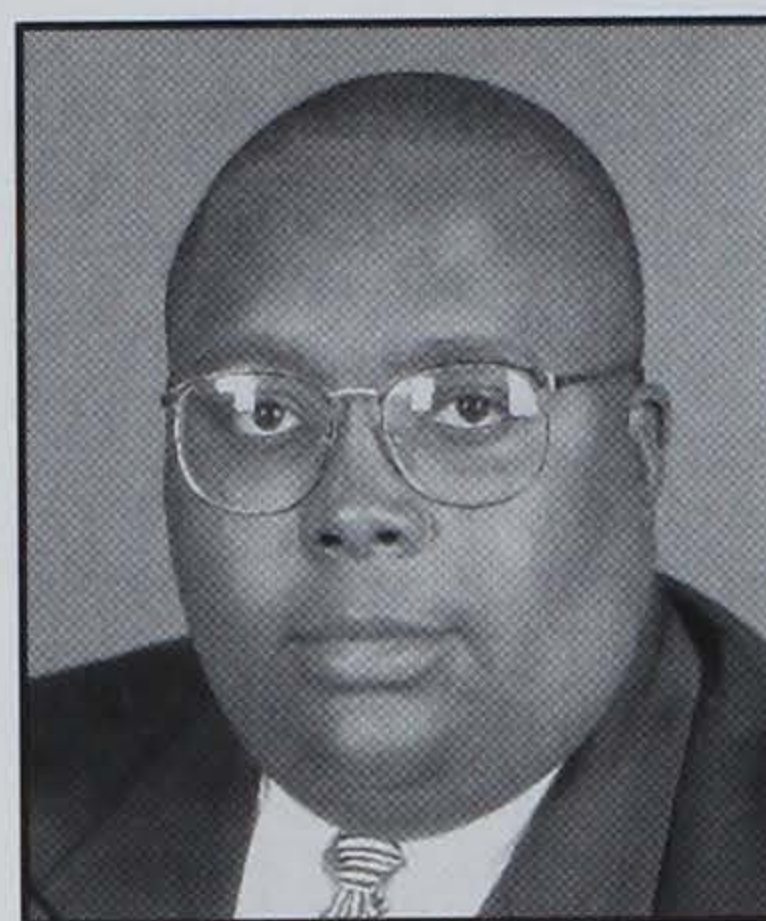

Last year the Promotions Department helped give away 35,000 t-shirts to Clemson students and fans at football and basketball games. What's new for 1997-98? More t-shirts, more contests and more celebrations. Your chances of catching a t-shirt at an athletic event is better than winning the Georgia lottery unless you are the two gentlemen from West Union who won $15.6 million in May. Congratulations!

In 1997, you will see new animation and graphics on the eight electronic message boards at the various athletic venues. In the world of promotions, anything is possible when you have $1.5 million worth of Daktronics equipment to work with.

If anyone had the opportunity of watching Kris Benson, Billy Koch and Matt LeCroy at the 1996 Atlanta Summer Olympics, the odds are you probably saw Seketa in action as a Sector Coordinator (Game Manager) at Fulton County Stadium. Especially if you witnessed the bronze medal game and saw Kris, Billy, and Matthew with American flags. That Kodak moment was special because no other college baseball player had a flag.

Prior to arriving in Clemson, Seketa was the promotions director at Eastern Illinois University where he promoted all sports. In 1985, he staged a Make-Believe TV Football Game between Eastern Illinois and Western Illinois with ESPN, which was cited in the New York Times. After one year at Eastern Illinois, Seketa headed to the sunny south and Clemson for the 1986-87 academic year.

Seketa is a March 1981 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. After receiving his Bachelor's degree in business administration, Seketa worked as a computer operator for three years for the Shell Oil Company in Wood River, Illinois. His work in athletics began at Western Illinois where he attended graduate school followed by an internship at the University of Illinois.

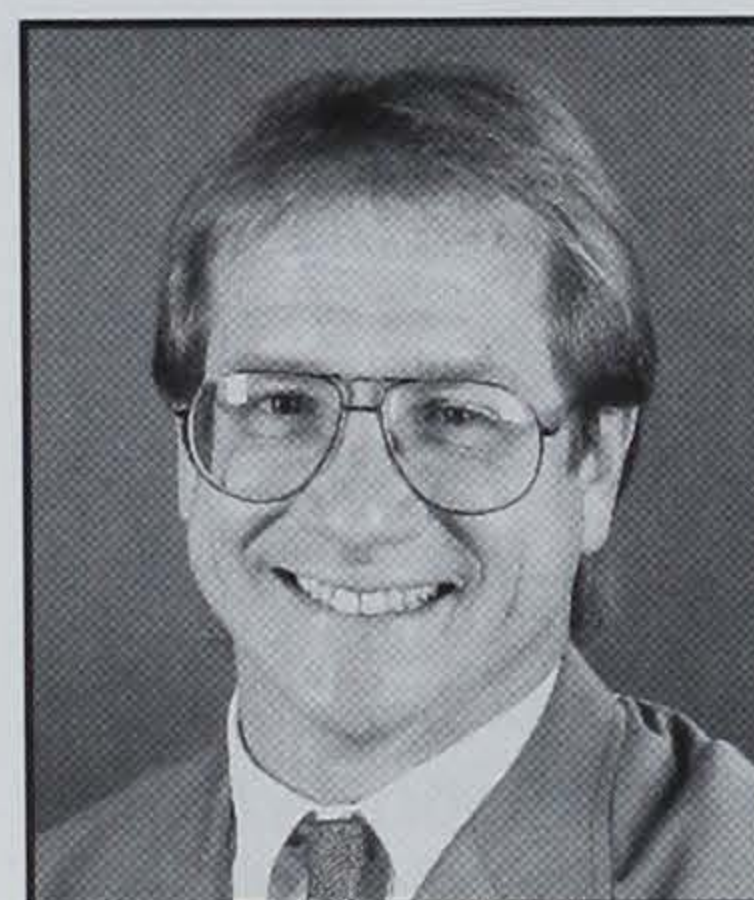

Alphonso Smith

Head Equipment Manager - Football

Alphonso Smith is in his first year as Co-Head Equipment Supervisor. He is responsible for football, men's and women's track, volleyball, baseball and golf.

Smith served as a basketball manager during his college years at Clemson during 1985-1991. He also served as a graduate assistant in 1992. Smith worked as Assistant Equipment Supervisor at the University of Memphis for three years. His responsibilities were assisting with football and he was head of men's and women's basketball, women's golf, men's and women's track.

Smith is a 1991 graduate of Clemson University and he earned his degree in social science secondary education. He is a member of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association.

Gary Wade

Assistant AD/Facilities

Gary Wade is in his first year as the Assistant AD for Facilities, but is in his 13th year with the Clemson Athletic Department.

Wade began his career in college athletics as the assistant strength coach at the University of Nebraska from 1976 to 1979 while working on his undergraduate degree in education and his graduate degree in exercise physiology. Working with Boyd Epley, Director of Nebraska's Husker Power Program, and the Nebraska Strength Training Staff, Wade became one of the founding members of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

In 1980, at age 24, he became the Detroit Lions' first strength and conditioning coach. During his five seasons in the NFL, the Lions went to the playoffs twice and won the NFC Central in 1983. He received much credit for the Lions' immediate improvement as Head Coach Monte Clark took pride in Wade's work and results on the field.

In his 12 seasons at Clemson, nine of Wade's assistants have become head strength and conditioning coaches at the collegiate level. He coached 12 Strength All-Americans, including Raymond White in 1996.

Wade, who was born in Nebraska City, NE, earned 10 varsity letters at Weeping Water HS. He was all-conference in football for three seasons and was second-team all-state his senior year. Wade is married to the former Andree' Langlais.

Linda White

Associate AD/Senior Women's Administrator

On July 9, 1992, the Clemson Athletic Department lost a fine coach, but gained an outstanding administrator when Linda White, the winningest volleyball coach in Clemson history with a 138-81 career mark, assumed the position of Assistant Director of Compliance/Senior Women's Administrator. In 1993, White was promoted to Associate AD and retained her title as Senior Women's Administrator.

White represents Clemson at all university, conference and NCAA functions in the role of Senior Women's Administrator. She serves as the Chair of the ACC Track Committee, co-chair of ACC Volleyball Committee and is a member of the NCAA Volleyball Committee, the new chair of the ACC Gender Equity Committee, and NCAA Regional Women's Soccer Committee.

White represents the athletic department at NCAA events, submits bids to host NCAA events and coordinates the events if Clemson is awarded the bid. She has managed ten NCAA events in her career and five ACC Championships. White also serves as event manager for many home sporting events, coordinates facility improvements, coordinates summer camps, and oversees the Courtesy Vehicle Program.

White came to Clemson in 1986 as the head volleyball coach. She led the Clemson squad to six consecutive 20-win seasons. White coached at least one All-ACC player five of her six years at the helm of the Clemson program, while two of her former players were named Academic All-Americans.

Prior to her stint as volleyball coach at Clemson, White was a successful basketball and volleyball coach at Wando High School in Mount Pleasant, SC for 14 years. In 1982, she was named National Volleyball Coach-of-the-Year by the National High School Coaches Association.

White earned her undergraduate degree from Winthrop College. She earned a MEd in Administration and Supervision from Clemson in August of 1988. She is married to Roger White.

RANDY SMITH

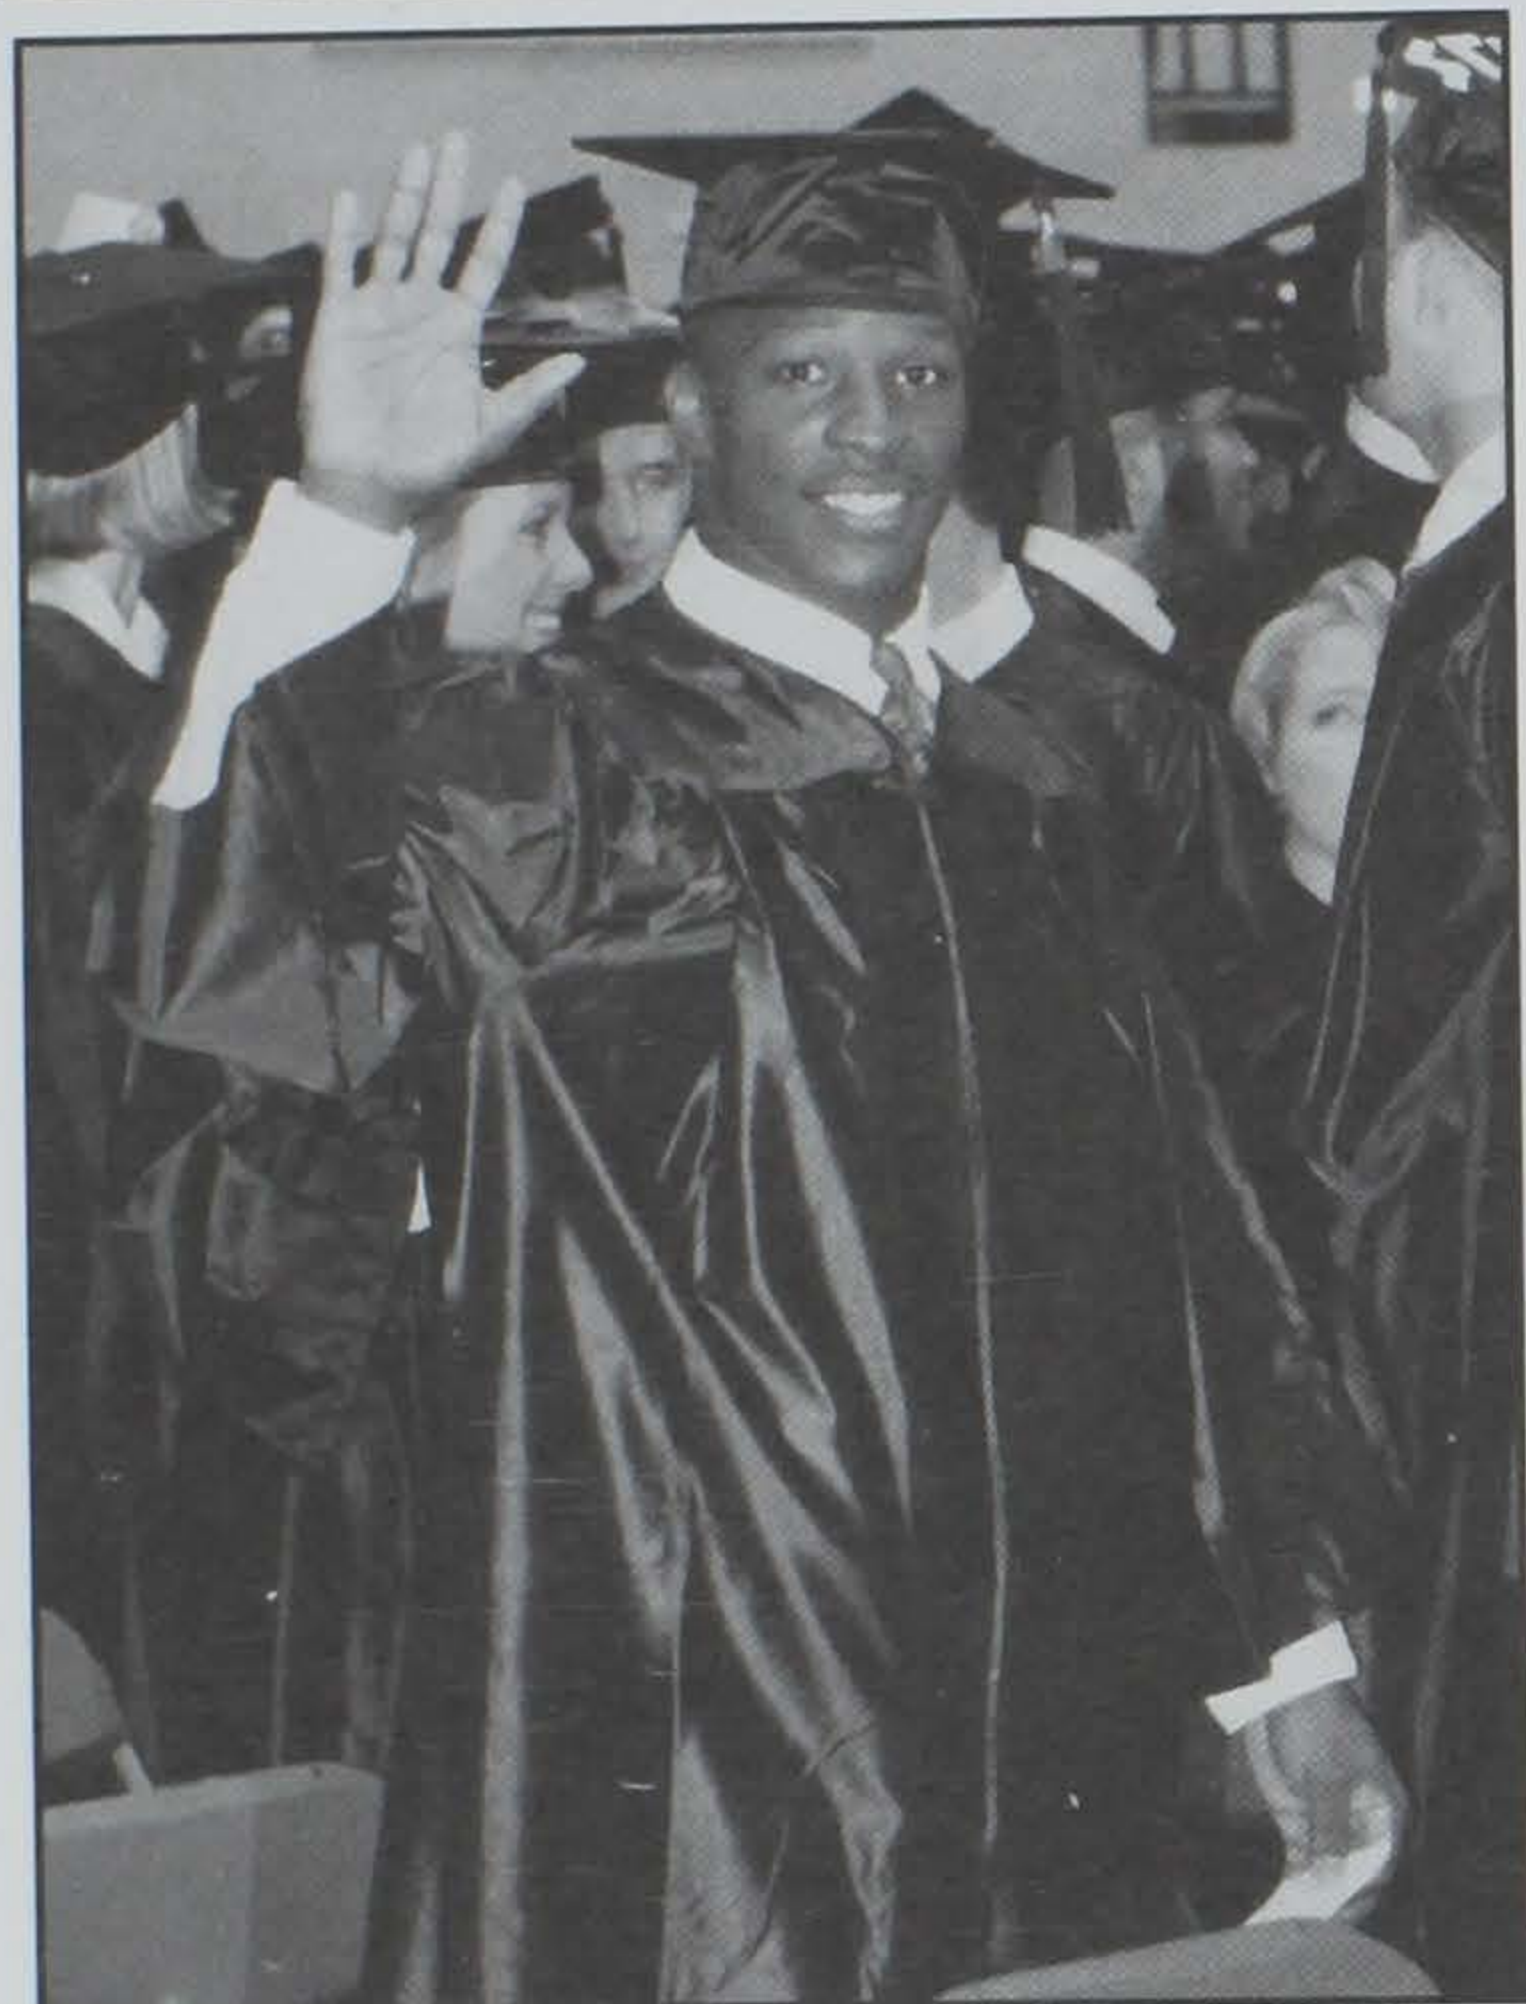

Former Clemson football player Randy Smith received an honorary Doctorate of Laws Degree from Clemson University May 7, 1997 during graduation exercises. Smith, a 1966 Clemson graduate with a pre-medicine degree, is currently an assistant clinical professor of plastic surgery at the Medical College of Georgia.

While Smith's accomplishments in his field are many, he is perhaps most noted for his service as a volunteer surgeon and lecturer in plastic and hand surgery in remote and underdeveloped areas of the world.

Since 1982, he has carried out missions of mercy in Japan, Hong Kong, the People's Republic of China, Nigeria, Kenya, Egypt, Venezuela, El Salvador, South Korea and Poland. He concentrates his work on the treatment of congenital defects, cancer from the mutilation of civil war as well as restoring form and function to injured human limbs.

Smith was the starting center for the Tigers and Coach Frank Howard's 1965 ACC Co-Championship team. He started all 10 games for the Tigers that season and was drafted in the seventh-round by the New York Jets. The Augusta, GA native had another year of eligibility with the Clemson football program remaining, but decided to graduate in the spring of 1966 and attend the Medical College of Georgia. He received his Doctor of Medicine Degree in 1970.

Money Guide's 1996 issue of "Your Best College Buys Now," ranks Clemson in the top 30 nationwide and the top 10 in the southeast among the nation's best college values.

*Clemson features a diverse curriculum, there are 73 undergraduate degree programs.

*There is plenty of room for individual attention in the classroom, Clemson features a student to instructor ratio of 18/1 and an average class size of 25 students.

*Campus features 1400 acres of rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former US Vice President John C. Calhoun.

*Clemson opened in 1893 with 446 students as an all-male military school. In 1955 it lost its military school heritage and became a civilian co-educational college. It was renamed Clemson University in 1964.

*Clemson features a competitive student body, and thus a degree that has meaning. Clemson's 1996 freshmen class had the highest average SAT score - 1,128 - of the state's public institutions of higher education.

*Clemson's faculty includes more than 30 Fulbright Scholars and 56 endowed chairholders and named professors.

*Clemson attracted 31% of South Carolina's Palmetto Fellows Scholarship recipients in 1996-more than any other institution.

*Clemson's graduate program in Community and Rural Development has been ranked among the top four in the nation by the professional journal of Review of Agricultural Economics.

*Clemson has a mentoring program to help students prepare and compete for Rhodes, Truman, Marshall, or Fulbright scholarships.

*Clemson was the only state-supported institution in South Carolina to be recognized in the 1996-97 edition of Peterson's Competitive Colleges: Top Colleges for Top Students.

*Clemson's six-year graduation rate of 72 percent is 20 percent higher than the national average for public universities.

*More than 300 employers interview Clemson students on campus each year through the university's Career Center.

*Clemson is among the top 15 universities in the United States in terms of revenue from patents and licenses.

*Seventy-five percent of Clemson's current faculty hold doctoral degrees and many have achieved special recognition in their field.

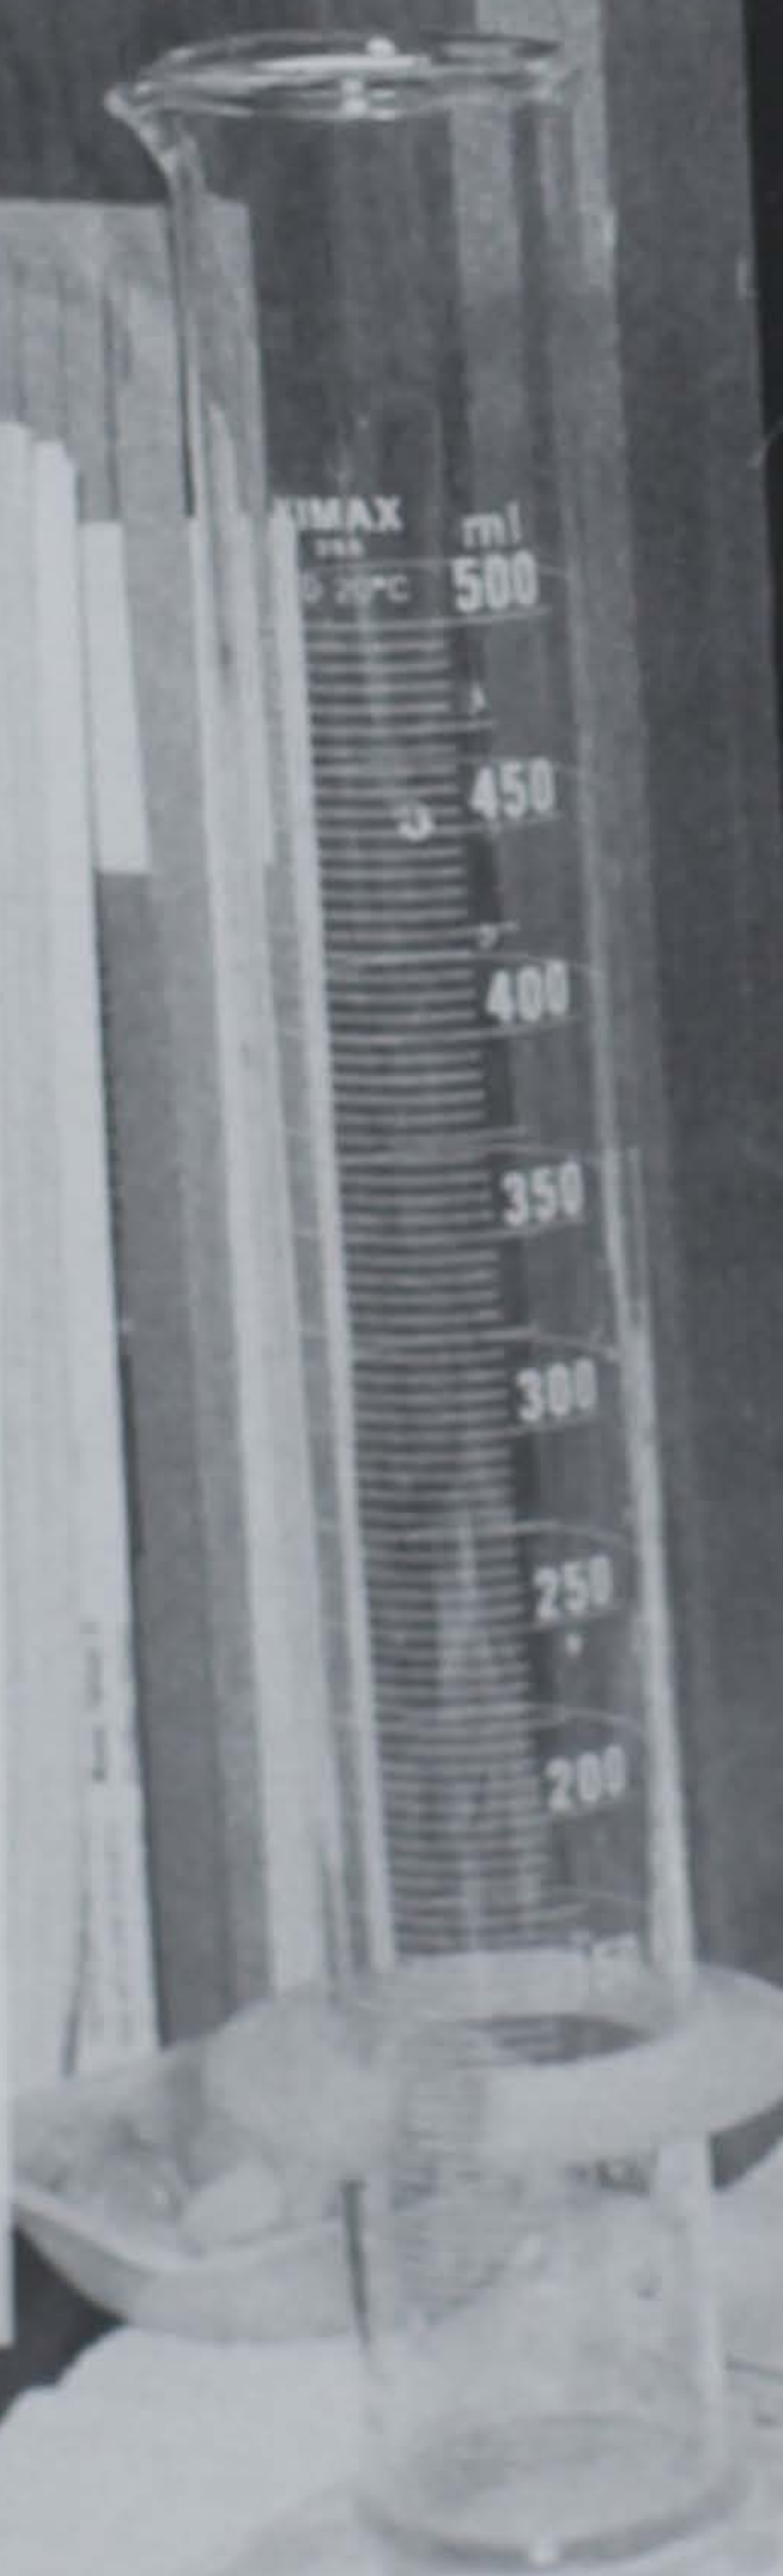

*The campus landscape is ever changing. With the addition of the $12.5 million Robert Brooks Center for the performing arts, the Madren Conference Center and adjoining Walker Golf Course, the Flour Engineering Innovation Center, and the soon to come Hendrix Student Center, the campus continues to grow.

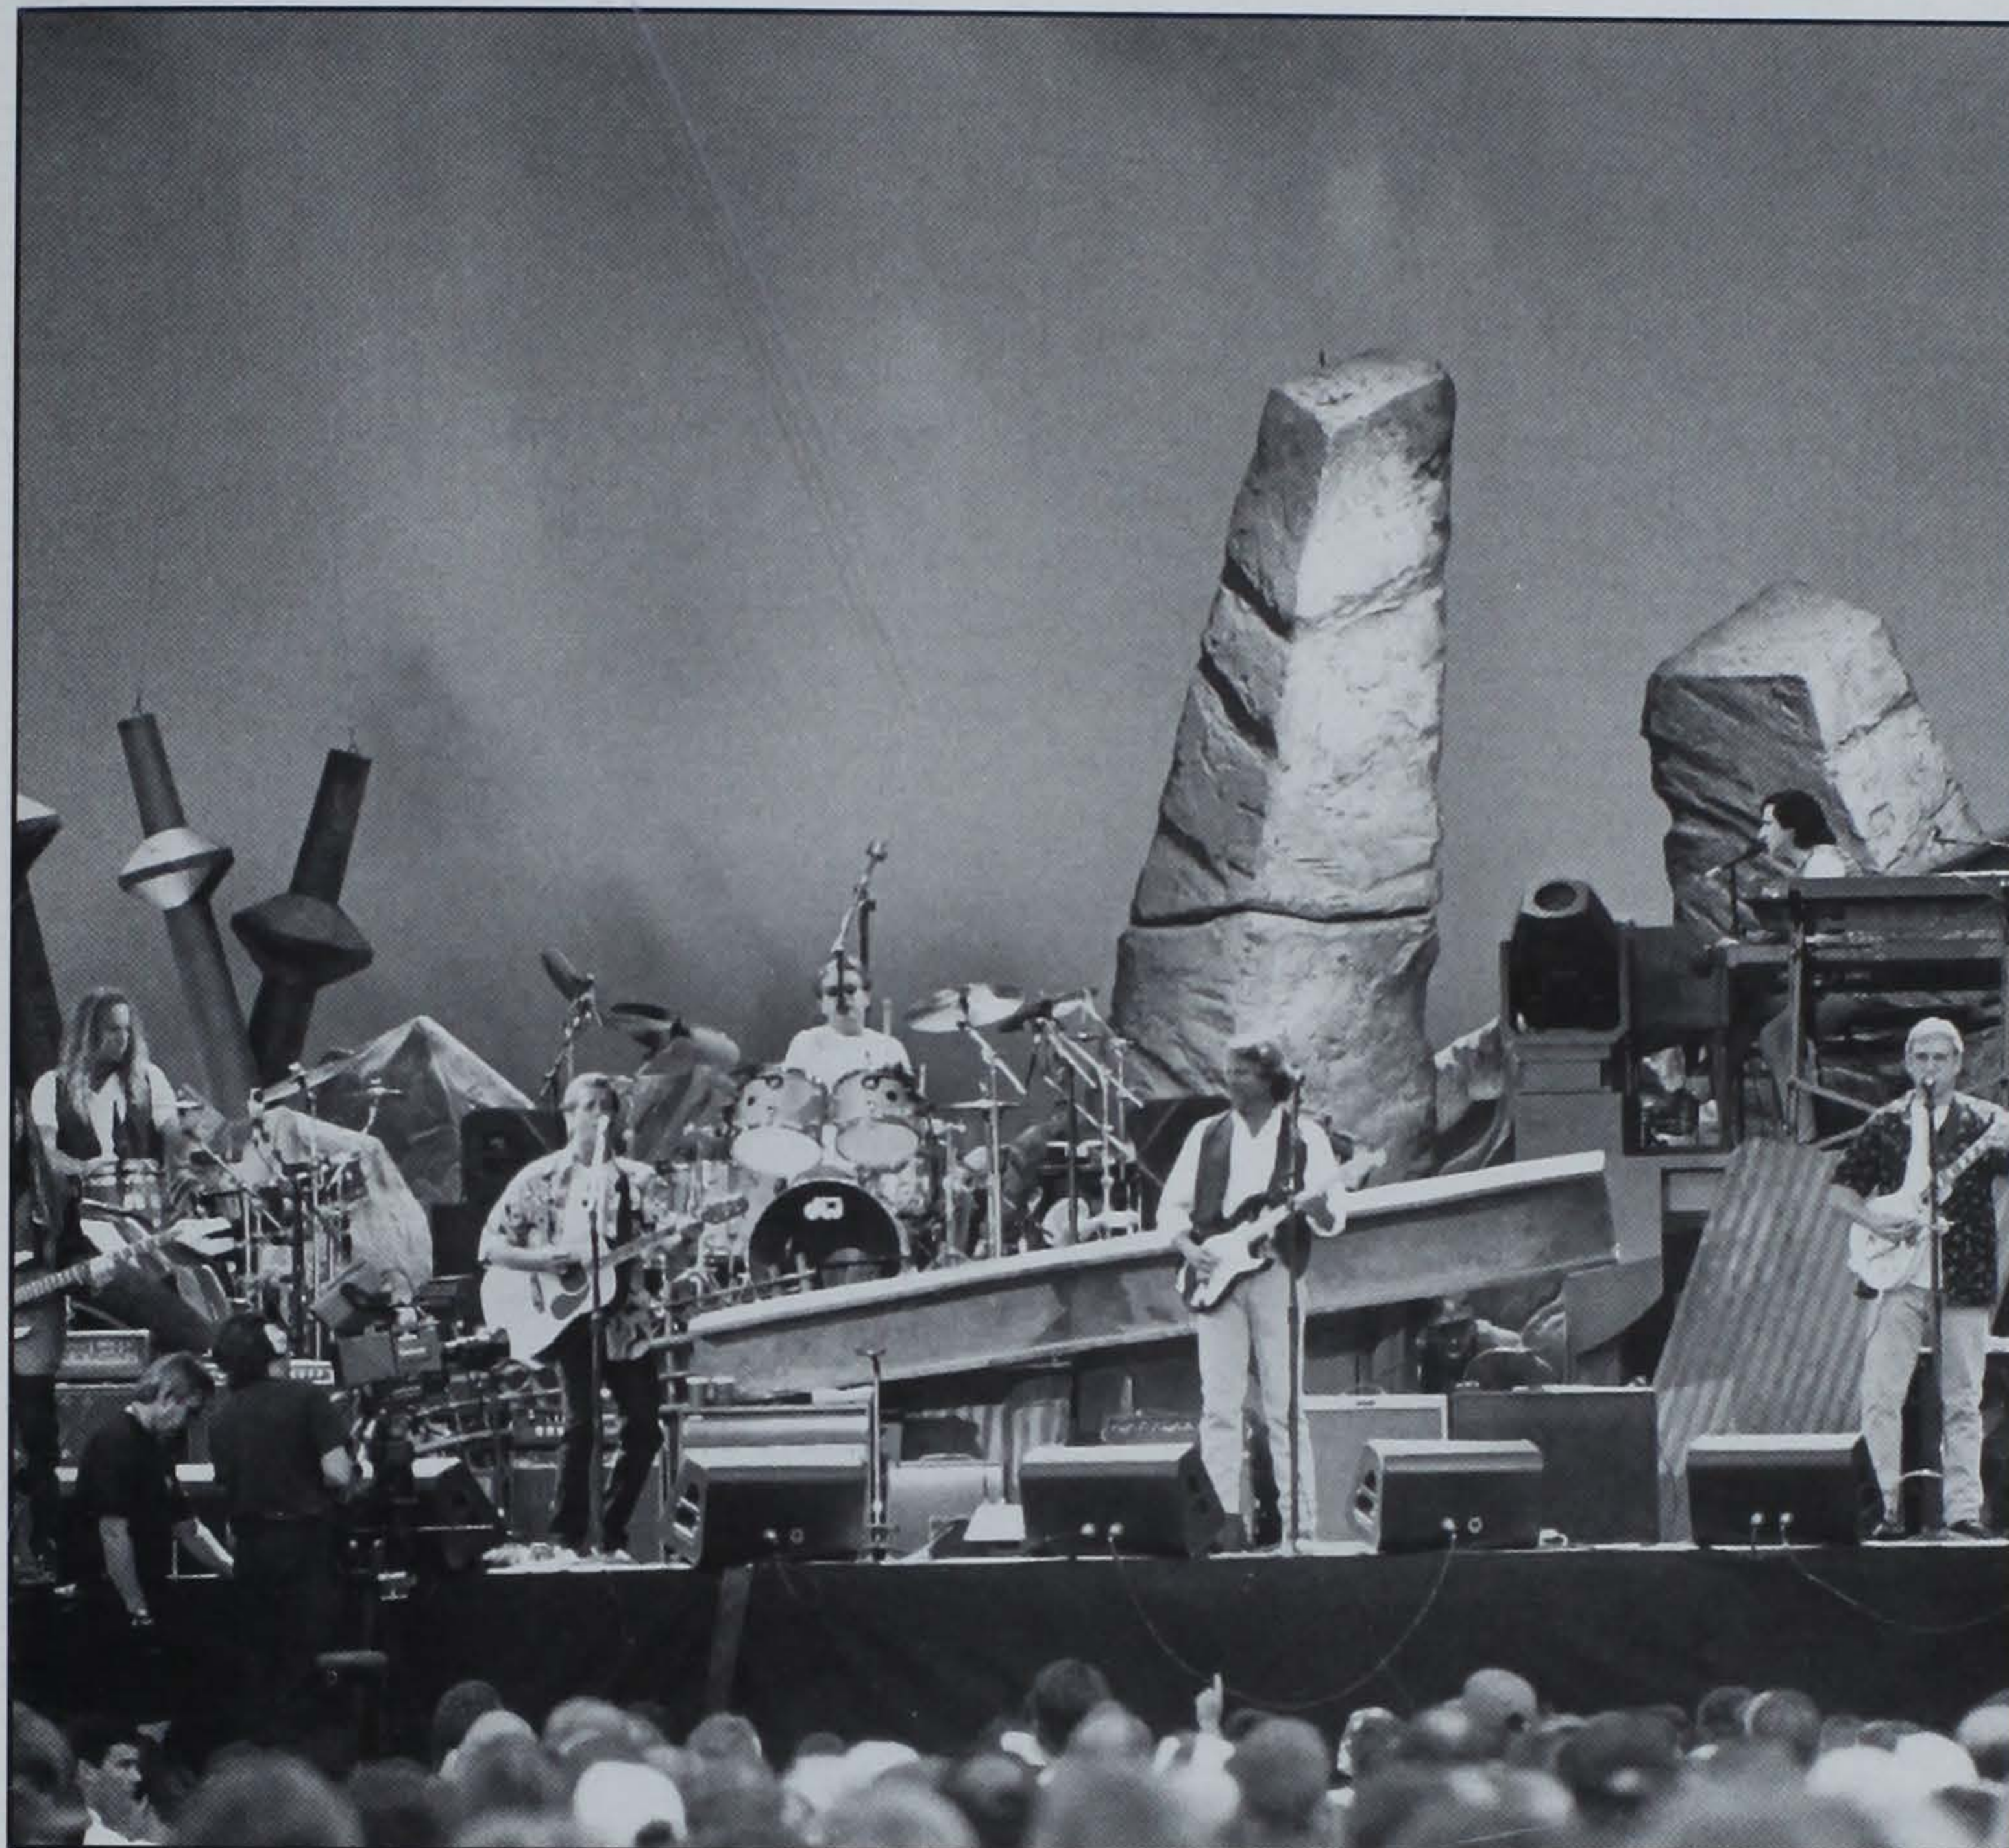

*Clemson's business programs are among the 25 percent accredited nationally by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

*The Department of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management ranks among the top three programs of its kind in the nation.

Black Engineer magazine rated Clemson fourth in the nation among top schools for African-American engineering students.

*The Program for Educational Enrichment and Retention (PEER) helped bring Clemson's graduation rate of African-American engineering students to the 13 highest in the nation.

Mick Jagger, Elton John and Billy Joel have all performed at Death Valley in recent years.

Located in the University Union are the offices of the student government. Student government gives students the opportunity to influence campus policy. Also in the University Union is the campus entertainment center. There are lounges, bowling alleys, video games, billiard tables, and Edgar's all located at the campus entertainment center. A new student union is currently under construction and should be completed in 1997.

Fike Recreation Center has a host of opportunities for students to let off steam through physical activity. Inside Fike is an eight-lane swimming pool, a diving tank, two gyms used for basketball and other activities, various weight lifting facilities, and room for aerobics. Outside Fike are several spacious fields used for the extensive intramural program and for student enjoyment. There are indoor and lighted outdoor tennis courts across the street from Fike at the Hoke A. Sloan Tennis Center.

Clemson's new Walker Golf Course and Madren Conference Center are two of the exciting new additions to the Clemson landscape. The golf course features the Tiger Paw 17th hole.

Whether its walking to the Agriculture Sales Center to have a milkshake or taking a stroll through the Botanical Gardens or even taking part in a pick-up basketball game at Fike Recreation Center, there are plenty of activities for Clemson students when they are not in the classroom.

The campus is in a picturesque setting in upstate South Carolina. It is surrounded by mountains and Lake Hartwell, which borders the west side of campus and is in walking distance of Littlejohn Coliseum. The beach area on campus provides a relaxing setting for study, recreation, and reflection.

Clemson has more than 230 student organizations that are active on campus, including 23 social fraternities and 14 social sororities. There are organizations related to every course of study. For students who enjoy writing or photography, the Tiger, the campus newspaper, TAPS, the university yearbook; or the Chronicle, the student variety magazine, are available. For those who are interested in broadcasting there is a student-operated radio station, WSBF-FM, broadcasting news, information, and music 24 hours a day.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about institutional commitment—giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Warren Forney earned two degrees during his playing career and now is employed by the Atlantic Coast Conference. He made good use of the facilities at Vickery Hall.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ENRICHMENT

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 18 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first in the country built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long term goal, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on three primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

Academic Support

Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs have provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

The proof is in the statistics. A record number of Clemson student-athletes made the academic honor roll in 1997. Eight of Clemson's 13 Sports programs had a higher GPA than the student body average in the 1997 Spring semester. Twenty Clemson football players were on the ACC academic honor roll for the 1996-97 academic year, an all-time record. The Tiger football team had an all-time record GPA for the entire year in 1996-97. The Academic Counselor performs a variety of duties to track academic progress. Their duties include providing assistance in registration and priority scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has been granted a Level 1 certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. Of the 160 programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is one of three student-athlete programs in the country to achieve this distinction.

Having tutor certification enables student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately eighty tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with the largest computer lab in the country. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs' Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and limited time on Saturday and Sunday. During exam periods the lab hours are extended.

The lab staff has a full-time computer manager in Greg Barron, and also graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering and business courses that deal with personal computers.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. New computers have recently been purchased bringing the lab to a state of the art facility. Over 40 computers are available for student-athletes.

All computers are fully connected to the internet allowing for access of computers throughout the world for research and communication.

Personal Growth Program

One of the most important programs that helps student-athletes reach their full potential and engage successfully in this college experience is the Personal Growth and Development Program.

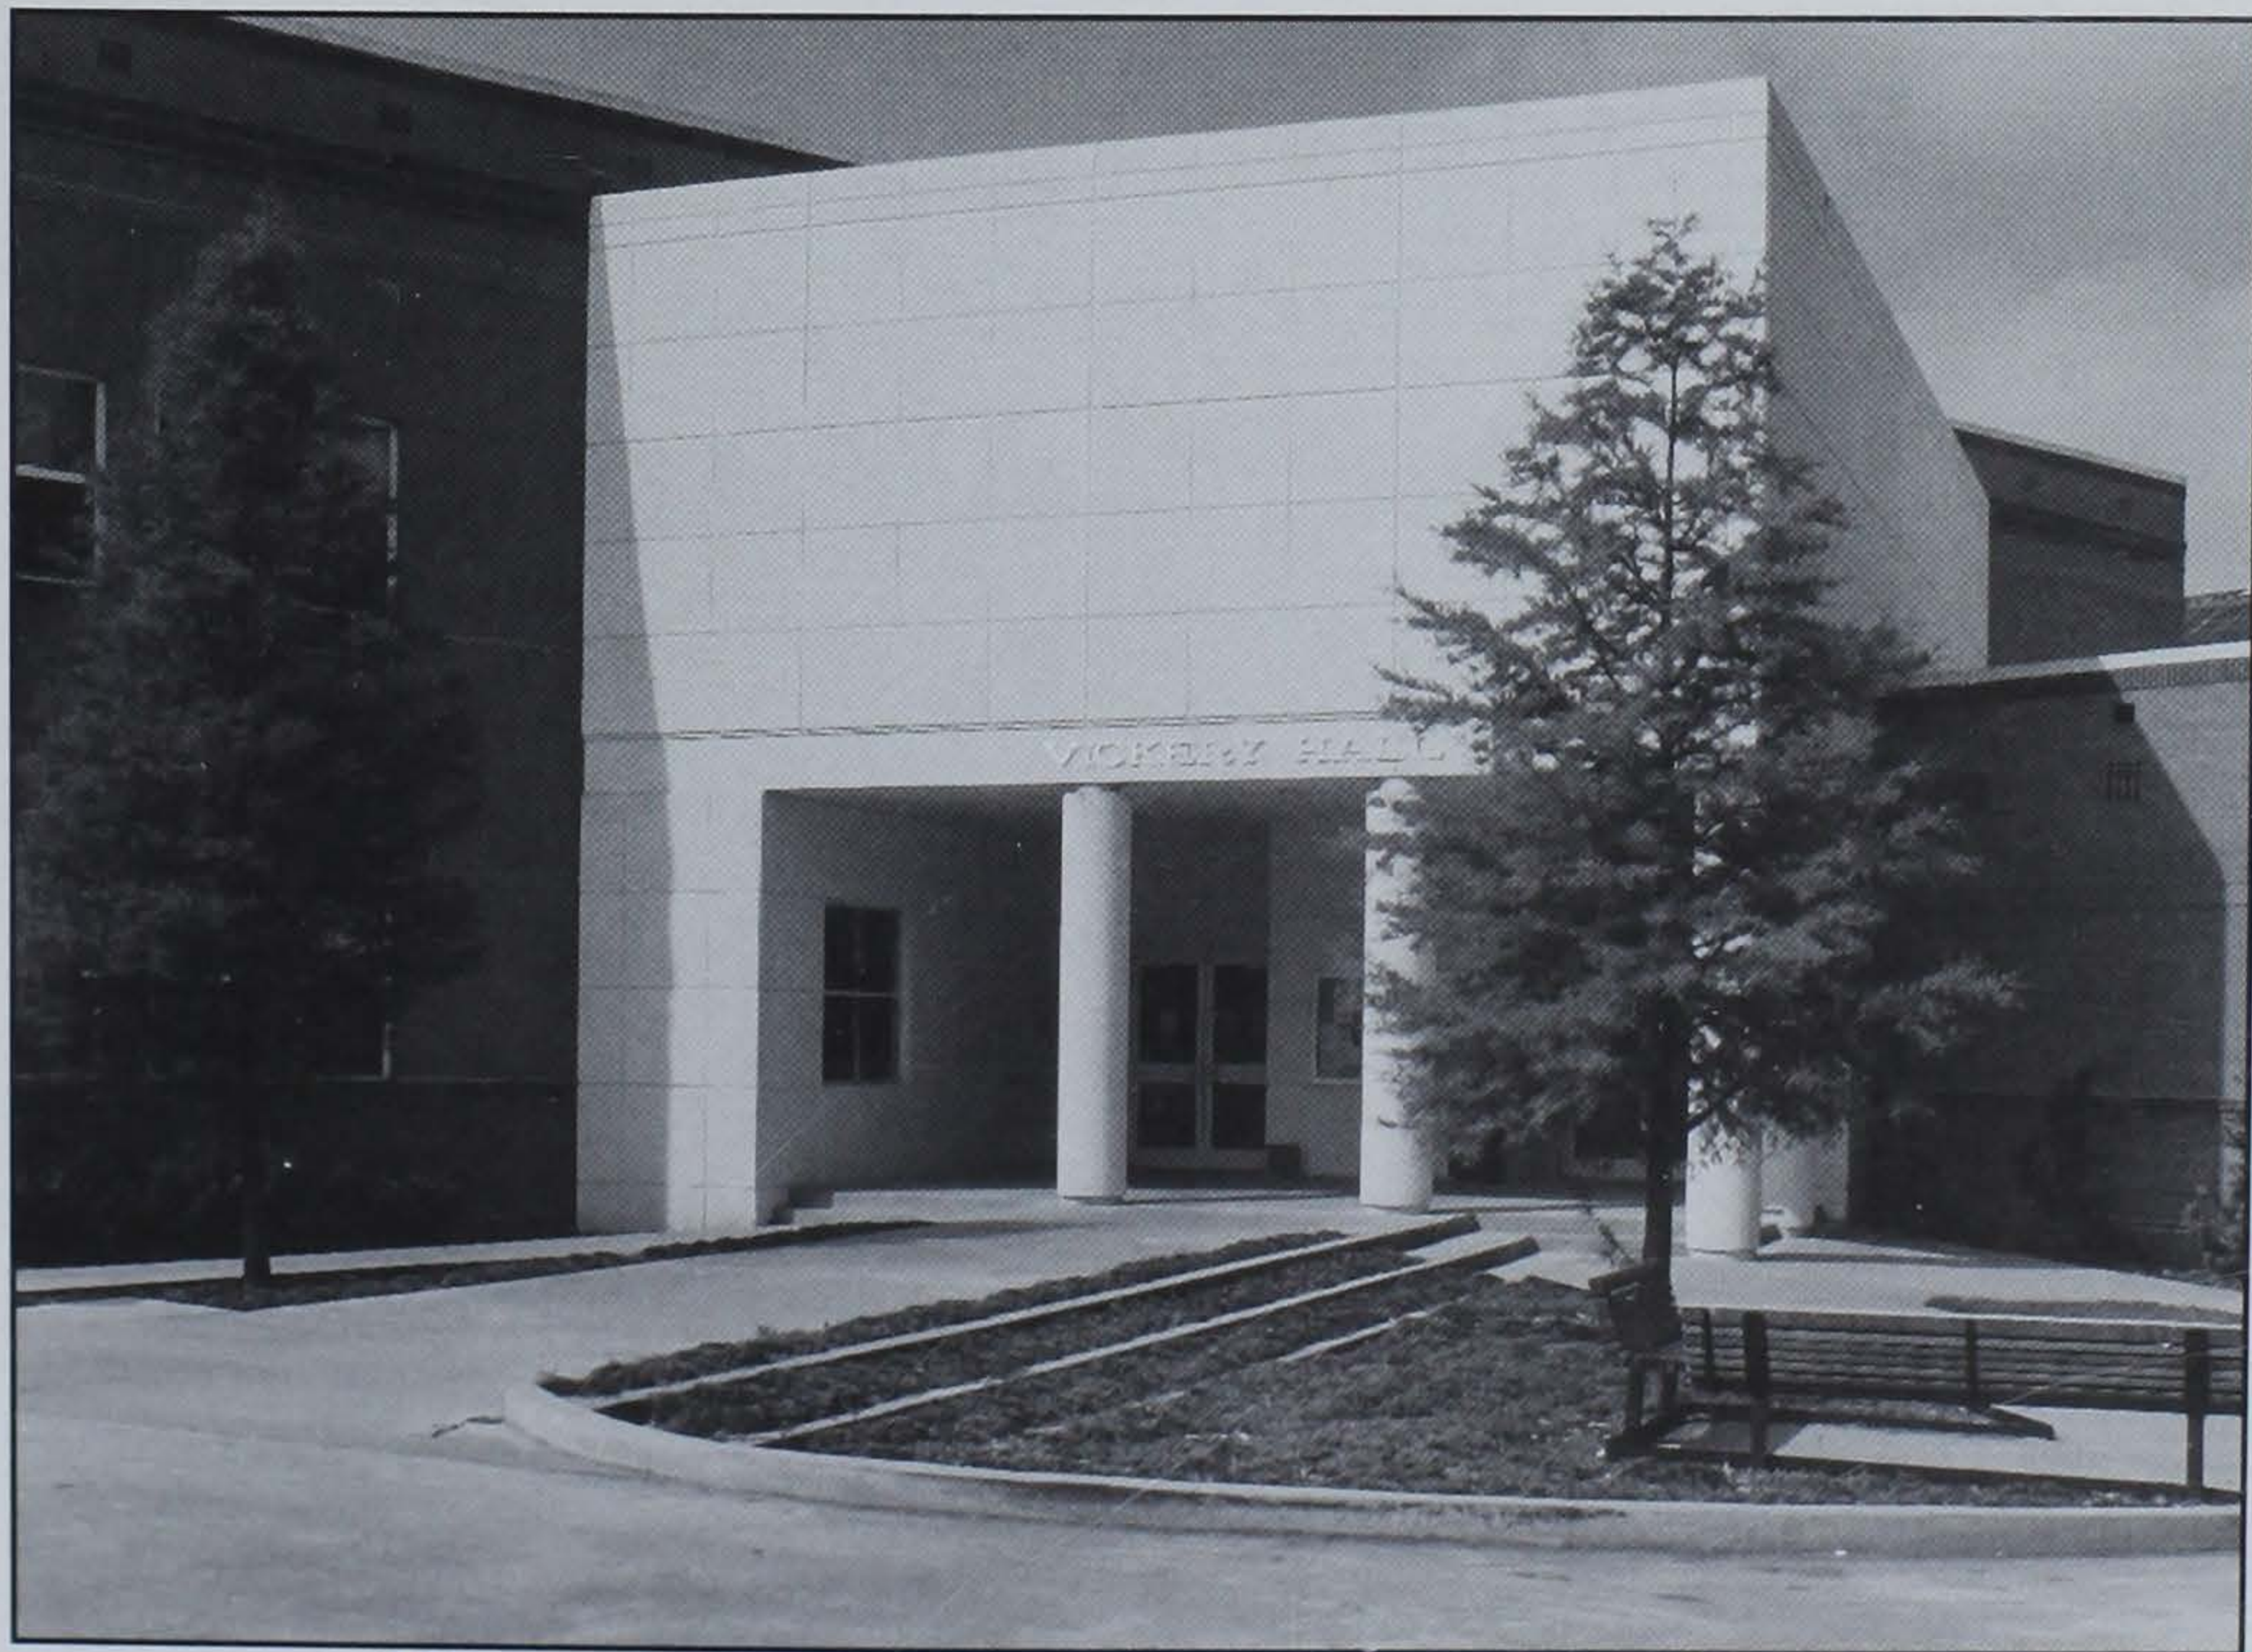

The purpose of this program is to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. These programs will provide the student-athlete the opportunity to examine and explore issues and topics pertaining to his/her values, personal health and wellness, behavior, and goals. The specific topics will encompass both general transition issues and specific athletic issues as well.

Career Assistance Program

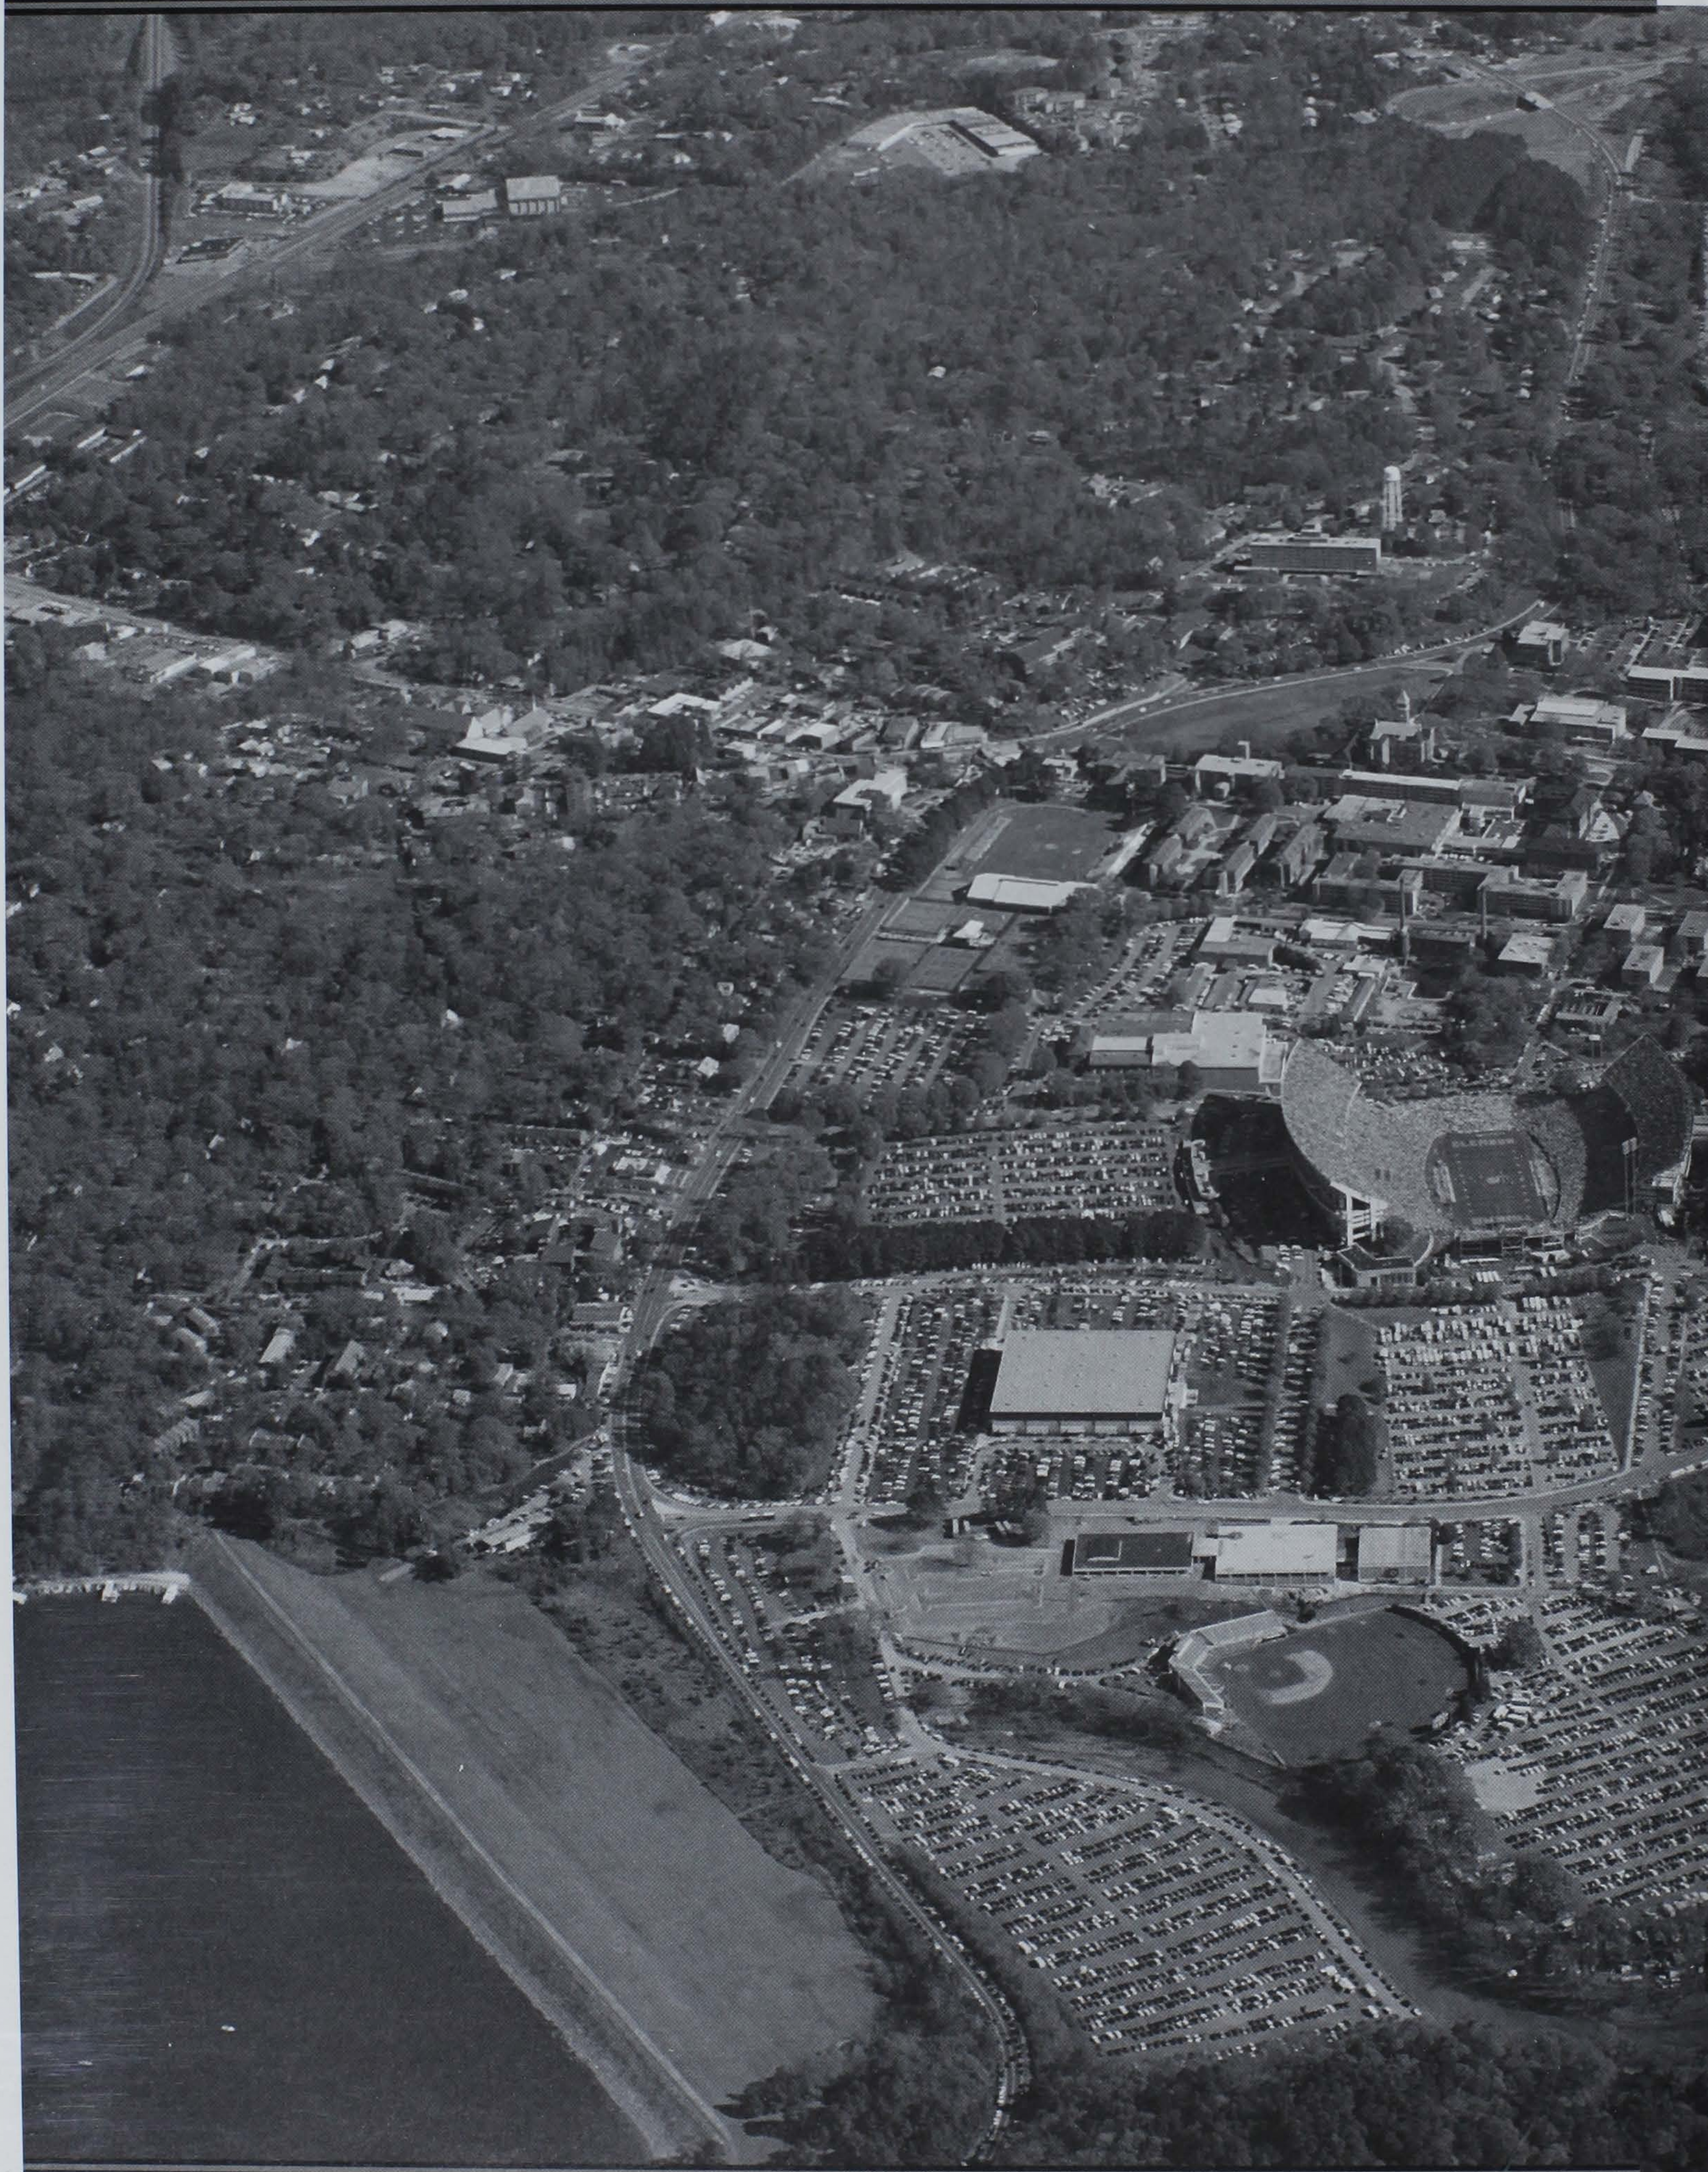

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the staff at Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athletes.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, former Tiger gridder James Earle is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Career Assistance Program, also coordinated by Earle, is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resume writing and interview techniques.

Clemson has one of the largest staffs in the nation devoted to student-athlete enrichment.

As you follow the Tiger Paws into Clemson, the signs on the side of the highway say "Clemson: In Season Every Season." From the point of view of most Clemson graduates, the seasons this slogan speaks of are football, basketball, baseball, etc. But a drive through town in the middle of spring, when the azaleas and dogwoods are in full bloom, or a walk through campus in October, when the trees are blazing in the brilliant colors of autumn, will leave little doubt that Clemson is indeed in season, every season.

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and caressed by the shores of the beautiful Lake Hartwell, Clemson is located in the northwestern corner of South Carolina, two hours north of Atlanta, GA, and two hours southwest of Charlotte, NC.

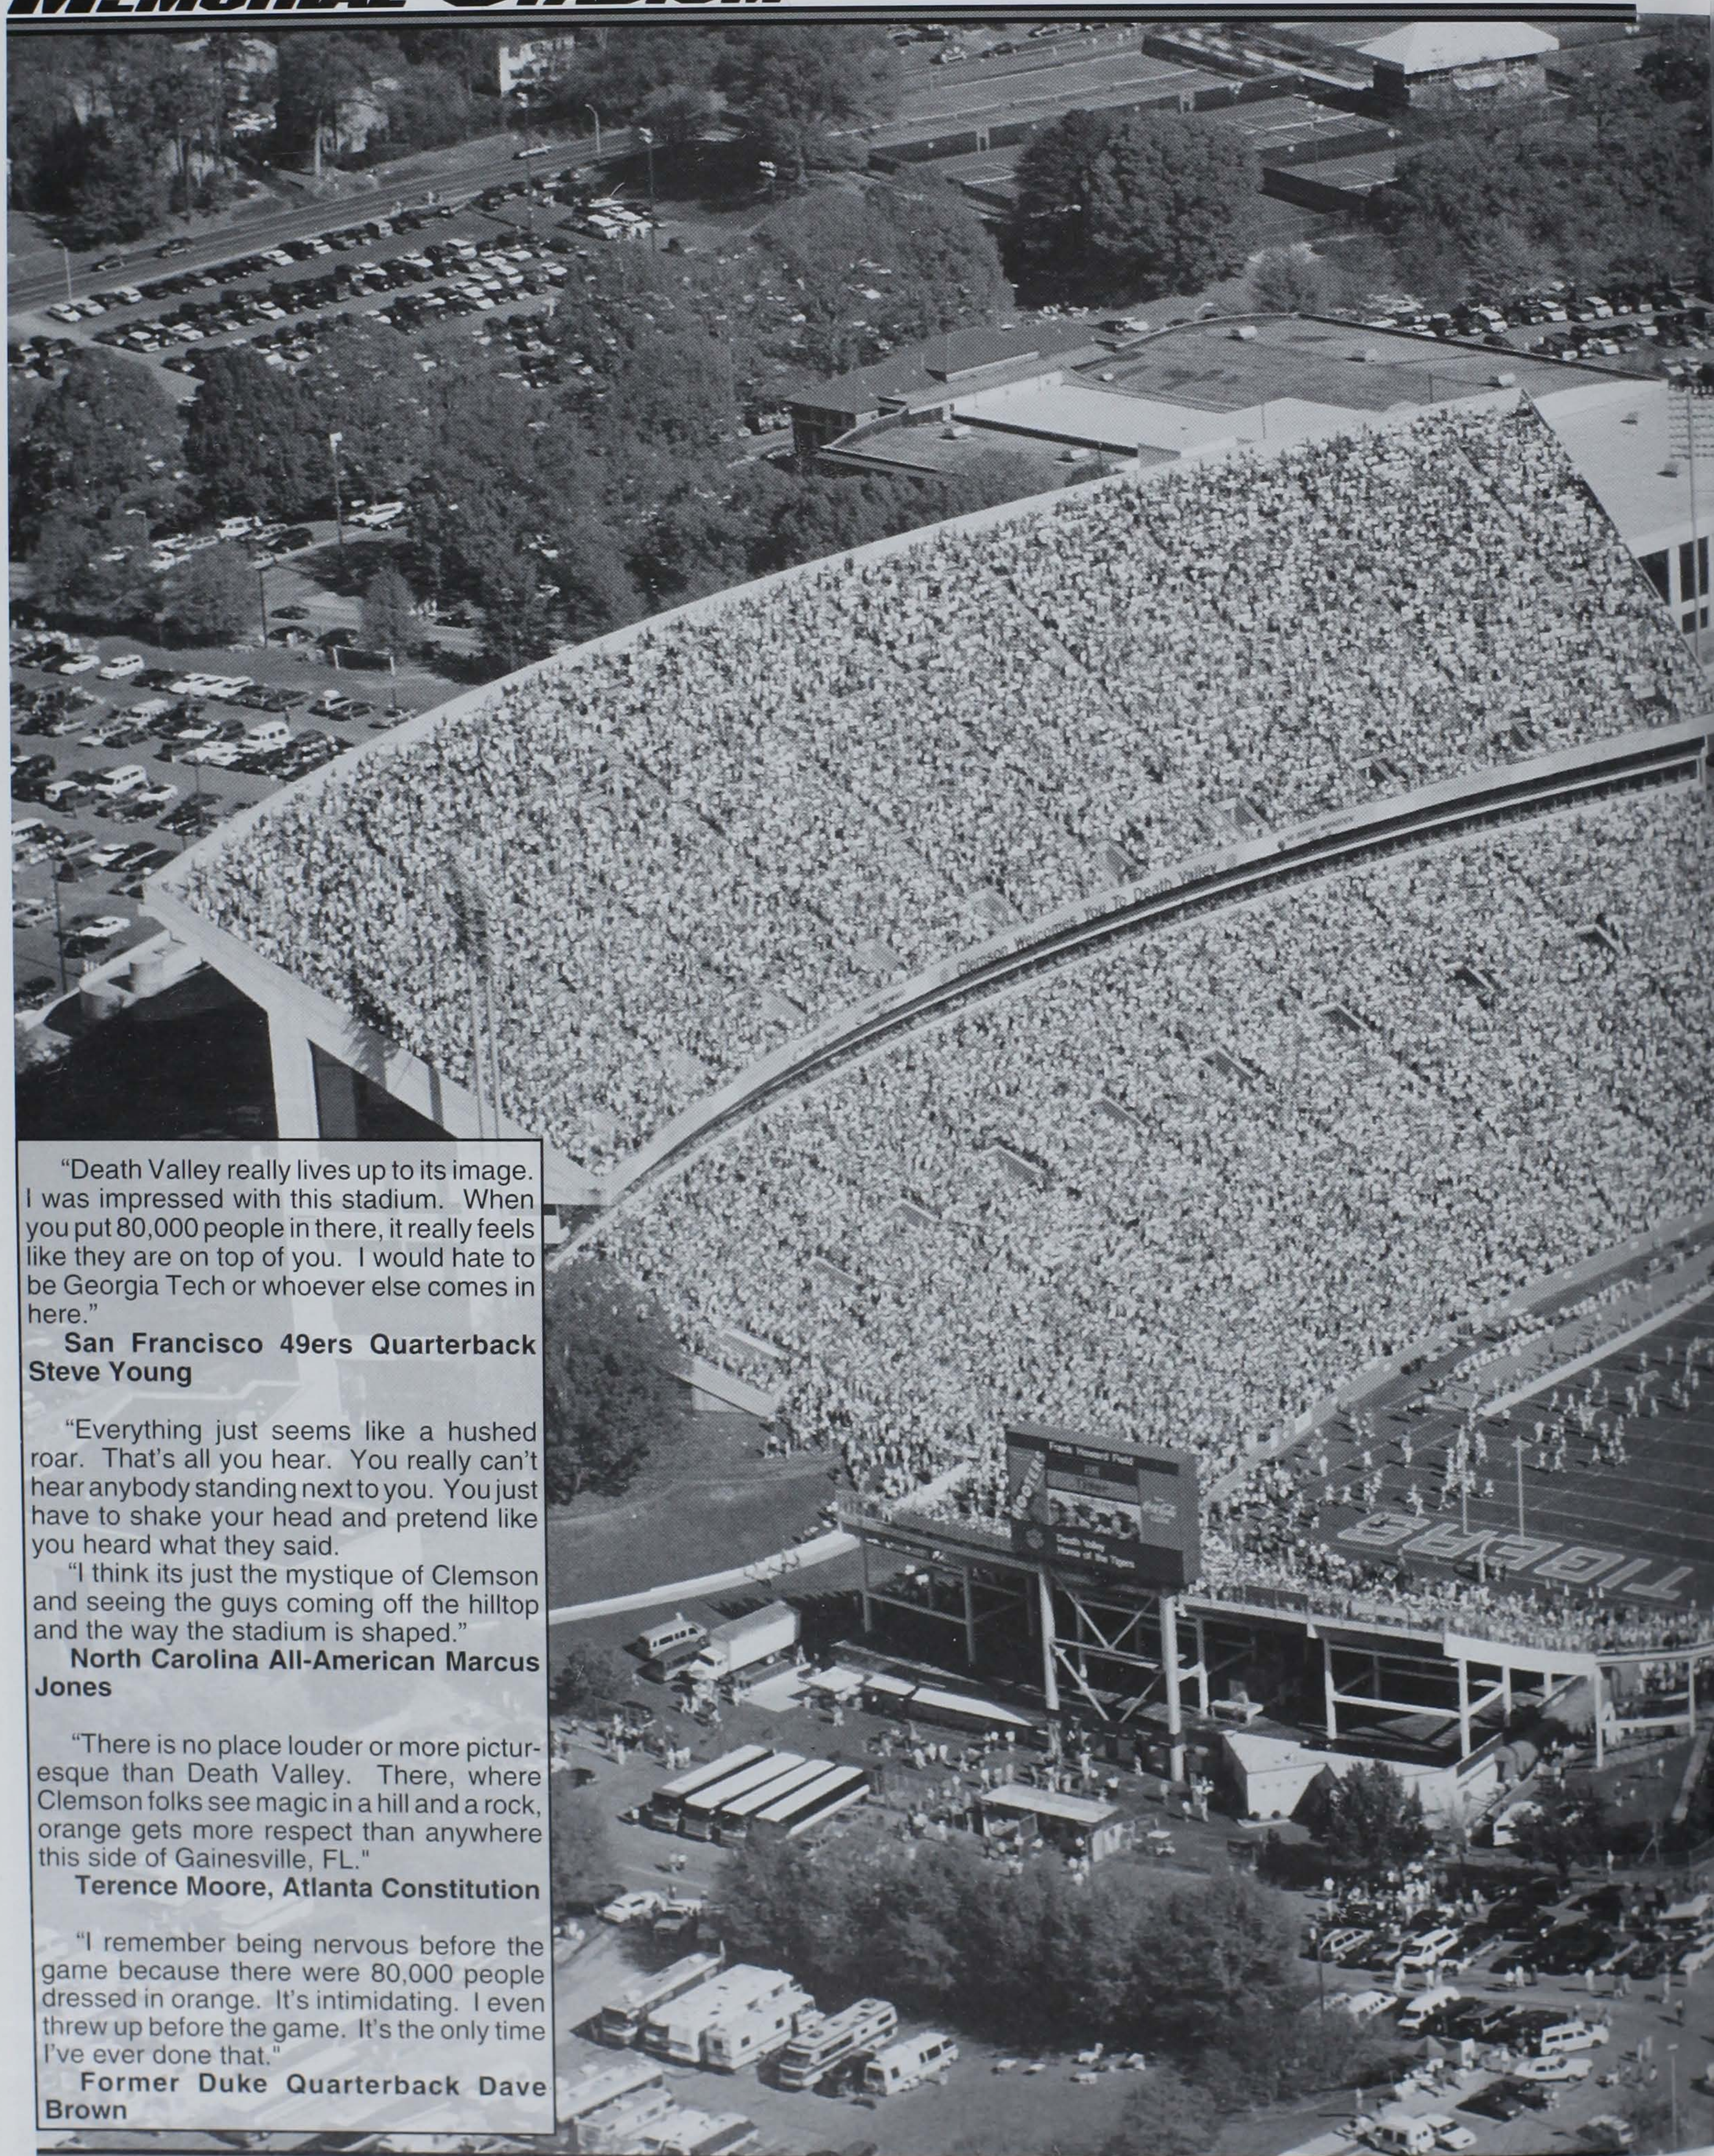

The area boasts a great variety of restaurants, ranging from the downtown barbeque and hamburger spots, to the historic Liberty Hall Inn and Calhoun Corners. Any palate or budget can find something to his or her liking, as over 50 eating establishments are located in the Clemson/Pendleton/Central area. The area adopts Clemson Fever, as Tiger Paws are omnipresent on local billboards and entrances.

The mild climate of the foothills lends itself to many outdoor activities throughout the year. Clemson has excellent and ample facilities for tennis and golf, fishing, swimming or hiking, white water rafting, and various other pursuits.

And, when one wants to leave Clemson, they don't have far to go to find whatever they are looking for. Professional sports are only a couple of hours away in Atlanta and Charlotte. Clemson was the home of the NFL's Carolina Panthers for eight regular season and two exhibition games in 1995.

For sun and fun, it's an easy interstate drive to the coast of South Carolina, to Hilton Head Island, Myrtle Beach, or even historic Charleston. All kinds of water sports are right at the campus' back door, as a 926-mile shoreline borders the edge of campus. And for those who enjoy cooler climates, the mountains of North Carolina are only an hour's drive away, with the Great Smokey Mountains just beyond.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

"Death Valley really lives up to its image. I was impressed with this stadium. When you put 80,000 people in there, it really feels like they are on top of you. I would hate to be Georgia Tech or whoever else comes in here."

San Francisco 49ers Quarterback Steve Young

"Everything just seems like a hushed roar. That's all you hear. You really can't hear anybody standing next to you. You just have to shake your head and pretend like you heard what they said."

"I think it's just the mystique of Clemson and seeing the guys coming off the hilltop and the way the stadium is shaped."

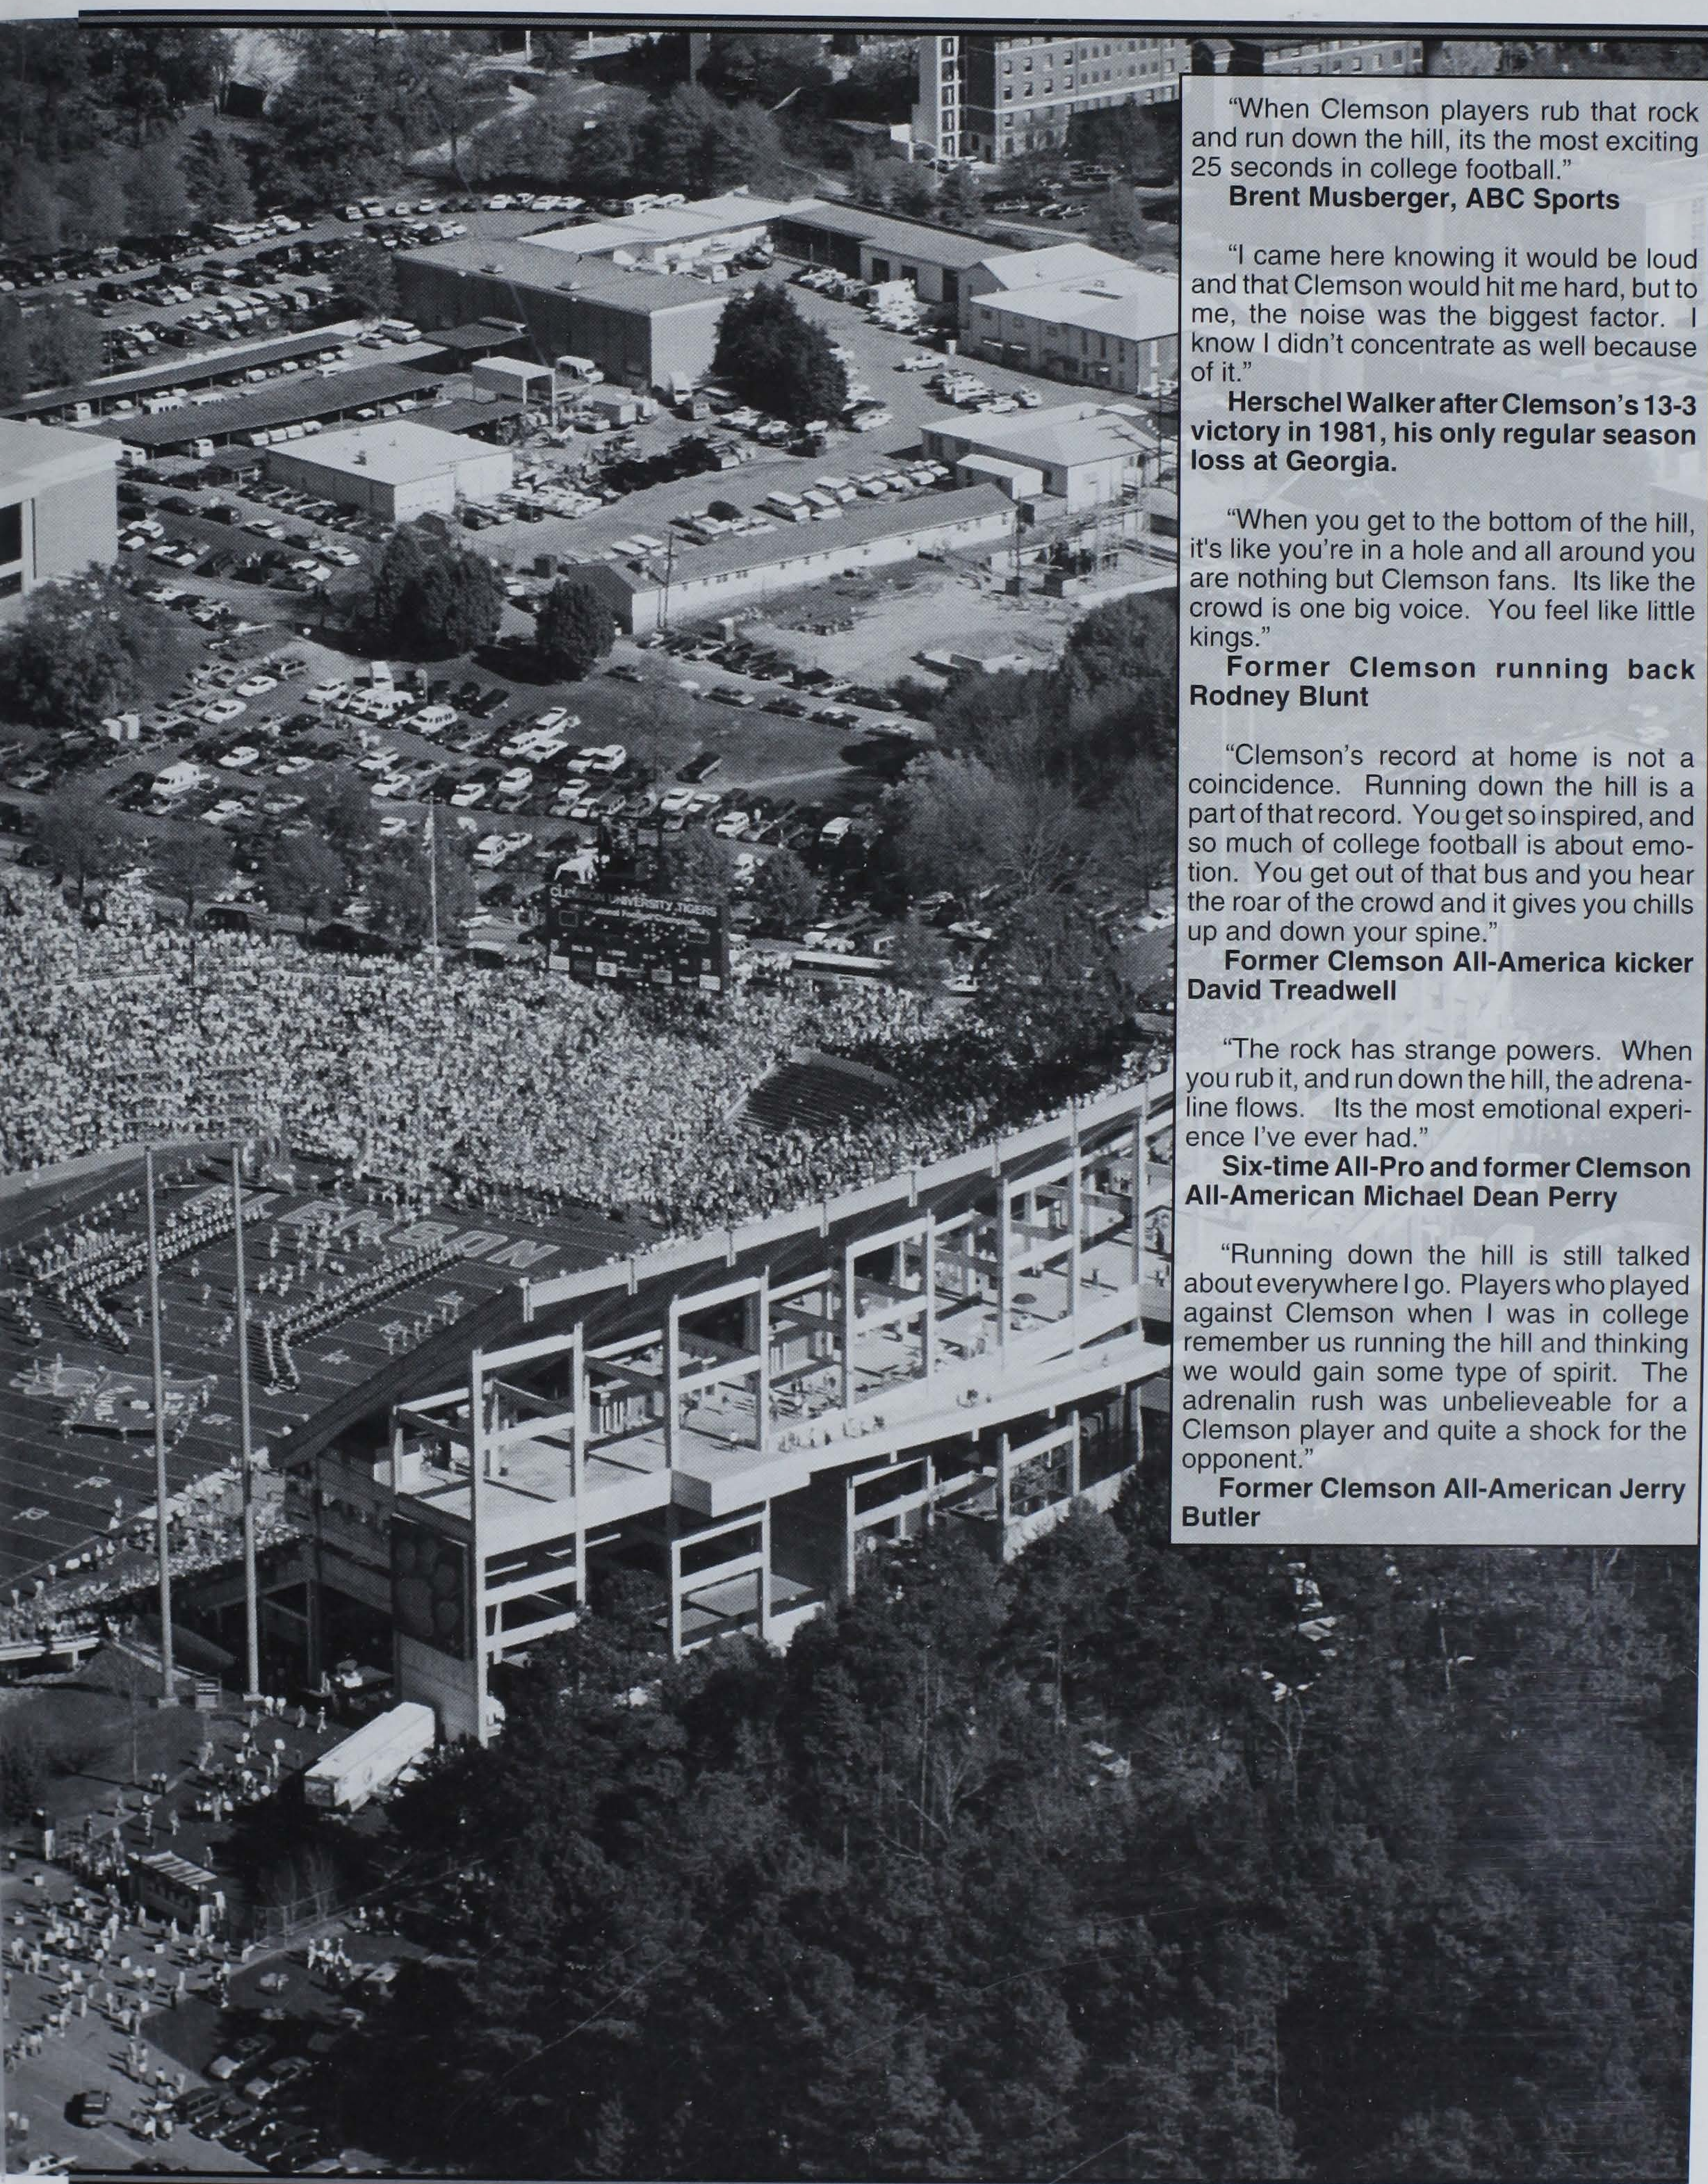

North Carolina All-American Marcus Jones

"There is no place louder or more picturesque than Death Valley. There, where Clemson folks see magic in a hill and a rock, orange gets more respect than anywhere this side of Gainesville, FL."

Terence Moore, Atlanta Constitution

"I remember being nervous before the game because there were 80,000 people dressed in orange. It's intimidating. I even threw up before the game. It's the only time I've ever done that."

Former Duke Quarterback Dave Brown

"When Clemson players rub that rock and run down the hill, its the most exciting 25 seconds in college football."

Brent Musberger, ABC Sports

"I came here knowing it would be loud and that Clemson would hit me hard, but to me, the noise was the biggest factor. I know I didn't concentrate as well because of it."

Herschel Walker after Clemson's 13-3 victory in 1981, his only regular season loss at Georgia.

"When you get to the bottom of the hill, it's like you're in a hole and all around you are nothing but Clemson fans. Its like the crowd is one big voice. You feel like little kings."

Former Clemson running back Rodney Blunt

"Clemson's record at home is not a coincidence. Running down the hill is a part of that record. You get so inspired, and so much of college football is about emotion. You get out of that bus and you hear the roar of the crowd and it gives you chills up and down your spine."

Former Clemson All-America kicker David Treadwell

"The rock has strange powers. When you rub it, and run down the hill, the adrenaline flows. Its the most emotional experience I've ever had."

Six-time All-Pro and former Clemson All-American Michael Dean Perry

"Running down the hill is still talked about everywhere I go. Players who played against Clemson when I was in college remember us running the hill and thinking we would gain some type of spirit. The adrenalin rush was unbelievable for a Clemson player and quite a shock for the opponent."

Former Clemson All-American Jerry Butler

MEMORIAL STADIUM

In 1991, two very special anniversaries in the Clemson football tradition were observed. Not only did the 1991 season mark the 10th anniversary of Clemson's National Championship season, but it also marked the 50th birthday of the place where the Tigers won six games that season: Memorial Stadium.

In the first 55 years of Memorial Stadium, Clemson has a record of 192-71-7, including a 34-9-1 ledger over the last seven seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 72.4 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need".

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 56th year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

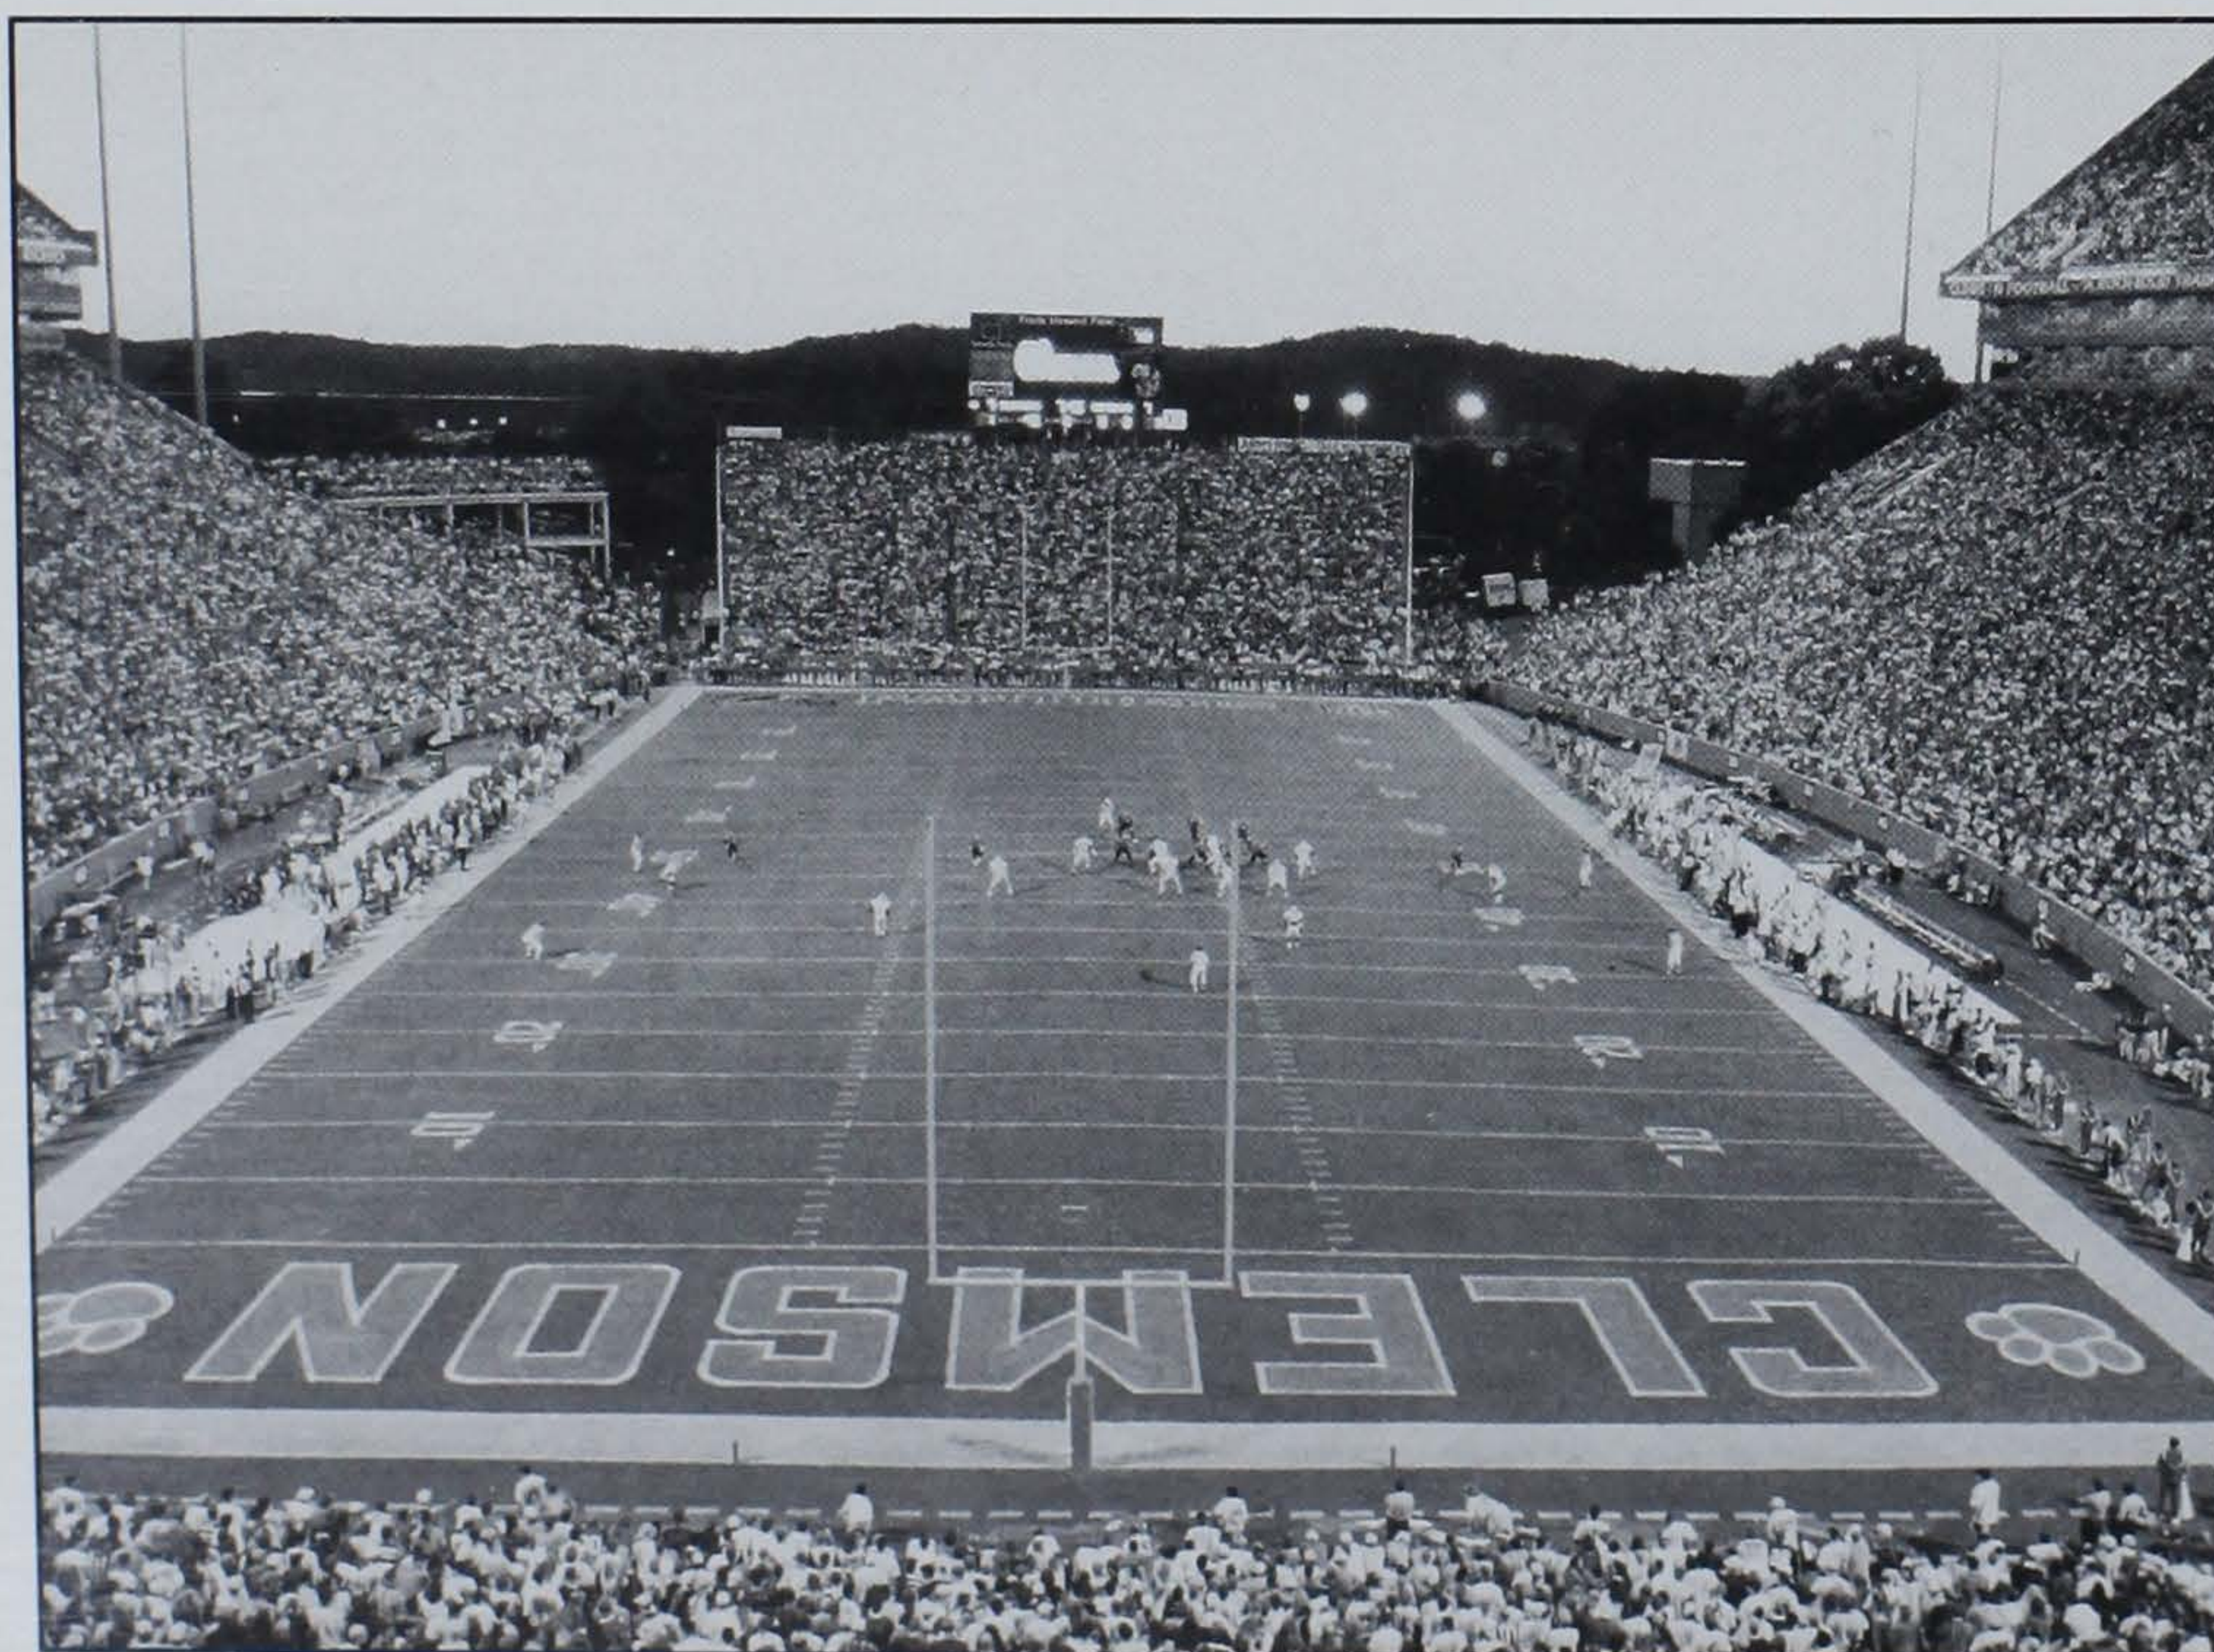

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Clemson has had 26 crowds over 80,000 in Death Valley, including the 1995 Georgia game that kicked off the Centennial of Clemson football.

The Clemson home lockerroom is one of the largest in the South.

Memorial Stadium has more luxury boxes than any other on-campus stadium in the nation.

STRENGTH TRAINING

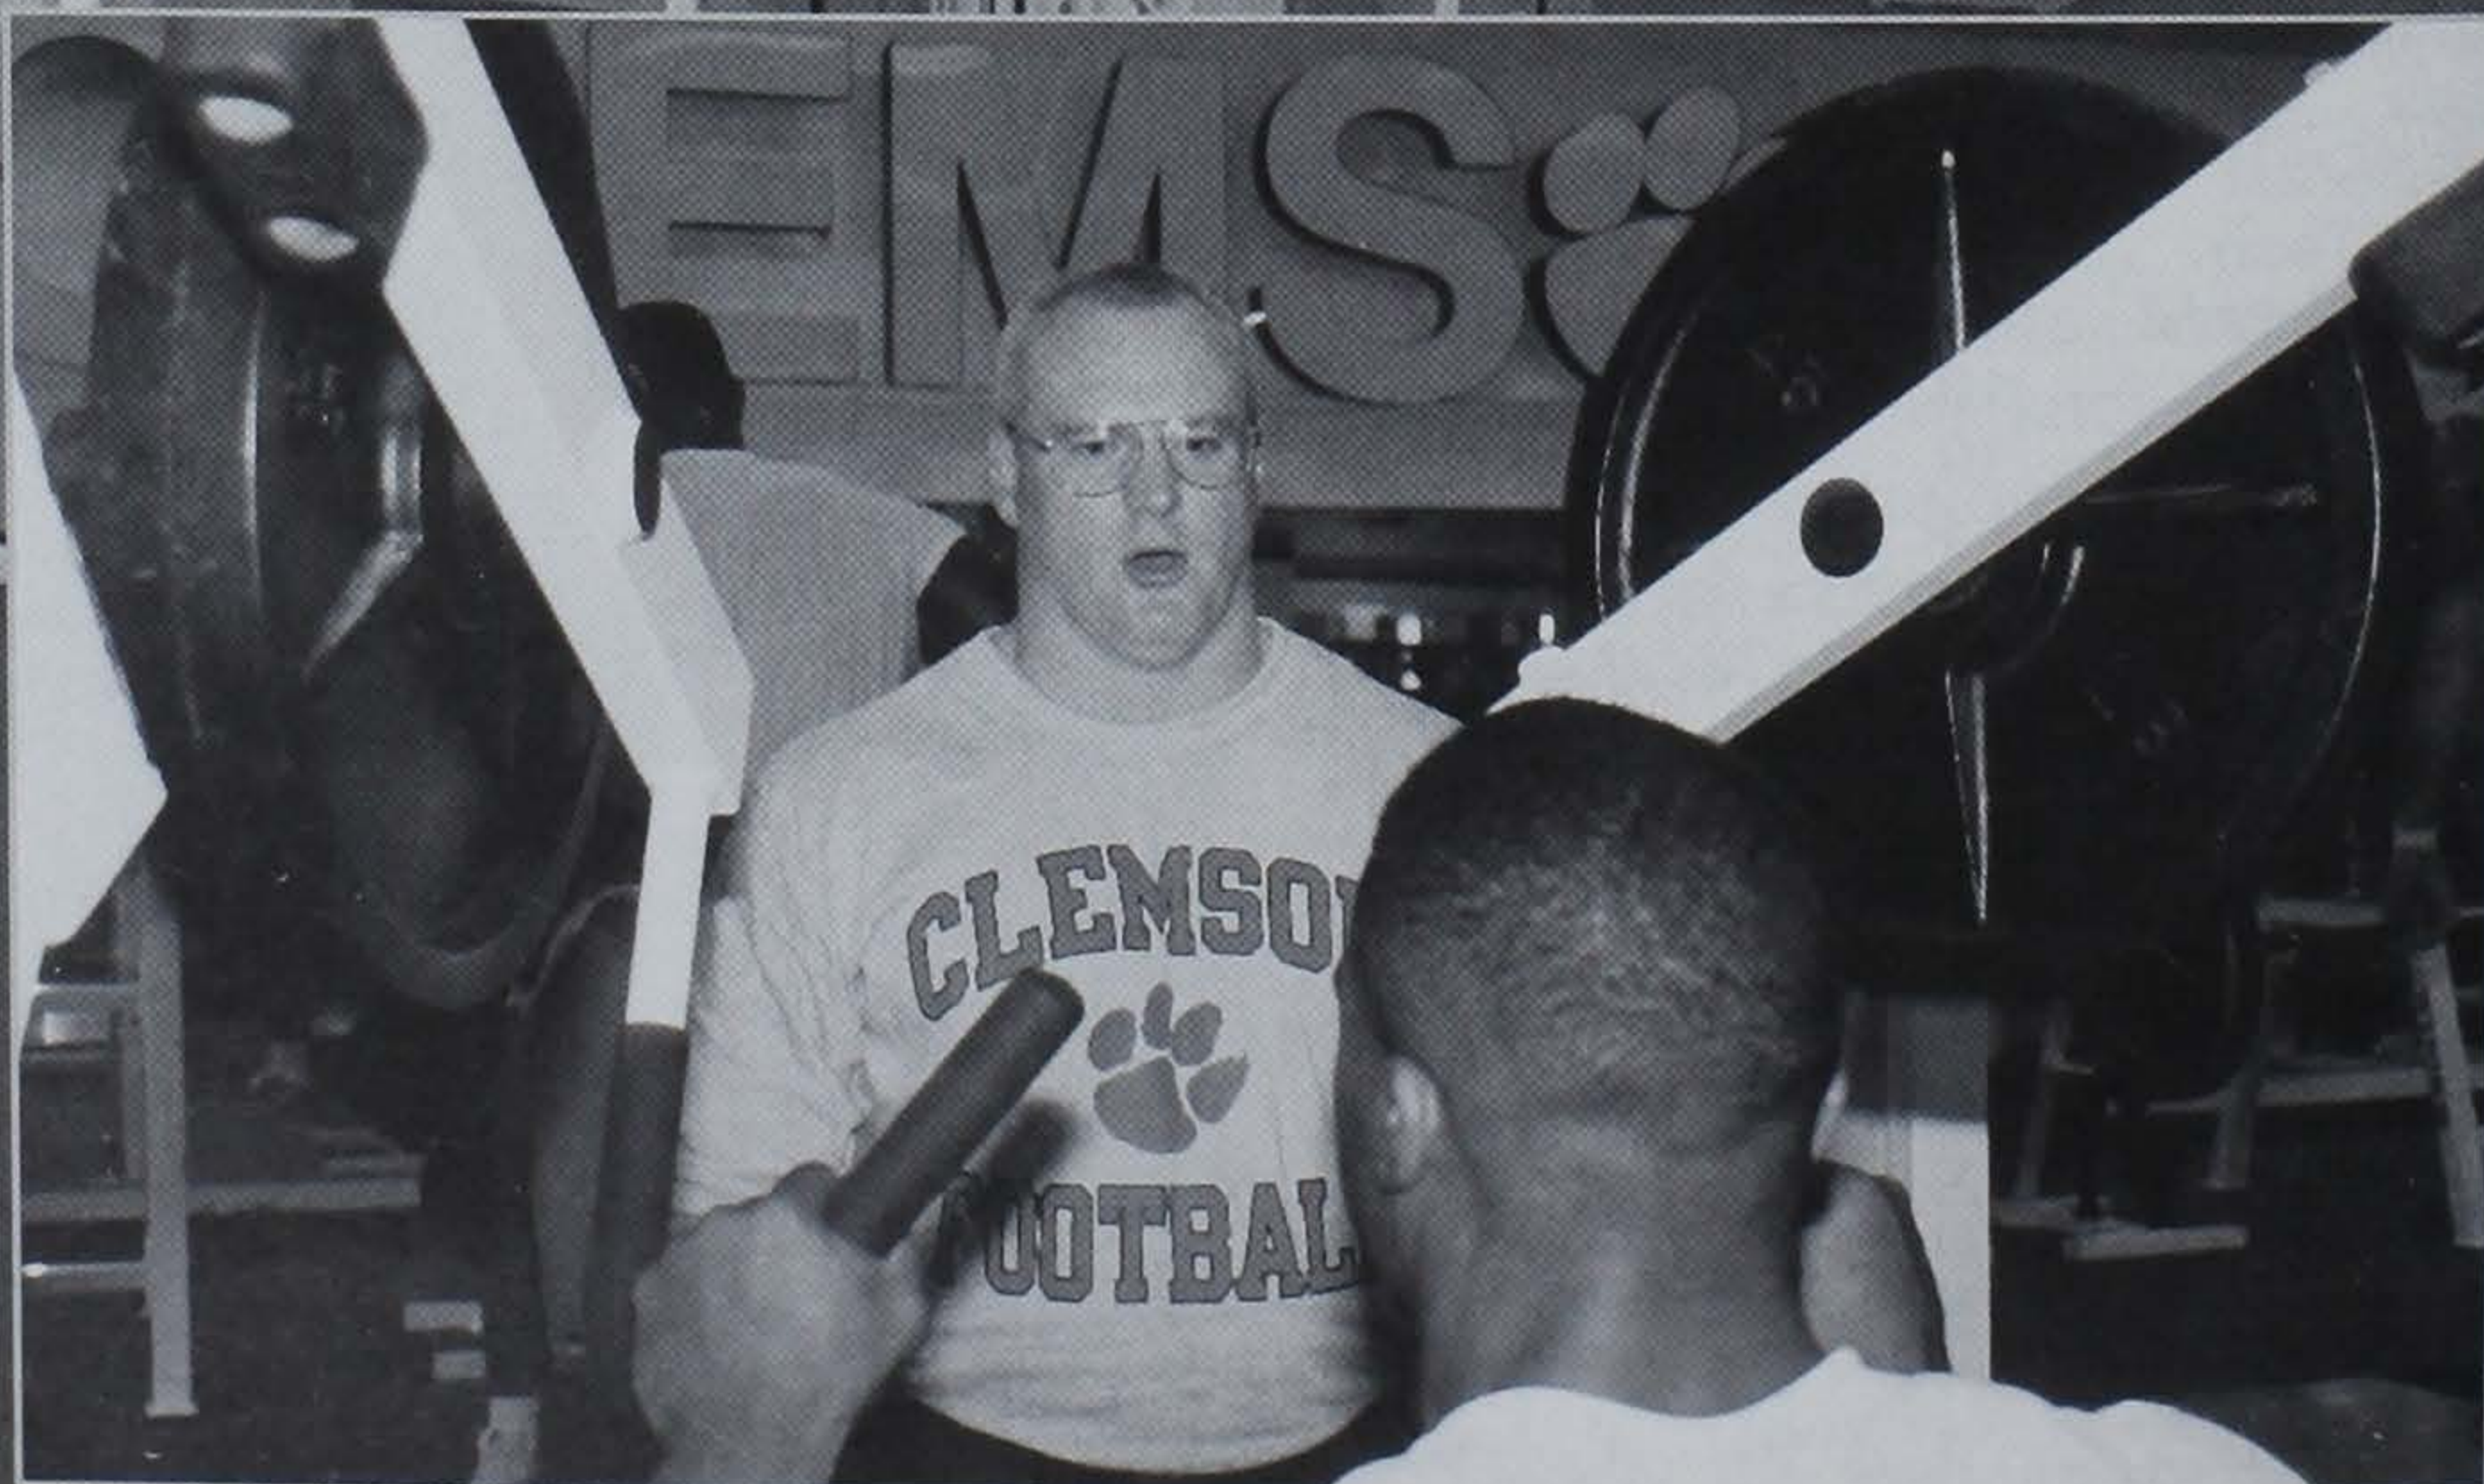

Clemson fans look forward to seeing tough, hard-nosed football when they come to Death Valley or travel to other schools to watch their Tigers in action. But some of the Tigers' most intense competition and action doesn't take place on autumn Saturdays and it doesn't take place on a field. Take a peek into the Clemson Strength Training Room at almost any time of day, almost any day of the week, at any time of the year, and you will see the Tigers building the foundation for their pursuit of a championship.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. Several years ago, it was enlarged to an astounding 11,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. Two years ago, it was expanded to 14,000 square feet. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several different sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

The plush atmosphere provides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place in the facility. When an athlete enters the etched glass doors, he is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 26-speaker sound system - a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Four color television monitors are also positioned throughout the facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as Tiger strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on form correction. When not in use for this purpose, the televisions, which are hooked into the sound system provide atmosphere, as most Tiger student-athletes enjoy working out to the tune of the latest music videos.

The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even takes the facility on the road when the Tiger football team plays in a bowl game.

Recently, the operation of the strength training facility was enhanced by the addition of a new computerized program. Tiger strength coaches are now able to enter all the current strength data on an athlete, and the computer will generate a 10-week conditioning program that will help the athlete reach optimum results. Coaches also print a yearly update on the improvements made by each member of the team, as well as updated records in all the strength training categories.

CLEMSON FACILITIES

Athletes at Clemson have the opportunity to be the best they can be because few universities have better facilities. The dedicated athlete can excel at Clemson because the facilities make him a better player.

The Jervy Athletic Center and the Banks McFadden Building serve as the focal point of Clemson athletics as it houses the strength training room, the varsity locker rooms and all administrative offices. Everything is within walking distance and easily accessible from all other facilities.

The training room is one of the fine facilities in the Jervy Athletic Center. It is run by Fred Hoover, a national Hall of Fame trainer, and it houses all of the latest training equipment. Hoover heads up a staff of four full-time individuals with over 50 years of experience. This professional staff and 17 student and graduate student trainers give an athlete the best possible care.

The training room has six whirlpools, a cybex machine, numerous stationary bikes, an upper-body exerciser, a Stairmaster, and all the latest devices for all kinds of treatment. The large sauna and steam bath are also welcome sites after a tough practice. A doctor has an office in the training room itself. He is in the training room from 2:00 p.m. until closing and is of course available at all hours for special situations.

Clemson's football practice fields are adjacent to the Jervy Athletic Center and across the street from Memorial Stadium.

McFADDEN BUILDING

The Clemson Athletic Department continued its commitment to provide its student-athletes with the best facilities when it completed the Banks McFadden Building at the Jervy Athletic Center in 1995. The dedication of this 20,000-square-foot facility was the cornerstone of the Jervy Athletic Center renovation project that was completed in 1996. It is designed to give all Clemson gridders the most modern and comfortable facilities in the nation.

The McFadden Building houses all the coaching offices and meeting rooms for Clemson's football team. The facility has meeting rooms for all nine position areas, so players are no longer forced to view film and discuss key strategy in a coach's cramped office. Each meeting room is equipped with "state of the art" video equipment.

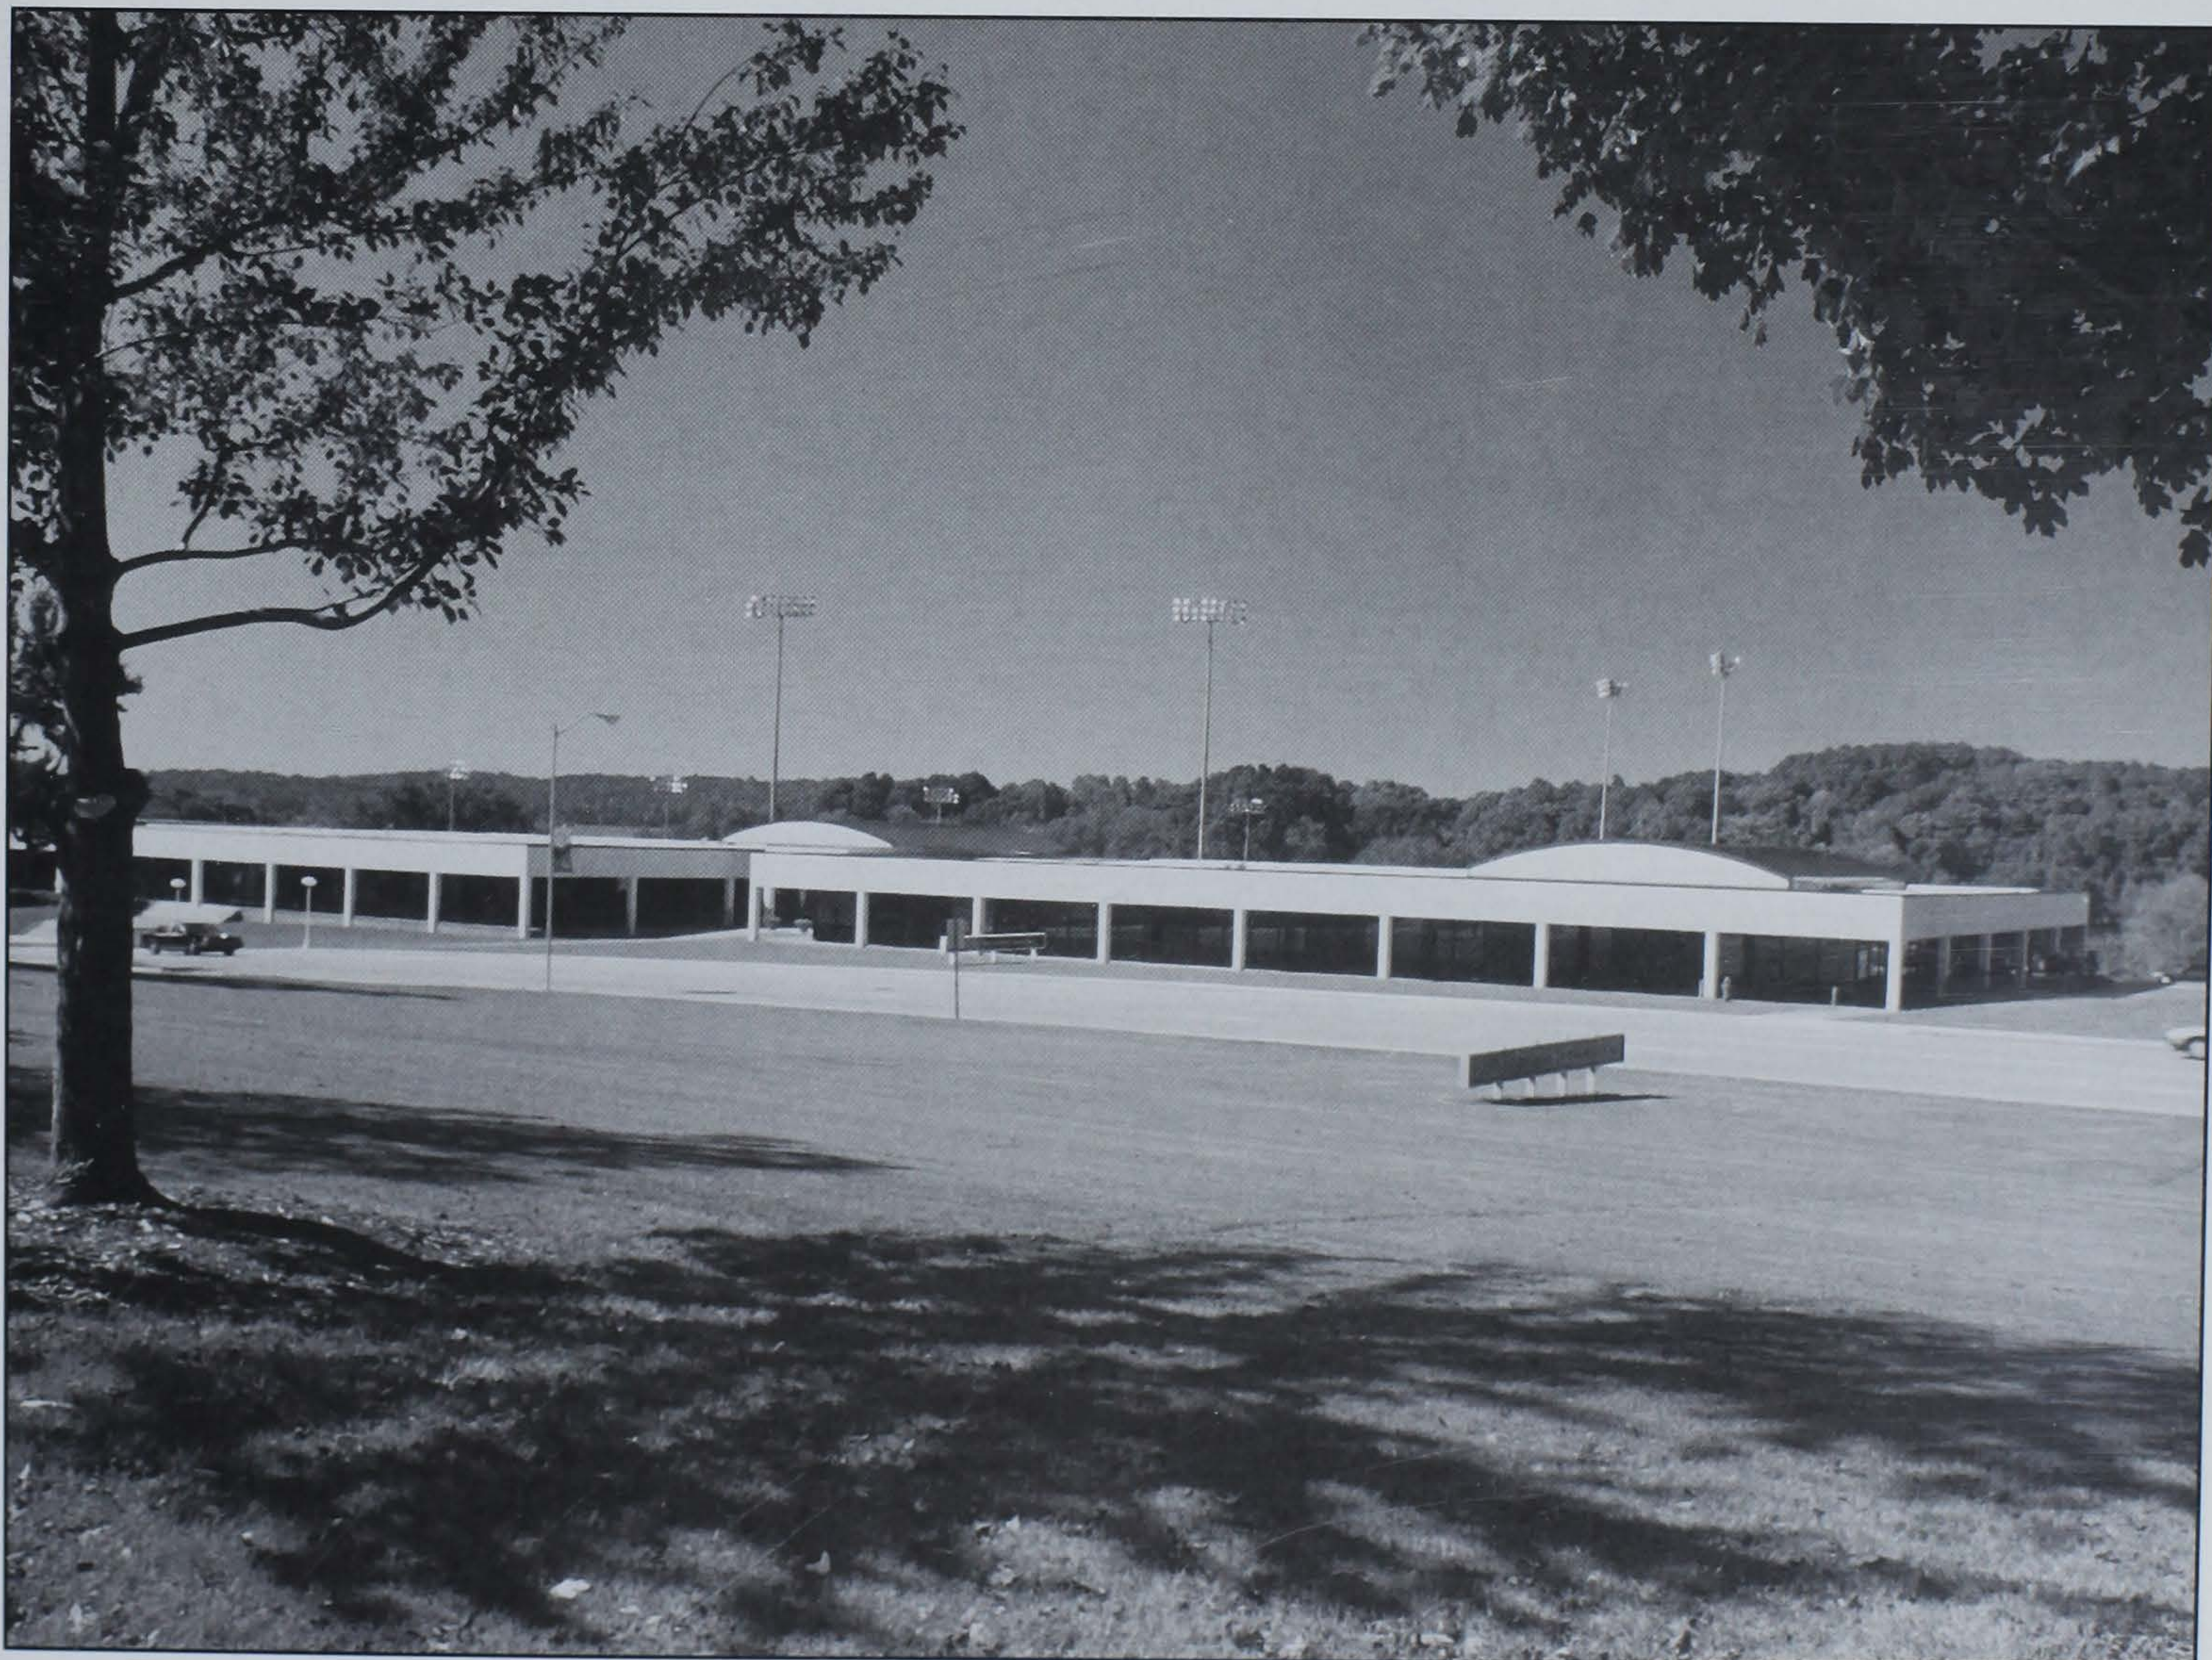

There is also an auditorium that holds as many as 180 people and is used for team meetings and press conferences. Additionally, there are private rooms for interviews with the media, a lounge, and even a pro scout facility that allows NFL representatives to view film of current Tigers in air-conditioned comfort.

The facility also houses a trophy and memorabilia area at its entrance. Much of the area is devoted to Banks McFadden, the former Clemson All-American and coach who perhaps had as much an impact on Clemson athletic history as anyone.

The construction of the McFadden building was one of the final stages of the overall renovation of the Jervy Athletic Center. In 1995, the Tiger football team came back to a new and expanded locker room with fresh paint, new carpeting, new lockers, and more space. The training room was also expanded and a player lounge area, complete with video games and televisions, was constructed. The weight room below the Jervy Athletic Center has increased in size to an incredible 14,000 square feet.

"The completion of the McFadden building gives us outstanding facilities in every area," said Head Coach Tommy West. "We now have a stadium that is second to none as far as its appearance, tradition and ability to accommodate large crowds in a pleasant and unique setting. We have a new, modern and spacious locker room, team area and training facilities. And, the meeting and office areas are comfortable places to learn and work."

The McFadden Building is the home of all football administrative offices and meeting rooms, where Clemson players prepare for the opposition by using the latest technology.

RUNNING DOWN THE HILL

What has been described as, "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint," actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Clemson Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season. Less than a year before Pearl Harbor was bombed and the United States was at war.

The shortest entry into the stadium was a walk down Williamson Road from Fike Field House's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the hill behind the east end zone. There were no dressing facilities in the west end zone—only a big clock where the hands turned, and a scoreboard which was operated by hand.

The team would dress at Fike, walk down Williamson Road, come in the gate underneath where the big scoreboard now stands and jog down the hill for its warmup exercises. There was no fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no tiger paw flag, no Tiger Rag played...just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side straddle hop.

That's pretty much the way things went for the next 25 years.

Either in 1964 or 1965, S.C. Jones, a member of the Clemson class of 1919, made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, CA, and picked up this white flint rock. He presented it to Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, CA, to Death Valley, South Carolina."

The rock laid on the floor in Howard's office in Fike for a year or more. One day Howard was cleaning up his office and he told Gene Willimon, who was the executive secretary of IPTAY; to, "take this rock and throw it over the fence, or out in the ditch...do something with it, but get it out of my office."

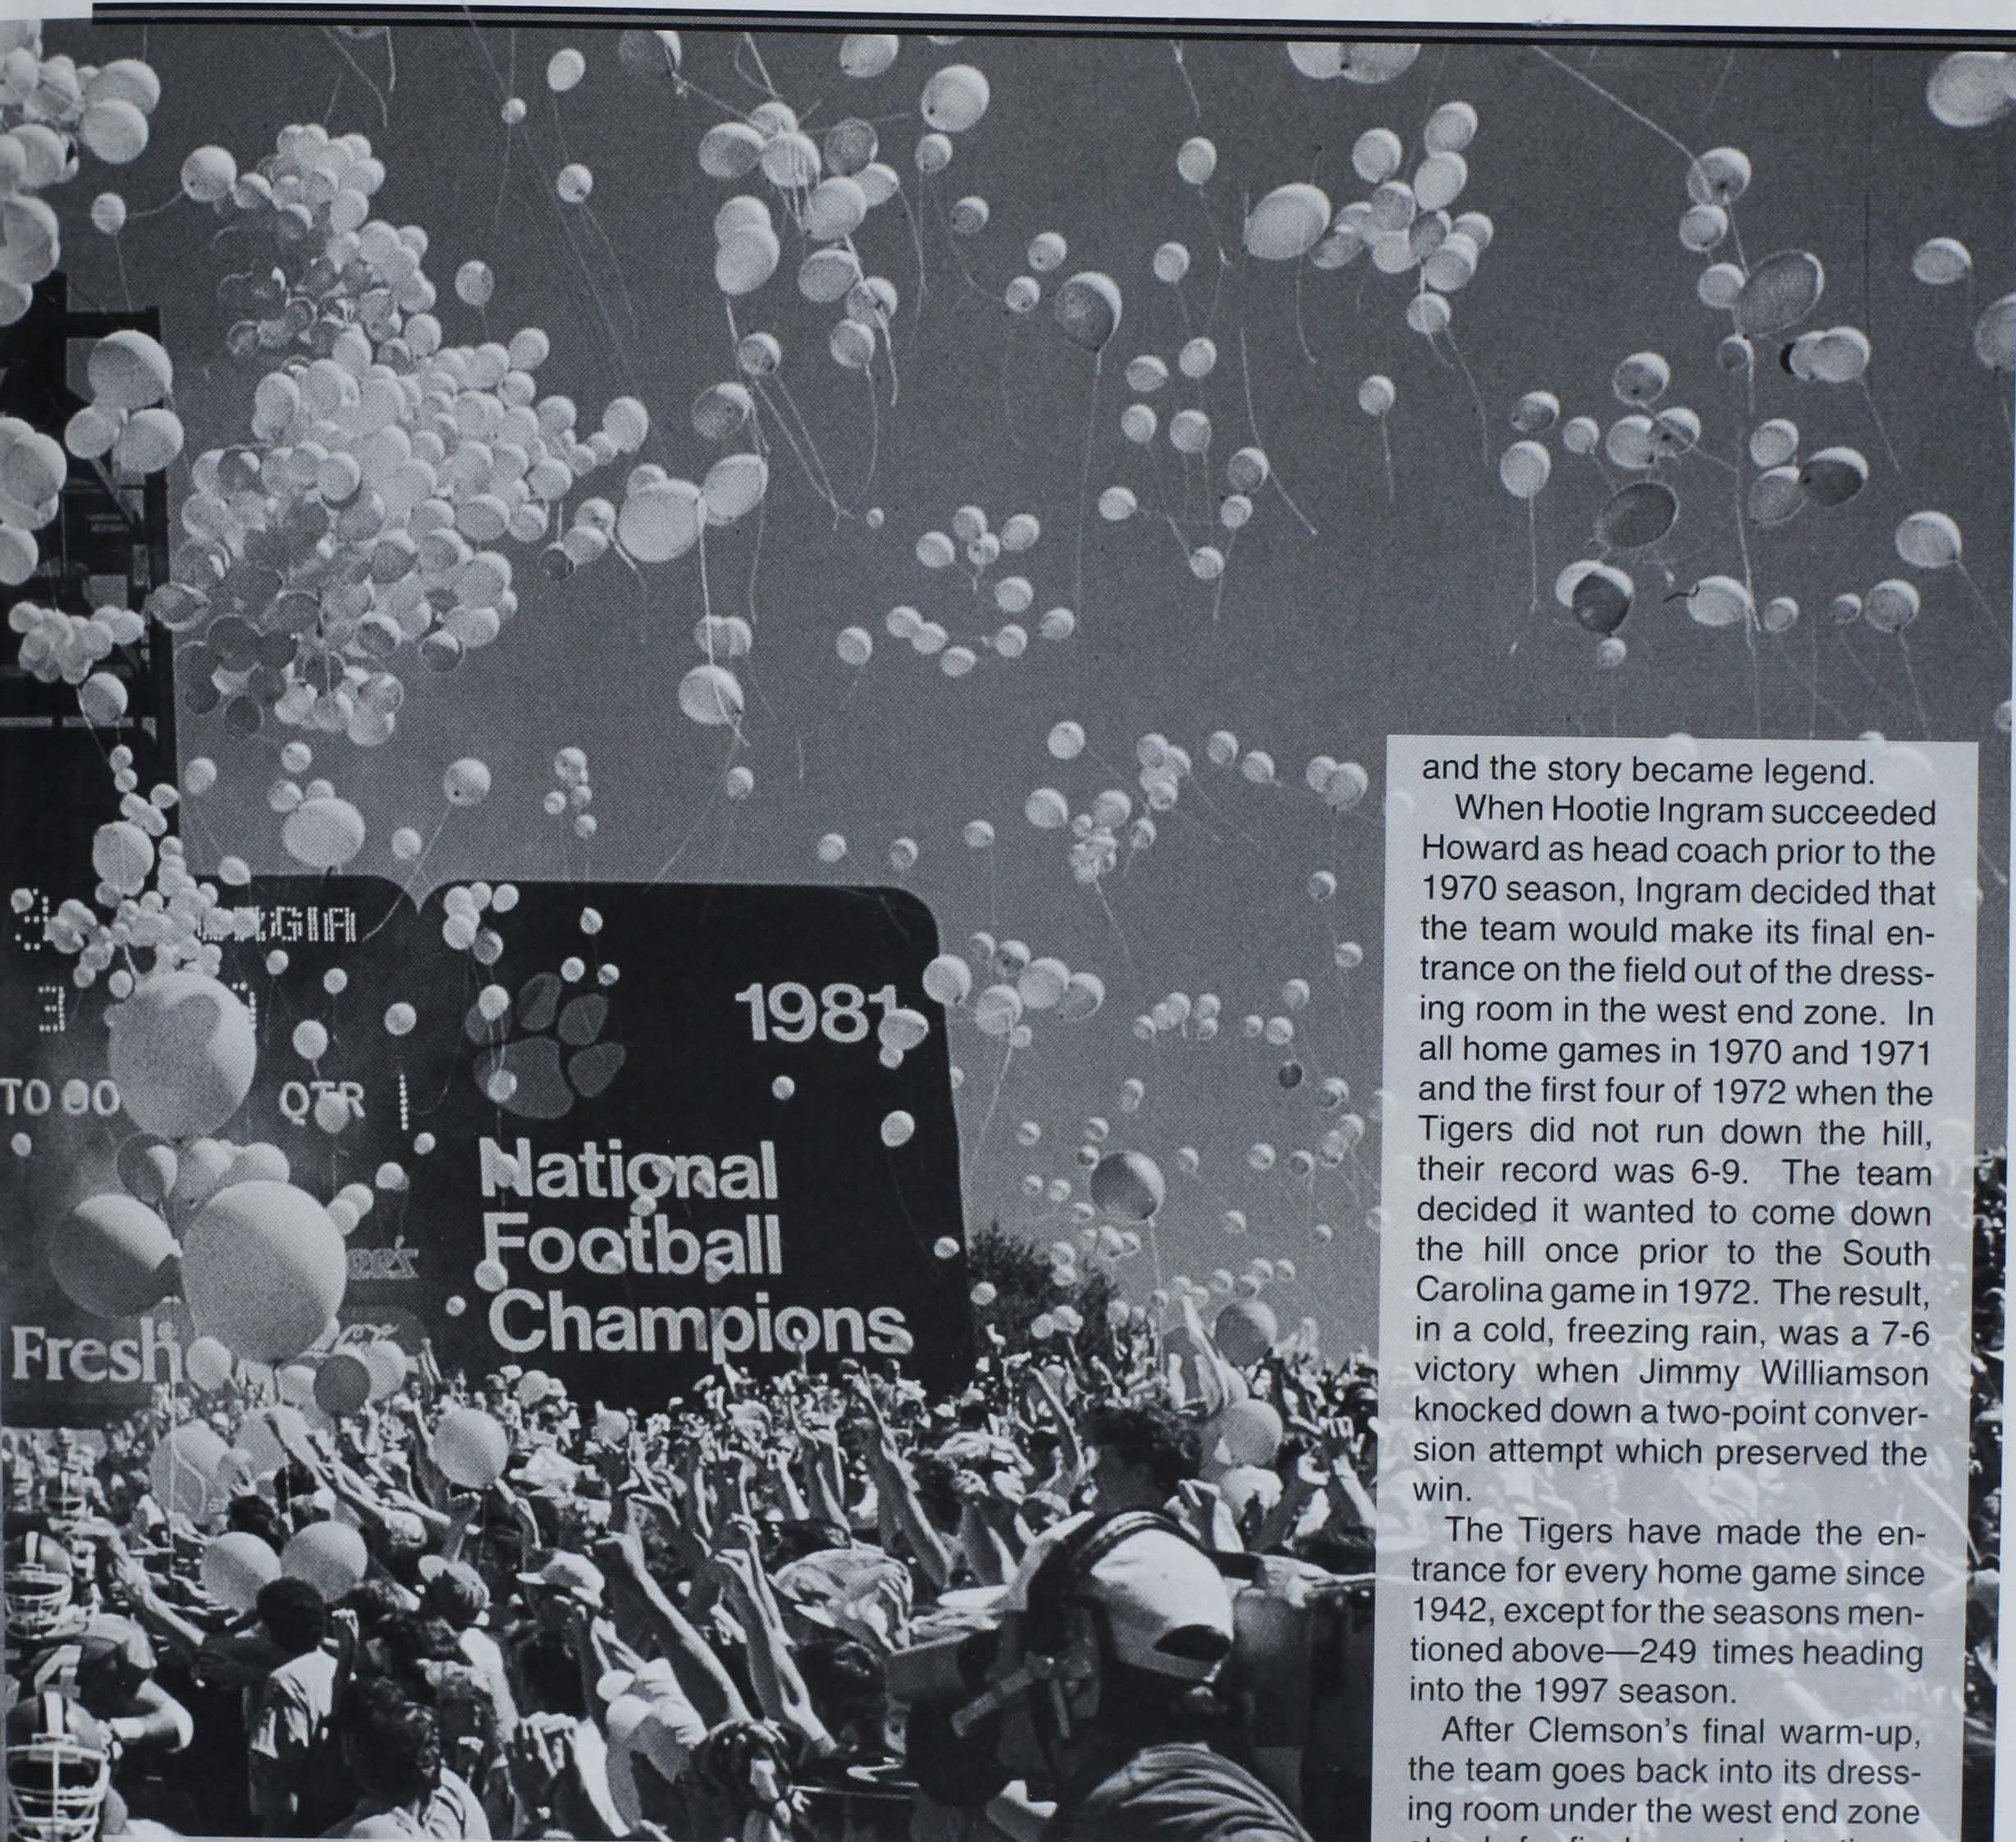

Willimon didn't think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought 3000 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid-sixties, Memorial Stadium was pretty well living up to its moniker, Death Valley, because of the number of victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by the late Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton in the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him used to open the season each year by coming to Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shut outs in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties to show for it, his teams were getting killed by the Tigers regularly. In 1948 McMillian made the comment to the press that he was taking his team to and the story became legend.

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard as head coach prior to the 1970 season, Ingram decided that the team would make its final entrance on the field out of the dressing room in the west end zone. In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four of 1972 when the Tigers did not run down the hill, their record was 6-9. The team decided it wanted to come down the hill once prior to the South Carolina game in 1972. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt which preserved the win.

The Tigers have made the entrance for every home game since 1942, except for the seasons mentioned above—249 times heading into the 1997 season.

After Clemson's final warm-up, the team goes back into its dressing room under the west end zone stands for final game instructions. About 10 minutes before kickoff the team boards two buses, rides around behind the north stands to the east end zone and debarks to the top of the hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms and led by a high-flying tiger paw flag, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and strikes up 'Tiger Rag'...The frenzy starts in all sincerity...and usually lasts two and a half to three hours.

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

play Clemson in Death Valley.

An occasional reference to Memorial stadium by that name could be heard for the next three or four years, but when Howard started calling it 'Death Valley' in the 1950's, the name took off like wildfire. The Tigers celebrated the 50th season in the 'valley' in 1991.

But getting back to Howard's rock.

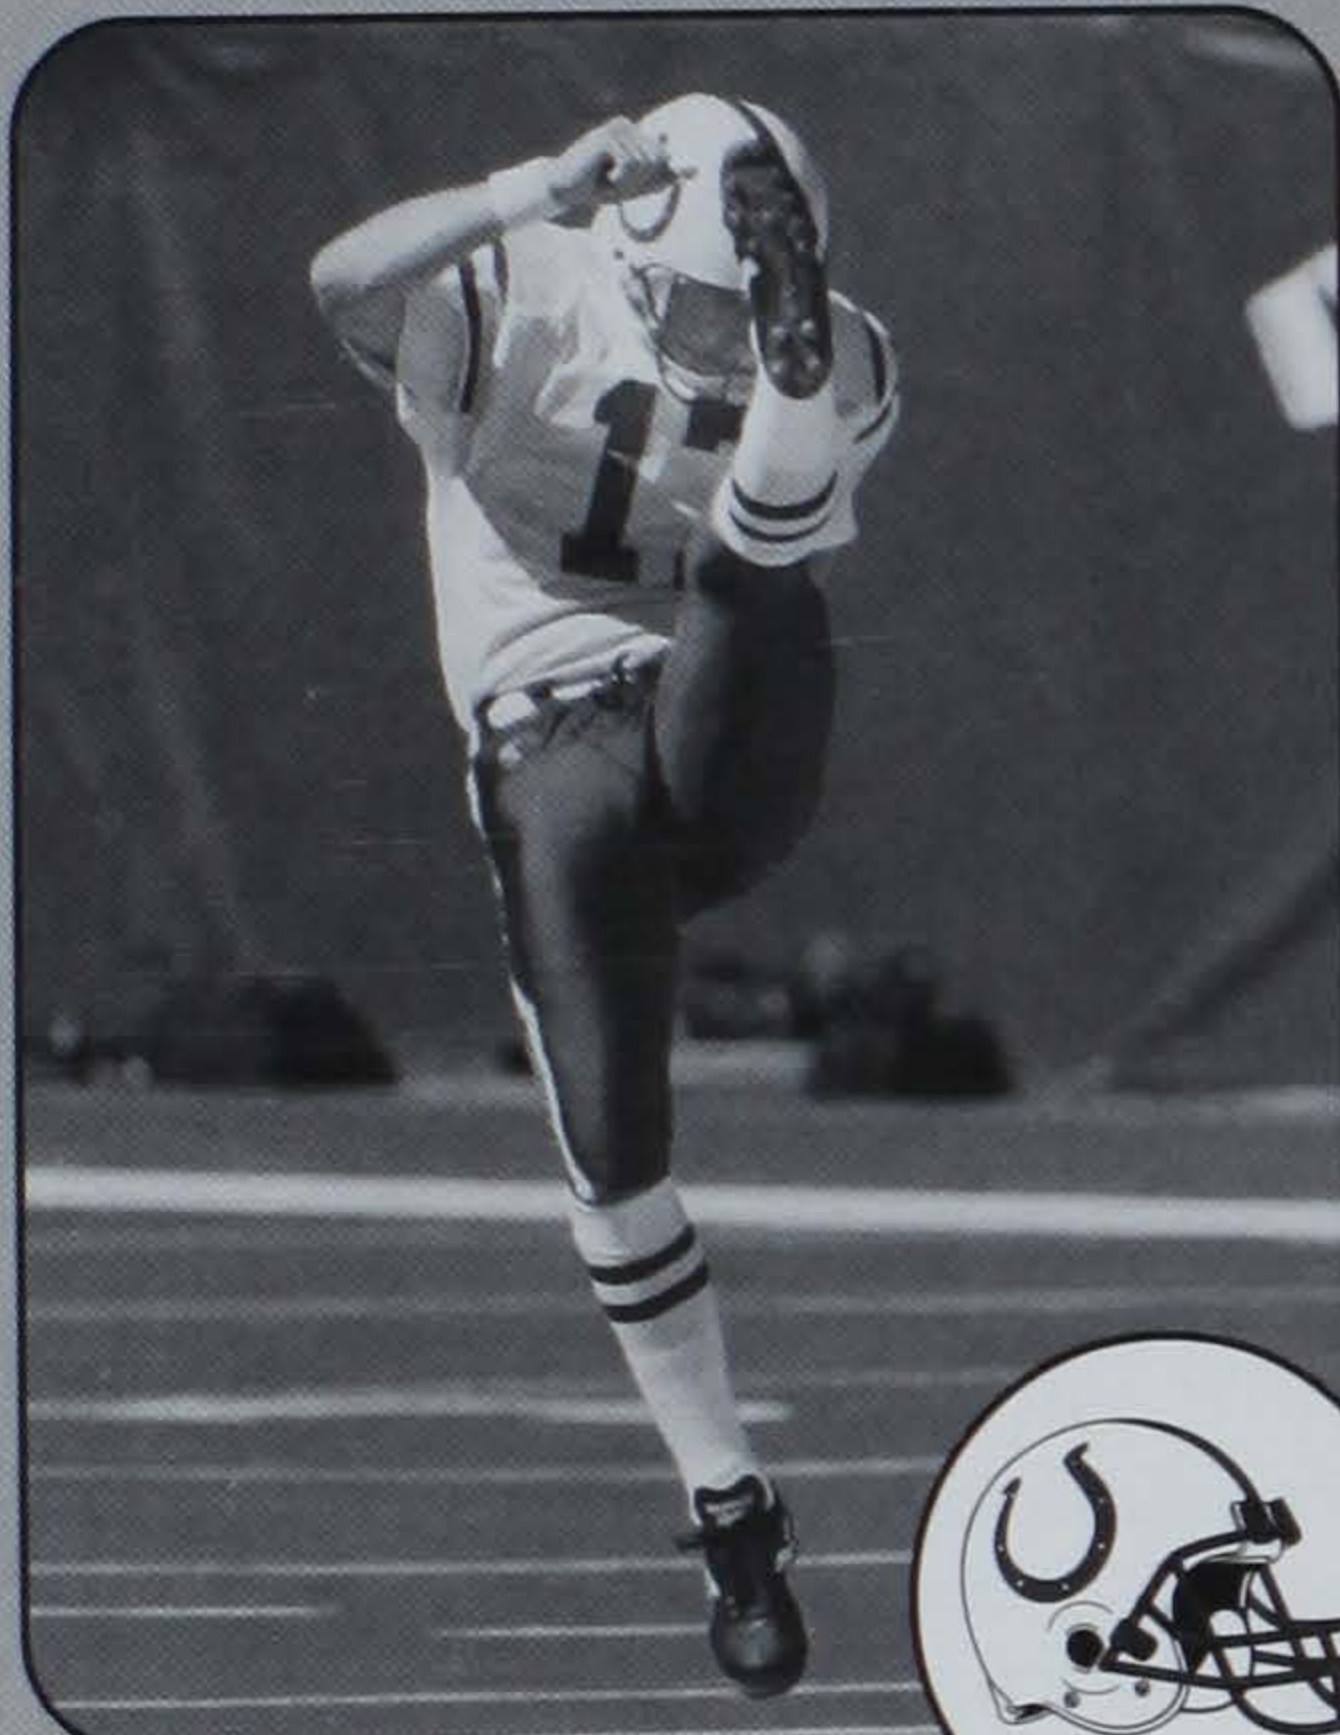

The rock was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill. It was unveiled September 24, 1966, on a day when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers were down 18 points with 17 minutes to play and came back to win (40-35) on a 65-yard pass play from Jimmy Addison to Jacky Jackson in the fourth period. That was quite a spectacular debut for that rock.

The team members started rubbing the rock prior to running down the hill September 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 23-6. Prior to running down the hill that day, Howard told his players: "If you're going to give me 110 percent, you can rub that rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it." Howard told of the incident the next day on his Sunday television show

*The ACC is one of only two conferences to capture three or more national football titles since 1980. Clemson laid claim to the league's second title in 1981, Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990 while Florida State pocketed national title number four in 1993.

*The nine schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 322 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 49 first-team academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,358 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 90 first-round draft selections.

*If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC remains the nation's winningest bowl conference as the nine current league teams are a combined 76-66-5 in postseason play, including 22-16-1 since 1987.

*Three ACC teams, Clemson, Florida State and Georgia Tech, are among the nation's top 10 winningest bowl teams. Georgia Tech has the highest winning percentage in bowl play with a 17-8 record (.680), while Florida State is now fifth with a 15-8-2 mark (.640). Clemson is 10th with a 12-9 record (.571).

*Five of the ACC's nine teams were ranked at least two weeks in the AP poll in 1996.

*The 1996 season marked the eighth consecutive year the ACC had at least four teams participating in bowl games.

*The ACC is the only conference in the nation to have each of its schools play in a bowl game in the decade of the 1990s.

*ACC Football has drawn at least 2.2 million fans for six straight years. ACC teams played to 85.3 percent of their stadium capacity in 1996.

*ACC teams made an all-time high 56 appearances on national television in 1996. League teams made 28 appearances on ABC, 19 on ESPN and ESPN2, three on CBS and one each on NBC, TBS, Fox and Prime. Clemson was one of just three schools nationally (BYU and Boston College were the others) to have all of their games on national or regional live television in 1996.

*54 of the 67 conference games in 1996 were shown on live television.

*Eleven times over the past 17 years, an ACC member school has claimed the CFA Academic Achievement Award, which is awarded to a CFA member institution with the highest graduation rate among members of its football team. In 1996-97, the ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the 11th straight year as 1410 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

*The 1996-97 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and four individual NCAA crowns. Among the individual winners was Clemson golfer Charles Warren, who won the NCAA Championship at Conway Farms in Chicago in a playoff.

*The ACC placed at least one team in the top 10 in 16 of the 24 sports sponsored by the league. The league had 33 top 10 finishes overall and 84 teams competed at the NCAA championships of their respective sports.

*Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 59 NCAA and AIAW championships, including 27 in men's competition and 32 in women's. In addition, 100 men and 24 women have earned the coveted title of the NCAA champion.

Community Service & Outreach

Clemson football players are involved in community service work throughout the academic year. Here is a rundown of some of the projects the team was involved in last year:

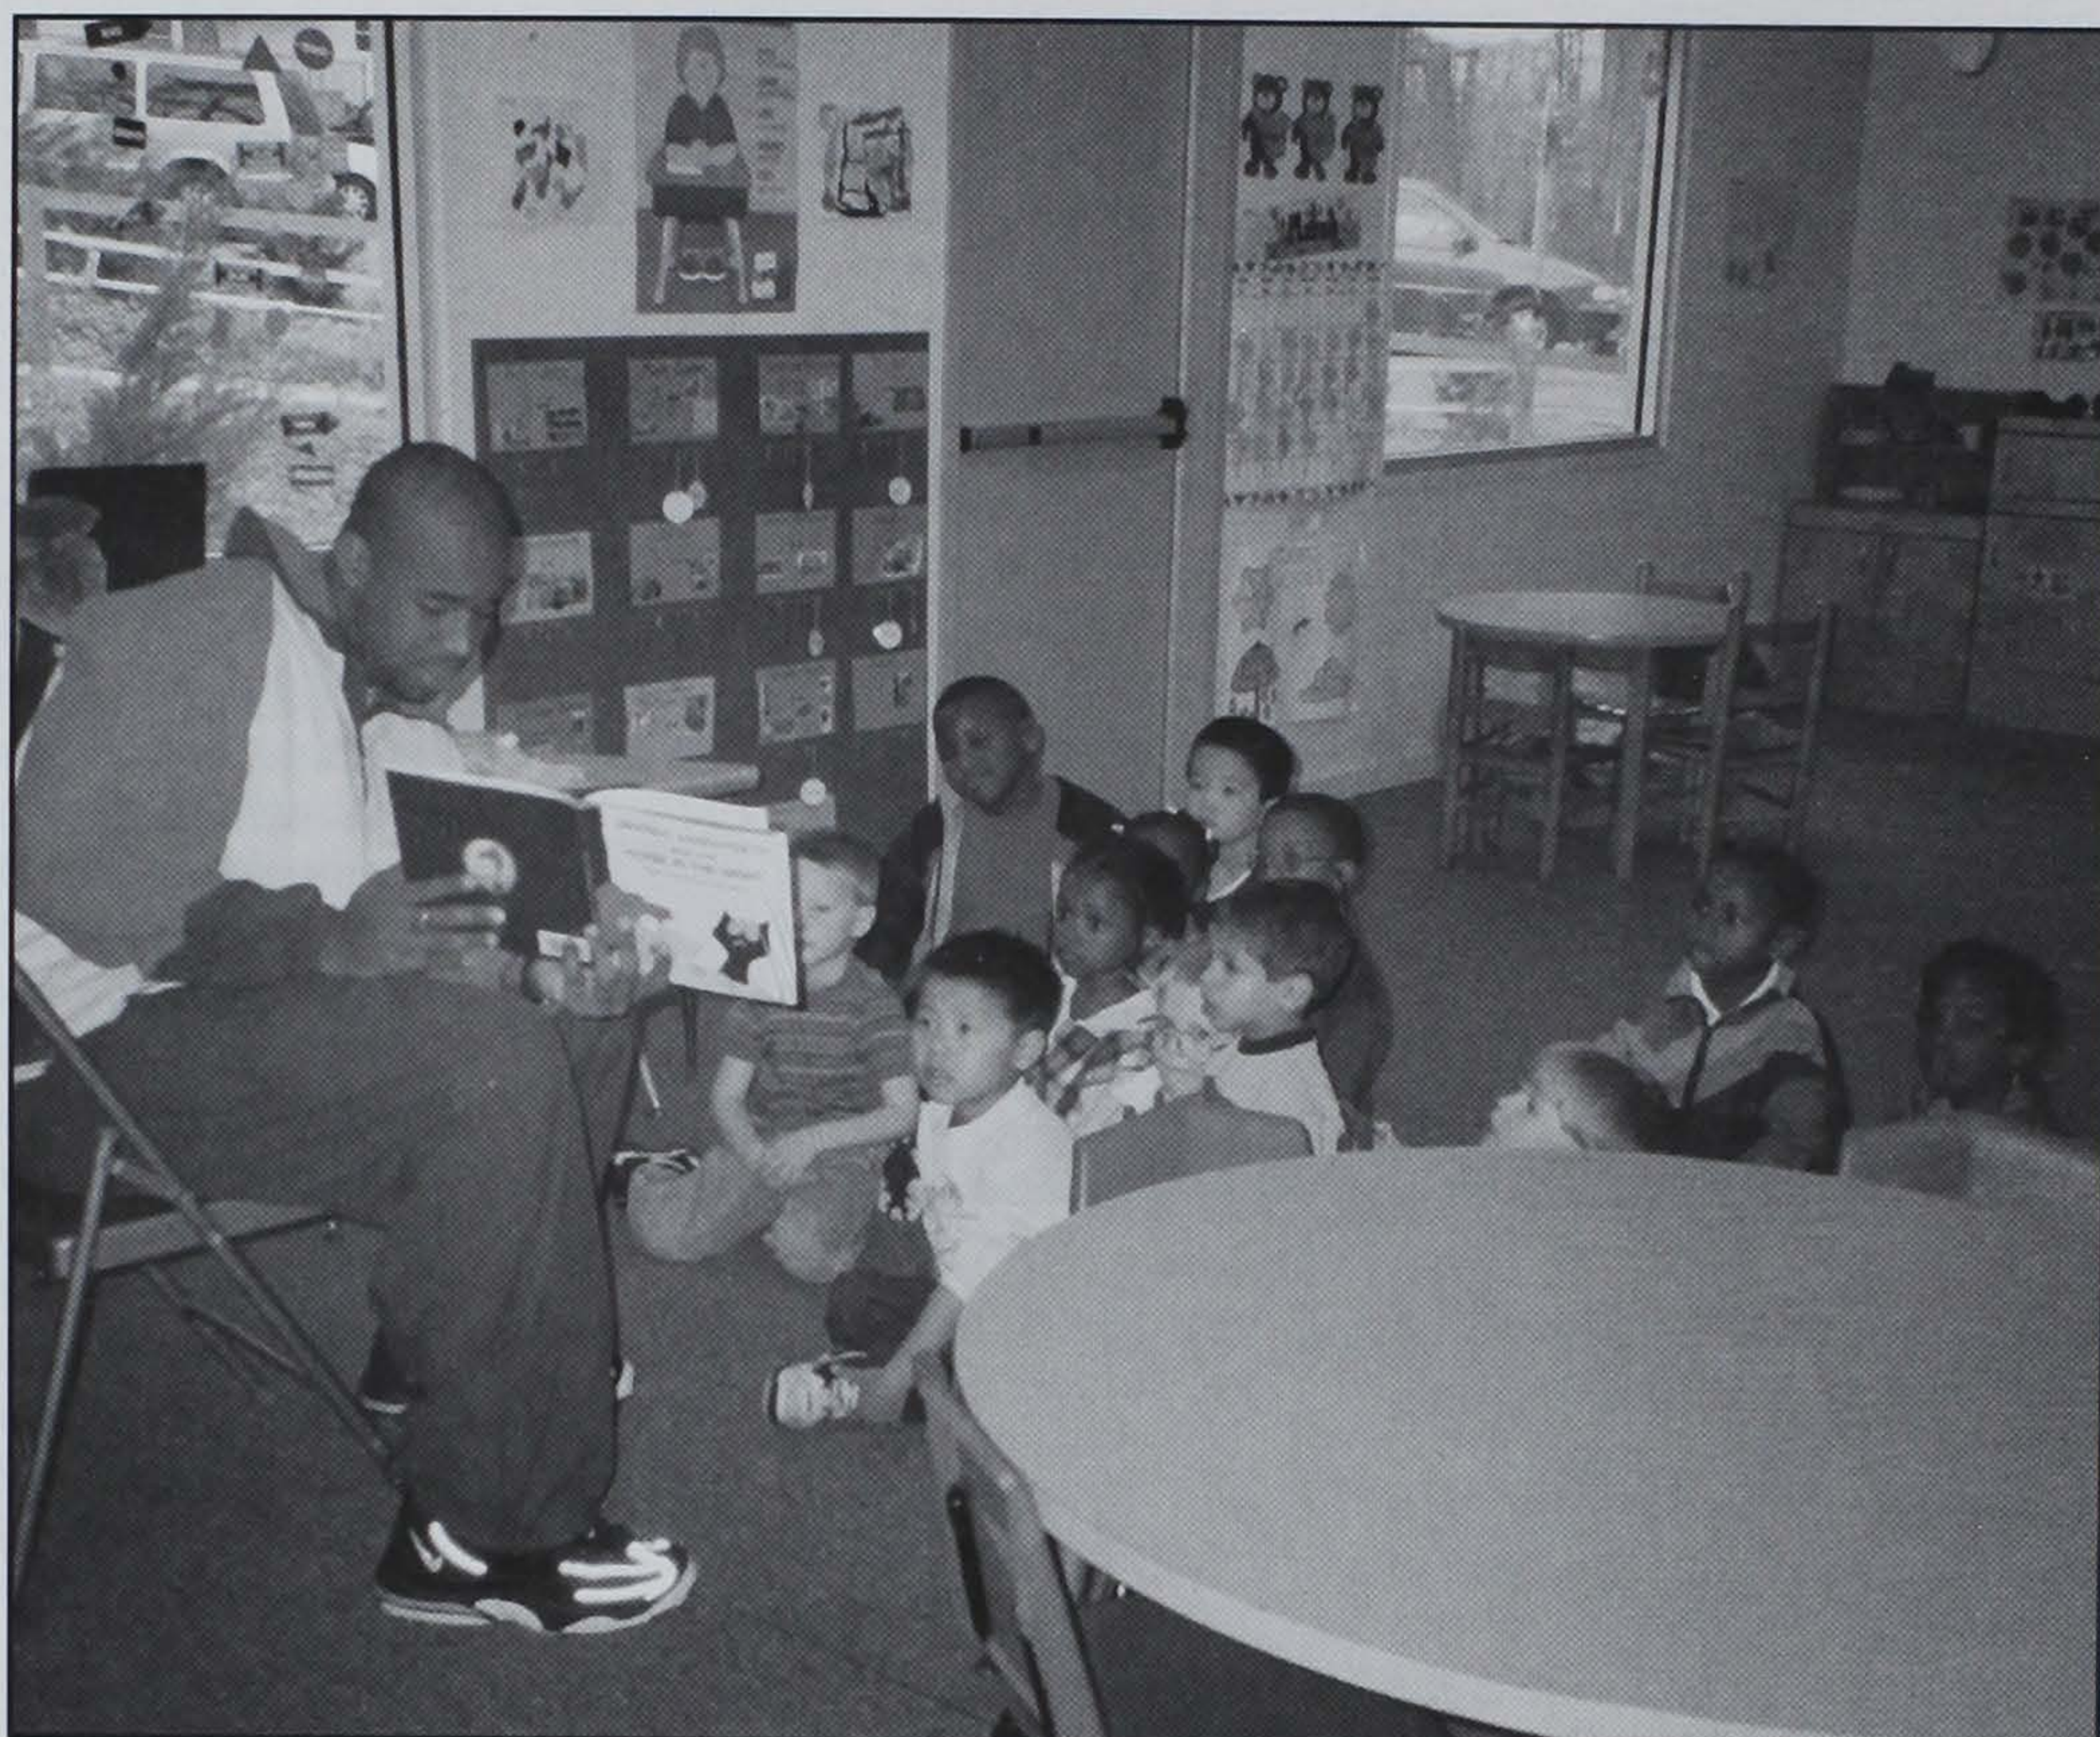

December, 1996—Members of the team donated from their bowl money, funds to sponsor children so they could receive clothing or toys from the Helping Hands of Clemson.

January, 1997—Members of the football team gathered at a local playground to assemble equipment for the Littlejohn Community Center.

February, 1997—Donated a sum of money to the Helping Hands of Clemson as part of career dress day.

March, 1997—"Engines that can day"—Members of the team traveled to the Clemson Child Development Center to read children some of their favorite books.

April, 1997—"High Five Day" - 40 children from the Headstart program at Littlejohn Community Center came to Vickery Hall. The members of the team played host to the children at Clemson's Academic Learning Center.

Tight End Wesley Ellis works with some elementary school students on the basics of reading.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has begun a faculty/staff mentoring service in which deans, professors, administrators, and staff professionals serve as mentors for student-athletes. Student-athletes are also encouraged to serve as mentors to kids in the surrounding communities. Through the Clemson Student-Athlete Speakers' Bureau and such projects as Helping Hands, they make a positive impact off the playing field.

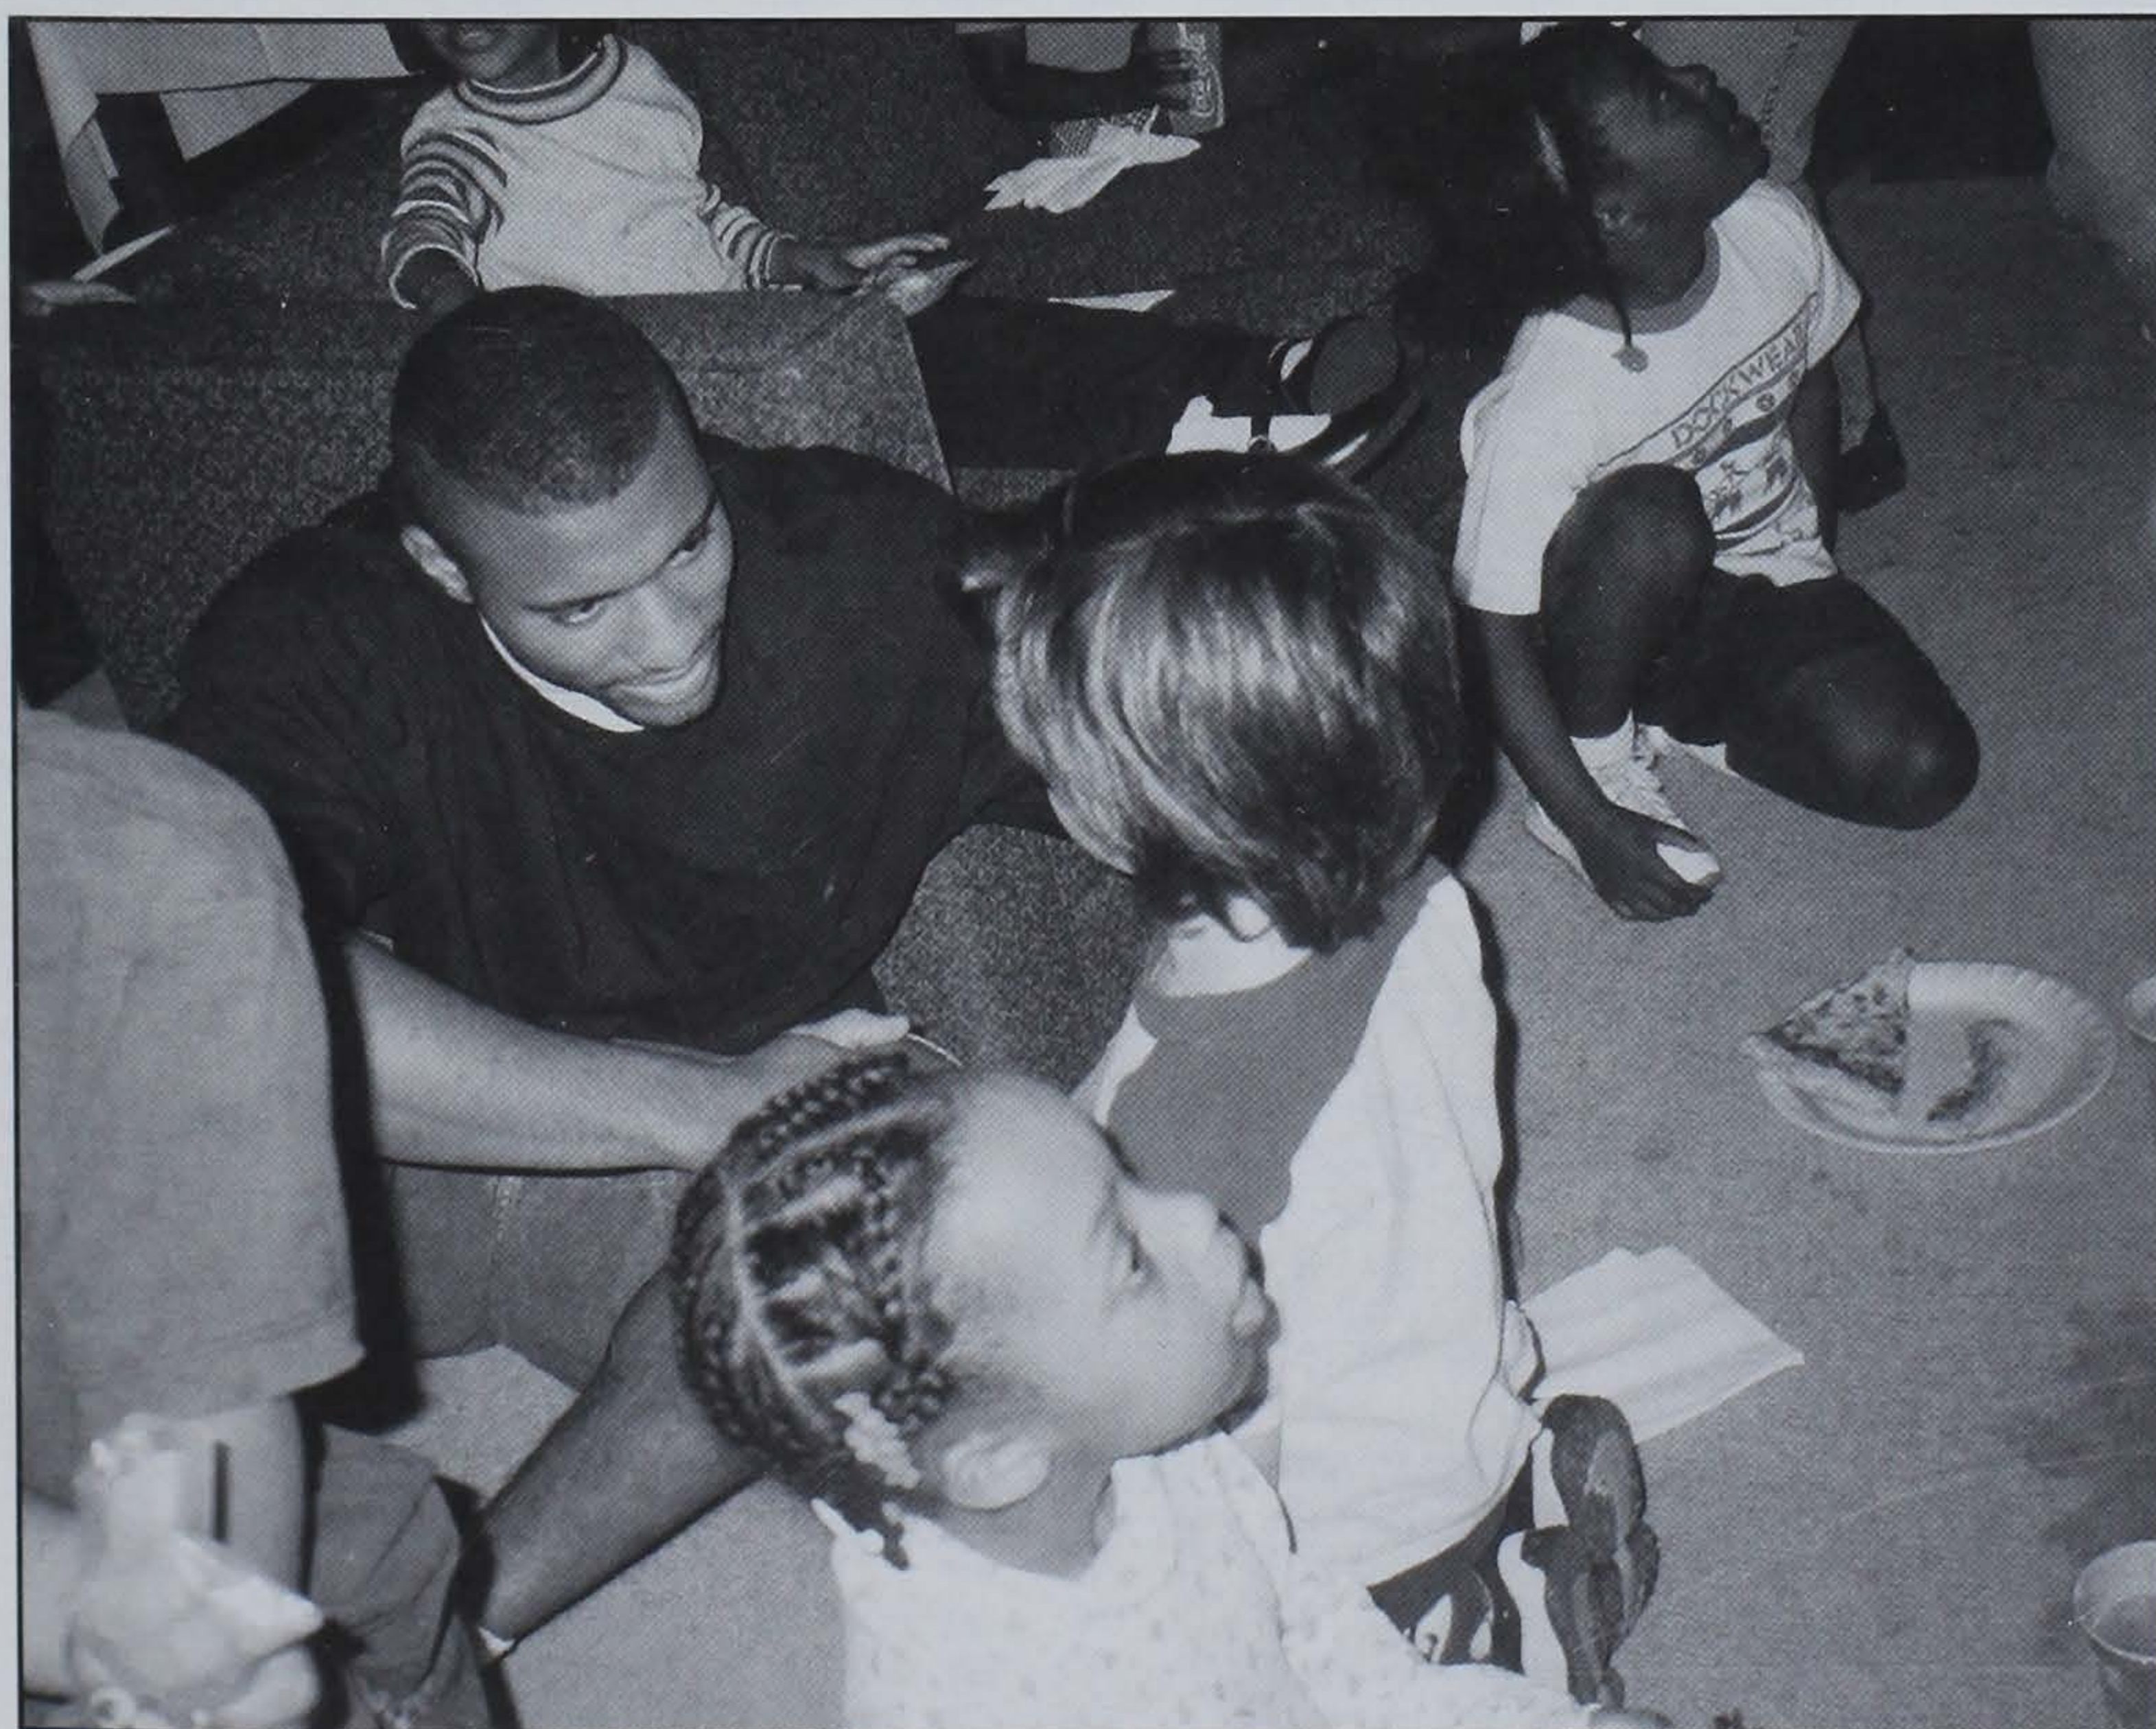

Raymond White, David Richardson, and Corey Hulsey lend support to the construction of a "Habitat for Humanity" project at Clemson last fall.

Raymond Priester was a popular guest at this fifth grade class at Vereenes Elementary School in Anderson last April.

Anthony Simmons was one of the Tigers who took part in "High Five Day," when the Tigers played host to 40 children at Vickery Hall.

LIFE Line

LIFE Line is an organization that serves as a leadership group for the Clemson football program. The LIFE in the organization's name stands for Leaders in Football and Education. The group is composed of 13 Clemson football players and they provide a peer leadership group for the entire team.

LIFE line's members are committed to creating a positive team image, well developed goals and objectives, sound values and smart decision making. The group's goals are striving to enhance academic and athletic excellence, develop personal leadership skills and promote leadership qualities in other team members, promote career development on the team and encourage teammates to volunteer in community projects.

The members of the LIFE Line group for 1997-98 are Anthony Simmons, Raymond Priester, Corey Hulse, Jason Collins, Glenn Rountree, Raymond White, Michael Allen, Carl Baker, Holland Postell, Brandon Streeter, Nealon Greene, Mark Landry and Kevin Laird.

The 13 players who lead the group are involved in monthly retreats, hear from speakers and presentations, and sponsor freshmen in an effort to aid their transition to college academics and athletics. "Being a good leader involves no mysterious methods nor profound philosophical approaches," said Bill D'Andrea, the Director of Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs. "It is all quite simple and reasonable because people want to do the right thing. Improper behavior generally springs from poor decisions. If a player does something wrong, a good leader simply tells him or shows him how to do it right."

Last July, members of the LIFE Line presented a paper at the Leadership Convention for National Dropout Prevention Center at Clemson. The presentation consisted of information about the LIFE Line group and how the project was initiated.

"Our programs are designed to give each student-athlete every opportunity to reach his or her academic potential," said D'Andrea. "Tying in all three focus areas, academics, personal growth and career enhancement, help prepare them for the time they spend at Clemson as well as for successful careers."

Jerome Henderson played in the Superbowl for the New England Patriots.

Nealon Greene completed eight of 13 passes for 135 yards and a touchdown, and running backs Raymond Priester and Terry Witherspoon both surpassed 100 rushing yards to highlight Clemson's Spring Game April 5th at Clemson Memorial Stadium. The contest wrapped up the Spring practice session for Tommy West's Tigers. The Orange team, the offense, defeated the White team, the defense, 40-7.

There were six offensive touchdowns, three rushing and three passing, and 517 yards of total offense in 88 plays. Clemson quarterbacks completed 17-32 passes for 284 yards and three touchdowns. There were seven pass plays of 20 yards or more. The runningbacks had 56 rushes for 233 yards. Witherspoon, a sophomore who red-shirted last year, had 29 attempts for 120 yards and a touchdown. Raymond Priester, Clemson's career rushing leader, gained 110 yards in just 14 attempts and scored two touchdowns, runs of 10 and eight yards.

West worked four quarterbacks. Greene was the most effective with his 135 yards passing and he also had 13 yards rushing in two attempts. The rising senior who has started 27 straight games for the Tigers, quarterbacked five possessions and led the offense to four touchdowns. Clemson had 292 yards of total offense in just 36 plays that Greene quarterbacked, 8.1 yards per play. Greene's touchdown pass was a one-yard score to tight end Lamont Hall.

Backup quarterback Brandon Streeter completed 7-11 passes for 95 yards and two touchdowns in his best scrimmage performance of the Spring. He threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to Mal Lawyer, who made a difficult catch in between two defenders, and a 17-yard touchdown pass to James Chappell to complete the scoring.

Sophomore Billy Luckie played only one possession in the game and reinjured a collarbone when he was sacked. He did not return, but the injury is not serious. Freshman Slade Nagle was 2-7 passing for 54 yards, including a 37-yard pass to tight end Wesley Ellis.

The top receiver was Mal Lawyer with four catches for 47 yards and a score. Brian Wofford, like Lawyer a rising sophomore, had three catches for 51 yards. Tony Horne had 2-44 and Lamont Hall 2-15. Three different tight ends caught a total of four passes in the game.

Defensive tackle Tony Plantin was the top defensive player with three quarterback sacks for 19 yards. He had six total tackles. Defensive back David Evans, cousin of former Clemson All-ACC defensive back Leomont Evans, scored the game's only defensive touchdown when he returned a fumble 16 yards for a score. The fumble was caused on a hit by All-American Anthony Simmons, who had two tackles for loss and five tackles for the afternoon. Michael Allen had the game's only interception.

"This was a good way to end Spring practice," said Clemson Head Coach Tommy West. "I thought we competed hard and showed some progress from the beginning of the Spring. 'I think we have found a fullback in Terry Witherspoon. We still have

NORTH CAROLINA 45, CLEMSON 0

At Kenan Stadium, Chapel Hill, NC

August 31, 1996

Attendance: 47,500 Time: 3:10 (ABC)

Weather: Partly Sunny and 82 degrees

Clemson lost its season opener against North Carolina, 45-0 on August 31 at Chapel Hill. The Tigers gained only 91 yards of total offense and had just six first downs for the entire game. The Clemson offense never got closer than the North Carolina 39-yard-line. Clemson had just 50 yards rushing and North Carolina won the time of possession stat (34:54). The Tar Heels also won the turnover margin (4-1), usually a telling stat when it comes to Clemson football games.

The contest was a 10-0 North Carolina lead at intermission. Two plays hurt Clemson in the first half, a 67-yard run by Leon Johnson that set up a score, and a fumbled punt return by Antwan Edwards at the Clemson 20. The Tiger defense did not allow a yard, but the Tar Heels kicked a 37-yard field goal to lead 10-0 at halftime.

It was still 10-0 with seven minutes to go in the third period when Brian Simmons intercepted a Nealon Greene pass and returned it to the Clemson 21. The Tar Heels scored a couple of minutes later to take a 17-0 lead. It was the first of five straight possessions in which North Carolina scored a touchdown.

Leon Johnson led North Carolina with 19 carries for 109 yards and two touchdowns. It was the first 100-yard rushing game by a UNC back against Clemson since 1988. North Carolina showed great balance with 191 yards rushing and 238 passing.

Raymond Priestler had 34 of the Tiger's 50 rushing yards in 15 carries, as North Carolina's swarming defense bottled up the Tiger ground game. Kenya Crooks had three receptions for the Tigers, he had just 10 all of 1995. Clemson had just one play of double figures in terms of yardage, a 12-yard reception by Brian Wofford.

Clemson's defense gave up 45 points, but three North Carolina touchdowns were set up by Clemson turnovers, three times in Clemson territory. Anthony Simmons led the way for the Tigers with 12 tackles, while Antwan Edwards had eight stops. O.J. Childress had a career high seven tackles, while inside linebacker Chris Jones also had seven.

O.J. Childress had a career high seven tackles at North Carolina.

CLEMSON 19, FURMAN 3

At Memorial Stadium, Clemson, SC
 September 7, 1996
 Attendance: 62,243 Time: 2:58 (ACC TV)
 Weather: Sunny and 81 degrees

The Clemson defense set single game records for rushing yards and sacks in leading the Tigers to their first win of the season. The Tigers, sporting their throwback uniforms for only the second time, limited the Paladins to -29 yards rushing, including 12 sacks for -70 yards in a regionally televised game.

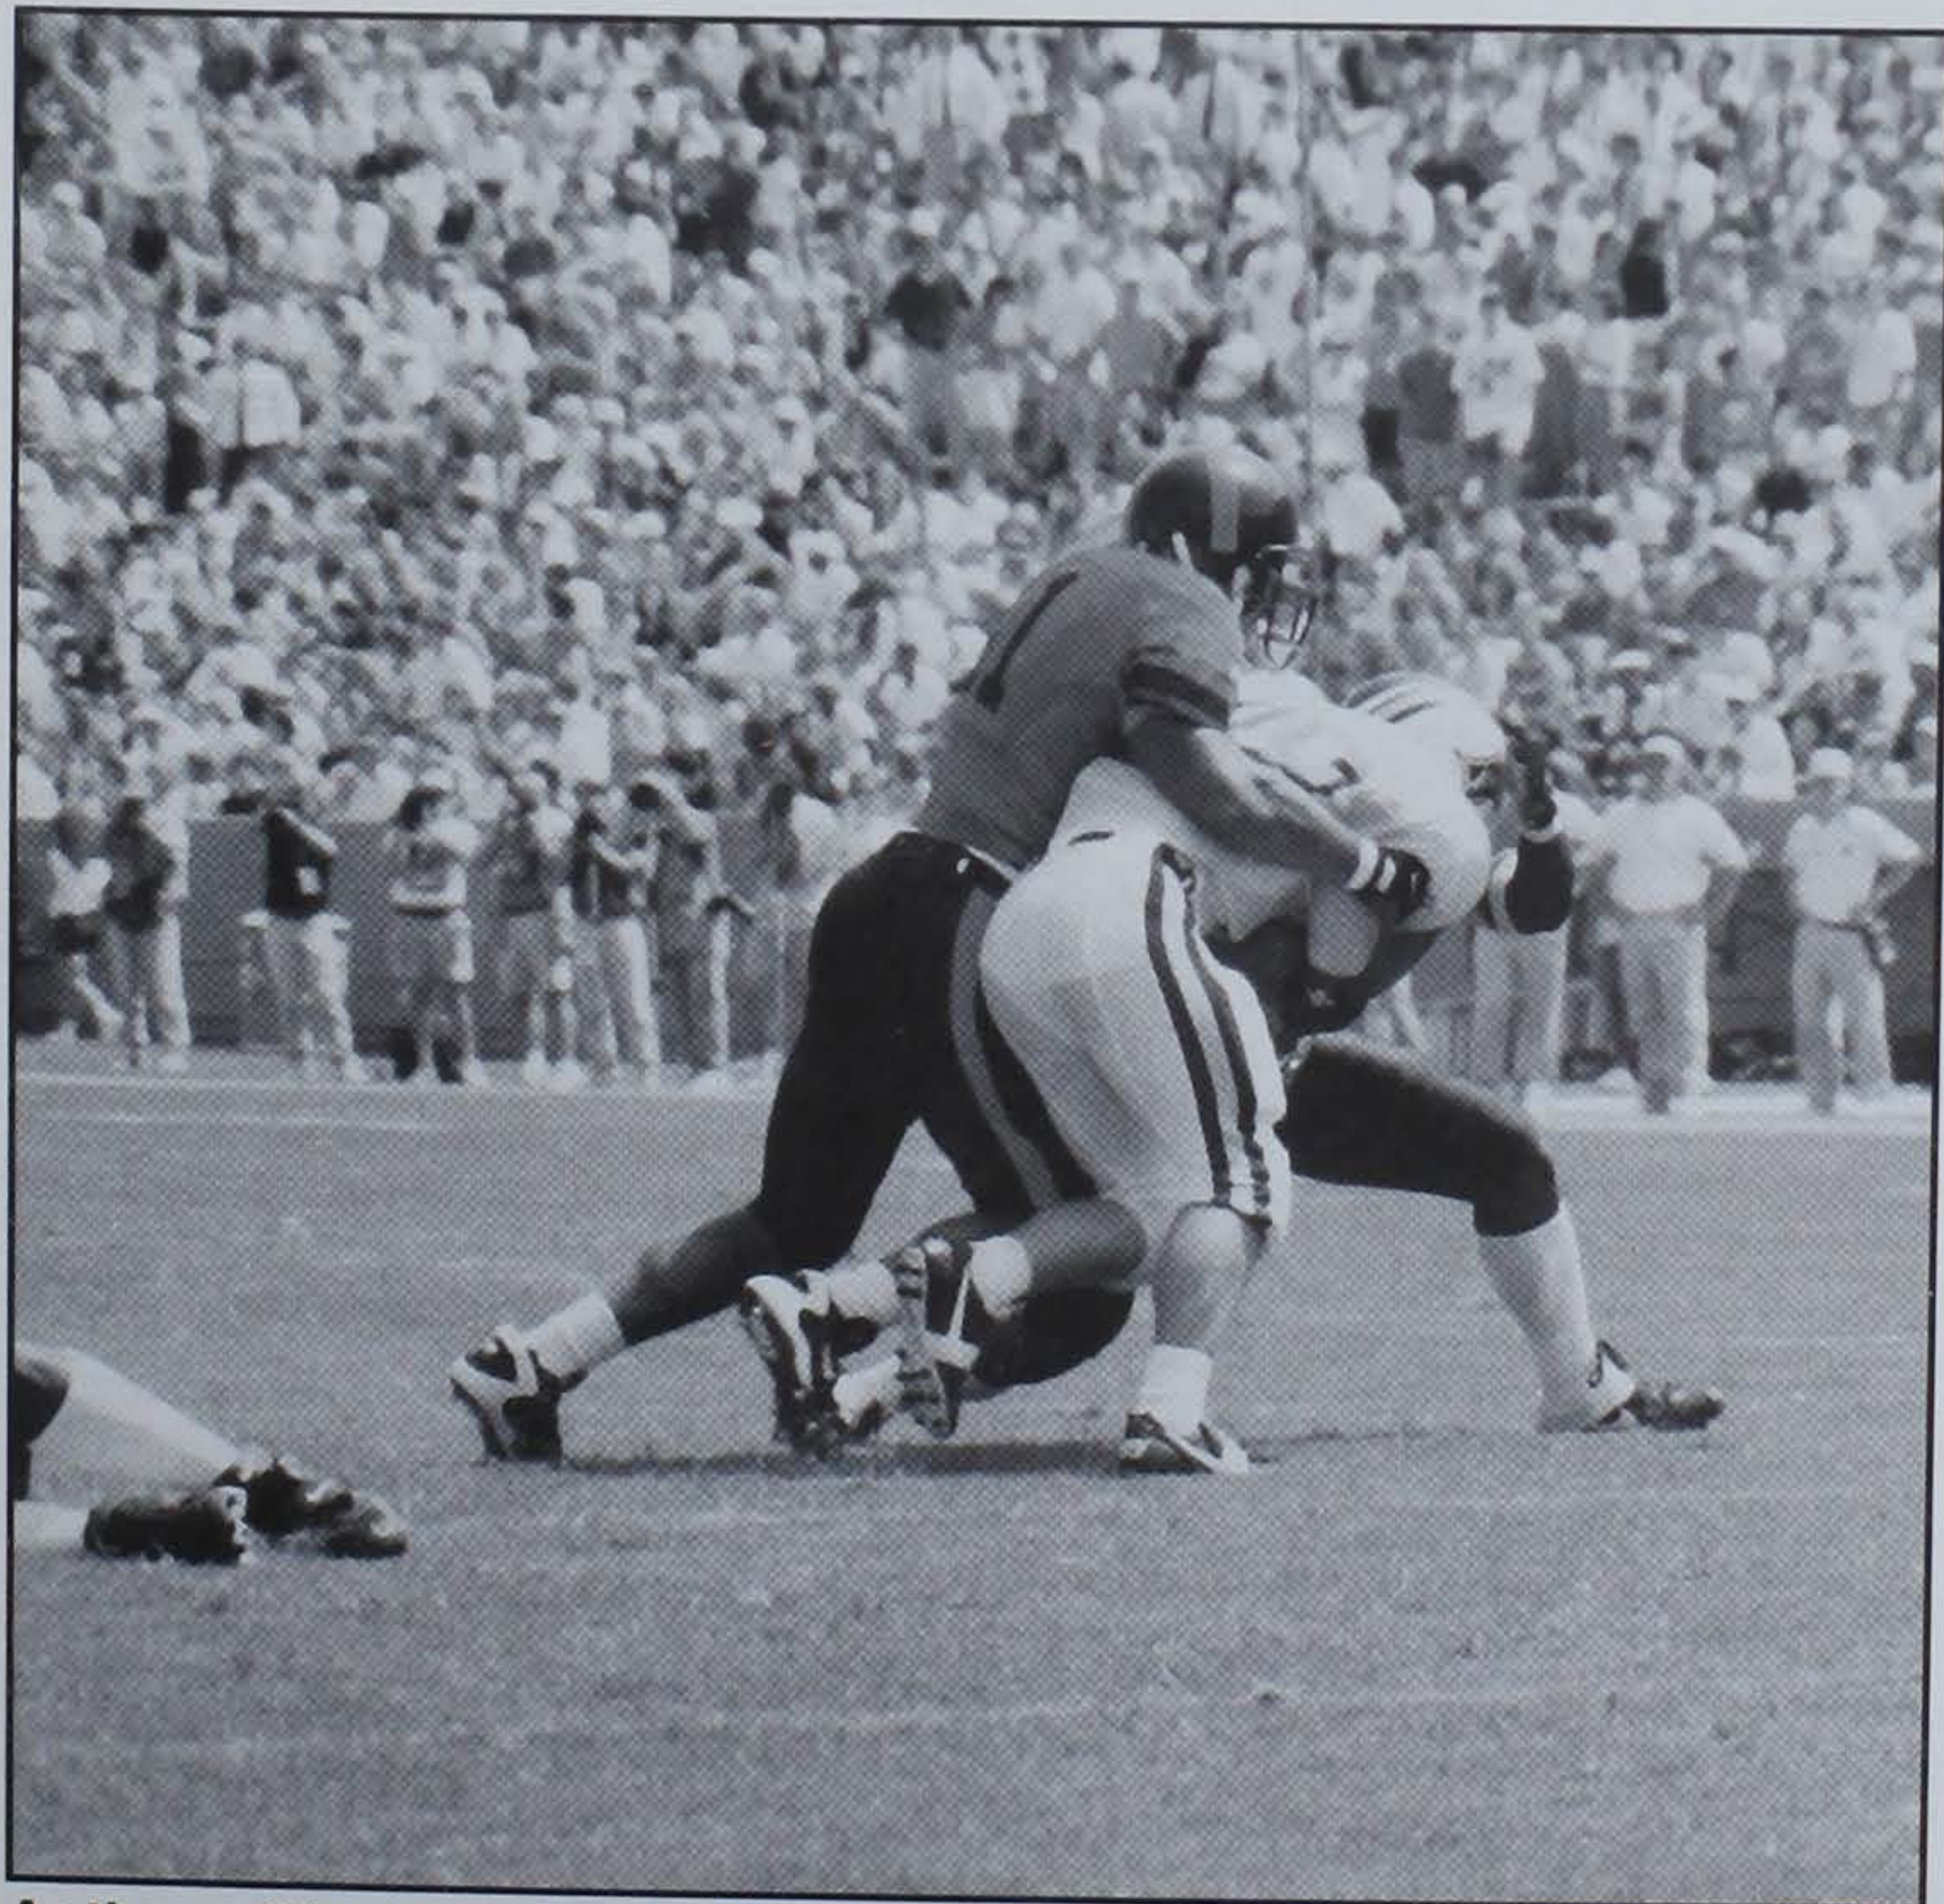

Clemson's defense struck for the first points of the contest with 5:56 to go in the opening quarter when junior Eric Bradford picked up a Furman fumble at the 9-yard-line and returned it for the score. Furman quarterback Braniff Bonaventure was stripped by Tony Plantin on the third-down-and-six play from the Furman 24.

The teams then traded second quarter field goals to reach the halftime score of 9-3. The Tigers seized control of the game in the third quarter. Furman's opening possession was halted when red-shirt freshman Rahim Abdullah and sophomore Anthony Simmons came up with back-to-back sacks of five and four yards, respectively. Furman's punt then rolled dead at the Clemson 2.

The Tiger's then embarked on a 10-play, 95-yard drive which consumed 4:50 seconds of the clock, and culminated in a 20-yard field goal by junior David Richardson. The key play of the drive was a 55-yard pass from quarterback Nealon Greene to Kenya Crooks.

After a Furman punt, the Clemson offense found the endzone for the first time in the 1996 season when senior Emory Smith carried the ball over from the 2, capping a three-play, 28-yard drive. The score marked the 21st touchdown of Smith's career. The drive was set up by a 51-yard punt return by Dexter McCleon, and was highlighted by a 19-yard carry on first down by Raymond Priester. Priester finished the day with 118 yards on 17 carries.

The Tiger defense dominated the entire game by constantly harassing Bonaventure, allowing the Paladins only 122 yards total offense. Red-shirt freshman Rahim Abdullah became the first Clemson freshman to record three sacks in a game, and only the seventh Tiger in history to do it regardless of class. Anthony Simmons led the team in tackles with 11, including a career high of four for loss and a pair of sacks.

Anthony Simmons had a career high for tackles for loss and Clemson held Furman to -29 yards rushing.

MISSOURI 38, CLEMSON 24

At Faurott Field, Columbia, MO

September 21, 1996

Attendance: 39,128 Time: 3:11 (Prime Network)

Weather: Clear and 77 degrees

Tailback Devin West ran for a game-high 98 yards and a touchdown on only 13 carries in leading the Missouri Tigers to a 38-24 victory over the Clemson Tigers. The meeting, only the third ever between the two schools and the first since 1950, marked Mizzou's first win in the series.

Raymond Priester opened the night's scoring by bulling his way over from the one, capping a 13-play, 64-yard drive that consumed 6:19 off of the clock. The Tigers did not throw a pass on the drive. Clemson had the ball for over 11 minutes in the first period.

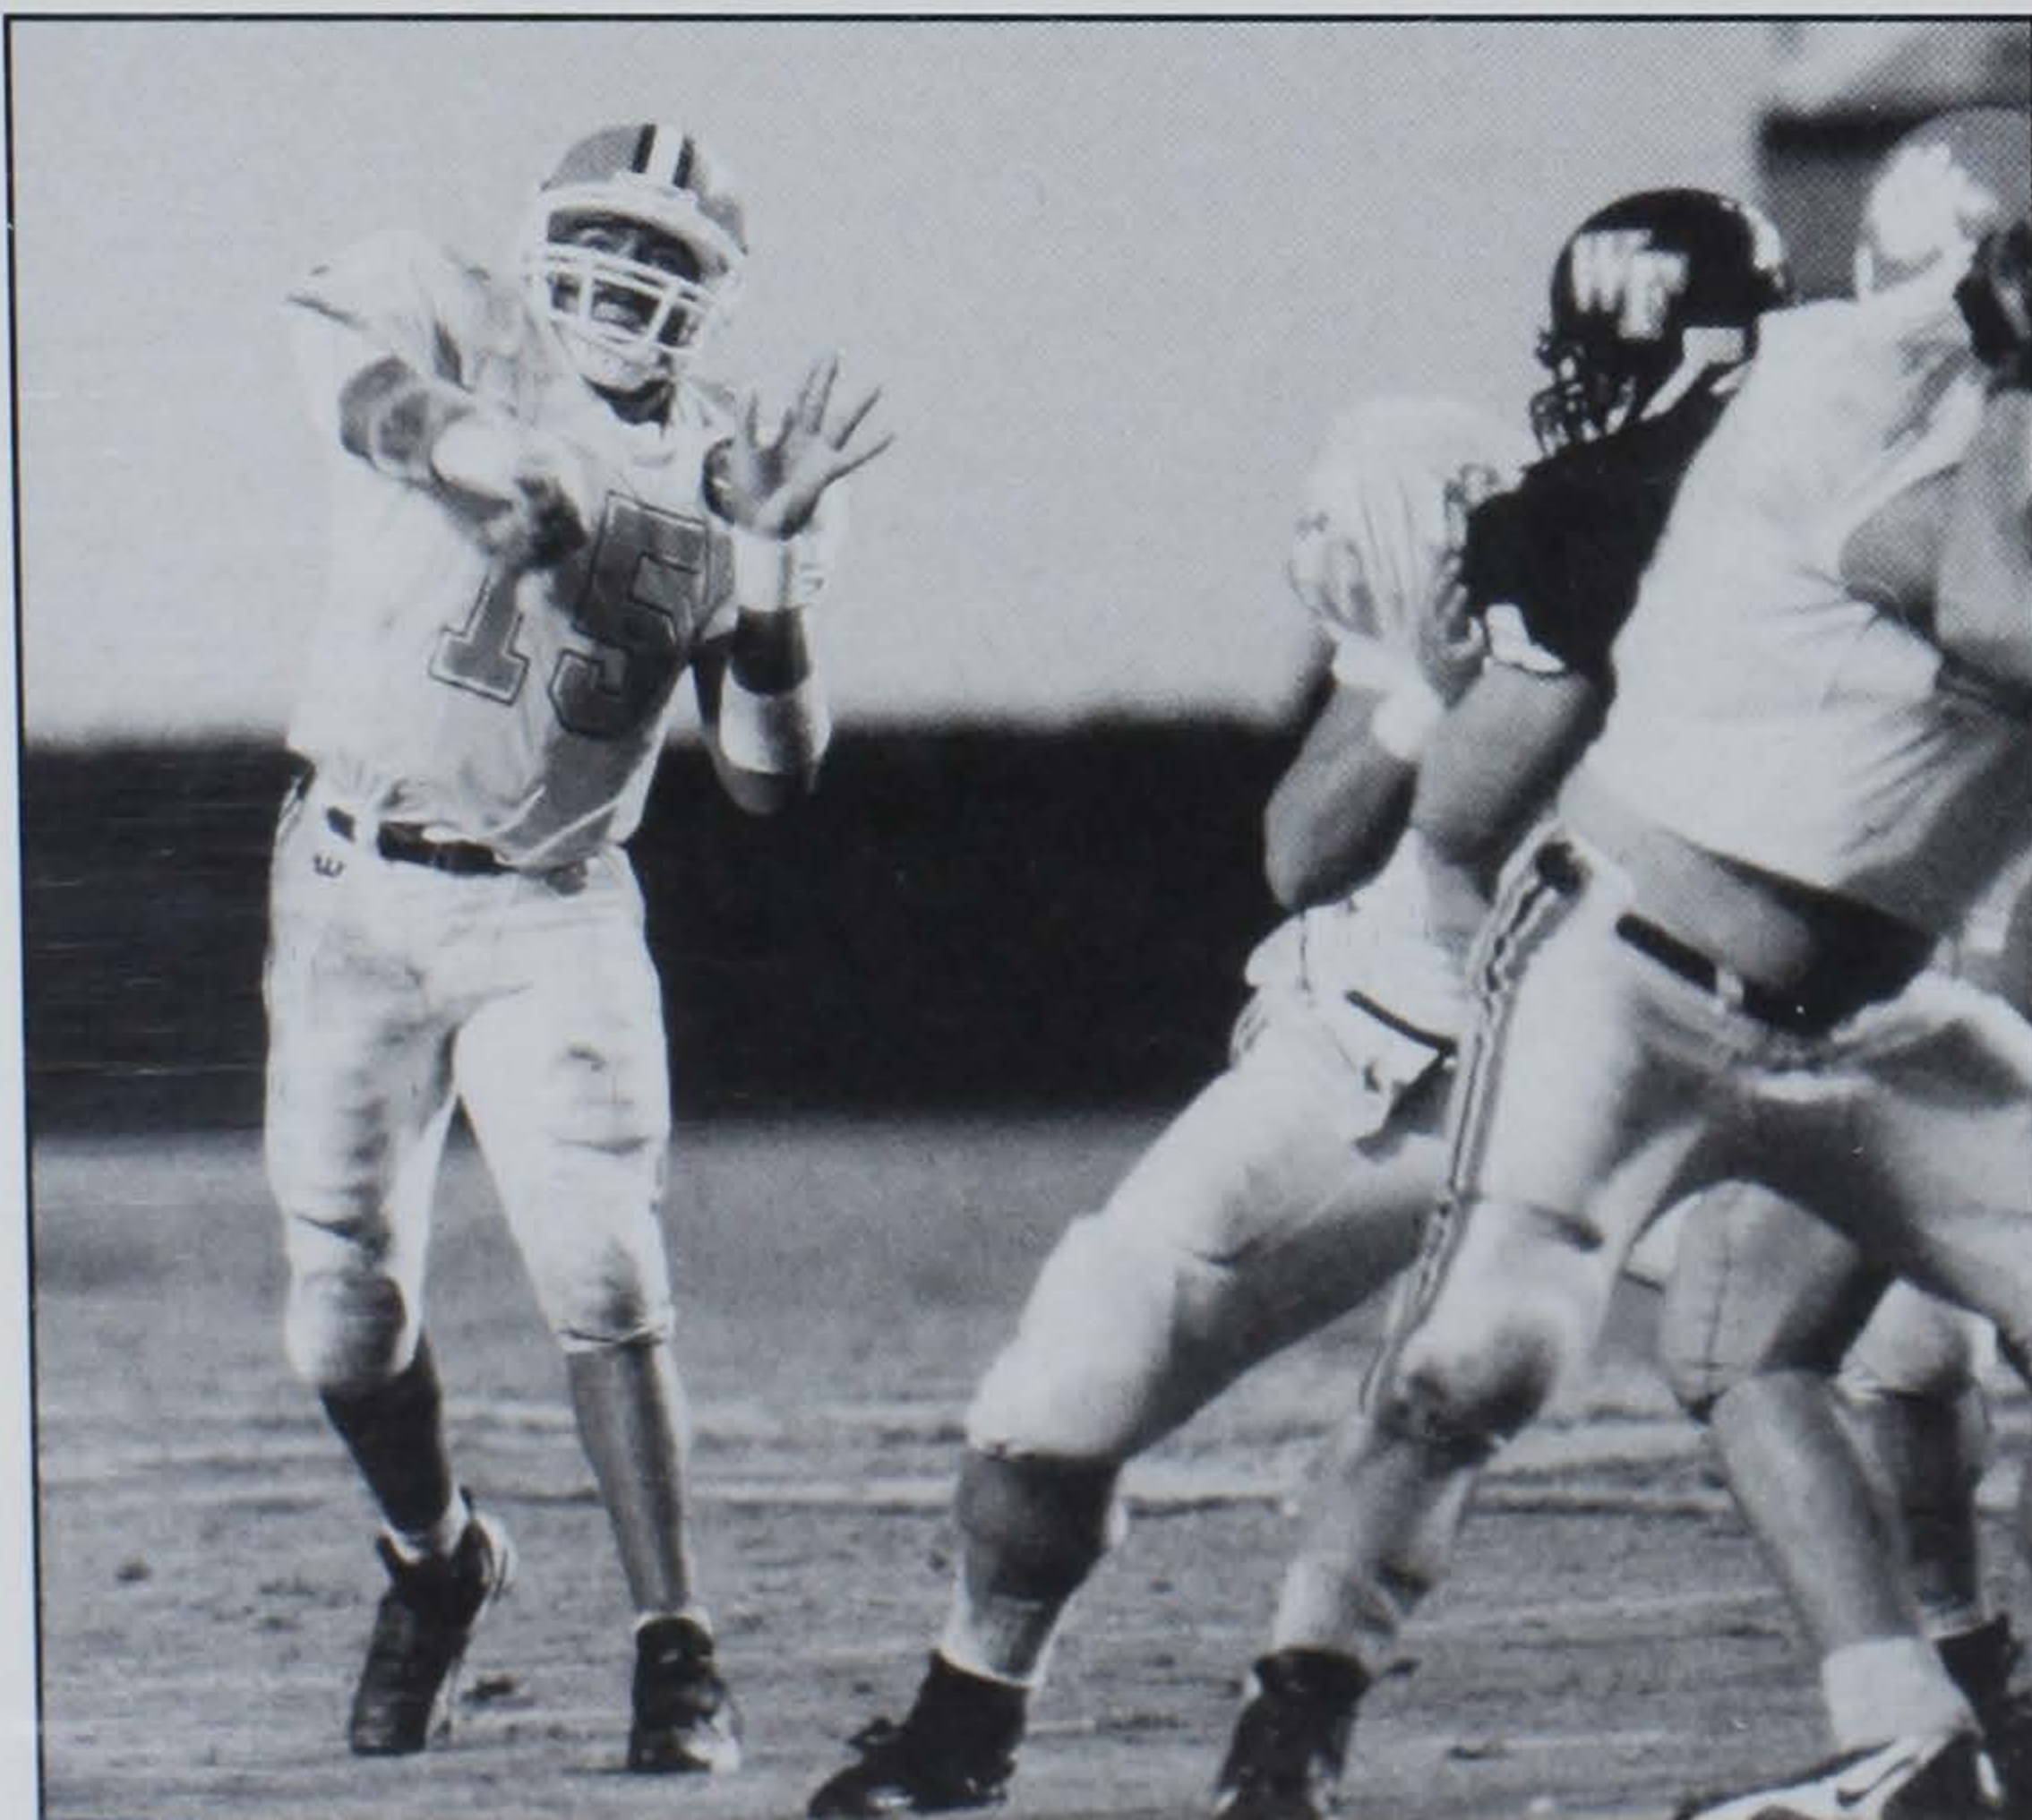

That would be the end of the Clemson scoring for a while, however, as Missouri reeled off 24 straight points over the next two quarters. West got Mizzou on the board with 14:13 to go in the second quarter when he raced around left end 28 yards to paydirt. Missouri scored on the next possession when Corby Jones connected with tight end Henderson for a 25-yard touchdown with 9:59 to go in the first half.

The Mizzou offense, however, was not finished in the first half. After taking over on downs at their own 23-yard line, the Missouri Tigers traveled 51 yards during the last 3:13 of the half, ending the drive with a 43-yard field goal from Mark Norris. Jones, who finished the night with 88 yards passing, ended the scoring spree with a touchdown pass to tight end Eddie Brooks.

Clemson would add 17 fourth quarter points, but it proved to be too little, too late as Clemson also gave up two touchdowns in the final period. Missouri's 292 rushing yards marked the most that Clemson had given up since Georgia gained 360 in 1985.

Offensively, Clemson was led by Raymond Priester's 81 yards rushing on 22 carries. Backfield mates Nealon Greene and Emory Smith chipped in 52 and 41 yards, respectively. Greene was 11 for 18 passing for 160 yards and two interceptions, and he connected on 10-12 for 159 yards during one stretch in the second half. Kenya Crooks and Joe Woods had 54 and 44 yards receiving, respectively to lead the team.

Anthony Simmons once again led the defense, tallying 16 tackles, while Mond Wilson had 14, including two tackles for loss and Clemson's only sack.

Nealon Greene completed 10-12 passes for 159 yards late in the Missouri game.

Senior receiver Joe Woods took a Nealon Greene screen pass 80 yards for a touchdown on the opening play of the game, setting the tone for the first half. The Tigers bolted out to a 21-0 first-half lead, and protected the lead the rest of the day to preserve their first ACC win of the year.

Joe Woods' touchdown was the only score of the first quarter in the regionally televised ACC game. In the second quarter, tailback Raymond Priester took over in the scoring department. The junior picked up two touchdowns in the quarter, and had 128 yards rushing at intermission. Priester's first score came from 8 yards out and capped a six-play, 63-yard drive. The drive featured a 33-yard pass from backup quarterback Billy Luckie to junior receiver Kenya Crooks. Luckie was subbing for injured starter Nealon Greene, who had 160 yards of total offense in the first period.

Priester's second touchdown came on a 22-yard jaunt and capped an 11-play, 95-yard drive. The scoring run came one play after an 8-yard run that put the junior over the 2,000 yard mark for his career. He is only the 13th runner in school history to do so.

Wake Forest would not go quietly in the first half, however, as the Deacons would drive 80 yards in nine plays for a touchdown, cutting the margin to 14 points just prior to halftime. The Deacs' score came on a 12-yard pass from Brian Kuklick to Thabiti Davis.

Both offenses were slowed in the second half by a steady rain. The only score of the half came on Wake's opening possession when Bill Hollows nailed a 50-yard field goal, the second longest by an opponent in the 55-year history of Death Valley.

Clemson quarterbacks combined to go 14-18 passing for 219 yards. Starter Nealon Greene went 6-7 for 128 yards before leaving with a knee sprain. Replacement Billy Luckie went 8-11 for 91 yards. Joe Woods and Kenya Crooks finished with three catches each for 83 and 56 yards, respectively. Tony Horne chipped in two catches for 40 yards. Priester finished the day with 187 yards on 30 carries.

Defensively, Clemson was led by Mond Wilson, who finished the day with 15 tackles and a pass-broken-up. Sophomore Butkus Award candidate Anthony Simmons surpassed the 200 career tackle mark in only his 16th game with a 14 tackle performance. Simmons had two tackles for loss, including one sack. Sophomore Adrian Dingle added six stops, including three for loss, and an interception on the afternoon. As a team, the Tigers had 3 sacks for minus 23 yards. Raymond White contributed 11 tackles, while Trevor Pryce had 10, including three tackles for loss, and four quarterback pressures.

Priester rushed for 187 yards and a pair of first half touchdowns.

FLORIDA STATE 34, CLEMSON 3

At Doak Campbell Stadium, Tallahassee, FL

October 5, 1996

Attendance: 76,360 Time: 3:25 (ESPN)

Weather: Cloudy, wind 16 mph, 69 degrees

E.G. Green caught two touchdown passes of over 35 yards in the first half alone, as Florida State used the big play to its advantage in cruising to a 34-3 victory over the visiting Tigers. The Seminoles finished the game, which was televised nationally by ESPN, with 453 total yards, including 329 through the air.

Florida State got on the board first when junior Thad Busby connected with Green on a 37-yard scoring strike with 4:22 remaining in the opening quarter. The drive covered 72 yards in six plays and only consumed 1:23 off of the clock. The extra point attempt failed.

Clemson took the ensuing kickoff and drove 61 yards in 11 plays. The drive, which took 4:33 off of the clock, culminated in a 29-yard field goal by walk-on kicker Matt Padgett, as the Tigers pulled to within a field goal.

That would be as close as the Tigers would get the rest of the evening, however. Florida State struck again with a drive that lasted under two minutes, when Busby and Green paired up for their second score of the evening. This time the pair would connect from 60-yards out, ending a drive that took only 4 plays and 1:37 seconds off of the clock. The 'Noles weren't done, however, as Busby would connect on his third passing touchdown of the half. This one went to Warrick Dunn with 1:14 to go in the half, and covered 23 yards.

The second half was not as high scoring. Clemson held the Seminole offense to only one touchdown. Dee Feaster, a South Carolina native, returned from an earlier concussion to take a Kevin Laird punt back 79 yards for the final score of the game.

Busby finished the game with 304 yards passing on a 16 of 29 performance. Warrick Dunn, who had 180 yards in 1995 versus Clemson, finished with 96 yards on 13 carries.

For Clemson offensively, Nealon Greene finished the night 15 of 29 for 132 yards. Tony Horne led the Tigers with eight catches for 90 yards. Joe Woods finished with four for 54 yards. Clemson gained 236 yards of total offense against the number-one ranked defense in the nation.

On defense, the Tigers finished with three sacks, one more than the Seminoles. Sophomore sensation Anthony Simmons once again led the defense in tackles, finishing with 13. Clemson also garnered their first interception on the season from a defensive back, when Antwan Edwards picked off a Dan Kendra pass in the fourth quarter.

Glenn Rountree and the Tiger offensive line allowed just two sacks against FSU, who led the nation in sacks in 1996.

Nealon Greene passed for 231 yards and one touchdown in leading Clemson to its second conference victory of the season. Anthony Simmons led the defense with 17 tackles, as the Tigers held Duke out of the endzone on its Homecoming.

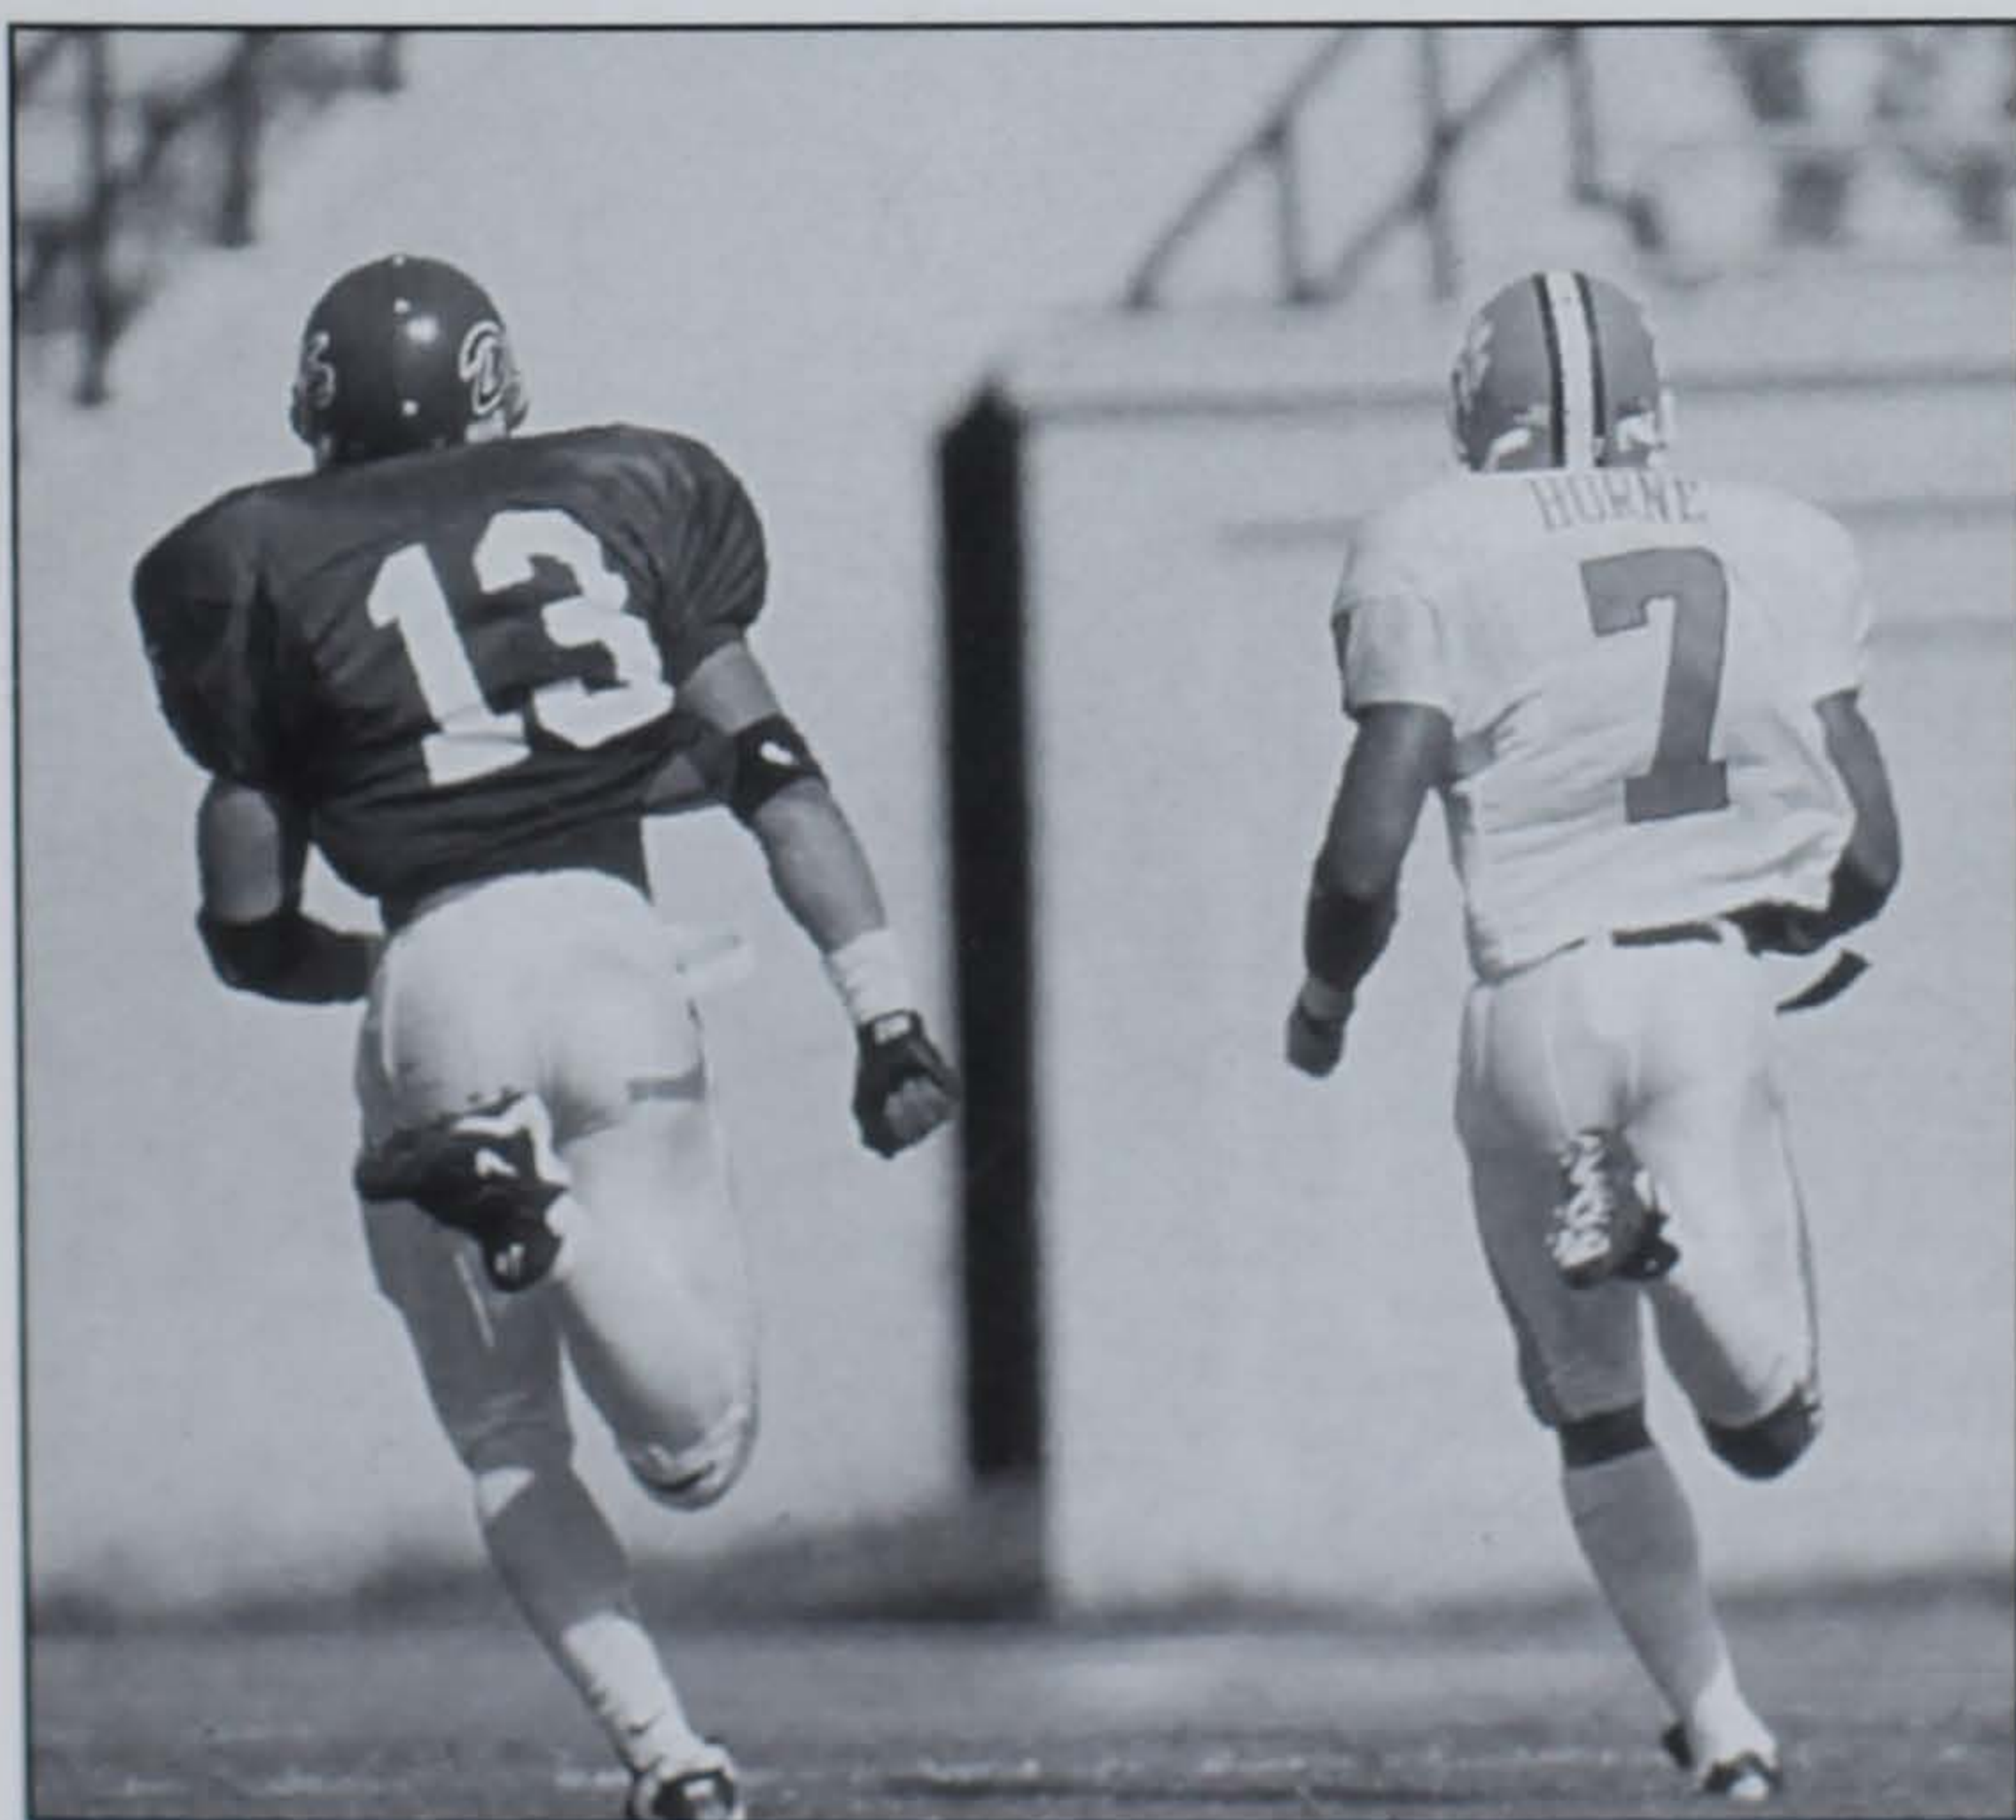

Following a scoreless opening quarter, Greene connected with junior Tony Horne for an 80-yard touchdown on the second play of the second quarter. The play marked the second one play, 13 second, 80-yard drive of the season for the Tiger offense. Clemson's offense was not through for the quarter, however. Two drives later, following an interception by Peter Ford, sophomore kicker Matt Padgett nailed a 44-yard field goal attempt to up the Tigers lead to 10-0. The kick was the longest thus far by the Tigers.

Duke kicker Sims Lenhardt hit a 47-yard field goal with 1:23 remaining in the first half, trimming the Clemson lead to 10-3. Lenhardt then capped the Devils opening drive of the second half with a 34-yard field goal. The Duke drive lasted 11 plays and covered 50 yards.

That would be as close as the Devils would come, however, as Matt Padgett hit another field goal and the defense got stingy. Padgett's second field goal of the day came from 34-yards away, and capped a 10 play, 46-yard fourth quarter drive that consumed 3:24 of the clock.

The Clemson defense prevented the Devils from converting on fourth down on two different occasions inside of Clemson territory in the fourth quarter. Besides Simmons, the Tigers were led defensively by the trio of Brett Williams, Raymond White, and Mond Wilson, who finished with eight tackles apiece. Senior Dexter McCleon finished the day with six tackles and one pass-broken-up.

Other than Greene, offensive stars for the Tigers included Horne and tailback Raymond Priester. Horne had 3 receptions on the day for 120 yards and the games lone touchdown. Priester finished the day with 82 yards on 18 carries. The game marked the third time in two seasons that Clemson has defeated an opponent on its Homecoming. The opposing team has failed to score a touchdown in each of the three games.

Tony Horne scored on an 80-yard pass reception in the second quarter to give Clemson the lead at Duke Tailback Raymond Priester led Clemson to a 28-25 victory over 22nd-ranked Georgia Tech in front of a Homecoming crowd of over 70,000. The junior finished the day with 175 yards rushing on 25 carries. The victory marked the fourth straight win for the Tigers over the Jackets.

Tech got on the scoreboard first with a one-yard touchdown run from C.J. Williams on its first possession of the afternoon. The plunge capped a 14-play, 81-yard drive that was highlighted by a 29-yard pass from Joe Hamilton to Harvey Middleton to the Clemson one.

Clemson answered right back, however, driving 80-yards in 10 plays on its next possession. Priester finished the drive off with a five yard carry for the score with 2:57 remaining in the opening quarter.

The Tigers dominated the second quarter, outscoring Tech 14-3, and outgaining the Jackets 140 total yards to 33. After a 42-yard field goal from David Frakes, Clemson promptly drove 65-yards to paydirt and its first lead of the afternoon. Senior Emory Smith dove over from the one for the score.

Clemson drove 39 yards in seven plays on its next possession to lengthen the lead to 21-10. The drive was set up by a fumble recovery from junior defensive end Trevor Pryce. A scrambling Nealon Greene connected with Kenya Crooks for the score from three yards out. Greene finished the day 11-20 passing for 156 yards, one touchdown and no interceptions.

Tech rallied in the third quarter for two touchdowns and the lead. Joe Hamilton hit Mike Sheridan with a 39-yard touchdown strike and tight end Grant Baynham with the two-point conversion to trim the lead to 21-18. Tech scored again with 19 seconds remaining in the third quarter on a Hamilton scramble to go ahead by four, 25-21.

Clemson drove 77 yards in 15 plays, twice converting on fourth down, including the sneak by Greene for the game-winning score.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebackers Anthony Simmons and Mond Wilson, who finished with 18 tackles each. Middle guard Raymond White finished with a career high 12 tackles. Pryce recorded seven tackles, including one for loss and had a fumble recovery.

Nealon Greene quarterbacked Clemson to a win over Georgia Tech for the third straight year.

CLEMSON 35, MARYLAND 3

At Memorial Stadium, Clemson, SC

November 2, 1996

Weather: 56 degrees, winds N 15 mph, sunny and windy

Trevor Pryce recorded four tackles for loss, two sacks, and 10 total tackles in leading the Tigers to their best defensive effort against a conference opponent in 19 years. Sporting orange pants for the first time in the 1996 season, the Tigers held Maryland to 113 total yards and only three points.

Clemson's defense set the tone of the game early by sending the Terrapins 20 yards backwards on their first possession, including an eight-yard sack by Pryce on the Terps first offensive play. The Tiger offense took the ensuing punt and drove 52 yards in 10 plays for the first touchdown of the afternoon. Emory Smith capped off the drive with a one-yard dive. Smith finished the day with a season high 49 yards rushing on nine carries.

After the teams traded punts, the Tiger defense made its presence felt again. Senior cornerback Peter Ford picked off a Brian Cummings pass and returned it 66 yards for the second touchdown of the afternoon. Nealon Greene passed to Raymond Priester for the two point conversion, upping the score to 14-0.

In the second quarter, the Terps broke a 208 minute, 21 second scoreless streak against the Tigers when kicker Joe O'Donnell booted a slicing 35-yard field goal with 8:57 remaining in the opening half. The drive was set up by a Maryland punt that bounced off of the helmet of a Clemson player.

Clemson was not done for the half, however, as Nealon Greene connected with Joe Woods on a middle screen for a 10-yard touchdown and a 21-3 halftime advantage. The drive lasted 2:06 and was aided by a 15-yard personal foul penalty on the Terrapins.

The Tigers salted the game away with two touchdowns and more stellar defense in the second half. Billy Luckie, relieving an injured Nealon Greene, led the Tigers on a third quarter touchdown drive. Luckie went 2-2 for 41 yards on the drive, which was capped off by Emory Smith's second one-yard touchdown run of the day.

Sam Zanders finished off the scoring on the afternoon with a 61-yard jaunt, Clemson's longest rush in '96 by 34 yards, with 2:21 remaining in the game.

In addition to the numbers posted by Pryce, Clemson was also led by Anthony Simmons, Mond Wilson, and Raymond White. Simmons kept up his season average, finishing with 15 tackles, including one for loss. Wilson chipped in two tackles for loss and nine overall. White continued his excellent play from the middle guard position, finishing with two tackles for loss and six overall. As a unit, the Tiger defense finished with 15 negative plays, the most recorded in an ACC game since the Tigers had 17 against Duke in 1992.

CLEMSON 24, VIRGINIA 16

At Scott Stadium, Charlottesville, VA

November 9, 1996

Attendance: 39,100 Time: 3:00 (ABC)

Weather: Variable, cloudy, freezing rain

Kelton Dunnican raced 54 yards with 6:47 remaining in the fourth quarter to put Clemson up 24-9, icing the Tigers' upset win over 15th-ranked Virginia in Charlottesville. Dunnican finished the day with a career high 123 yards on 13 carries. The Tiger defense held Tiki Barber to 82 yards, snapping the Heisman hopeful's ACC record tying string of nine straight games with 100 or more yards.

After trading punts to start the game, Clemson's defense created the first break when middle guard Raymond White came up with a Cavalier fumble at the Wahoo 27-yard line. The Tiger offense cashed in on the golden opportunity as Raymond Priester sprinted 15 yards for the game's first touchdown. Priester finished the day with 122 yards on 20 carries.

Virginia's Rafael Garcia kicked a 33-yard field goal on the Cavs next possession to cut the Tiger lead to 7-3. The Tigers were forced to punt on the ensuing possession, but it turned in to being a blessing in disguise. Tiki Barber mishandled the punt and Clemson's Kelton Dunnican fell on it at the 1-yard line. Two plays later, quarterback Nealon Greene sneaked in to put the Tigers up 14-3 with 2:06 remaining in the opening quarter.

Clemson's defense created another scoring opportunity when freshman Rahim Abdullah sacked Tim Sherman and knocked the ball free. Tony Plantin picked up the free ball and rambled 15 yards to the UVa 17-yard line. Clemson cashed in with a 35-yard Matt Padgett field goal with 2:06 remaining in the half to run the Tiger's lead to 17-3. Virginia tacked on a field goal with :22 seconds remaining to cut the lead to 17-6.

A third Garcia field goal reduced the Clemson lead to 17-9 with 8:08 to go in the game. The Tigers answered with Dunnican's run with 6:47 left. The Cavs answered back with a Tim Sherman touchdown run, but it proved to be too little too late as the Tiger offense ran out the final three minutes.

Anthony Simmons led the defense with 17 tackles, including two sacks. Raymond White and Mond Wilson added 12 tackles apiece. Defensive end Trevor Pryce tallied seven tackles, four for loss and two sacks. This marked Pryce's eighth tackle for loss and fourth sack in the last two games.

Clemson's defense held Tiki Barber under 100 yards for the first time all season.

CLEMSON 40, N.C. STATE 17

At Memorial Stadium, Clemson, SC

November 16, 1996

Weather: partly sunny, 41 degrees, NE winds at 10 mph

Clemson clinched its second straight bowl berth and a second place tie in the conference with a 40-17 win over N.C. State at Clemson. Tailback Raymond Priester became the first player in Clemson history to have two 1,000 yard seasons in a career when he gained 146 yards on 30 carries. Mond Wilson was named the ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week for his 12 tackles and one interception performance against the Wolfpack.

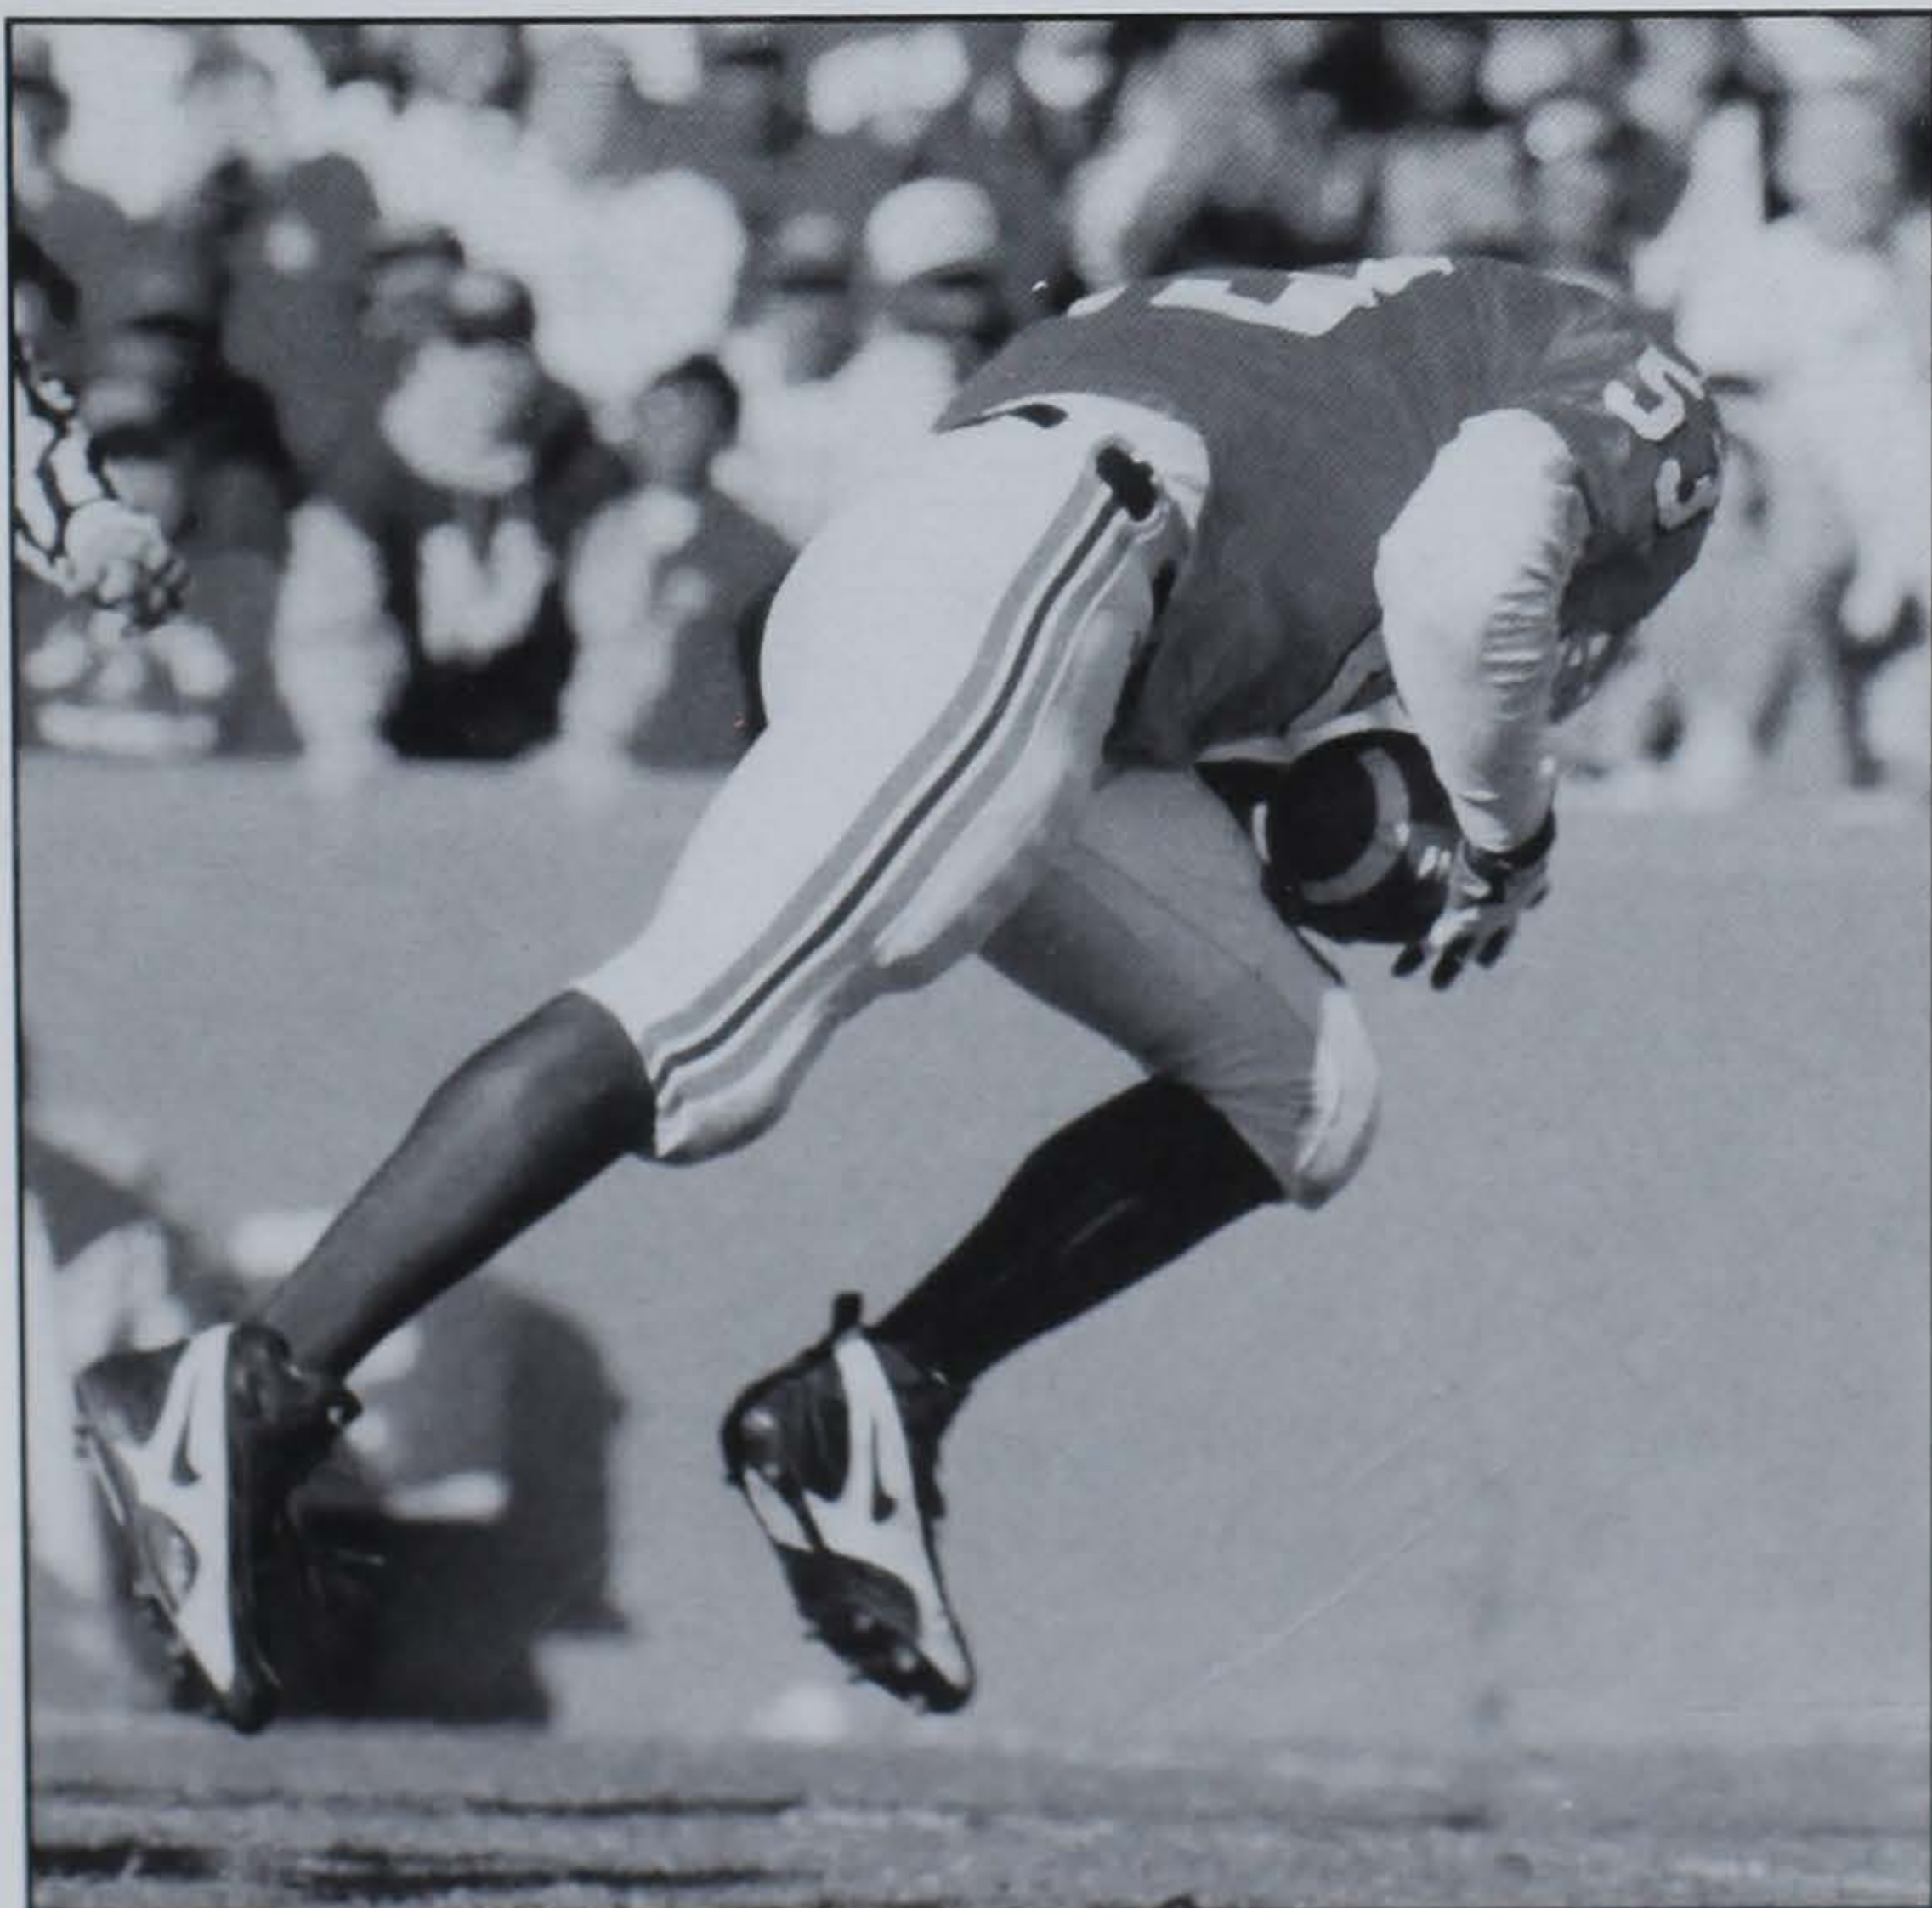

Clemson opened the scoring when Nealon Greene hit Kenya Crooks for an 18-yard score with 9:27 to go in the opening half. The pass ended a 10-play, 48 yard drive that took 3:36. Greene finished the day 10 of 18 passing for 134 yards and one touchdown. Matt Padgett then booted a 48-yard field goal through the uprights, extending the Tiger lead to 10-0 with 6:19 to go in the half.

The Wolfpack would not roll over, however, as Marc Primanti would nail field goals of 20, 25, and 42 yards to pull State within a point 75 seconds into the second half.

The third field goal woke the Tigers up, as they took their next possession 84 yards in 13 plays to move out to a 17-9 lead. Kelton Dunnican finished off the 5:37 drive with a two yard run, his second touchdown of the year. Clemson stretched the lead back to 11 with a 27-yard Matt Padgett field goal with 2:20 remaining in the third quarter. The Clemson special teams then capitalized on a Wolfpack miscue when Tony DeSue stripped the Wolfpack punt returner of the ball. Rahim Abdullah then scooped up the free ball and raced nine yards to paydirt, upping the lead to 27-9.

The Pack scored on their next possession, but it proved to be too little too late as the Tigers added two more touchdowns of their own, providing the final margin of 40-17. The fourth touchdown came on a 20-yard run by Priester, and the final score came on a one yard run by Kelton Dunnican around the right end.

Anthony Simmons finished with 11 tackles, including two for loss. Raymond White added five stops, including one for loss and a half a sack. Trevor Pryce impressed once again with five quarterback pressures, while State quarterback-Jamie Barnett completed only 13 of 36 passes.

Abdullah returned a fumbled punt nine yards for a score.

Matt Padgett's 37-yard field goal attempt with 11 seconds to go sailed wide left, and South Carolina escaped a furious fourth quarter comeback attempt by the Tigers in front of over 82,000 fans in Death Valley. Clemson trailed 34-17 with just over seven minutes remaining, but rallied behind the arm and scrambling ability of quarterback Nealon Greene to pull within a field goal. Greene finished the night 13 of 28 passing for 172 yards, one interception, and two touchdowns, he also added 41 yards rushing on 10 carries.

Clemson lit up the scoreboard first when fullback Emory Smith carried the ball in from the 5 with 10:58 to go in the opening quarter. The drive took four plays, covered 81 yards, and was highlighted by a 65-yard run by tailback Raymond Priester. Priester finished the evening with 137 yards on 18 carries.

South Carolina rallied back for 10 unanswered points and a field goal lead with 7:56 to go in the first half. The Tigers then went on a 10-play, 69 yard scoring drive that took 5:31 off of the clock. Kelton Dunnican finished off the drive with a 16-yard scamper into the endzone. The Gamecocks then added a field goal with two seconds remaining in the half, giving Clemson a 14-13 halftime advantage.

Both teams looked sluggish in the third quarter, with the only points coming on a 22-yard Matt Padgett field goal. The field goal was set up by a 58-yard interception and return by safety Antwan Edwards to the South Carolina 2 yard line.

The Gamecocks scored touchdowns on their first three possessions of the fourth quarter to take a commanding 34-17 lead with 7:16 to play. Clemson would not die, however. Nealon Greene connected with freshman Brian Wofford for 12 yards and a touchdown, capping a 7 play, 69-yard drive that took only 1:57 to complete. After a defensive stop and a 17-yard punt, the Tigers took over at the South Carolina 41-yard line. Three plays later, Greene scrambled and found Priester coming out of the backfield for an 11-yard touchdown pass, leaving the Tigers down three with 2:47 to play.

Another defensive stop and Carolina punt gained Clemson possession at their own 29-yard line. Greenes' passing and scrambling guided the Tigers to the Gamecock 20, but Padgetts' field goal missed, and the Gamecocks ran out the final six seconds.

Defensively, Clemson was led by linebacker Anthony Simmons, who registered 20 tackles. Trevor Pryce added 14 tackles, including one and a half sacks.

Raymond Priester's career long 65-yard run setup a first half touchdown.

Raymond Priester set a Clemson Bowl record for rushing yardage with 151 yards gained during the 1996 Peach Bowl. On the defensive side of the ball, Trevor Pryce had three tackles for loss and one sack in addition to a caused fumble. Even with these fine accomplishments, Clemson still fell to the LSU Tigers by a three-point margin, 10-7.

Nealon Greene opened the Peach Bowl scoring for Clemson on a three-yard run for a touchdown. Clemson attempted to tie the ball game with under two minutes left on the clock but failed to do so when Matt Padgett's 52-yard field goal attempt was blocked. LSU ran out the clock.

In addition to Priester's outstanding game, contributions to the running attack were also made by Emory Smith, Kelton Dunnican, Brian Wofford and Nealon Greene. Smith had 9-40 rushing day.

Clemson's sole touchdown drive was 1:29 minutes long and consisted of only three runs. The outstanding field position was achieved on a fumble recovery by Harold Means following a sack and caused fumble by Trevor Pryce.

Defensively, Clemson had five players contribute to a combined nine tackles for losses. These tackles for losses combined for a total loss of fifty-three yards of LSU's offense.

LSU scored its only touchdown of the game during the second quarter when Kevin Faulk scored a three-yard rush to take the ball into the end zone. The extra point by Richey was good and the game was tied at seven all. LSU scored again during this quarter with a 22-yard field goal by Richey to gain the lead for good. There was no scoring in the second half as both defenses dominated.

Time of possession was fairly even throughout the game as LSU led with 30:15 minutes versus Clemson's 29:45 minutes. Not only was time of possession even in this game but also the total net yards gained (CU 258 - 287 LSU) and the average gain per play (4.2-4.5).

Defense dominated the Peach Bowl. Mond Wilson and the Tigers held Kevin Faulk to less than three yards per rush.

The Bowl Alliance was formed in 1995 to create a mechanism for providing college football fans with the best possible bowl games, including a game between the two top-ranked college football teams, when possible, and to maximize the number of opportunities for a variety of high quality bowl game matchups.

The FedEx Orange, Nokia Sugar, and Tostitos Fiesta bowls have joined with the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big 12, Big 10, Pacific 10, and Southeastern conferences, along with the University of Notre Dame to form the Alliance.

The champions of the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big 12, and Southeastern conferences will appear in one of the aforementioned bowl games following the 1997 regular season. The remaining two at-large positions may be filled by any Division I-A college football team eligible for postseason competition, excluding the Big 10 and Pacific 10 Champions, that meets any one of the following requirements:

1) has won at least eight college football games during the most recently completed regular season; not to include wins in either the Pigskin and/or Kickoff Classic.

2) is ranked among the Top 12 bowl eligible teams in either the AP or the CNN/USA Today final regular season polls.

3) is ranked no lower in either the AP or the CNN/USA Today Poll than the lowest ranked team selected by a Bowl from the Conference Champions.

In event that two or more teams tie for the championship of the Atlantic Coast or the Big East conferences, the conference tie-breaking procedures will be followed.

Team selection shall occur no later than Sunday, December 7. The selection order shall be as follows:

Selections 1 and 2.....FedEx Orange
Selections 3 and 5.....Nokia Sugar
Selections 4 and 6.....Tostitos Fiesta

Mandatory 1 vs. 2 Pairing

The Federal Express Orange Bowl shall select any team ranked No. 1 in the AP Poll and any team ranked No. 1 in the CNN/USA Today Poll if the teams so ranked are different and two such teams are available. In any other case, the FedEx Orange Bowl shall select any team ranked No. 1 in either the AP Poll or the CNN/USA Today Poll and any team ranked No. 2 in either the AP Poll or the CNN/USA Today Poll if two teams so ranked are available. All other team selections shall come from the pool of teams specified above and will be at the discretion of the participating bowls.

Overall

*Clemson was one of just two schools in the nation to go to a bowl game, the NCAA men's basketball tournament and the NCAA baseball Tournament in 1996-97. Stanford was the only other school to do it. It was the second straight year Clemson had pulled off the sport triple.

*Clemson won five ACC Championships during the 1996-97 sports year, which was the second most in the ACC. Clemson's five championships were the most since the 1988-89 season when the Tigers won seven championships. The five teams that won titles were men's golf, men's tennis, men's outdoor track, women's swimming, and men's indoor track.

*Clemson won three of the five ACC championships on the same weekend, the first school in history to win three men's spring sports championships in the same weekend. It was just the eighth time that one school had won three ACC men's Spring sports championships in the same year, the third time by Clemson.

*Two Clemson teams finished their season in the top 10 of the final rankings. The men's basketball team finished eighth, its highest ever final season ranking, while the men's golf team was third, tied for its highest final ranking in history.

*Eleven of Clemson's 18 teams were ranked in the top 25 of their respective polls at one time or another during the season, and 8 teams were in the final Top 25 of their respective sports final polls, or national tournaments, most since 1993-94. The men's basketball, women's basketball, men's track, women's soccer, and golf teams were ranked in the top 25 every poll.

*13 teams participated in post-season NCAA/ bowl competition, with seven out of a possible 10 receiving NCAA tournament invitations. Those 7 teams were football, men's basketball, women's basketball, women's soccer, baseball, golf, and men's tennis.

*Seven different Clemson teams had an All-American (first or second team) in 1996-97, and seven different teams (out of a possible 11) had victories over top 25 opponents.

Team Accomplishments

*The Clemson women's swimming program finished first at the ACC Championships, defeating six-time reigning champion North Carolina at their own pool. It was the first title for the Tigers since the 1988-89 season. The Lady Tigers had 27 all-time top 10 swims at the ACC event and had 43 new top 10 times for the season. The Lady Tigers had three All-ACC performers and were represented at the NCAA's by Wendy Henson and Erin Schatz. Head Coach Bruce Marchionda was named ACC Coach of the Year. The Lady Tigers were ranked 23rd in the final regular season poll. Both the women's and men's programs had representation at the NAAs. The men had 20 new top 10 times established at the ACC meet and had 35 new top 10 times for the season.

*The women's soccer team collected four victories over top 25 opponents. The Lady Tigers participated in the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive year, every year of the program. The Lady Tigers also advanced to the ACC Tournament finals for the first time and finished 18th in the final poll. The men's soccer team also had a successful year with four wins over top 25 teams and were led by second-team All-American Danny Care and ACC scoring leader Jeff Yenzer.

*The Clemson baseball team finished second at the ACC Tournament and advanced to the Central Regional where it won the first round game. It was Clemson's 11th consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament and finished in the final top 25 for the 7th straight year. The Tigers defeated two of the top three seeds in the ACC Tournament, including an extra inning thriller against N.C. State that advanced Clemson to the finals. Clemson won at least two games at the ACC Tournament for a record 24th straight year. Clemson defeated six top 25 teams in 1997, including Tennessee, Georgia Tech (twice) and Florida St.

*Clemson's men's tennis team collected its first ACC Championship since the 1989 season by defeating undefeated Duke Blue Devils team, 4-3. It was the 13th ACC title for men's coach Chuck Kriese. Bruce Li's singles victory decided the championship, and his victory earned him Tournament MVP honors. The Tigers earned themselves a bid to the Regional II Tournament in Atlanta and led to a final ranking of 19, best since 1990.

*The Clemson football team finished the 1996 ACC season tied for second with North Carolina and was selected to play in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's 10th trip to a bowl in the last 12 years. The Tigers ended the regular season by posting a 5-1 record in the last six regular season games, including victories over two top 25 opponents, Georgia Tech and at 15th ranked Virginia. The win at Virginia was just the second win on the road over a ranked team in the decade of the 1990s. Clemson led the ACC in rushing and joined Brigham Young as the only two teams in the nation to have every one of their games on live television.

*The Clemson's men's basketball team had its highest final ranking ever (8th). It was capped off by its first NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearance since the 1989-90 season. The Tigers were a #4 seed in the tournament, tied for Clemson's highest seed ever. Rick Barnes' opened the 1996-97 season with an overtime victory over the defending National Champion and third ranked Kentucky. The victory was the first of five wins over top 25 teams during the season, second most ranked wins in Clemson history. Included in the 23 wins were 11 victories away from home, single season Clemson record for road wins. The Tigers were ranked in the top 25 every week of the season, reaching an all-time high of second on January 20, 1997. It was the first time ever that Clemson was ranked in every poll throughout the season.

*Clemson's women's basketball team followed up its ACC Championship season of '96 by finishing second in the ACC Tournament and earning its 9th NCAA bid in 10 years under Jim Davis. Clemson's head coach was named ACC Coach of the Year for the third time and became Clemson's winningest coach in history during the season. He now has 208 wins in 10 seasons. The team recorded five top 25 victories during the season, with the most impressive win coming in a 83-78 defeat of second ranked Georgia in November.

*The men's golf team finished third in the NCAA Tournament, and in the final collegiate poll, tied for the highest ranking in Clemson history. Larry Penley's Tigers advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 16th straight year, the fourth longest streak of its kind in the country. Clemson won the ACC Championship and the Ping Intercollegiate and had individuals win four tournaments in 1997. The team also had two first-team All-Americans in Charles Warren and Richard Coughlan, the first time Clemson has ever had two first-team All-Americans. Jonathon Byrd was the first freshman to make All-ACC.

*The Clemson men's track program had a pair of top 25 final rankings, 25th indoors and 17th outdoors. The team won both the men's indoor and men's outdoor ACC championships, the first time Clemson had pulled off that double in four years. Head Coach Bob Pollock was named ACC Coach of the year in both sports. Clemson had 11 outdoor track All-ACC performers, more than any other team at Clemson in 1996-97, and came away with six ACC Championships. The Tigers had five outdoor All-Americans, including the #2 4X100 relay team in the nation. Senior Tony Wheeler finished his career as an eight-time All-American, second highest AA total in Clemson history.

Clemson golfer Charles Warren won the NCAA Championship, a first in Clemson athletic history.

*The Lady Tiger track program had a pair of third place finishes in the ACC and had 10 All-ACC performers between the ACC Indoor and Outdoor track meets. The program also had a successful cross country season with two runners making All-ACC, Tina Jensen and Maiken Jensen. Nikki Sims was an all-conference selection for the sixth time in her career and she earned All-America honors in outdoor track in the shotput. Clemson had five outdoor All-Americans and the #4 ranked 4X400 meter relay team in the nation.

Individual Accomplishments

*Charles Warren became the Individual National Champion after defeating Texas' David Elder in a one-hole playoff at the NCAA golf tournament at Conway Farms in Lake Forest, IL. Warren became Clemson's first ever Individual National Champion. He also won the ACC individual title and was voted a first-team All-American. He is the first golfer in history to win the ACC Tournament and the NCAA Tournament in the same year.

*Mitch Sprengelmeyer became the first player in NCAA men's tennis history to win the Intercollegiate Tennis Association Senior Player-of-the-Year and the Van Nostrand Memorial Award in the same year. The ITA Senior Player-of-the-Year award is the tennis equivalent to the Heisman Trophy, while the Nostrand Memorial Award is given to the player who shows the most potential for a professional career. He was an All-American for the second consecutive year, compiling a 36-7 record, the fourth best winning percentage in Clemson history. Mitch was also named the ACC Player-of-the-Year and finished the 1997 season ranked 19th nationally.

*Raymond Priester became Clemson's all-time leading rusher in 1996 with his 151 yard performance in the Peach Bowl, surpassing Kenny Flowers. He also broke the Clemson single-season rushing mark, and is the only active player to hold his schools record on a game, season and career basis. Priester became Clemson's only running back to rush for over 1,000 yards in two seasons.

*Anthony Simmons was a first-team All-American according to the Sporting News. The first team All-ACC linebacker led the conference in tackles and broke the all-time season tackle mark with 178. The record had been set by former All-American Jeff Davis. Simmons led the ACC in tackles with nearly 15 per game and moved to number six in Clemson history in tackles after just two years.

*Matthew LeCroy tied the all-time home run record for a season with 24 and broke Jim McCollum's career record with 53. He accomplished this feat in only three years. He was also named a first-team All-American by Baseball America and a second-team All-American according to the Sporting News and Collegiate Baseball. LeCroy was a first-team All-ACC performer and was the 50th selection of the major league baseball draft by the Minnesota Twins.

*Jeremichael Williams finished second in the NCAA's Indoor 55m hurdles and seventh at the outdoor meet in the 110 hurdles to earn All-American honors in both sports. He also won the 110m HH in the ACC Outdoor meet and was an All-American runner on the 4X100 relay team that finished 2nd in the nation.

*Craig Wenning, a starter on the Clemson soccer team, had a perfect 4.0 in the Spring semester and was the recipient of the University's Norris Medal during graduation ceremonies. The award is given to Clemson's top all-around student. Wenning also won the ACC's Weaver Award for outstanding achievement on the field and in the classroom.

*Julie Rodriguez concluded her Clemson volleyball career with an All-ACC selection in 1996. It was the second straight year she had made that team and just the third Lady Tiger in history to be a multiple first-team All-ACC selection.

*Freshman swimmer Erin Schatz won two ACC championships in leading Clemson to the team title. She was the ACC champion in the 100 back and the 200 back. Her winning times in both events were among the top three in that event in Clemson history.

Academic Accomplishments

*Clemson's student-athletes posted a record 2.64 GPA for the academic year. The Tigers also had a record setting number of academic honor roll student athletes (159) for a Spring semester and for the year.

*A record 138 student athletes were chosen to the ACC Academic honor roll, including a record 20 football players.

*Among the other athletic teams that set records for team GPA in a semester were women's volleyball, women's basketball, and men's soccer. The men's basketball team had its highest GPA (2.77) since 1983. Clemson also had five teams to set or tie their single semester high for academic honor roll selections.

*All-American's Matthew LeCroy, Richard Coughlin, and Mitch Sprengelmeyer all made the dean's list in the Spring semester of 1997, while noted athletes Tom Wideman, Craig Wenning, Devrin Carr, Melissa Odom, and Jennifer Wilhelmy made President's list (4.0). Overall, there were 14 President's list student-athletes in the Spring semester.

*Nine of Clemson's 13 programs had a team GPA higher than that of the student body average in the Spring semester.

CLEMSON RADIO NETWORK

The Clemson Sports Network is regarded as one of the most innovative radio networks in the country and keeps Clemson fans informed with over 8 1/2 hours of programming on gamedays... featuring a tailgate show, the game broadcast and a post-game scoreboard show, all of which can be heard throughout South Carolina by radio and around the world via the Internet or pay-to-listen telephone dial-up.

The game broadcast features Clemson Hall of Famer Jim Phillips, who is in his 30th year as the "Voice-of-the-Tigers." Synonymous with Clemson athletics since the late 1960's, Phillips is one of the most respected play-by-play men in the country and a main reason for the network's popularity. A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Phillips has described 336 Clemson football games and 853 men's basketball games in his career and is now the dean of all broadcasters in the ACC. Phillips also provides the play-by-play for baseball and women's basketball in addition to his work on football and men's basketball.

He has been chosen South Carolina Sportscaster-of-the-Year five times and in 1992 was honored with the "Master's Award," the highest award offered by the South Carolina Broadcaster's Association. The "Master's Award" recognizes lifetime achievement and had only been bestowed twice prior to Jim's presentation. He was also inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame in 1992, his 25th year as the Voice-of-the-Tigers. In addition to his accuracy and flair in broadcasting, Phillips induction was also a result of his dedication, reliability and consistency.

Joining Phillips on the broadcast team is another Clemson Athletic Hall of Famer, Mike Eppley, who is entering his eighth year as the Clemson Sports Network's football color analyst. A native of Charlotte, N.C., Mike is Clemson's number three ranked passer in terms of efficiency rating. He guided Clemson to 21 victories as the starting quarterback between 1982 and 1984, and also holds the career record for TD passes with 28.

Rodney Williams, another Clemson football great, is the third member of the broadcast team. Williams led Clemson to 32 wins as the starting quarterback between 1985-88, an all-time Clemson record. Williams provides color commentary during the game from the side-line and anchors the post-game show from the locker room after the game with interviews from Clemson players and coaches.

One of the most popular aspects of the Clemson Sports Network is the Tiger Tailgate Show, a program that gets Clemson fans ready for the action beginning three hours prior to kickoff. Hosted by Bill Love, Howard Hudson and Joe Erwin, the Tiger Tailgate Show also features men's head basketball coach Rick Barnes who talks with the fans from "Tailgate 1," the Tiger Tailgate Show's golf-cart broadcast vehicle. Coach Barnes' appearance on the show has become an integral part of the broadcast and is sure to continue to add to the fun in '97.

Concluding each broadcast Saturday for the 19th season is the The Fifth Quarter Show, an award-winning two-hour college scoreboard show hosted by Don Munson and Chris Scott. The Fifth Quarter Show provides a rundown of games from across the nation with up-to-the-minute "live" reports and scores from eyewitness reporters. The Fifth Quarter Show continues the Clemson Sports Network's tradition of providing complete coverage of college football each Clemson Saturday.

Clemson University fans who do not have radio or television coverage of Tiger game broadcasts in their area will be able to hear every Clemson Sports Network radio broadcast this fall by listening over the telephone. By dialing 1-800-846-4700 from any phone in the United States and entering the Clemson University team code (0665) fans with a VISA or Mastercard account can be connected directly to the live radio play-by-play of the game broadcast! When using a speakerphone, game broadcasts sound similar to listening to an AM radio.

In addition to the radio network TEAMLINE service, the Clemson Sports Network will also have the entire schedule of broadcasts available worldwide on the Internet, live and in real time. Computer users who have a sound card and Internet access can now listen to a Clemson University sporting event anywhere in the world! Broadcasts may be accessed through the Clemson Sports Network website at <http://www.clemsonsports.com>.

RING OF HONOR

The Clemson Ring of Honor is in its fourth season of existence in Clemson Memorial Stadium. On September 3, 1994, during ceremonies prior to the Clemson vs. Furman football game, Frank Howard, Steve Fuller and Banks McFadden were inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor. On September 2, 1995, Jeff Davis was added to the Clemson Ring of Honor. On September 6, 1997, Fred Cone will be added.

The Ring of Honor is the highest honor a Clemson football player can receive. A recipient must first be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame, earn at least an undergraduate degree, and make a significant contribution to the heritage of Clemson athletics. Honorees will have their jersey retired.

Howard was Clemson's head coach between 1940-69 and he guided Clemson to eight conference championships, six bowl games and six Top 25 seasons. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989 and is the second winningest coach in ACC history. He had 165 wins when he retired, the most in ACC history.

McFadden was named the nation's most versatile athlete in 1939. He was an All-American in football and basketball, the only Clemson athlete in history to do that. McFadden led Clemson to its first bowl bid ever, a 6-3 win over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. He was the number-three pick of the 1940 NFL draft, the highest draft selection in Clemson history.

Fuller is one of only two football players in Clemson history to be chosen an All-American on the field and in the classroom. Fuller was a first-team Academic All-American in 1977 and 1978 and was a third-team AP All-American in 1978. Fuller, who was ACC MVP on two occasions, is still Clemson's all-time leader in total offense. He was an NCAA Top Five Award winner in 1979, the only Clemson athlete to win the award.

Davis, captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team, was a first-team All-American that year when he led the Tigers in tackles with 175, the second highest total in Clemson history. Davis was also named the MVP of the ACC and was the Defensive MVP of the Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska, the game that clinched the national championship for the Tigers.

Clemson University Ring of Honor Guidelines

Purpose: The charge of this committee is to bestow the highest athletic award presented by the Clemson Athletic Department on deserving candidates. The committee will examine the careers of candidates in all Clemson sports.

Nominations: Nominations are made by any member of IPTAY, faculty or staff personnel, or relative of a worthy candidate, and are accepted 30 days prior to the committee meeting. The committee will meet once every two years in the month of April to vote on the nominations. Nominations will be made in the form of a letter with a complete list of accomplishments, and submitted to the chair of the committee, who will retain an active file of nominations. Letters of support may also be submitted. All nominations will remain on file for a period of three voting committee meetings (five years). The Chair of the Committee will screen all nominations to make sure they meet eligibility requirements.

Committee: The Committee will be composed of 11 members:

- *Sports Information Director, Chair
- *Athletic Director
- *Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment
- *Senior Associate Athletic Director
- *Executive Secretary of IPTAY
- *A member of the Board of Trustees
- *A member of the Tiger Lettermen's Assoc.
- *A member of the Athletic Council
- *NCAA Faculty Representative
- *University President or designee
- *Head Coach of a sport that has a nomination

(i.e. Head Football Coach votes on football candidates, basketball coach votes on basketball candidates, etc.)

Eligibility: This committee will recognize individuals who have demonstrated consistent and unique national excellence in their sport during their Clemson career. Their accomplishments must be significant on an individual and team basis. Their statistical accomplishments must be noteworthy, but they should also have an outstanding record in terms of leadership. In general, they must have made a noteworthy contribution to the history of the Clemson Athletic Program.

Athletic accomplishments after their Clemson career are not a primary consideration in the nomination, but they must retain an unblemished record of citizenship after they leave Clemson.

A candidate must be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited four-year University or college.

Financial contributions to Clemson University will not be a consideration when evaluating the candidates.

For a coach to be nominated he or she must be retired from coaching that sport at the college level.

Selection Process: Each committee member will cast one vote per sport. An honoree must obtain at least seven votes to be selected. There will be just one ballot. The committee does not have to select any honorees at its meeting. There shall be no more than one honoree in a sport for every two years.

Conferring: In the sport of football, the honoree will have his name, number, years participated and helmet enshrined in the Ring of Honor at Clemson Memorial Stadium. In the sport of basketball, the honoree's jersey will be hung from the rafters of Littlejohn Coliseum. In the sport of baseball a jersey replica will be hung from the fence of Tiger Field. Other sports will establish appropriate sites at the home facility.

When a student-athlete is selected the person's jersey is honored, but the jersey number may be worn in the future.

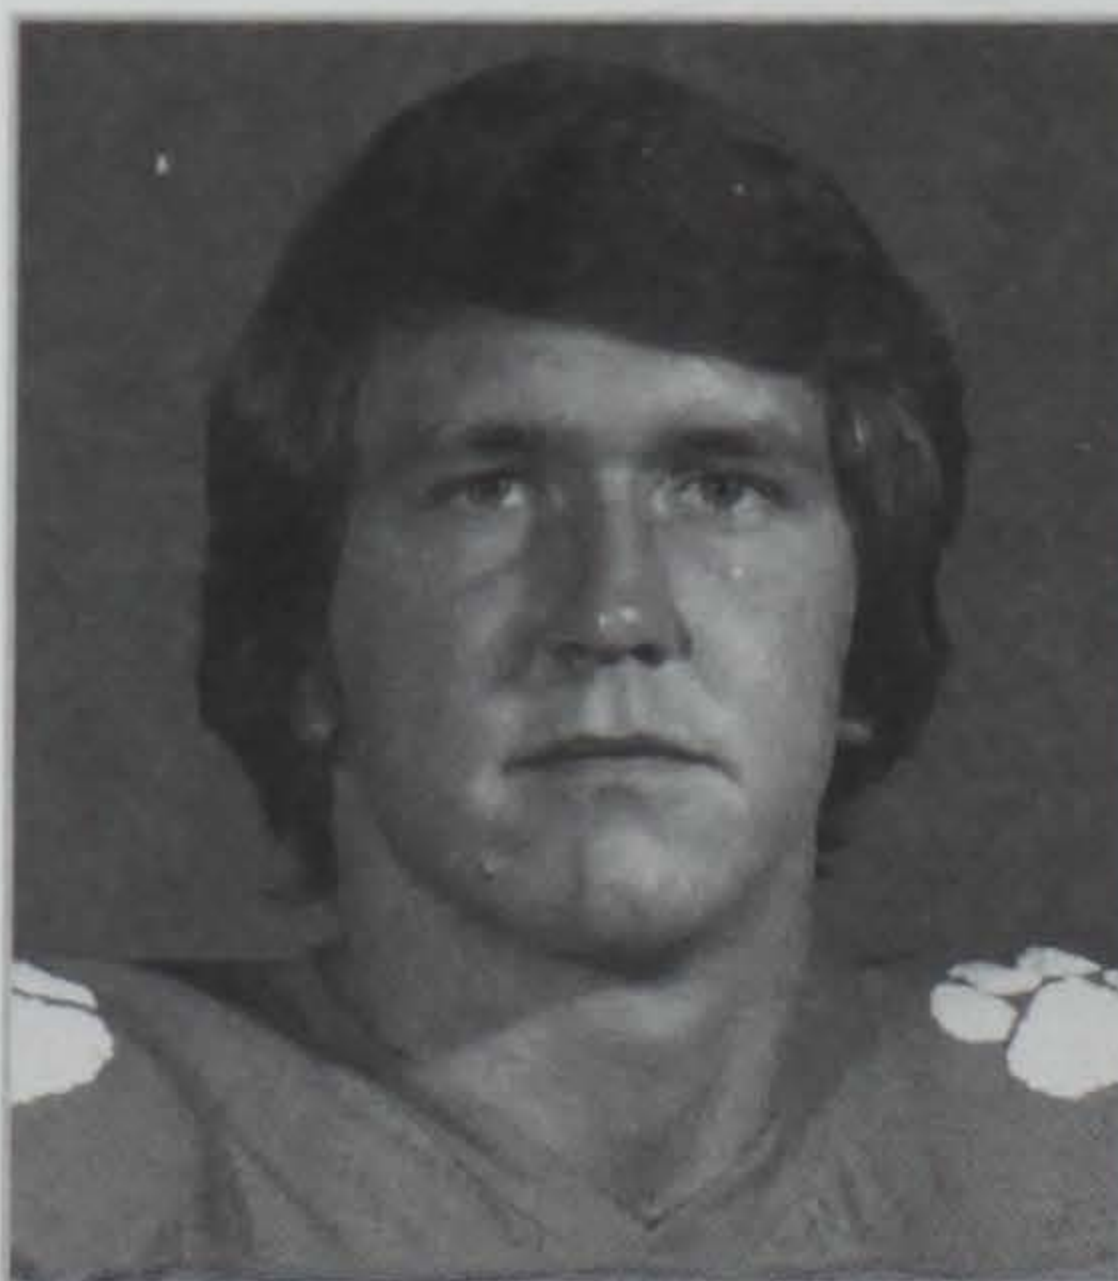

The nature and organization of the ceremony will be determined from a meeting between the honoree, the athletic director, the committee chair and the head coach of the sport involved.

Sept. 30, 1896—A small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and discussed the advisability of organizing a football association and to devise some means of getting a coach. The organization known as the Clemson College Football Association was perfected and the following officers elected: President F.G. Tompkins, Secretary and Treasurer C.W. Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, Temporary Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

October 5, 1896—Practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50x200 foot field in front of the college.

October 28, 1896—Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman, 14-6, at Greenville, SC. This was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full-sized football gridiron.

November 21, 1896—Clemson defeated Wofford by the score of 16-0. When the team arrived back on campus that night, the cadet corp along with faculty members led the team around in a buggy led by a torchlight procession and proceeded to go all over the campus. With this win, Clemson claimed the state championship.

November 10, 1897—Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time and won the school's second state championship. A total of 2,000 spectators witnessed the 18-6 victory. Clemson, took an early 4-0 lead when South Carolina's Lee Hagood fumbled on the Gamecock's 31-yard line and Clemson's W. T. Brock caught the fumbled ball in the air and raced 30 yards for a touchdown.

November 10, 1899—The football association stood on a very weak financial basis. The organization could not even afford to hire a coach. W.M. Riggs agreed to coach the Tigers for free.

December 8, 1899—John Heisman was hired as head coach.

October 22, 1900—The Tigers defeated Wofford, 21-0. Actually, Clemson scored many more points, but a pre-game agreement between the teams stated that every point Clemson scored after the first four touchdowns would not count.

No one could keep an accurate count after Clemson scored its first 21 points after six minutes into the game elapsed. All touchdowns Clemson made were called back and the ball given to Wofford deep in Clemson territory on such penalties as running over a Wofford tackler.

November 29, 1900—Clemson's 35-0 win over Alabama allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of the games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0.

October 5, 1901—Clemson opened the season with a 122-0 win over Guilford, the most points scored in Clemson history. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

October 30, 1902—Col. Charles S. Roller Jr., who was football coach of Furman, was the only referee for the Clemson-USC game. Bronco Armstrong, a famous Yale player and official, was to be the umpire but was in a railroad wreck on the way down and it was impossible for him to get to the game in time. Not a single penalty was called in the game. A riot between Clemson and USC fans broke out the night after the game. Officials at both colleges called off the football series between the two schools. Clemson and USC did not meet again in football until 1909.

November 27, 1902—Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown.

October 10, 1903—Clemson 29, Georgia 0—First 10 minutes of the game, Clemson fumbled the ball three times. After the game, the Georgia team made a deal with the Clemson team. They would give the Clemson team a bushel of apples for every point Clemson would defeat Tech above the score Clemson made against Georgia. The score turned out to be Clemson 73, Georgia Tech 0. Apples were plentiful around Clemson that winter—44 bushels.

October 17, 1903—Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 615 yards, still a school record, while Tech ran the ball 35 times and collected 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

October 28, 1903—The Tigers defeated N.C. State 24-0 in Columbia, SC at the fairgrounds. One incident that delayed the game's start was the fact that the sideline spectators in their eagerness to see each play crowded in front of the grandstand and on the field. Twenty minute halves were played owing to the fact that the field had to be given to the racing association at 12:45 p.m. Even these short halves could not be played out and the time limit was up when 16 minutes of the second half had been played. Heisman married Evelyn Barksdale in Columbia after the game.

November 26, 1903—One day after Tech's deadline for its offer had expired, Heisman wired Georgia Tech's president Lyman Hall, that he would accept the institute's offer of $2,250 per year plus 30 percent of net receipts to coach its athletic teams.

Sept. 30, 1904—Clemson began practice under new Head Coach Shack Shealy, who was at one time a great football player. He played varsity ball six years, four at Clemson and two at Iowa State. He is still the only Clemson graduate to coach the Tiger football team.

November 11, 1905—The Clemson-Auburn game was called on account of darkness. Clemson won, 6-0.

November 29, 1906—Clemson's first forward pass occurred in a 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. Powell Lykes dropped back to kick, but instead made a forward pass of 30 yards to George Warren.

September 28, 1907—The cadets of Clemson College braved wind and rain at Bowman Field to witness the Tigers in their earliest season opener to date. Clemson met Gordon Military Academy from Georgia on a muddy field. Clemson was playing under new Coach Frank Shaughnessy, a former Notre Dame star who to this day holds the Notre Dame record for the longest run.

November 4-9, 1907—Clemson played three games within a week's time. Clemson lost to Auburn 12-0 on November 4, and lost to Georgia in Augusta, GA on November 7. The Tigers barely made it back in time to play Davidson at Clemson on November 9, and lost 10-6.

April 1, 1908—Tiger football hopes of the 1908 season were shattered on this day, not by what happened in spring practice, but what 300 students did as a college prank on April Fool's Day. The cadets were expelled for removing a Civil War cannon from the town square of Pendleton, four miles down the road from campus, and bringing the cannon back to Clemson. Many of the football stars, as well as many future star players, were among those who were expelled.

Oct. 9, 1915—The Tigers traveled to Knoxville, where they won fame by defeating the defending conference champion Tennessee, 3-0. Bill Harris drop-kicked a 20-yard field goal for the only score of the game in the fourth quarter. Tennessee was the defending champion of the S.I.A.A.

October 13, 1917—Clemson downed Furman 38-0, as the Tigers' Stumpy Banks scored five touchdowns, a record that still stands today.

November 16, 1918—The University of South Carolina athletic authorities provided the use of their stadium to Clemson and the Citadel for their annual game. South Carolina was playing at Furman that day and the field was not going to be used by the Gamecocks. The reason the game was played at Columbia instead of Charleston or Clemson was that the military officials from both Clemson and The Citadel would not allow players to be absent from any military duties due to athletic events. Since the game was played in Columbia both the Clemson and Citadel cadets and football teams would be able to make the trip to Columbia and return to duty on time. Clemson's John O'Dell scored for the game's only tally as the Tigers won the game, 7-0. Both teams made it back to their campuses before their passes expired.

December 27, 1926—Josh Cody was named head football coach at Clemson.

September 19, 1928—Clemson began this season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time, with black composition cloth stripes on the front with purple numbers.

December, 1928—O.K. Pressley, a center, is named third-team All-American by the Newspaper Enterprise Association. He is Clemson's first All-American in any sport.

May 6, 1929—Josh Cody, Clemson head coach, was presented with a new automobile that afternoon as a gift from alumni, faculty, students, and friends of the college. A special collection was taken up to purchase the new Buick. The presentation ceremony was staged in front of Tillman Hall.

October 17, 1930—Maxcey Welch scored five touchdowns (all rushing) in Clemson's 75-0 win over Newberry. Welch and Stumpy Banks are the co-holders of that Clemson touchdown scoring record.

March 13, 1930—Josh Cody signed a new contract to stay at Clemson through the 1932 season.

November 26, 1930—Josh Cody announced that the Furman game the next day will be his final as head coach of the Tigers.

November 27, 1930—Clemson defeated Furman 12-7 at Furman to conclude the Tigers third straight eight-win season, the only eight-win seasons in Clemson history between 1896-1930. The 1930 Tigers concluded the season with an 8-2 record and posted four shutouts. In fact, only Tennessee and Florida scored over a touchdown against the Tigers in this season.

November 29, 1930—The Tiger student newspaper published an extra edition about Coach Cody, hoping to convince him to remain as head coach.

Cody had become a popular mentor because of his overall 29-11-1 record, including a perfect 4-0 record against South Carolina, the only coach in Clemson history to have a perfect ledger against the Gamecocks.

January 2, 1931—After reconsidering his decision for over a month, Cody made his resignation final.

January 17, 1931—Jess Neely was named head football coach at Clemson. He is the second consecutive Vanderbilt graduate to coach the Tigers. Cody had been a 1917 graduate of Vandy and Neely was a member of the class of 1923. In fact, eight of the last nine Clemson head football coaches were graduates of current SEC schools.

October 16, 1931—Clemson suffered a surprising 6-0 loss against The Citadel in a game played in Florence. After the game, Neely, Captain Frank Jervey and others met in a car outside the stadium to discuss ways Clemson could help its football program get back on track. The meeting started the ball rolling towards the establishment of the IPTAY Foundation. Clemson would score just three touchdowns and win just one game during the 1931 season.

October 14, 1933—Clemson played at George Washington in a 0-0 tie. This was the first time Clemson had ever played under the lights. Fans followed the game on a grid graph in Tillman Hall at the Clemson chapel. A grid graph was an electrical machine that was marked off like a football field. Lights were so arranged on the graph that every possible play was flashed on the board. The lineups of both teams were written on the sides and the man carrying the ball on each play had a light flashed by his name. Another light representing the runner moved along the board in the same direction and for the same distance as the runner.

August 20, 1934—IPTAY, the nation's first scholarship fundraising organization, was founded. Dr. Rupert Fike, a cancer specialist from Atlanta and Clemson class of 1908, wrote Jess Neely a letter documenting the formation of the organization.

"Last night we had a little meeting out at my house and organized the IPTAY Club," Fike wrote. "The purpose (of IPTAY) shall be to provide financial support to the athletic department at Clemson and to assist in every other way possible to regain for Clemson the high athletic standing which rightfully belongs to her."

The organization was first established as a secret organization and initial membership dues were set at $10 a year. Many had suggested that $50 be the minimum donation, but Fike's foresight thought it would be best to get as many Clemson supporters involved as possible, so he established the $10 minimum.

The excitement about the organization carried over into the 1934 season and the Tigers ran to their first winning season since 1930. Clemson had gone 0-5-1 against Furman and South Carolina in those years, then defeated both teams in 1934.

November 19, 1935—Clemson held its first night football practice. Two powerful floodlights were installed at the practice fields. The Clemson coaches wanted more practice time with the players and that was the reason the lights were brought in. The extra practice did not pay off however, as Clemson lost its final game that year to Furman, 8-6.

November 17, 1937—Clemson defeated Florida in Gainesville by a 10-9 score. Don Willis scored Clemson's only TD of the game on a one-yard run that culminated a 65-yard drive on Clemson's opening possession. Later Clemson gave up a safety and a touchdown, so Florida led 9-7 heading into the fourth period. But, the Tigers drove 60 yards late in the game and Ben Pearson booted a 27-yard field goal to win the game.

At the time, it gave Clemson a 4-4 record in 1937, but it proved to be a program builder, much as Clemson's win over South Carolina in 1980 did. The Tigers posted a 22-2-2 record over a 26-game period that started with that win at Florida. Clemson's only losses in that 26-game period were to Tennessee in 1938 and Tulane in 1939. Tennessee ended the 1938 season with a 10-0 record and ranked second in the nation, while Tulane ended the 1939 season with an 8-0-1 mark and fifth in the country.

November 5, 1938—Clemson scored with big plays in a win over George Washington, 27-0. The Tigers scored three touchdowns on plays of at least 65 yards, the only time in history Clemson has had scoring plays of that distance in the same game. Banks McFadden ran 70 yards for a score on the first Clemson play from scrimmage. Later, Shad Bryant scored on a 65-yard punt return and on a 65-yard run off a lateral. Georgia Washington actually had more firstdowns, 15-13, yet lost by 27 points.

September 23, 1939—Banks McFadden ran 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 18-0 win over Presbyterian. It is still the longest run in Clemson history. McFadden had a career high 173 yards in 15 attempts on this day.

September 30, 1939—Clemson suffered its only loss of the season to a revenge minded Tulane eleven. The Tigers had beaten the Green Wave the previous year by a 13-10 score. This season, however, Tulane defeated Clemson 7-6. Despite the loss, it was a game that brought acclaim to Clemson for its ability to play so close with the team that would end the year ranked fifth in the nation. McFadden was all over the field on this day, throwing for Clemson's only touchdown and defending enemy passes from the secondary. His punting kept Tulane bottled up in their own territory. He had 12 punts for 504 yards, including a record six punts of at least 50 yards. Unfortunately he was involved in what proved to be the deciding play of the game as his extra point attempt after Clemson's only touchdown was blocked.

October 19, 1939—Clemson outgained South Carolina 402-90 in a 27-0 thrashing of the Gamecocks. Banks McFadden threw for 85 yards and rushed for 76 in just 14 attempts.

October 26, 1939—Clemson showed it was a deep enough team to win without All-American Banks McFadden, who missed the Navy game with an injury. Shad Bryant had a 40-yard run for a score in Clemson's 15-7 win at Annapolis.

November 3, 1939—Clemson won in the Washington DC area for the second straight week, defeating George Washington on the road, 13-6. Bryant had 127 yards on the ground and scored Clemson's only touchdown. The game was played on a Friday evening.

November 11, 1939—McFadden completed just four passes against Wake Forest, but three were to Joe Blalock for 105 yards, the first 100-yard receiving game in Clemson history. It was the final home game for McFadden and the rest of the Tiger seniors.

November 18, 1939—Clemson won away from home for the fourth straight time, a 21-6 win over Southwestern University, which is now Memphis State. McFadden and George Floyd combined for 126 yards rushing on just 10 rushes.

Clemson had 33 poll points on that November 13 ranking and one first-place vote out of the 85 votes in the poll that week. Clemson remained ranked in the top 20 over the next three weeks and each week Clemson had exactly one first-place vote. However, in the final poll that year, even though Clemson had run the table to finish 8-1 in the regular season, that individual failed to vote Clemson number-one, as the Tigers did not have a first-place vote in the December 11 poll, which was the final poll that year.

December 8, 1939—Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Cotton Bowl. It is Clemson's first postseason bowl game appearance. Clemson did meet Cumberland in a postseason "Championship of the South" game in 1903, but it was not considered an established bowl.

December 11, 1939—Clemson ranked 12th in the final poll by the Associated Press, Clemson's first appearance in a final season AP poll. The Tigers had 112 poll points, just behind Boston College, who had 120.5 poll points for 11th place. Clemson would defeat Boston College in the Cotton Bowl, but the AP did not have a poll after the bowls. In fact, for whatever the reason, the AP did not have a final poll after the bowls until after the 1968 season. Thus, Clemson actually would have had a much higher ranking by today's standards if there would have been a poll in January of 1940.

December 15, 1939—Banks McFadden was named a first-team All-American by Associated Press and a third-team selection by United Press International. He was the first Clemson player honored by the AP. Later that year he was named the Nation's Most Versatile Athlete for 1939. Earlier in the year he had led Clemson to the 1939 Southern Conference Championship in basketball, still the only postseason championship in Clemson history.

January 1, 1940—In Clemson's first bowl appearance, it defeated Boston College 6-3. Charlie Timmons scored the game's lone touchdown from two yards out and rushed for 115 yards. Banks McFadden keyed the defense with four pass deflection of Boston College passes and he also averaged 43 yards punt. Boston College drove to the Clemson eight with three minutes left, but Shad Bryant and McFadden knocked away third and fourth-down passes to save the day for the Tigers.

"Clemson is every bit as good as they were cracked up to be," said Boston College Coach Frank Leahy, still the second winningest coach in college football history on a percentage basis. "We lost to a great team, one of the best I have ever seen. I have the satisfaction of knowing that while we were beaten, the game wasn't lost on a fluke."

January 10, 1940—Jess Neely resigned as athletic director and football coach to accept the head football coaching job at Rice University. Neely had inherited a $47,000 deficit when he arrived in 1931 and earned Clemson $100,000 during his tenure and left Clemson with $57,000 in the treasury. His overall record at Clemson was 43-35-7. He would be inducted into the college football Hall of Fame in 1971.

It is perhaps the only recorded time in history a coach has seconded his own nomination for head coach.

October 24, 1940—Frank Howard won his first game as head coach in the rivalry with South Carolina. The Tigers were victorious 21-13 thanks to five interceptions by the Clemson defense. Howard coached in 30 Clemson-South Carolina games. Incredible as it may seem, both Clemson and South Carolina scored exactly 411 total points in those 30 games.

October 28, 1940—It didn't take Howard long to get the Tigers into the nation's top 10. With the 5-0 start the Tigers earned 136 poll points and ranked number-10 in the nation, Clemson's first top 10 ranking in the AP poll. Two writers ranked Clemson number-one.

October 23, 1941--Booty Payne became the first Clemson player to pass for over 200 yards in an 18-14 loss to South Carolina. He completed 9-16 passes for 202 yards in the contest. It was one of just three 200-yard passing games by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s.

November 22, 1941--The Tigers put on the greatest rushing defense exhibition in the first 100 years of Clemson history, holding Furman to -21 yards rushing in a 34-6 victory in Greenville. Charlie Timmons scored three touchdowns and added four extra points in his final game as a Tiger. The 22 points scored rank sixth best in Clemson history for a single game by an individual. But, Timmons was not the leading rusher in the game as teammate Sid Tinsley picked up 127 yards on just seven attempts.

September 19, 1942—Clemson Memorial Stadium opened, and the Tigers ran down the hill for the first time. Butch Butler gained 192 yards, as the Tigers opened the new stadium in front of 5,500 with a 32-13 win over Presbyterian. It was the most yards rushing by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s. High school students were admitted for 25 cents, while servicemen were allowed in for 50 cents.

September 25, 1943—World War II took virtually all of Clemson's veteran players and the Tigers started nine first-year freshmen at the 11 positions in a 13-12 loss to Presbyterian. The Tigers had 11 rushing touchdowns in the game, still a Clemson record.

October 24, 1946--The Clemson vs. South Carolina game was played under unusual circumstances. Counterfeit tickets had been printed and 10,000 more people than the capacity showed up for the game. Fans stormed the gates and stood on the sidelines, even on the field at the opposite end of the field when the game action was taking place. Coach Howard recalls fans standing next to him on the sideline telling him what plays to run. South Carolina won on this bizarre day, 26-14.

September 24, 1947--Clemson flew to Boston College on an Eastern Airline DC-4. This marked the first time that a state football team had flown to a football game. The quicker traveling did not help, however as Boston College defeated the Tigers 32-22.

It is still the second most receptions in a single game in Clemson history and the yardage total is the sixth best. It was the first time in Clemson history and one of just five times overall that the Tigers have had a 100-yard rusher, a 100-yard receiver and a 200-yard passer in the same game. The Clemson defense was also outstanding, holding Auburn to -9 yards rushing.

November 6, 1948—Bobby Gage put on the most efficient exhibition in Clemson history in a 41-0 win over Furman. He completed 9-11 passes for 245 yards and two touchdowns. November 29, 1948--Clemson ranked 11th in the final AP poll. Again Clemson suffered from not having a poll after the bowl games. Clemson won another regular season game, then defeated Missouri in the Gator Bowl to close a perfect season. But, these wins were not reflected in the final ranking. The AP did not have a post-bowl poll until 1968.

December 4, 1948--Clemson closed out its perfect regular season with a 20-0 win over The Citadel in a game played in Charleston. The Bulldogs also failed to complete a pass in the contest.

The victory was Clemson's sixth road win of the year, a record that still stands for road wins in a season. Only two Clemson teams have had a perfect road record since 1948 and that was the 1981 National Championship team and the 1995 Tigers.

Jack Miller's 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter proved to be the winning margin. Missouri would score a late touchdown to come within 24-23. But that was the final score. You could not go for two points in those days, so Missouri did not have the opportunity to tie the score after their touchdown that took place with less than five minutes left. Both teams had exactly 298 yards of total offense in the game.

Clemson closed the season with a perfect 11-0 record, the only team in college football with 11 wins that year and one of just three with a perfect record. Notre Dame and Michigan were both 9-0-0 that season, but did not play in a bowl game.

Heisman coached the Tigers in 1900-1903 and was responsible for putting the Clemson name among the annals of the great early collegiate teams.

Heisman was brought to Clemson by a professor and later University President, Walter Riggs. In the spring of 1894, Riggs was a graduate manager for the Auburn football team, and he was responsible for finding a coach for the 1895 season. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams of Pennsylvania, captain of the 1894 team, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin a few years earlier.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk about all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to go back to his old love of football and he readily went to coach at Auburn for $500.00 a year. Riggs later was hired as a professor at Clemson and he hired Heisman at Clemson in 1900. (Riggs started the Clemson football program in 1896 and was head coach in 1896 and 1899).

Heisman began his coaching career at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years in the profession. His career included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

He invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "Flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, and originated the center snap and the word "hike" (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons. His .833 winning pct. is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach between 1901-1904.

Clemson was a powerhouse during his tenure and was a most feared opponent. His secret was that he depended on smart, quick players rather than large size and brawn.

William Heisman, a nephew of John Heisman often told a story on how his famous uncle stressed academics.

"I remember a story Coach Heisman used to tell me about this famous football player he confronted in the locker room before a big game. My uncle came busting through the door and went over to this guy and said, 'You can't play today because you haven't got your grades up to par. The player looked up at my uncle and said, 'Coach, don't you know that the sportswriters call this toe on my right foot the million-dollar toe?' My uncle snapped back right quick and said, "What good is it if you only have a fifteen-cent head?"

Another favorite Heisman story was the speech he used to make before a season began. Heisman would face his recruits holding a football. "What is it?" he would sharply ask. Then he would tell his players "a football was a prolate spheroid, an elongated sphere—in which the outer leather casing is drawn up tightly over a somewhat smaller rubber tubing." Then after a long pause he would say, "better to have died as a small boy than to fumble this football."

Heisman broke down football into these percentages: talent 25%; mentality 20%; aggressiveness 20%; speed 20%; and weight 15%. He considered coaching as being a master-commanding, even dictatorial. He has no time to say 'please' or 'mister', and he must be occasionally severe, arbitrary, and something of a czar."

On November 29, 1900, Clemson defeated Alabama 35-0, which allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of its games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0. The Tigers only allowed two touchdowns the entire 1900 season.

Clemson opened the 1901 season with a 122-0 win over Guilford. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

In his third season, on November 27, 1902, Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown. (An early conference that had several southern colleges and universities as members).

In his final season in 1903, Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0 on October 17, 1903. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 615 yards, while Tech ran the ball 35 times and collected 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

On November 24, 1903 Clemson participated in its "First Bowl Game". Clemson and Cumberland met on this date for the Championship of the South. The contract for the game was drawn up just two weeks before the game was to be played. Cumberland who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. While Clemson was considered to be the best team in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, AL. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. In this game, John Maxwell scored as a result of a 100 yard kickoff return. After the news came back to Clemson that the game ended in a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

John Heisman's 19-3-2 record is still the best in Clemson history on a percentage basis. The man who is honored each year with the awarding of the Heisman Trophy holds the distinction of building the early foundation of Clemson's football tradition.

Hall of Famer John Heisman coached Clemson to its first perfect season.

HALL OF FAMER JESS NEELY

Neely is 12th in college football history in total victories. He coached Clemson to its first bowl game and first Top 20 season.

Perhaps one of Clemson's most beloved coaches was Jess Neely.

Neely influence and inspiration is still present today as the IPTAY Scholarship Club was founded during his coaching tenure. IPTAY is the lifeblood of the Clemson Athletic Department. It provides funds for athletic scholarships and capital improvements.

Thousands of athletes have benefitted through the IPTAY Scholarship fund since its inception in 1934. That first year of IPTAY, Neely and his staff convinced 160 people to pay $10.00 a year to Clemson, for a grand total of $1,600 the first year, (not bad during the middle of the great depression.)

Neely was head coach at Clemson from 1931 through 1939 and spent the next 26 years at Rice University in Houston.

Neely coached Clemson to its first bowl game, the 1940 Cotton Bowl, where the Tigers capped a 9-1-0 season by beating Boston College 6-3. Clemson ended the season ranked 12th in the final Associated Press poll, its first top 20 season in history. Boston College was ranked 11th going into the game and it was Clemson's first win over a top 20 team in its history. The team featured the play of Banks McFadden Clemson's first Associated Press All-American. Clemson had a 43-35-7 record during Neely's tenure.

Neely coached Rice to four Southwest Conference Championships and six bowl appearances, the last being a trip to the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1961.

During 40 years of college coaching he compiled a record of 207-99-14. Neely is 12th in college football history in victories by a Division I-A coach heading into the 1997 season. For his accomplishments, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1971.

Neely graduated from Vanderbilt in 1924, after lettering three years in football and serving as captain of the 1922 team. He coached a year of high school football before returning to his alma mater to obtain a law degree. But he never practiced.

He coached four years at Southwestern College in Clarksville, Tenn. and then went to the University of Alabama in 1928. It was there that he met Frank Howard. Neely brought Howard to Clemson as line coach in 1931. Howard replaced him in 1940 and remained as head coach for 30 years. In 1967, Neely returned to his alma mater as athletic director. He officially retired in 1971, but continued to coach golf at Vanderbilt until 1981, when he moved back to Texas.

"If I didn't look in the mirror every day, I wouldn't know how old I am," Neely once said. "Working with the boys makes you feel young, I feel that in athletics the boys learn a sense of loyalty and sacrifice and values they don't learn anywhere else.

"They learn to compete and that is what life is all about—it's competition.

"If they make good in football, chances are they'll be successful elsewhere. I like to see that those boys make something of themselves. That is my reward.

"The boys go to college to study and get that degree. Playing football is a side activity. When fellows go to a school first to play football they get an entirely wrong sense of values.

"And when you start them off with the wrong sense, it isn't difficult for them to go astray."

"He was a cool, southern gentlemen, but he worked us like dogs. The workouts were always twice as hard as the games," said Dick Maegle. "There were no superstars, no victory that was better than all the other victories. To him, football was a team game and we were all team players." Maegle was the player tackled in a famous episode in the 1954 Cotton Bowl, when frustrated Tommy Lewis of Alabama came off the bench to stop a certain touchdown. Rice won that game, 28-6.

Neely died at the age of 85 in 1983, but his landmark accomplishments in the 1930s at Clemson contributed significantly to Clemson's outstanding football tradition.

HALL OF FAMER BANKS McFADDEN

Usually when one gets out of the spotlight, his accomplishments soon fade and gather dust in some far off corner in the basement or attic.

But not Banks McFadden.

Now 78 and living in retirement in Clemson, Banks looks back with many fond memories and Clemson fans remember him as probably the greatest natural athlete ever to play for the Tigers.

Although he brought great pride to Clemson with his athletic ability, and later with his coaching, McFadden says, "working with the athletes and working for the people whom we had here at Clemson...it's been a tremendous life. It's something I'll never regret and I couldn't have asked for things to be better."

For some of you in the 'Pepsi Generation' who might not have read your Clemson athletic history too well, let us do a little refreshing on the one called "Bonnie Banks."

- * Was named All-American in both basketball (1938-39) and football (1939) the same calendar year.
- * Was voted the nation's most versatile athlete (1938-39)
- * Led Clemson to its first conference basketball championship (1939)
- * Led Clemson to its first bowl game and victory (1940 Cotton)
- * Won three events in State Track Meet in one afternoon, setting records in all three of them. Earlier in the same year placed first in five events in a dual meet, scoring 25 points while the opposing team's total score was 28 points.
- * Was Clemson's first No. one round draft choice (1939 Brooklyn Dodgers)
- * Tied for the longest rushing play in Clemson history (90 yards vs. Presbyterian, 1939)
- * Has the most punts for over 50 yards in a game (six vs. Tulane, 1939) and in a season (22 on 65 punts in 1939)
- * Held Clemson punting record (43.5) for 40 years (1939 to 1979).
- * First Clemson player invited to participate in the College All-Star game in Chicago.
- * Charter member in the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame
- * Charter member in the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame
- * Only Clemson player ever chosen for the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame
- * Highest NFL draft pick in Clemson history (#3 in entire 1940 draft)

That's 15 of his more noteworthy accomplishments, and it wouldn't take too long to dig out twice that many more. But those listed should be enough for the average sports buff to be impressed.

Banks played one year (1940) of pro football with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and led the NFL in yards per carry, but he didn't care at all for the big city life. Grass felt better under his feet than pavement so he returned 'home' and joined the coaching staff of Coach Frank Howard.

Banks coached the defensive backs for one year (1941) before joining the Army Air Corps and spending four years in North Africa and Italy. He was discharged as a colonel. He recalls that "after the war, everything began to blossom out", as far as college football was concerned.

One thing that 'blossomed out' was his marriage to "Aggie" Rigsby of Manning. As it appears sometimes with former athletes, former backs produce girls and he and "Aggie" had four of them—Patsy, Lil, Marcia and Jan. And the grand kids—there are nine of them—five boys and four girls. The McFaddens celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently.

McFadden came back to Clemson after his service and was again the secondary coach, this time for four years (1946-49), and then took over as head freshman football coach for five years before returning to coach defensive backs in 1955, a spot he held until Howard retired following the '69 season.

Besides his football coaching years, McFadden also put in a stint as varsity track coach, freshman basketball coach and was for 10 years the varsity basketball coach. Then after Howard resigned as football coach in 1969, McFadden took over the university's intramural department, which he directed for 15 years.

Asked if he had any favorites, McFadden said: "Fred Cone was a very steady player. But I'm not so sure that Joel Wells wasn't the best all around football player that I had the opportunity to work with as a varsity coach. He was one of the best defensive players we had and a mighty fine offensive player. For somebody who could go both ways, Wells stood out.

"When I was in high school, colleges could do almost anything they wanted to as far as recruiting went," McFadden remembers. "Schools didn't have much (scholarship) money to give away, but they did go out and look at people and try to talk them into coming (to Clemson), paying their own way (or what is called a walk-on today.) But there wasn't very much recruiting until '35 or '36. But I believe there were 25 or 30 on my freshman team (1936) who were getting aid." (Note: The Clemson IPTAY Club was founded in 1934).

The Great Falls native came to Clemson in a 6-3 frame and a skinny 165 pounds. Howard, an assistant coach at the time, said that if McFadden had drank a can of tomato juice, they could have used him as a thermometer.

"I can remember the first time I saw him on the practice field," Howard recalled. "He looked like one of those whooping cranes. I thought sure as the devil that Coach (Jess) Neely had made a mistake giving this boy a scholarship. But he proved me wrong."

Clemson had required military when McFadden was playing, but he believes that was a plus. "We were so much a team then, and that's still there. But now the rules allow two different teams (offense and defense) and it causes so much more work. Our people were so close, as are the alumni of Clemson. Our team was just like the student body was then—a very close-knit bunch of people.

McFadden believes he, "came to Clemson at the right time. I was blessed to have some athletic ability," he recalled. "We had great coaches, had great individuals playing (with me), but we were all playing as a team."

Of all of the honors he received as an athlete, being voted the most valuable player of the 1939 football team was his highest. "To me, when your teammates vote you something," he beams, "then you feel pretty good. That award meant more than anything else (to me)."

This is one athlete where a one-page story in a football guide does not do that person justice...just about enough room for the tip of the iceberg. But if one could use just one word to describe 'Great' (as Howard called him), it would have to be 'competitor,' for he was just that.

And one more thing that the 'Pepsi Generation' can soak in—McFadden is the only Clemson athlete to have both his football jersey and basketball jersey numbers retired. In 1995, the Banks McFadden Building at Jervy Athletic Center was dedicated in his honor.

There hasn't been another like him down the pike.

McFadden was an All-American in football and basketball.

HALL OF FAMER FRANK HOWARD

An era at Clemson University ended June 30, 1974, when Frank Howard officially retired from the payroll.

Another era ended January 28, 1996, when Howard died at the age of 86 and forever silenced a voice that had been synonymous with Clemson for nearly 65 years. He was the school's best known ambassador.

Although he retired from all official duties in 1974, he never quit coming to the office and he never stopped representing Clemson in a manner which continued to win friends for the place that was so dear to his heart.

Howard retired from coaching December 10, 1969, after 39 years on the Clemson coaching staff, 30 of which were as head coach. He was also athletic director during this time and he kept this position until February 4, 1971, when he was named assistant to the vice president at the university, the post he held when the mandatory retirement age of 65 rolled around.

Shortly after his retirement the Clemson Board of Trustees named the playing surface of Memorial Stadium as "Frank Howard Field" in honor of his long service to the university. It was only the third time that a building or installation had been named by the trustees for a living person. Over the years, Howard was inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and the Clemson Hall of Fame (charter member in both), as well as the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame and the State of Alabama Hall of Fame. On December 5, 1989 he joined an elite group in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. The ceremonies took place in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. He joined former Clemson mentors John Heisman and Jess Neely in the membership.

Howard was also honored in December, 1981, when he was inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor, along with former Alabama coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, and Tommy McDonald, a former Oklahoma star. In the summer of 1990 he was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame.

Howard stepped onto the rolling hills of Clemson in 1931 fresh from the varsity football ranks at the University of Alabama where he was a first stringer on Wallace Wade's 1930 team that drubbed Washington State, 24-0, in the 1931 Rose Bowl. Howard was known as the "Little Giant" of the Tide's "Herd of Red Elephants."

The bald veteran came to his first coaching post under Jess Neely as a line tutor. "At least that was my title," Howard recalls. "Actually, I also coached track, was ticket manager, recruited players and had charge of football equipment. In my spare time I cut grass, lined tennis courts and operated the canteen while the regular man was out to lunch." Howard was not only track coach from 1931-39, but served as baseball coach in 1943 and his 12-3 record that year is still among the best percentages for a season in Clemson history.

Howard held the line coaching post until Neely went to Rice University as head coach in 1940. When the Clemson Athletic Council met to name a successor to Neely, Prof. Sam Rhodes, a council member, nominated Howard to be the new head coach. Howard, standing in the back of the room listening to the discussion, said: "I second the nomination." He got the job and never left. When he retired as head coach following the 1969 season, he was the nation's dean of coaches, having been a head football coach at a major institution longer than anyone else in the United States. When he retired, he was one of five active coaches with 150 or more victories.

While line coach in 1939, the Tigers' record (8-1) was good enough to merit a trip to Dallas where Clemson met undefeated Boston College under the late Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The 1948 mark of 10-0 carried Clemson to the 1949 Gator Bowl and two years later, a 9-0-1 record sent the Tigers to Miami's Orange Bowl (1950). The Country Gentlemen were champions on their first three bowl ventures. Boston College fell, 6-3, Missouri was nipped in the Gator, 24-23 (Howard said this is the best football game he ever witnessed), and Miami felt the Tiger claws, 15-14. The total point spread in these three bowl wins was five points.

The Gator Bowl beckoned the Tigers again in January, 1952, and by being conference champions in 1956, Clemson played in the '57 Orange Bowl classic again. Miami downed Clemson, 14-0 in the second Gator Bowl trip and Colorado led Clemson, 20-0, then trailed 21-20, before finally defeating the Tigers, 27-21, in the second Orange Bowl. The Tigers then played in the 1959 Sugar Bowl and held No. 1-ranked Louisiana State to a standstill before losing, 7-0.

The invitation to play in the first Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston in December, 1959, was the eighth bowl that Howard had been a part of either as a player, assistant coach or head coach. It was the seventh bowl trip for a Clemson team and the sixth in 12 years. Howard says that Clemson's 23-7 triumph over seventh-ranked Texas Christian in the Bluebonnet Bowl was the best performance he had ever witnessed by a Clemson team. Clemson was the first school to play in two bowls in the same calendar year.

The Tigers' victory over TCU was their fourth success in seven post-season appearances. In all seven Clemson was the

Howard served on the coaching staff of the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala., in 1941, 1952, 1959, and 1966; was on the East staff of the annual East-West Game in San Francisco, CA, in December, 1960, and again in December, 1962; and was named coach of the South squad in Miami's 1961 and 1969 North-South game. He coached in the 1970 Hula Bowl, which was his ninth postseason all-star game. While still in active coaching Howard served as one of the rules committee members for a period of three years.

A single wing expert for 22 seasons (including nine as a line coach), Howard changed to the T-formation and its many variations in 1953. Still another major change in the offense was installed in 1965 with the "I" and pro-type set. In his 13 seasons as head coach using the single wing, Clemson won 69, lost 47 and tied 7. In 12 years of "T" teams, the Tigers won 71, lost 47 and tied 4. While using the "I" in his last five years of coaching, Clemson recorded a 25-24-1 record.

In his 30 years of coaching Howard won 165, lost 118 and tied 12. That victory total is still among the top 40 coaches in the history of the game.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program, Howard also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program, and at the same time, raising all the required scholarship funds. The athletic department was always on a sound financial footing under the guidance of Howard.

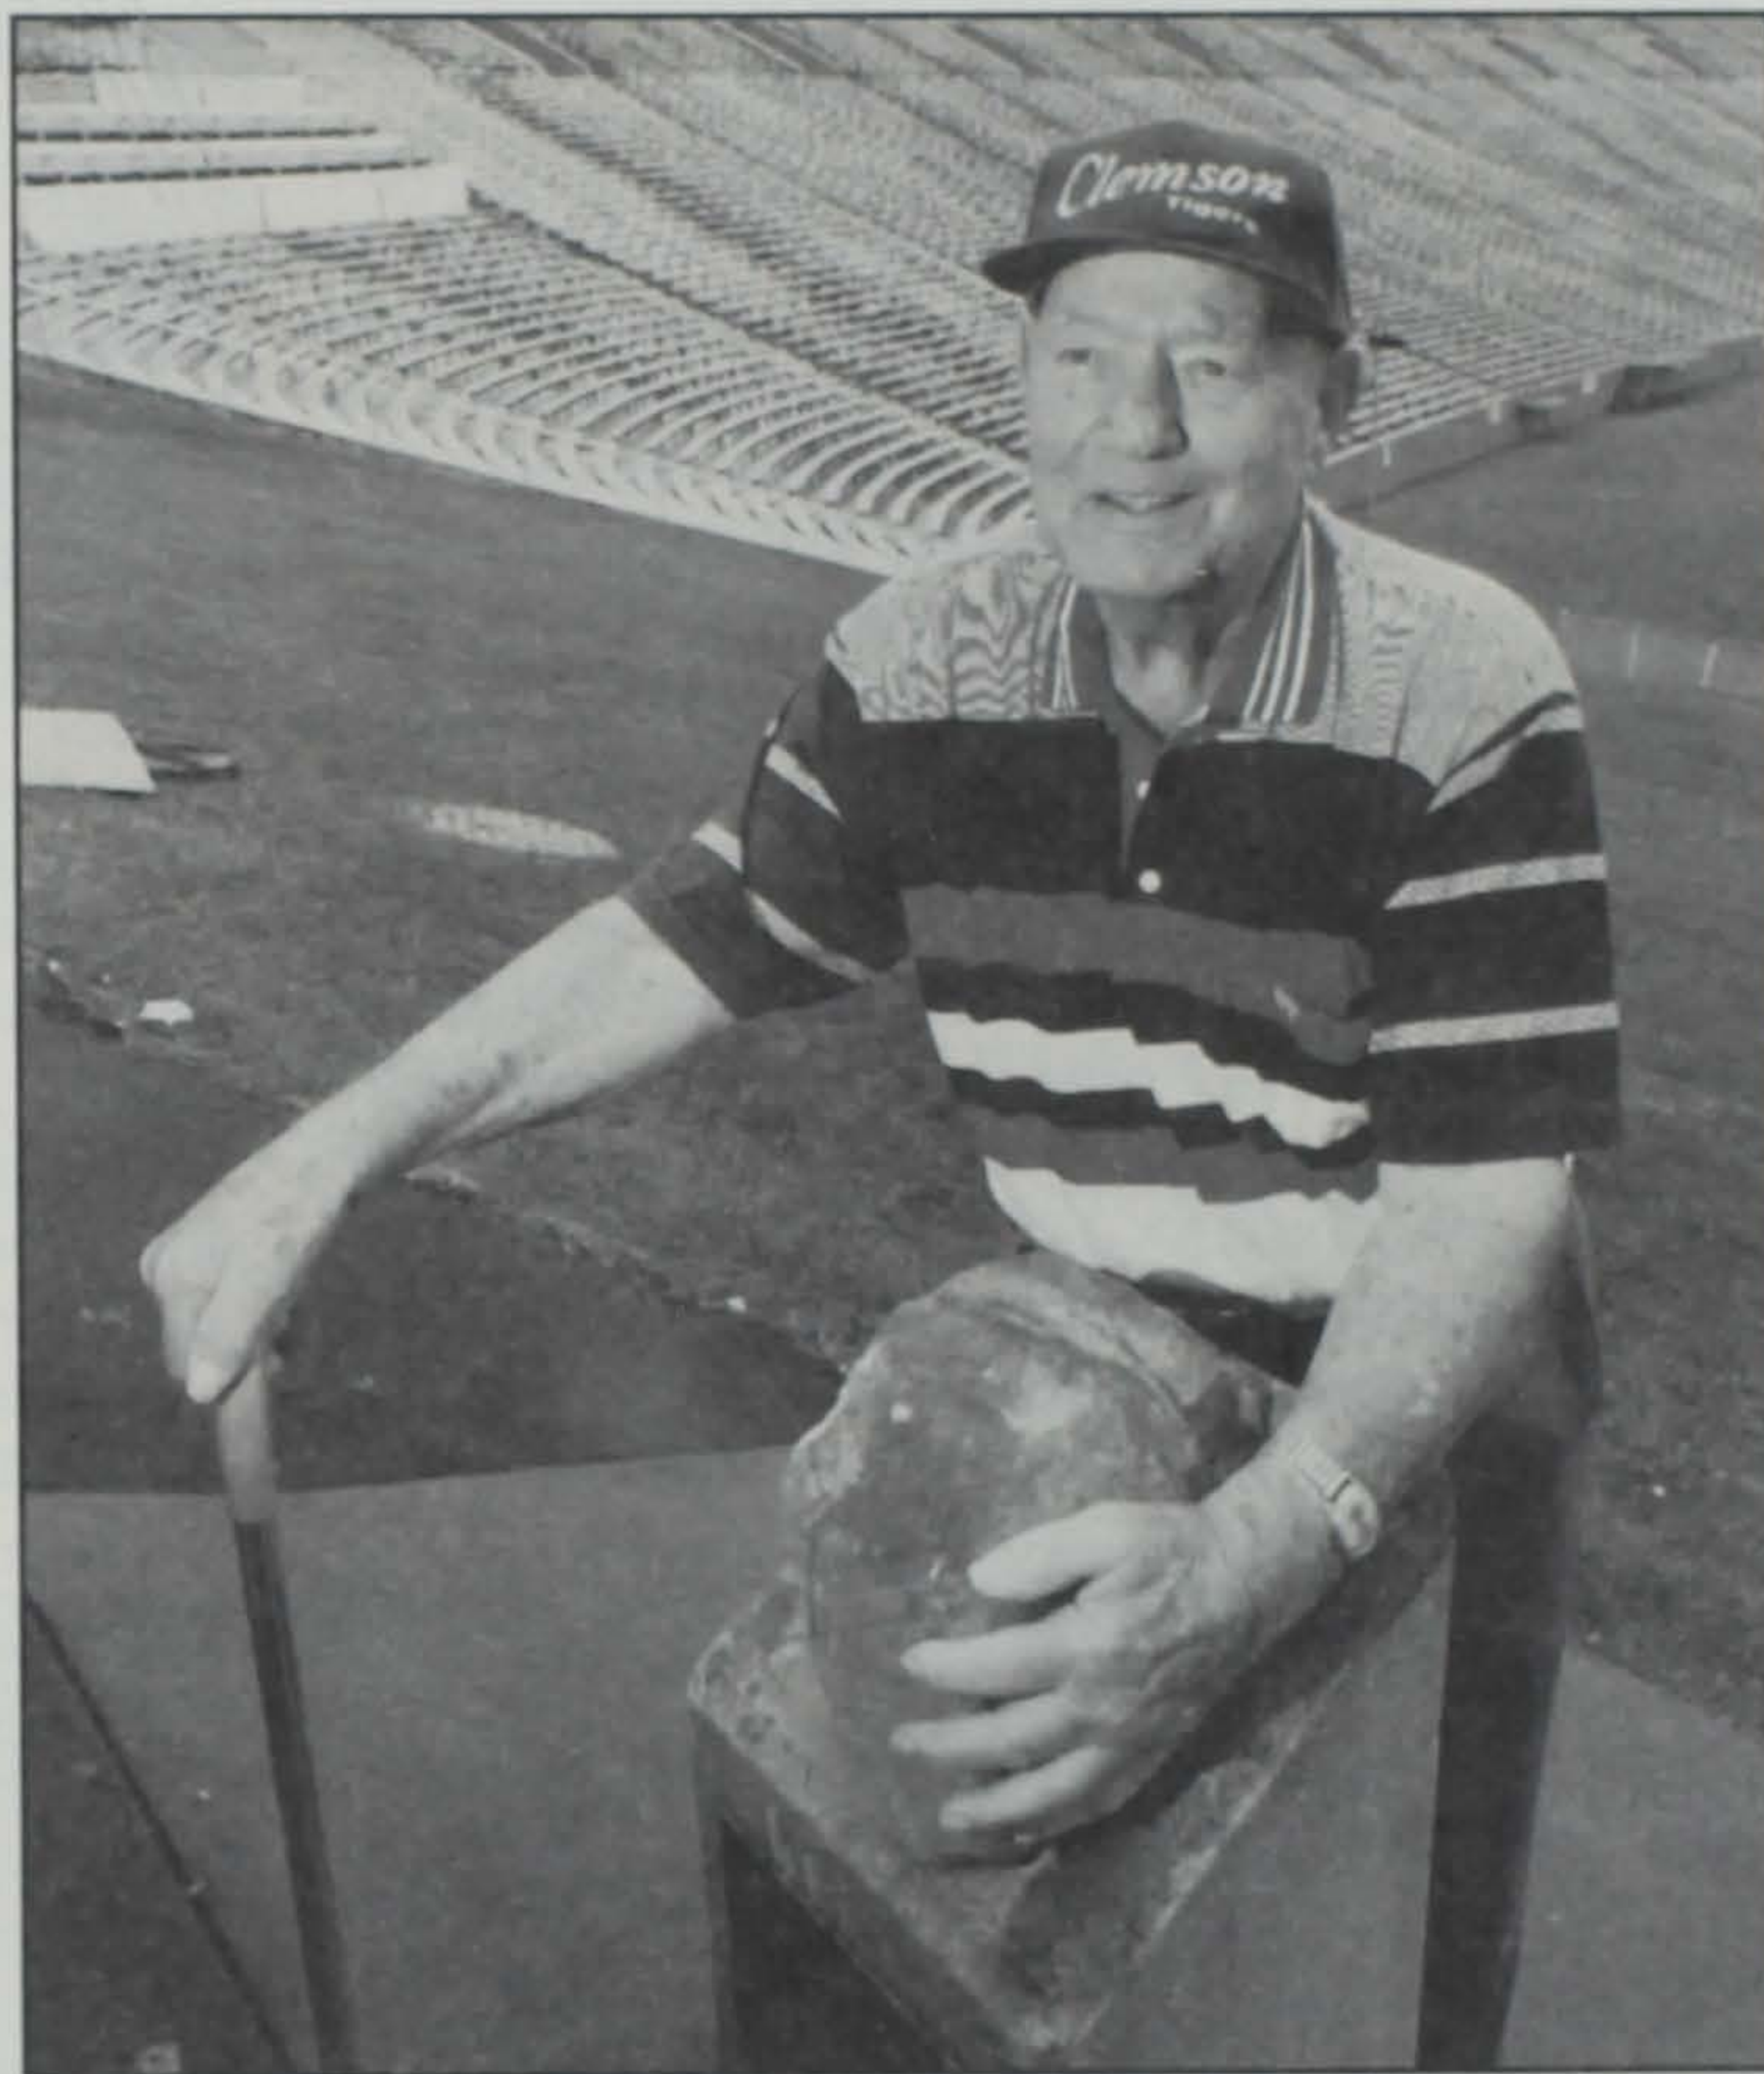

The year 1958 was a red letter one for Howard. During halftime of the Spring Game, Howard, his staff and secretaries were given an appreciation day. Howard received a 1958 car while other staff members were presented gifts. That summer Howard and three members of his staff were given a trip to Europe by the Department of Defense to conduct clinics for the Armed Forces in Germany.

Then came the football season and the Tigers presented Howard an 8-2 season, which led to the Sugar Bowl invitation. One of these 1958 wins was the 100th of Howard's coaching career. That came against the late Jim Tatum of North Carolina, a coach Howard had never beaten. And, the Tigers had to come from behind three times to win, 26-21.

Howard was named Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1948. In 1959 he was named Atlantic Coast Conference

Coach-of-the-Year and was accorded the honor again in 1966. His teams won ACC championships six times (1956-58-59-65-66-67) in the first 15 years of the conference. The Tigers were co-champions in 1965. He guided Clemson to the Southern Conference crown in 1940 and 1948.

Howard was born at Barlow Bend, Ala. (three wagon greasin's from Mobile), March 25, 1909. He spent his early days on the farm playing mostly cow pasture baseball because there were not enough boys around the community for a football team.

Howard, who won 165 games, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

Howard says he left Barlow Bend walking barefoot on a barbed wire fence with a wildcat under each arm.

He graduated from Murphy High School in Mobile where he played football, baseball and basketball and served as president of both the junior and senior classes.

After finishing at Murphy, Howard entered the University of Alabama on an academic scholarship provided by the Birmingham News in the fall of 1927, and the 185 pounder played reserve guard his sophomore year. During his junior year he started every game but two, as an ankle injury sidelined him for the two games he missed. Again his senior year he was a regular.

Howard was president of the freshman class at Alabama, was member of Blue Key and president of the "A" Club.

After coming to Clemson, he married the former Anna Tribble of Anderson, SC, (who died May 15, 1996) on August 23, 1933. They were the parents of a daughter, Alice (Mrs. Robert McClure of Gastonia, NC) and a son, Jimmy, of Pendleton. The Howards had three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Jimmy followed in his dad's footsteps as a football player, only at a different position. The son was regular fullback on the local high school (Daniel) team for three years and was a halfback-fullback for three years on the Clemson varsity. Jimmy gained over 1,400 yards his senior year in high school and scored over 100 points. He graduated from Clemson in June, 1964 with honors, and earned his masters degree in horticulture from Clemson in 1967. He retired as district entomologist with the Plant Pest Regulatory Service at Clemson.

For over three decades Howard was in great demand both as a banquet speaker and a clinic lecturer. Few states have escaped his homespun oratory, which brought the house down on many occasions.

After his retirement, Howard was active in other endeavors. He served as state chairman of the South Carolina Heart Fund drive, was roasted several times on behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, and was active in selling the Kickoff Publication out of Knoxville, TN.

Howard kept his hands in football as he served as the chief recruiter for the Gray squad in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL. The Blue squad recruiter was Don Faurot, who opposed Howard in the 1949 Gator Bowl.

Howard has also been inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame in San Francisco, CA., is an honorary member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and is a member of the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. Clemson University also honored Howard once more with the presentation of the Clemson Medallion, which is the highest public honor bestowed by the university to a living person who exemplifies the dedication and foresight of its founders. He was a charter member of Clemson's Ring of Honor at Memorial Stadium in 1994.

STEVE FULLER, CLEMSON RING OF HONOR

Every once in awhile a truly well-rounded individual comes along. Steve Fuller was a scholar, an athlete, and a fine representative of his community. That combination made him one of the most decorated athletes in Clemson history and the reason he was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994. He was also the first Clemson football player in history to have his jersey number (4) retired.

Fuller, a native of Spartanburg, South Carolina, graduated high school with a perfect 4.0 grade point average in a class of more than 800, crowning him class valedictorian. He had offers to go pro in baseball out of high school and had a basketball scholarship offer at North Carolina.

Right away Steve produced a preview of what Clemson fans should expect from him over the course of the next four years. He was named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week in his first collegiate game, gaining 194 yards of total offense against Tulane. During his sophomore year, Steve gained further recognition by being named ACC Back-of-the-Week after the Tennessee game and by being named to the All-ACC Academic Team.

Fuller demonstrated exceptional leadership during his junior and senior years, both on and off the field. Highlights on the field include leading the ACC in total offense for both years and being selected twice as the ACC Player-of-the-Year, the only two-time selection in Clemson history.

Equally impressive were the team accomplishments, as Fuller quarterbacked Clemson to two consecutive Gator Bowls, Clemson's first bowl appearances in 18 years. In 1978 Clemson posted an 11-1 record and ranked sixth in the final AP poll, then the highest final national ranking in Clemson history.

Fuller earned the Gator Bowl MVP Award his senior year (1978). He was the South Carolina Amateur Athlete-of-the-Year during his junior season. The Atlanta Touchdown Club named Fuller the Back-of-the-Year in the South in 1978 and he was also named the South Carolina Player-of-the-Year his junior and senior years.

At the conclusion of his senior season he was also an AP third-team All-American. Another great athletic feat for Steve Fuller included finishing sixth in the Heisman Trophy balloting, the highest finish for a Clemson athlete in history. Likewise, he set several Clemson records (see above). It's no wonder he was a first round draft pick (23rd selection) by the Kansas City Chiefs.

Off the field, Fuller illustrated his joint dedication to academics and community service. He was named to the All-ACC Academic Team for three years and twice named Academic All-American, including a first-team selection his senior year.

Fuller is one of just two football players in Clemson history to be named an on-field All-American and Academic All-American in the same year. He majored in history (pre-law), which was not an easy route to take, and maintained a 3.93 grade point average. His push for excellence earned him an NCAA postgraduate scholarship, the Jim Weaver Award from the ACC, and one of the NCAA's Top Five Awards. He delivered the acceptance response for himself and the four other winners.

He was also presented the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete Award, a double that no Clemson player has duplicated since. Extracurricular activities included being a member of the Blue Key, Mortor Board, Tiger Brotherhood, Block "C" Club, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Steve Fuller's honors may have collected dust once he left Clemson, but his fame did not. In 1979, he became the first football player and the second athlete in Clemson history to have his jersey (#4) retired. He also became a member of the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame. In September 1994, Fuller was inducted into Clemson's Ring of Honor along with coach Frank Howard and all purpose back Banks McFadden.

Now, Clemson has bestowed another honor upon Steve Fuller. On April 6, 1996, the Clemson Centennial Team was announced and Fuller was the starting quarterback for this team. He left behind a legacy that few can dare to touch. No doubt, Steve Fuller remains one of the greatest student-athletes in Clemson history, regardless of sport.

Fuller became the first football player in Clemson history to have his jersey retired. He was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994.

JEFF DAVIS, RING OF HONOR

Even though Clemson's football heritage is 100-years-old, it does not take long to determine the most significant accomplishment in the program's history—the 1981 National Championship. And, along the same lines, it does not take long to single out the most significant team leader of that great accomplishment—Jeff Davis.

When examining Davis's contributions to Clemson athletics in terms of leadership, citizenship and athletic records and awards, it is no surprise that he became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor prior to the opener of the 1995 season.

The native of Greensboro, NC registered a Clemson record 175 tackles in leading a 1981 defense that set a school record for turnovers forced (41) in a season. He still holds the Clemson career record for caused fumbles (10) and recovered fumbles (8), and the single game record for tackles (24) against North Carolina in 1980.

He played 40 games for Clemson between 1978-81 and had 469 career tackles, 16 passes broken up, 18 tackles for loss, four sacks and four interceptions. He started all 35 games for the Tigers between 1979-81. He was a model of consistency, having registered at least double figures in tackles in 22 of his last 23 games. Overall, he had 30 double figure tackle games in his 40-game career and led the Clemson team in tackles 25 times.

"It is hard to express my feelings on being inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor," said Davis. "This honor should be spread among my coaches and teammates and all of Clemson who had an impact on my life during my career. No one receives an honor like this without help. I want to thank the good Lord for giving me the ability and the opportunity to come to Clemson."

For his accomplishments in 1981, Davis was named the MVP of the ACC, just the third defensive player in league history to win the award. He concluded the season in grand style with a 14-tackle performance in the 22-15 Orange Bowl win over Nebraska that clinched the National Championship for the Tigers, Clemson's first national championship in any sport. Davis was named the Defensive MVP of the contest.

At the conclusion of the season, Davis was named a first-team All-American by United Press, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association, the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football News. He was named the Lineman of the Year by the Atlanta Touchdown Club.

"We had purpose. We took everything one game at a time and did not get caught up in the chase for the National Championship. When we started the season, the championship was not a (realistic) goal. We were just coming off a 6-5 season in 1980 in which we all thought we could have done much better."

After clinching the ACC title with a win over Maryland and the state championship with a convincing victory at South Carolina, Davis and his Clemson teammates prepared to meet fourth-ranked Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl, a game that would determine the National Championship.

"We just knew we were going to win that night," reflects Davis, who was nicknamed The Judge by then assistant sports information director Kim Kelly. "I think the first possession of the game was the key because they fumbled and William Devane recovered. That led to a score and that was something we had been doing all year, forcing turnovers and taking over the game. That just told us that this game was not going to be any different than any of the others."

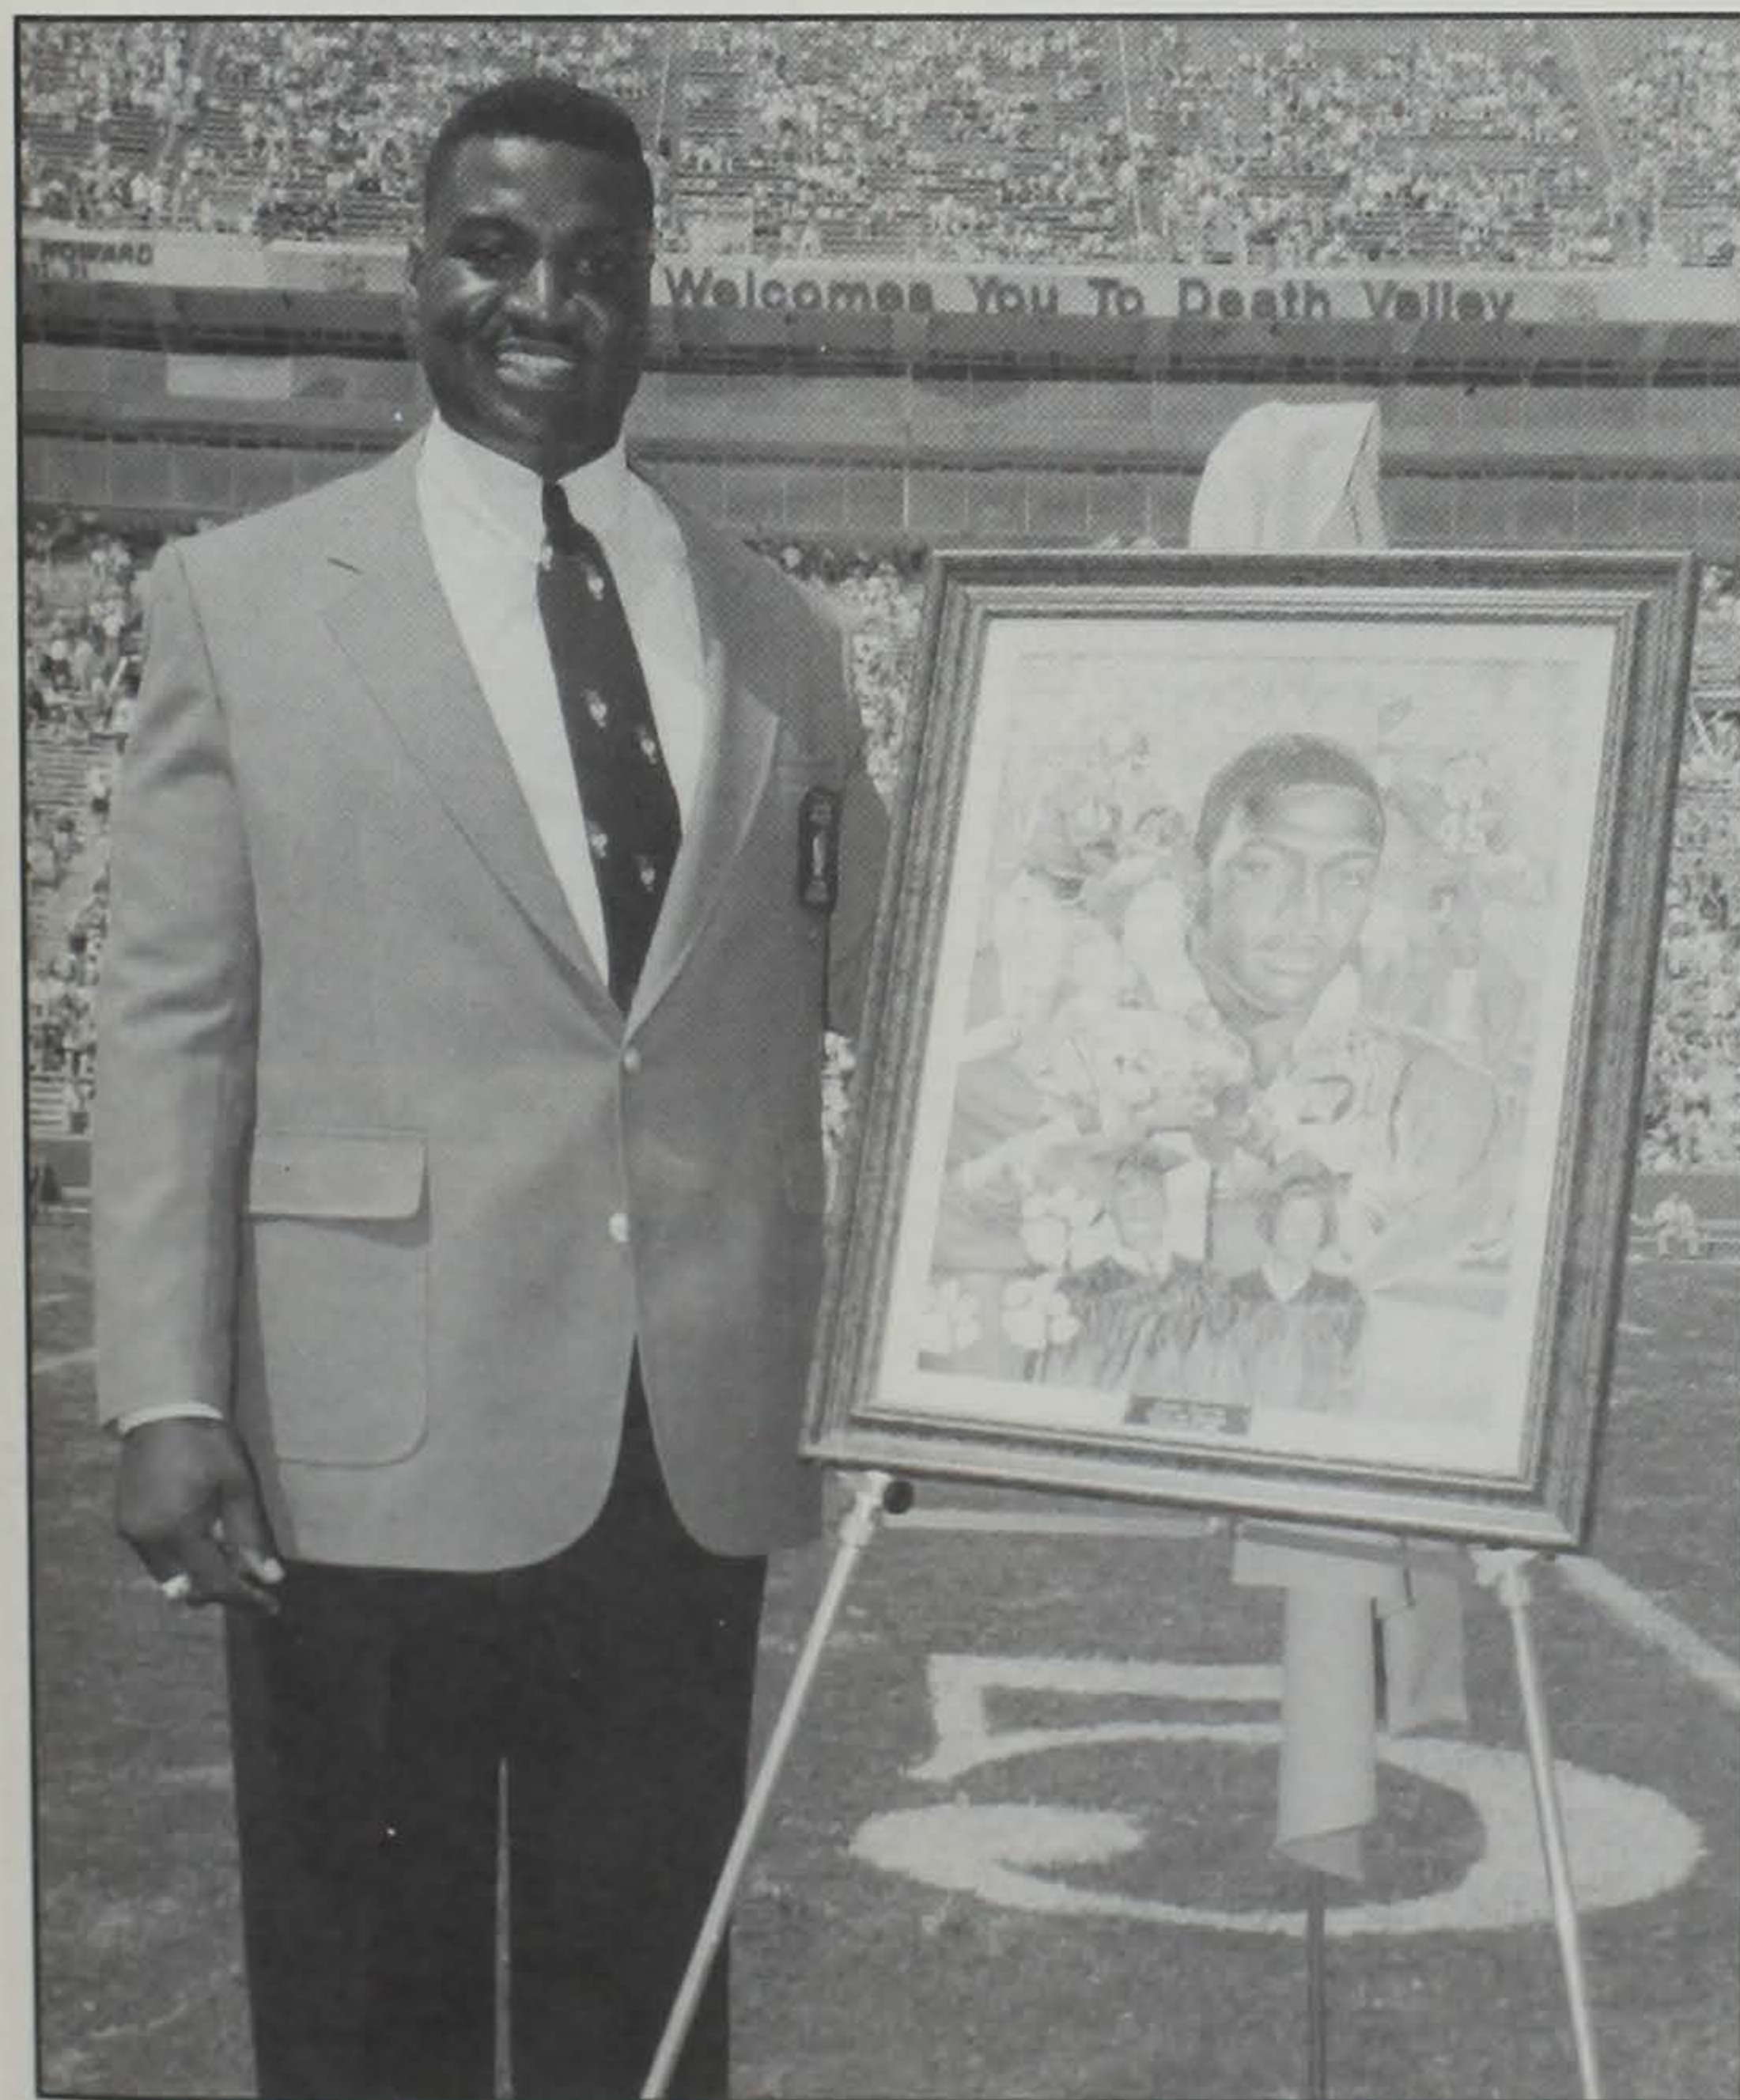

Perry Tuttle, Davis's roommate for four years and also an All-American on Clemson's 1981 National Championship team, recalls that season and Davis's passion for the game. "When we were in the room at night, he would talk about the defense and what it was going to do until I fell asleep," said Tuttle. "As the season went on we just started dreaming about what could happen with this team and as we went along everything started to come true."

Davis was a fifth-round draft choice of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1982, but proved the NFL scouts wrong by posting impressive numbers in a six-year NFL career. The inside linebacker played in 83 games, 72 as a starter between 1982-87. He led Tampa Bay in tackles three of the six years, including a career high 165 stops in 1984, and served as the team captain for four seasons. He still ranks third in Bucs history in career tackles with 662 and is fourth in caused fumbles with 11.

Davis has been just as successful in life after football. In addition to his employment as the used car manager of Reeves Import Motor Cars in Tampa, FL, he is also in his third year as pastor of Covenant Worship Church in Tampa. He and his wife Joni graduated from Clemson on the same day in 1984 and they are the parents of four daughters and twin boys, who were born in June 1995.

"One of my main goals in life is to touch the lives of other people and touch them in a positive way. Any time you receive an award like this it means you've been surrounded by great people. I want to thank all the people at Clemson, because no one receives an honor like this without help. I am proud to say I am a Clemson graduate and that I represented the University. Hopefully I have had as positive an impact on them as they have had on me."

Davis became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor during ceremonies prior to the 1995 Western Carolina game.

Six members of Clemson's 1981 National Champion team and five members of the Tigers 1940 Cotton Bowl Champions were selected to the Clemson Centennial Football team. The team was announced Saturday, April 6, 1996 by John Seketa, Coordinator of the school's Centennial Celebration of Football.

"We received a great response," said Seketa. "The fans took this seriously by reviewing Clemson's successful tradition of football and they have chosen an outstanding team. We decided to select a one-platoon team and a two-platoon team because we wanted to have a representation dating back many years. The team has 21 All-Americans. Everyone on this team made a significant contribution to the heritage of Clemson football."

Centennial Team ballots were first distributed at the 1995 Clemson vs. North Carolina game. They were also available through the Orange & White and at Coca Cola displays at area BiLo stores.

Of the 35 players chosen to the team, 21 were named All-American, including 19 of the 24 players on the two-Platoon team. Five of the selections were named ACC Player-of-the-Year.

The team continued its excellence at the professional level. Twenty-seven of the 35 honorees played, or are still playing in the NFL, including 21 who played at least five seasons. Six of the selections went on to become Super Bowl Champions, and 10 were either All-Pro or played in the Pro Bowl.

Eleven were first-round draft choices. Six are currently playing in the NFL. Brian Dawkins was the only 1995 Clemson player on the Centennial Team.

Seventeen of the 35 players came to Clemson from the state of South Carolina, while five are natives of North Carolina and five are natives of Georgia. Greensboro, NC (Joe Bostic, Jeff Bostic, Jeff Davis) and Sumter, SC (Terry Kinard, Wayne Mass, Dexter Davis) each sent three representatives to Clemson.

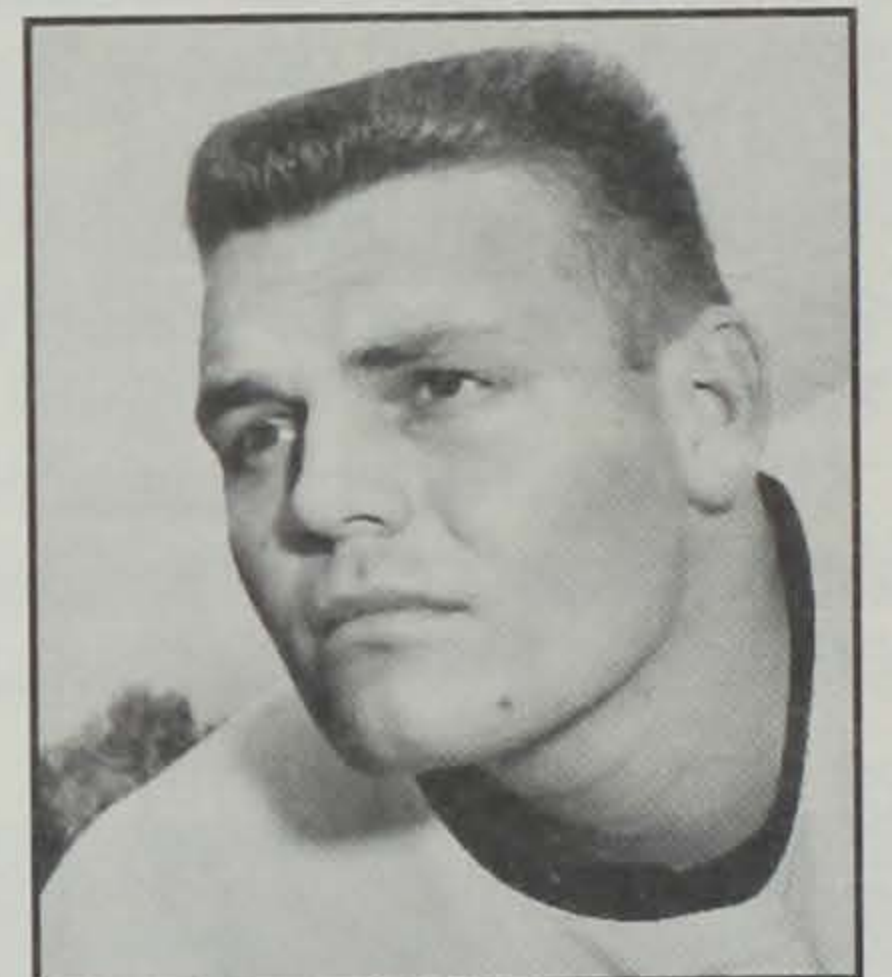

Four players off of Clemson's 1981 National Championship defense were named to the team. That list includes William Perry, Jeff Bryant, Jeff Davis, Terry Kinard. Wide receiver Perry Tuttle and punter Dale Hatcher were also Tiger National Champions chosen to the Centennial team.

Clemson's 1939 team that defeated Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, had five of the 11 players chosen to the One Platoon team. The group is led by All-American Banks McFadden, who was chosen as the quarterback/tailback and punter, the only player to make the team at two positions. McFadden, the nation's most versatile athlete in 1939 and the only athlete in Clemson history to be named an All-American in both football and basketball, was the top vote-getter on the Centennial team.

Runningback Charlie Timmons, who scored Clemson's only touchdown in that win over the Eagles, was also chosen. Two-time All-American Joe Blalock, center Bob Sharpe, and offensive lineman George Fritts were also Cotton Bowl Champions named to the One Platoon Centennial team.

Clemson's 1978 team actually had the most representation on the Centennial team. Ten players from that club, five on offense and five on defense, were chosen to the team. That list includes quarterback Steve Fuller, an All-American on the field and in the classroom, and his star wide receiver, Jerry Butler. The 1978 Tigers posted an 11-1 record and finished sixth in the final AP poll. They ended the season as ACC Champions and defeated Ohio State in the Gator Bowl, 17-15.

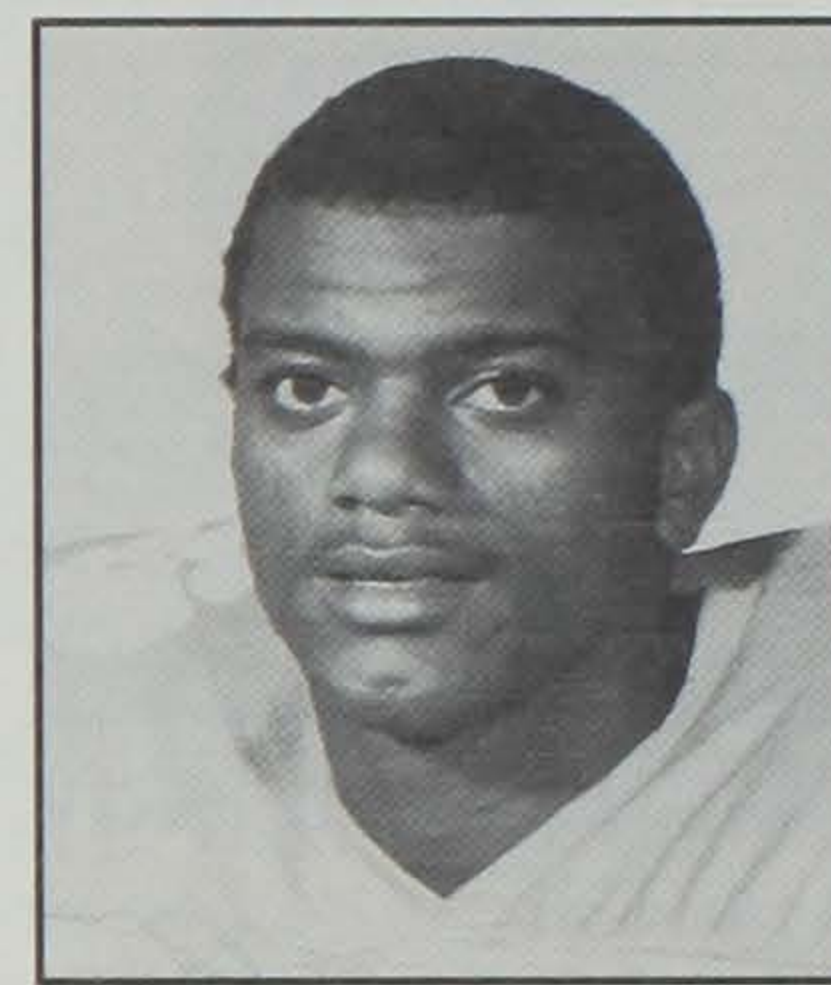

The two-platoon Centennial team features two sets of brothers. Jeff Bostic and Joe Bostic were both chosen to offensive line positions. Joe was a two-time All-America guard for Clemson in 1977 and 1978, while Jeff was an All-ACC performer on three Clemson bowl teams. Joe went on to play 10 years in the NFL, while Jeff played on three Super Bowl Championship teams with the Washington Redskins and played 14 years in the league.

The Perry Brothers, Michael Dean and William, were both chosen on the defensive line. They rank one-two in Clemson history in quarterback sacks, and were All-Americans at Clemson, Michael Dean in 1987 and William in 1982, 1983 and 1984. William remains the only three-time All-American in Clemson history. William was a finalist for the Lombardi Award in 1984 and Michael Dean was a finalist for the Outland Trophy in 1987.

The two-platoon team demonstrates the strength of Clemson's defense over the years. Nine of the 11 players chosen were named All-American at some point in their careers, including Terry Kinard, the only unanimous All-American in Clemson history and the 1982 National Defensive Player of the Year. The four players on the defensive line of the two-platoon Centennial Team, William Perry, Michael Dean Perry, Jim Stuckey and Jeff Bryant, all played at least eight years in the NFL.

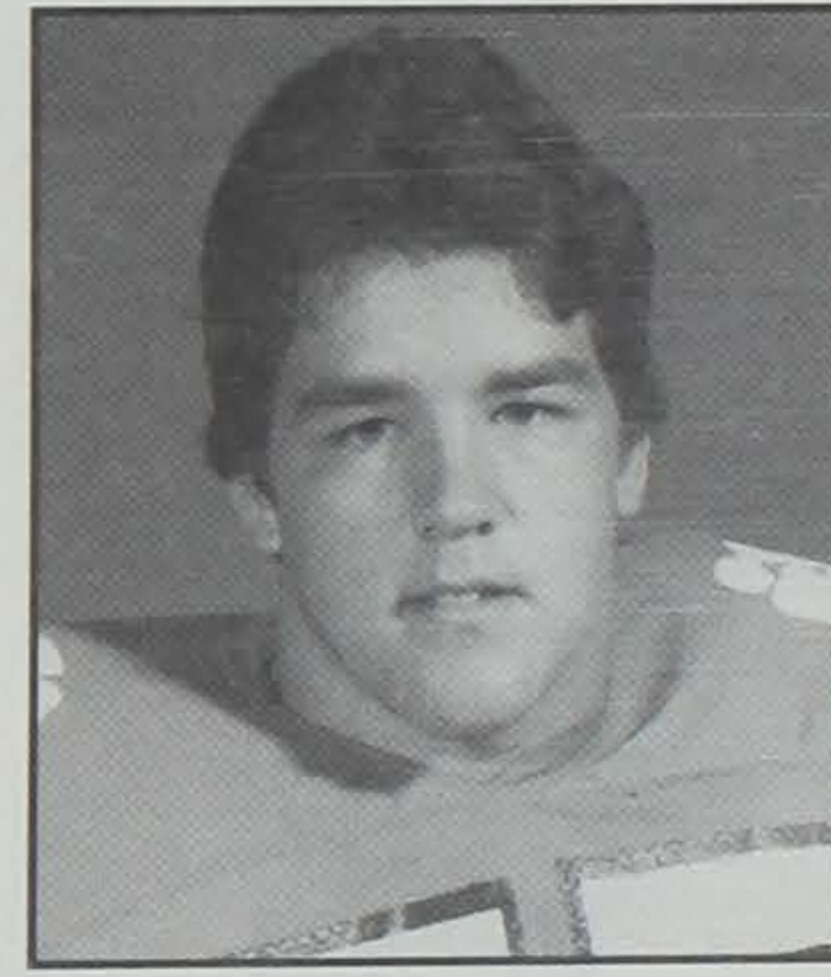

All three former players in the Clemson Ring of Honor were chosen to the team. That list includes McFadden, Fuller and Jeff Davis, the captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team who was a first-team All-American and ACC Player of the Year that season.

FORMER HEAD COACHES

Walter Riggs

WALTER RIGGS, 1896, 1899

Walter Riggs could easily be called the father of Clemson Football. He coached the football program at Clemson, not only because he had football experience, but he was also one of only two people on the Clemson campus to have ever seen a football game when the sport started in 1896. (The other person was Frank Thompkins who played in the backfield on Clemson's first team in 1896).

On September 30, 1896, a small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and the group discussed the feasibility of organizing a football association. A committee of three was appointed to consult Professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

When the Tigers traveled to Furman for their first game on October 28, 1896, it was the first time that many of the players had ever seen a full-sized regulation football field.

Riggs stepped down as football coach after the first season because the players wanted him to devote all of his time to being a professor in the engineering department.

Clemson athletics and Riggs, however, could not be split. Although not given the title, Riggs also was the equivalent of an athletic director, managing money and making contracts with other teams.

Riggs could easily be called a loyal man, as he answered the need of the Clemson football team again in 1899. The Clemson Athletic Association was low on money and could not afford to hire a coach. So Riggs once again answered the call of the school and became the coach of the 1899 team for free.

Riggs originally came to Clemson from Auburn. He graduated with top honors in 1892 with a B.S. degree in electrical and mechanical engineering. At Auburn, he was captain and catcher of the baseball team as well as the manager and left end of the football team. He also served as class president and was the director of the Glee Club.

Upon his graduation at Auburn, he was assistant to the president of the college until 1896, then he made his trek to Clemson.

Riggs later became president of Clemson on March 7, 1911 and in 1915, a new football stadium with other athletic facilities was named in his honor as Riggs Field. It is currently the home of the Tiger soccer team. In two years of coaching, Riggs guided the Tigers to a career record of 6-3 overall.

W. M. WILLIAMS, 1897

Clemson's second coach, W.M. Williams, was a native of West Point, GA. He played at Auburn on the teams of '94, '95, and '96, under the coaching of John Heisman. He was considered the best blocking halfback in the south.

Williams led Clemson to the state championship and to a 2-2 season. During his time as coach, Clemson played two games in a matter of three days. Clemson was victorious over the Charlotte Y on October 23, but lost to North Carolina 28-0, on October 25.

JOHN PENTON, 1898

The Tigers' third coach, J.A. Penton of Alabama, was captain and starting guard on the University of Virginia teams of '93, '94, and '95. Penton also played fullback at Auburn in '97 under Heisman's coaching. Under Penton, Clemson won 55-0 over Bingham in its first home game, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). In his only season at Clemson, Penton guided Clemson to a 3-1 record and the state championship.

JOHN HEISMAN, 1900-1903

Probably one of the most famous football coaches in America, John Heisman, coached at Clemson from 1900 to 1903. Heisman turned Clemson from virtually an unknown college to a southern powerhouse at the turn of the century.

Heisman attended Brown University, taking the two-year law course offered at that time, and was a center on the football team. In the fall of 1889, he transferred to the University of Pennsylvania. He lettered in football at both schools and graduated from Pennsylvania in 1893.

In the spring of 1894, Walter Riggs was a graduate manager for the football team at Auburn. It fell on his shoulders to find a coach for the season of 1895. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams, the Pennsylvania captain of 1894, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk about all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to go back to his old love and he readily went to coach at Auburn for $500.00 a year.

His coaching career began at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years. It included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

John Heisman invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, arguing that it would scatter the mob. Coach Heisman also originated the center snap and the word hike (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman guided Clemson to its first "bowl game" in 1903, when Clemson and Cumberland met on November 26, for the championship of the South. Cumberland, who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt, was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, Al. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. After the news got back to Clemson that the game ended in a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

Overall, Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons at Clemson. His .833 winning percentage is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach in 1901-1904.

SHACK SHEALY, 1904

Shack Shealy holds the distinction of being the only Clemson player to have coached his alma mater. Shealy lettered at Clemson in 1896, 97, 98, and 99 and later played two years at Iowa State. Shealy was a four-year starter playing right guard, end, and in his senior year, he played in the backfield. Shealy only coached Clemson one year in 1904, and guided the Tigers to a 3-3-1 record overall, which included wins over Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee.

John Heisman

ED COCHEMS, 1905

Ed Cochems lettered at the University of Wisconsin in 1899, 1900, and 1901. Cochems was described as a great half-back or end on the strong Wisconsin teams at the turn of the century, including the undefeated team of 1901. During his playing career, he had a 100-yard kickoff return in a 35-0 win over Chicago in 1901, and had four touchdowns in a game against Notre Dame in 1900. After his playing days, he immediately went into coaching. He was the head coach of North Dakota in 1902 and 1903 and served briefly as an assistant with former teammate, Art Curtis at Wisconsin in 1904.

Cochems led Clemson to a 3-2-1 record overall, including wins over Georgia and Auburn. After his Clemson career, he was head coach and athletic director at St. Louis University in 1906. After the forward pass was legalized in 1906, Cochems did something with the pass at once in his first year at St. Louis, while other coaches stuck with the running game. He taught his players not to throw the ball end-over-end, but instead like a projectile - a spiral. He called this new weapon a projectile pass.

Eddie Cochems

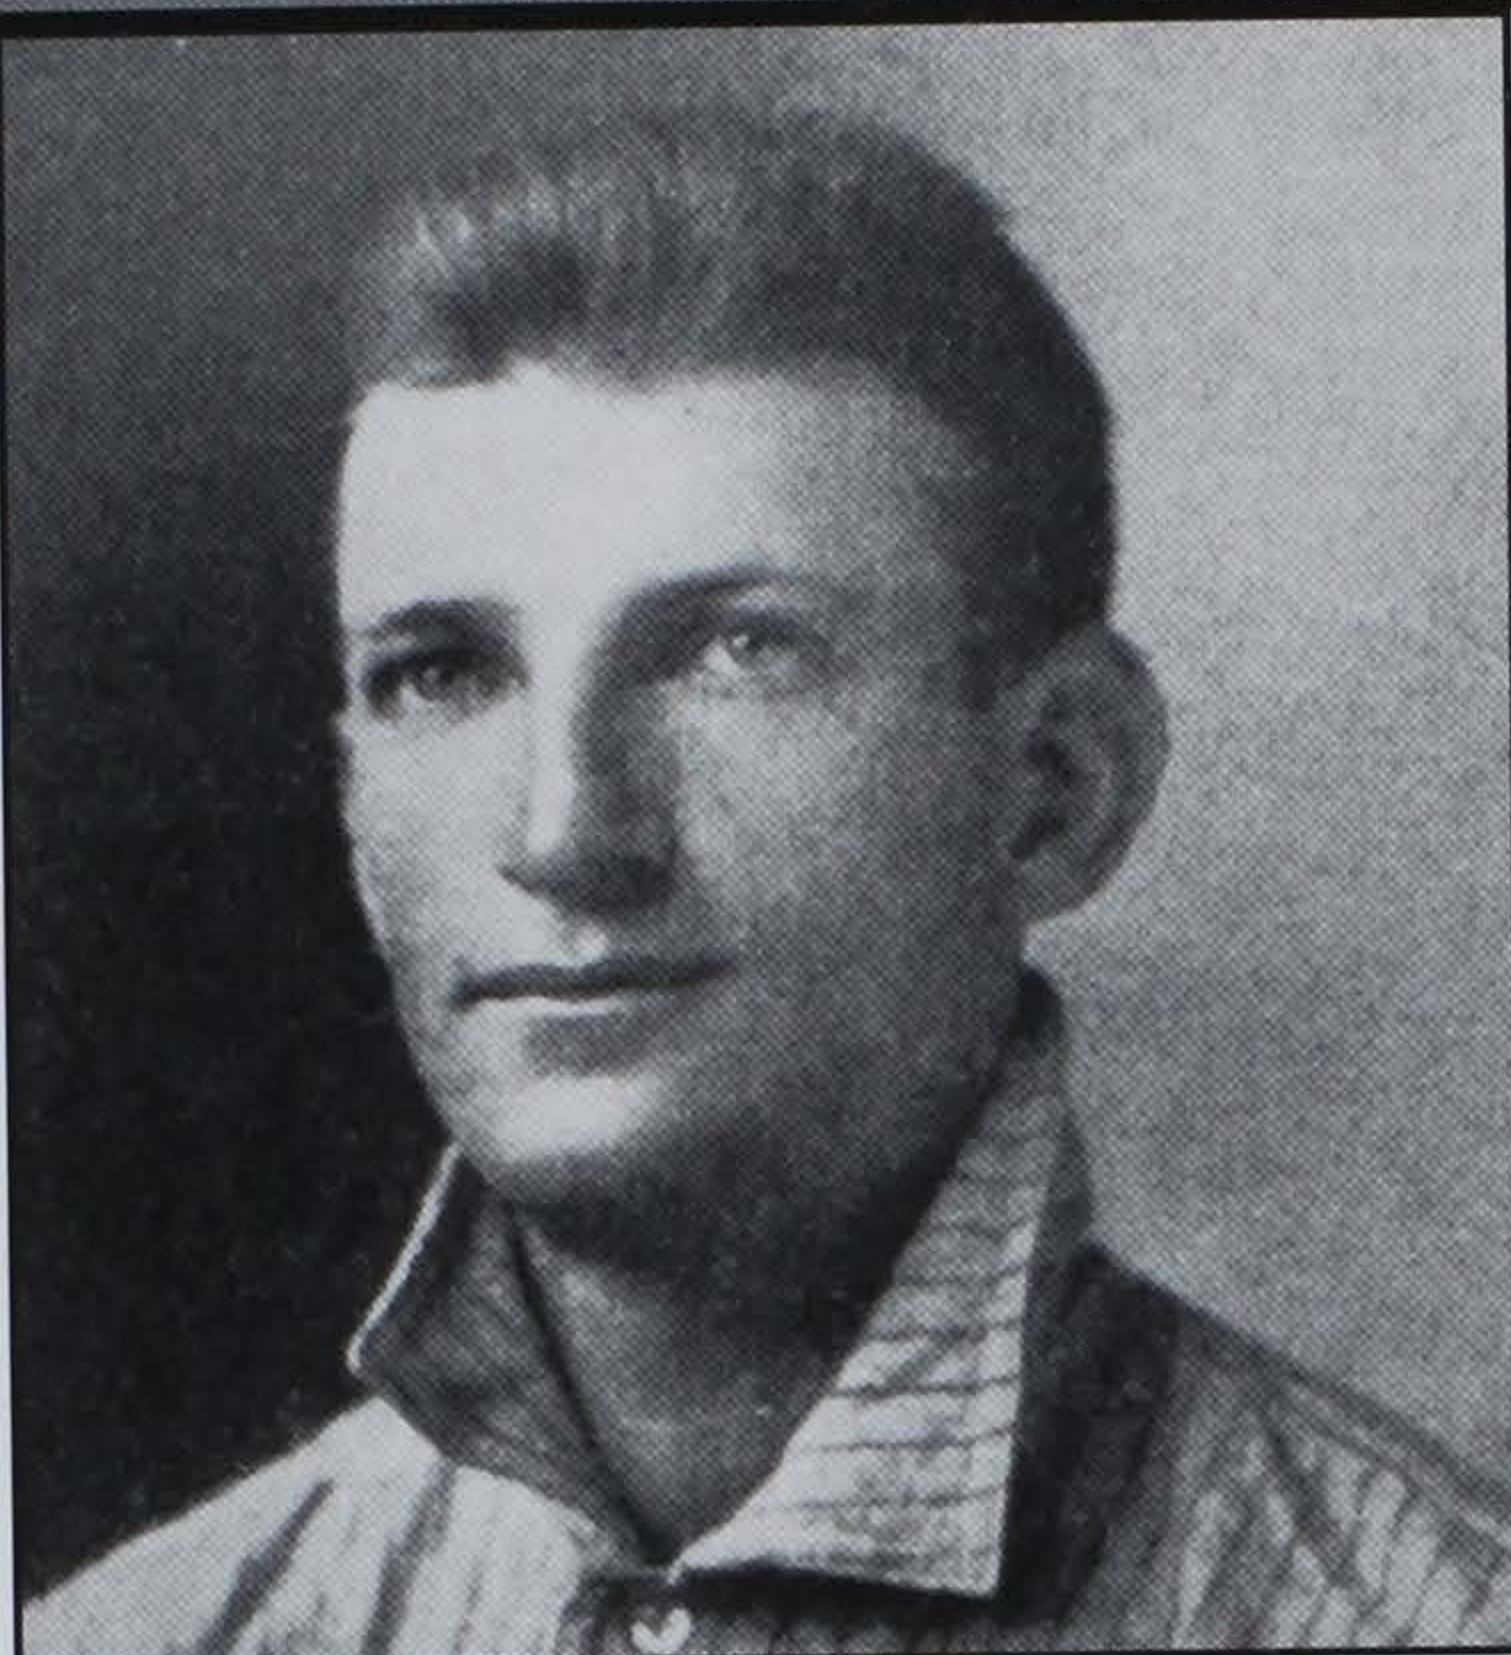

In 1906, St. Louis went undefeated rolling up 407 points while allowing its opponents only 11.

Historians credit Cochems as being the first coach to use and perfect the first legal pass in a game. The first studied refinements in throwing the ball, which led to the spiral, occurred in 1906 under Cochems. Brad Robinson of St. Louis University threw the first forward pass to Jack Schneider in a game played Sept. 5, 1906 in Waukensha against Carroll College.

BOB WILLIAMS, 1906, 1909, 1913-1915

Bob Williams is probably the only coach in the country to have coached football at two schools that are involved in rivalry. Williams coached football at both Clemson and South Carolina. Before coming to Clemson, he coached at Davidson in 1905. He coached at South Carolina for two years and guided the Gamecocks to a 6-1 record in 1902 and an 8-2 slate in 1903.

During his South Carolina career, he administered the most unexpected defeat of Clemson, as he beat a heavily favored John Heisman team, 12-6 in 1902.

Williams served the Tigers as head coach a total of three terms 1906, 1909, and 1913-15. Between the years of 1915 and 1926, Williams practiced law in Roanoke, VA, and was the city's mayor.

One of the highlights of his Clemson career included leading the 1906 Tigers to an undefeated season (4-0-3), which included wins over Georgia, Auburn, Tennessee, and a Heisman-coached Georgia Tech team.

FRANK SHAUGHNESSY, 1907

Frank Shaughnessy was known for his ability as an administrator in sports as he served many positions, from a professional hockey coach to the commissioner of the International Baseball (Triple A) League.

A graduate in law at Notre Dame, he was captain of the baseball and football teams his junior and senior seasons. After his graduation in 1905, he coached baseball at Notre Dame. The summer before coming to Clemson he played for Ottawa of the Eastern League. That summer, he played left field and had a .352 batting average. He also played with Washington and the Philadelphia A's.

At Clemson he coached the baseball teams in 1907 and 1908, and was head football mentor in 1907, posting a 4-4 record.

During his lifetime, Shaughnessy made his name in baseball, but he took part in many other sports. Besides being a sports legend at Notre Dame, he managed the Ottawa Senators of a professional hockey league and coached football teams at Clemson, Washington and Lee and McGill University. He retired as the president of the International Baseball league.

During his football playing days, in a game against Kansas, Shaughnessy raced 107 yards for the only Irish touchdown as Kansas won, 24-5. Football fields were 110 yards back then and touchdowns were five points. This is still a Notre Dame record.

Bob Williams

JOHN STONE, 1908

John Stone is one of three coaches to have graduated from Vanderbilt and later become a Clemson head football coach. At Vanderbilt, he was a member of the All-Southern Football team for four seasons. He was a big man for his time, standing 6'2". Clemson was 1-6 in 1908, but the Tigers lost many of their star players and substitutes from 1907 due to a college prank that saw as many as 306 students expelled from school.

FRANK DOBSON, 1910-12

Frank Dobson was a professional baseball player before coming to Clemson as he was the property of the Pittsburgh Nationals. Walter Riggs, President of the Clemson Athletic Association, thought it was unfair to keep shuffling coaches year after year. Riggs offered Dobson a three-year contract, which was the first contract offered and signed by a Clemson coach.

At Clemson, he coached football, basketball and baseball. He was Clemson's first basketball coach, leading Clemson to its only undefeated season in history in the inaugural season 1911-12, (4-0). In 1912-13, Clemson finished the basketball season with a 9-5 record. He was head baseball coach in 1911-1913.

WAYNE HART, 1916

Wayne Hart coached Clemson in 1916 and led Clemson to a 3-6 finish. Under Hart, the Tigers defeated state rivals Furman and South Carolina.

Hart played three years at tackle for Georgetown. He also played one year at George Washington. He was a member of the All-South Atlantic team for four years. He was also an assistant coach at Georgetown. In 1913, he coached the Washington Vigilants, a professional football team, and did not lose a game. The last two seasons before arriving at Clemson, he coached various sports at Technical High School in Washington, D. C.

EDWARD DONAHUE, 1917-20

Edward Donahue had to be one of the most organized men in the country. During the 1918-19 school year, Donahue was head coach of four Clemson sports: football, basketball, baseball, and track. During his four-year career at Clemson, he was basketball and baseball coach for two seasons, and head track coach for one season.

Donahue was an outstanding athlete at Washington and Lee as he played in the backfield on the football team and played catcher on the baseball team. Upon graduation, Donahue was an assistant coach in football and was the head coach in baseball and basketball.

E. J. STEWART, 1921-22

E. J. Stewart was head football coach for two years at Clemson, 1921-22. However, he coached more than one sport during his stay at Tigertown. In the spring of 1921, Stewart coached the baseball and track teams while conducting spring football practice. In the fall, Stewart's football team went 1-6-2, but he improved to a 5-4 slate in 1922. He went on to coach the track teams in 1922 and 1923.

Stewart played football, baseball, basketball and ran track at Western Reserve University in Ohio. Upon his graduation, he played, organized and served as head coach in Ohio of the Massillon, Ohio Professional football team.

He also coached at Nebraska and the University of Texas. At Nebraska, he led the Cornhuskers to a combined record of 11-4 in 1916-1917. They also won the Missouri Valley Conference title both seasons. After leaving the University of Nebraska, he entered the automobile business as President and Treasurer of the Stewart Motor Co. Because of the economic conditions at the time, he decided to go back into coaching.

BUD SAUNDERS, 1923-26

Bud Saunders graduated from Missouri in 1911, with a bachelors degree in Law. At Missouri, he played football and basketball. He wanted to play two other sports, but a conference rule at the time forbid an athlete from participating in more than two sports.

Saunders was football coach at Knox College before coming to Clemson. In football, Saunders coached for four seasons, 1923-1926. He also coached the basketball teams in 1924 and 1925. His best season in football came in 1923, as he led the Tigers to a 5-2-1 slate.

JOSH CODY, 1927-1930

Josh Cody, fondly known as "big man," will always be a favorite to Clemson fans. Cody, a big man in stature at 6-2, 220 pounds, led Clemson to victories over South Carolina for four straight years. He is the only coach in Clemson history who has been around more than two years who never lost a football game to South Carolina. He also defeated Furman three straight years. Cody had a 13-0-1 record in home games and had a 72 percent winning mark overall, fourth best in Clemson history.

After a 5-3-1 start in 1927, Cody guided Clemson to two 8-3 seasons in 1928 and 1929. On May 6, 1929, to show appreciation to Cody, he was presented with a new buick by the alumni, student body and faculty. This presentation took place in front of Tillman Hall.

In his final season, 1930, the Tigers finished with an 8-2 record. Cody also coached basketball at Clemson for five years and guided Clemson to a 16-9 slate in 1930. During the 1928-30 seasons, he guided Clemson to a 22-4 mark at home.

JESS NEELY, 1931-39

Clemson played in its first bowl game under Jess Neely in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The Tigers, unknown at the time, became a household word after beating heavily-favored Boston College 6-3 in the Cotton Bowl Classic. Neely came to Clemson in 1931 and his recruitment of Banks McFadden brought Clemson to another level of competition. In 1938, Neely had Clemson at second place in the Southern Conference with a 7-1-1 record. In 1939, Banks McFadden became Clemson's first All-American, and the team concluded the season with a trip to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl. Neely left Clemson that spring and moved on to Rice, where he took that school to new heights. Neely is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

FRANK HOWARD, 1940-69

Frank Howard succeeded Jess Neely in 1940 when Neely moved on to Rice. Howard got the job when he seconded his own nomination during a meeting of the president and athletic council. Howard signed a one-year contract, then lost the document, and never had another in his 30 years as head coach.

Howard graduated from Alabama in 1931 where he was a football star lineman. He played in the 1930 Rose Bowl, then started his coaching career under Neely at Clemson in 1931, and was a part of a rebirth of Clemson football in the late 1930s. He was an assistant coach on Clemson's 1939 team that posted a 9-1 mark and beat Boston College 6-3 in the Tigers' first bowl game.

In 1940, he began his head coaching career with a bang as he won the Southern Conference championship, the first of eight conference titles Howard won in his coaching career.

Howard had his most successful season in 1948 when he took Clemson to an 11-0 record, the Tigers' first perfect season since 1900. The campaign included a Southern Conference championship, a Gator Bowl win over Missouri, and a number-11 final ranking. He nearly duplicated the feat in 1950 when he guided Clemson to a number-10 AP final ranking, a 9-0-1 finish and a 15-14 win over Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl.

When he retired in 1969, Howard was the fifth winningest coach in the nation with 165 victories. He had 96 wins as an ACC coach, now second in conference history, and he captured six (five outright and one co-championship) ACC titles, more than any other coach. His teams appeared in six bowl games, 63 of his players were drafted by the NFL and 37 played in the league.

Howard, a native of Barlow Bend, AL, had six Top 20 seasons, won eight conference titles (two Southern and six ACC), won an even 100 conference games and was a two-time ACC Coach-of-the-Year. He coached 25 academic All-ACC selections and five Academic All-Americans. Eleven of his players were chosen on-the-field All-Americans. Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

HOOTIE INGRAM, 1970-1972

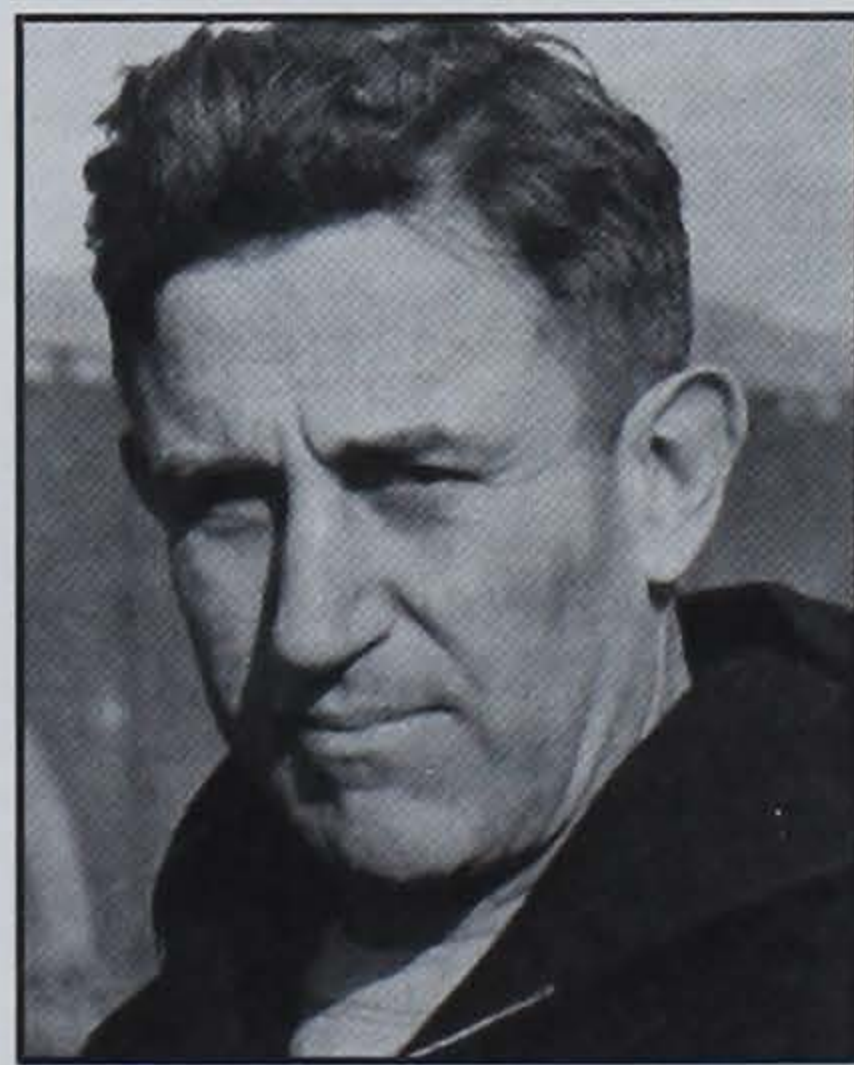

Hootie Ingram will be best remembered as the coach who made the Tiger Paw famous. Before his first year as head coach in the summer of 1970, Clemson introduced the Tiger Paw as the official logo of Clemson University's Athletic Ingram graduated from the University of Alabama in 1955. He also received his master's in school administration from Alabama and later became athletic director for the Crimson Tide program.

The native of Tuscaloosa, AL was an All-Southeastern Conference defensive back for the Crimson Tide his senior year.

Ingram had his best year at Clemson during the 1971 campaign with a 5-6 overall record. He also finished second in the ACC with a 4-2 league mark in 1971.

RED PARKER, 1973-76

Red Parker coached at Clemson for four years. His 1974 team lived up to the theme "Excitement Galore, Clemson Football '74." It finished the season with a 7-4 record (6-0 at home), with wins over Georgia, Georgia Tech and South Carolina.

Before arriving at Clemson, Red Parker spent seven years at The Citadel from 1966 through 1972. During this time, he guided the Bulldogs to a fine 8-3 finish in 1971.

Parker earned a BA degree in Physical Education from Arkansas A&M in 1953. Prior to his graduation, he earned three letters each in football, basketball and track, as a running back-defensive back, second baseman-shortstop, and sprinter.

CHARLEY PELL, 1977-78

Charley Pell authored college football's Cinderella story in 1977.

The Albertville, AL product took a Clemson team that was 3-6-2 in 1976, and led the '77 Tigers to a sparkling 8-2-1 regular season mark and a berth in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's first final Top 20 season since 1959. He coached Clemson to a 10-1 regular season in 1978 before he left to become head coach at Florida. Clemson's 1978 team beat Ohio State in the Gator Bowl and finished sixth in the final AP poll in only his second year as head coach of Clemson.

He was a near unanimous choice as ACC Coach-of-the-Year in 1977 and 1978, the first coach, regardless of sport, to win ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors in each of his first two years. A two-way starter and three-year letterwinner at Alabama, Pell was a member of the Crimson Tide's 1961 National Championship team.

He came to Clemson in 1976 and served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator that year.

DANNY FORD, 1979-89

Danny Ford had an auspicious beginning to his head coaching career. He gained a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the 1978 Gator Bowl in a game shown on national television. The 30-year-old coach, youngest in Division I at the time, also defeated a college football legend in a contest that truly put Clemson football on the map as he beat Woody Hayes in the latter's last game. Ford had taken over the coaching reigns on December 10, 1978 when Charley Pell resigned to become head coach at Florida.

Ford kept things going in 1979 with wins over Georgia and Notre Dame and another trip to a bowl, this time the Peach Bowl. In 1981, he helped Clemson reach the summit of college football by winning the National Championship. His Tigers downed three top 10 teams during the course of the 12-0 season that concluded with a 22-15 victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl. Ford was named National Coach-of-the-Year.

The victories continued in 1982 and 1983 as Clemson had consecutive 9-1-1 seasons. The Tigers finished in the top 12 in both seasons, and thus had a 30-2-2 record over a three-year period, best in the nation.

Clemson won three straight ACC titles under his guidance between 1986 and 1988. In 1989, Clemson registered a 10-2 season and top 12 national ranking, the fourth straight season Clemson finished in the final AP top 20. He closed his career with a 27-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl, his sixth bowl win in eight tries and his fourth in succession.

Ford was the third winningest active coach in the nation on a percentage basis at the end of the 1989 season. He finished with a 96-29-4 career ledger at Clemson and remains one of only two coaches in ACC history with over a 70 percent winning mark (min. four years). He finished with a 76 percent winning percentage and five ACC titles, second only to Frank Howard's six crowns.

The 1969 Alabama graduate is still the youngest coach to win the national title, as he was just 33-years-old when the Tigers shocked the college football world in 1981. He coached 71 first-team All ACC selections and 26 All-Americans. Forty-two of his former Tigers were drafted by the NFL, and he earned 18 wins over Associated Press top 20 teams during his career, more than any other ACC coach. Additionally, ten of his former players won Super Bowl Championship rings. At one stretch his teams were ranked in the AP top 20 for 41 consecutive polls, a Clemson record.

Ford was an All-SEC selection and was also an All-SEC Academic choice at Alabama. He attended Alabama initially on a basketball/football scholarship but played only football after his freshman year. He played in three bowl games for Alabama. He is now the head coach at Arkansas.

KEN HATFIELD, 1990-93

Ken Hatfield led the Tigers to a 32-13-1 record over his four year tenure, led the squad to three bowl appearances and an ACC Championship. With a victory over Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl, Hatfield became the first Clemson coach to win 10 games in his first year and his .833 winning percentage was the best for a first-year Clemson coach since 1900, when John Heisman was 6-0. That season included six wins over teams with winning records, more than any other team that year with the exception of National Champion Georgia Tech.

Hatfield was also just the eighth coach in the previous 13 years to take a team to a Top 10 AP final ranking in his first year with the program, as the Tigers finished the season ranked ninth in the AP poll. The Helena, AR, native would also lead the 1991 and 1993 teams to top 25-rankings. Clemson became the third school that Hatfield had coached to a Top-20 ranking, as his 1983 Air Force team ranked 15th and he led four Arkansas teams to top-20 rankings. Only six coaches in NCAA history have accomplished that feat.

Arkansas won back-to-back conference championships in 1988 and 1989 under Hatfield's guidance. He was named the Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Decade by the Houston Post.

Hatfield played for three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and was a starter on the National Championship team of 1964. A defensive back, he earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He still ranks as the only college football player ever to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight seasons, as he finished second nationally in 1962. He is now the head coach at Rice University.

QUARTERBACK SACKS
Year	No.	Yds	PG
1992	46	278	4.2

*-Tied for championship; $ - Stat Championship based on efficiency.

Consecutive Games Played:

48 by Rodney Williams (1985-88), Mark Drag (1985-88), Jeff Bak (1985-88), Otis Moore (1986-89), Stacy Fields (1987-90), Jerome Henderson (1987-90), John Johnson (1987-90), Jeb Flesch (1988-91), Levon Kirkland (1988-91), Ed McDaniel (1988-91).

Consecutive Games Started:

46 by Nelson Welch, PK, 1991-94

Note: Welch never missed a start at placekicker and also started as a punter in 29 games in his career.

Consecutive Starts by Non-kicker:

45 by Jeb Flesch, OG, 1988-91

Note: Flesch did not start the first three games of 1988, then started the last 45 games of his career.

Consecutive Starts by a Quarterback:

32 by Tommy Kendrick, 1969-71

Consecutive 100-yard Rushing Games:

5 by Kenny Flowers, 1985

Note: Streak covered last five games of 1985 season and included career high 148 yards against Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. But, that bowl game was Flowers's last 100-yard game, as he never reached the 100-yard mark as a senior.

Consecutive 100-yard Receiving Games:

3 by Charlie Waters, 1969

Note: Streak covered first three games of Waters senior year.

Consecutive 200-yard Passing Games:

2 by DeChane Cameron, 1991; 2 by Patrick Sapp, 1992; 2 by Tommy Kendrick, 1970; 2 by Nealon Greene, 1995.

Consecutive Games Scoring a Point:

35 by David Treadwell, 1985-87

Note: Treadwell scored in every game he played in his career. He missed the 1987 N.C. State game however, as Clemson did not attempt a kicking extra point, nor a field goal in that bizarre 30-28 game.

Consecutive Games Scoring a Touchdown:

9 by Lester Brown, 1978; 9 by Terry Allen, 1988-89

Note: Brown's streak was stopped by Ohio State in the Gator Bowl.

Charlie Waters made his name as a defensive back in the NFL, but he holds the Clemson record for consecutive 100-yard receiving games at Clemson. Above, he accepts his Clemson Hall of Fame gifts from Bill McLellan.

Consecutive Games Catching a TD Pass:

4 by K.D. Dunn, 1983

Note: Ironical that a tight end holds this record, because Clemson has historically not been a team that throws to the tight end.

Consecutive Games Throwing a Touchdown Pass:

6 by Mike Eppley, 1984

Note: Even though Dunn's streak took place in 1983, Eppley's TD pass streak was in 1984.

Consecutive Passes without an Interception:

122 by Rodney Williams, 1988

Consecutive Passes without an Interception at Start of a Career:

92 by Nealon Greene, 1994

Note: Greene did not throw an interception until the South Carolina game that year. In fact, that was the only turnover Clemson had with Greene under center all year.

Consecutive Completions:

9 by Steve Fuller vs. The Citadel, 1978

Note: Fuller was a perfect 9-9 for the game before going to the bench early in the third period in a 58-3 Clemson victory.

Consecutive Games Completing a Pass:

46 by Rodney Williams, 1985-88

Consecutive Games 200 Yards Total Offense:

3 by Patrick Sapp, 1992

Note: This might be the most unusual streak of all. Clemson's 1995 starting outside linebacker and number-50 pick of the NFL draft did something Steve Fuller, Homer Jordan, Rodney Williams, Mike Eppley or Bobby Gage never accomplished as a Clemson signal caller. Sapp's streak took place against Wake Forest (211), North Carolina (227) and Maryland (283).

Consecutive Games Catching a Pass:

35 by Jerry Butler, 1976-78

Note: Streak covered every game over his last three years.

Consecutive Plays Rushing the Ball:

8 by Stacy Driver vs. Wake Forest, 1983

Consecutive Games Sacking the Quarterback:

5 by Chester McGlockton, 1989-90

Consecutive Games Intercepting a Pass:

4 by Dexter Davis, 1990; 4 by Bobby Gage, 1948, 4 by Terry Kinard, 1980-81

Consecutive Double Figure Tackle Games:

19 by Jeff Davis, 1980-81

Consecutive Games with a Tackle:

48 by Levon Kirkland and Ed McDaniel, 1988-91

Note: Kirkland and McDaniel, both All-Americans in 1991, never missed making at least one tackle in a game. Ironically, each player had a career low one tackle in one game over their career.

Consecutive Extra Points:

72 by Chris Gardocki, 1988-90

Note: Gardocki was a perfect 72-72 on extra points in his career.

Consecutive games 40-yard punting Average:

12 by Dale Hatcher, 1983-84

Note: Hatcher had streak of 12 games in a row broken with a 39.6 average in his last game.

Consecutive Field Goals Made:

14 by Obed Ariri, 1980

Note: This was a national record at the time.

Consecutive Games Making a Field Goal:

15 by Obed Ariri, 1979-80

15 by Chris Gardocki, 1988-89

1940 COTTON BOWL

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season with just one loss to Tulane. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first first-team All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to BC's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up, 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned an Eagle punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Shad Bryant missed the extra point.

Later in the period, a 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

Stars of the Game

Charlie Timmons rushed for 115 of Clemson's 204 yards and scored the game's only touchdown. It is still the fourth highest rushing game in Clemson history in a bowl game.

Banks McFadden averaged 44 yards a punt on 11 punts and had four pass deflections from the secondary in another superb all-around performance in his All-America season.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11, but Bryant and McFadden each broke up two passes and Clemson took over on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 44-yard average on nine kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

Charlie Timmons rushed for 115 yards and the game's only touchdown in Clemson's first bowl appearance.

1949 GATOR BOWL

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shutout of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a ninth-place ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave the Tigers the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point after and Clemson led, 7-0.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After a kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger capped the 13-play march with a quarterback sneak from the two. Robertson Dawson added the seventh point.

Gage was intercepted on the next Clemson drive and Wilbur Volz returned the theft to the Missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied up at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos in the end zone. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched an 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. With fourth-and-10, Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

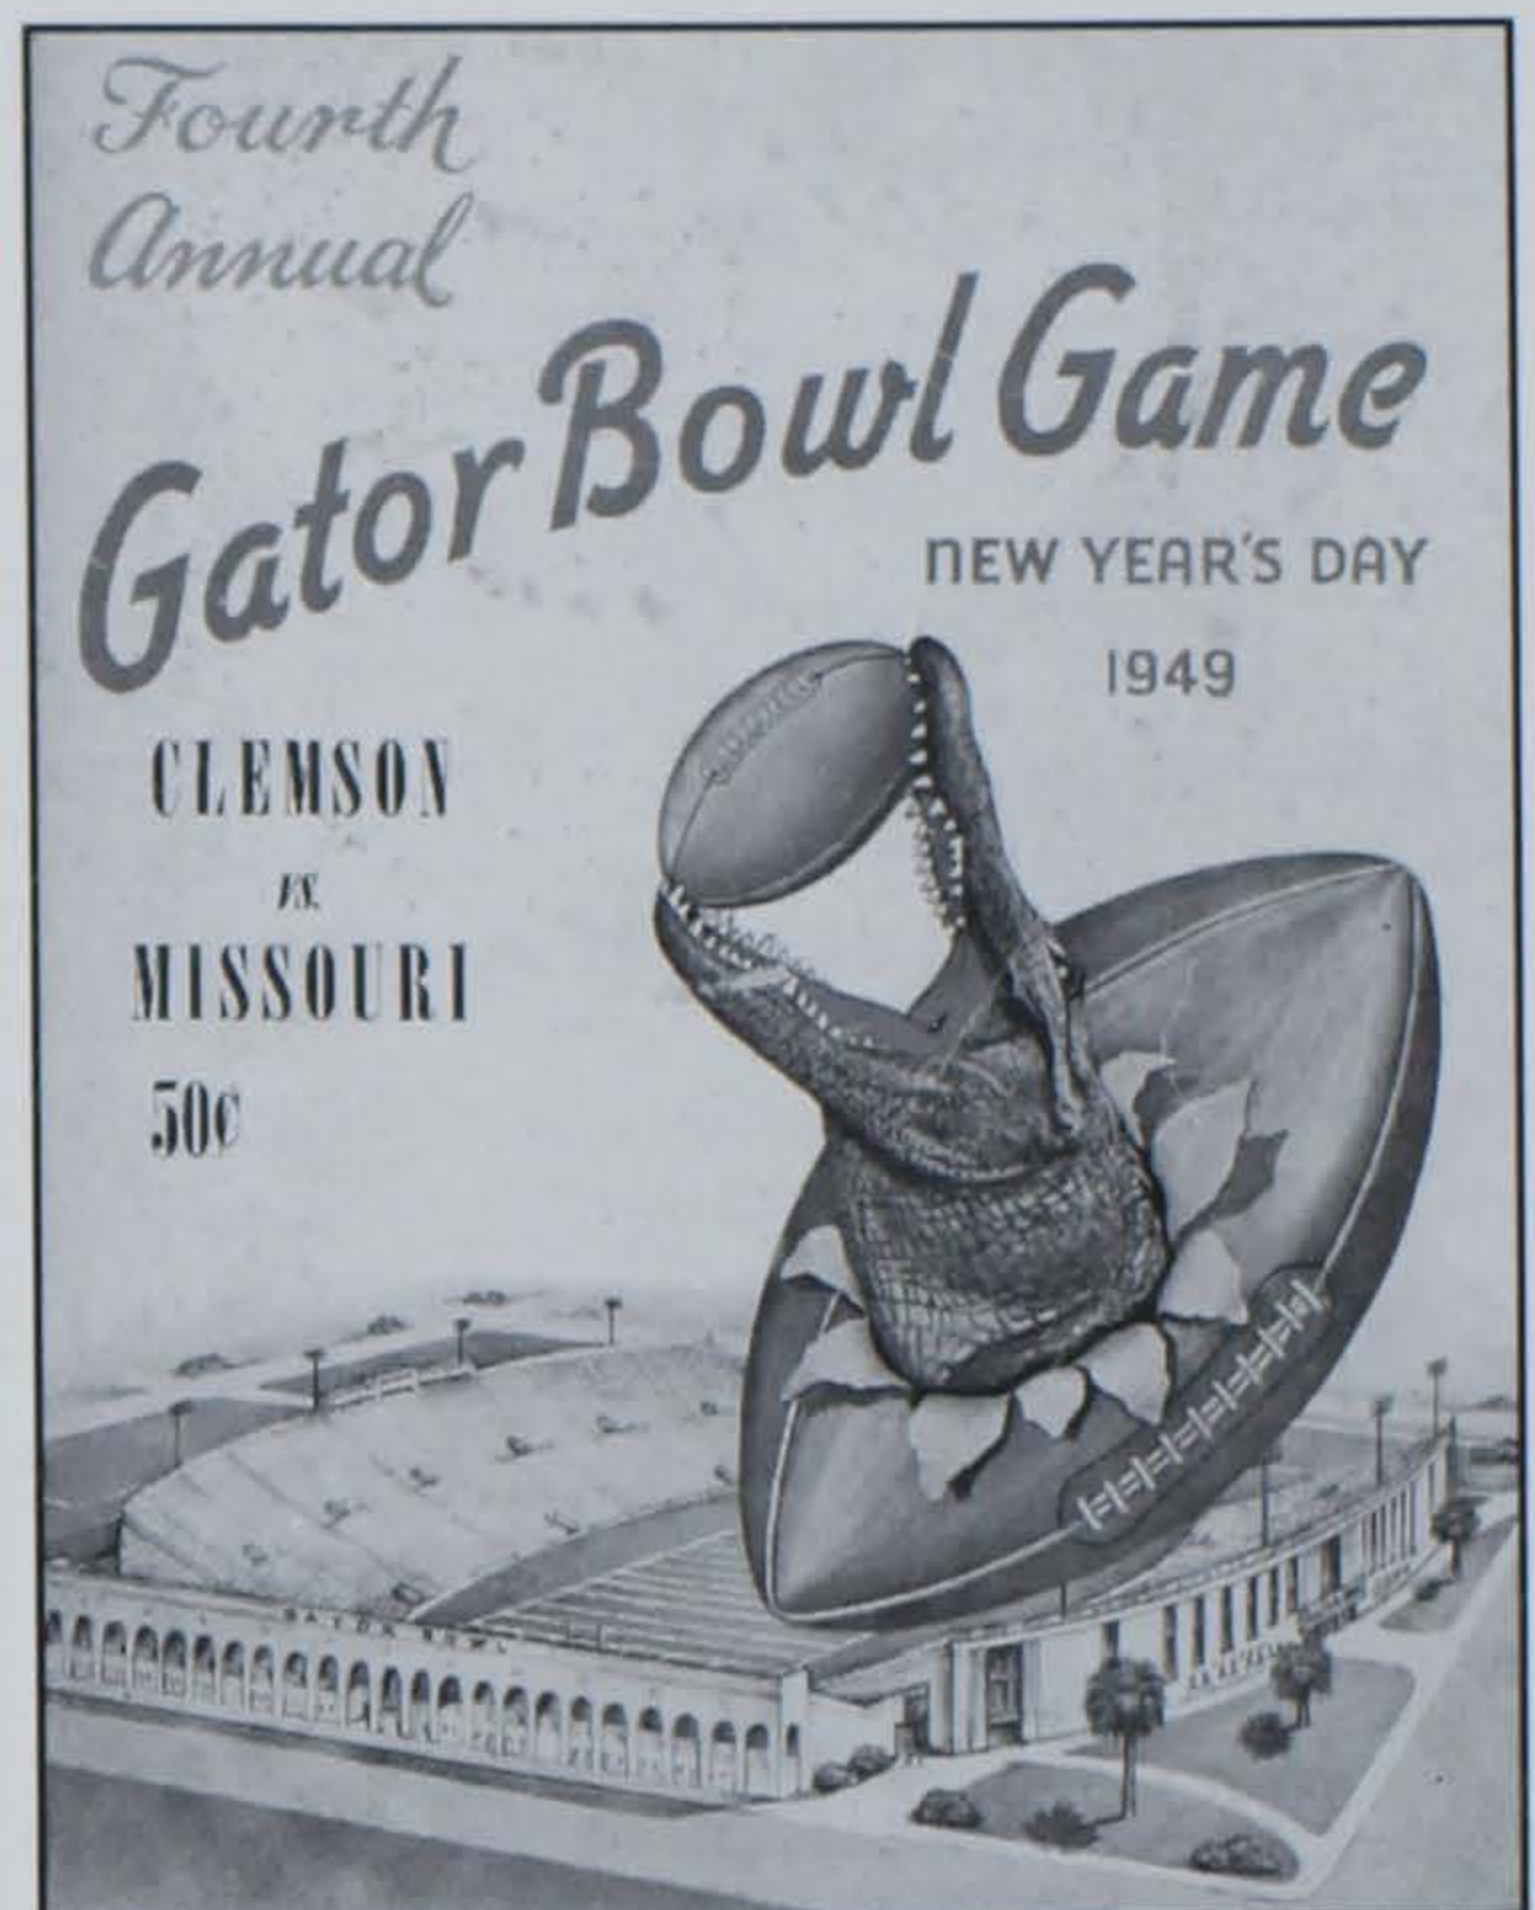

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, half-back Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. (Two-point conversions were not a part of the game yet). Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

Bobby Gage was named the game's MVP thanks to his outstanding quarterbacking and 137 yards in total offense. It was the culmination of a brilliant four-year career for Gage, who was an All-American that season.

Sophomore Fred Cone rushed for 72 yards and scored two touchdowns in the first half.

Jack Miller, with Jim Miller (no relation) holding, gave Clemson a 24-23 win over Missouri in the 1949 Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's only field goal of the season and gave the Tigers a perfect 11-0 record.

1951 ORANGE BOWL

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shutouts. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive on third down with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back," to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40, and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Sterling Smith made what is believed to be the most famous defensive play in Clemson history when he tackled Miami's Frank Smith for a safety with just a few minutes remaining.

second score. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time, 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions and one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitch-out from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. Don Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, his second of the game, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

Sterling Smith's tackle of Miami's Frank Smith made Clemson a winner in its third straight bowl victory.

Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game - a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led, 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios

Billy Hair had 72 yards in kickoff returns, 88 yards passing, and 35 yards rushing, but it was not enough against the Hurricanes, who won behind four interceptions by Jim Dooley, still a Clemson opponent record.

Tom Barton and Don Wade were standouts for the Clemson defense that limited Miami to but five first downs and 174 yards of total offense.

converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going, and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricanes did not gain another first down. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in four tries.

1957 ORANGE BOWL

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Stransky intercepted an errant Charlie Bussey pass at the Clemson 46 and returned it to the 10 to spark Colorado's second score. Boyd Dowler, who later starred with the Packers, scored from six yards out two plays later. Howard Cook added the conversion and Colorado led 14-0.

Colorado's Frank Clarke partially blocked Horace Turbeville's punt on the next Clemson drive and the Buffaloes recovered on the Clemson 26. Cook then went wide right and scored on the next play, but he missed the extra point.

Clemson came out of the locker room and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells's three-yard run. Bussey's

After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly series for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the ensuing onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt four plays later. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered for the Tigers at the 10. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball over from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20, with 11:22 to go.

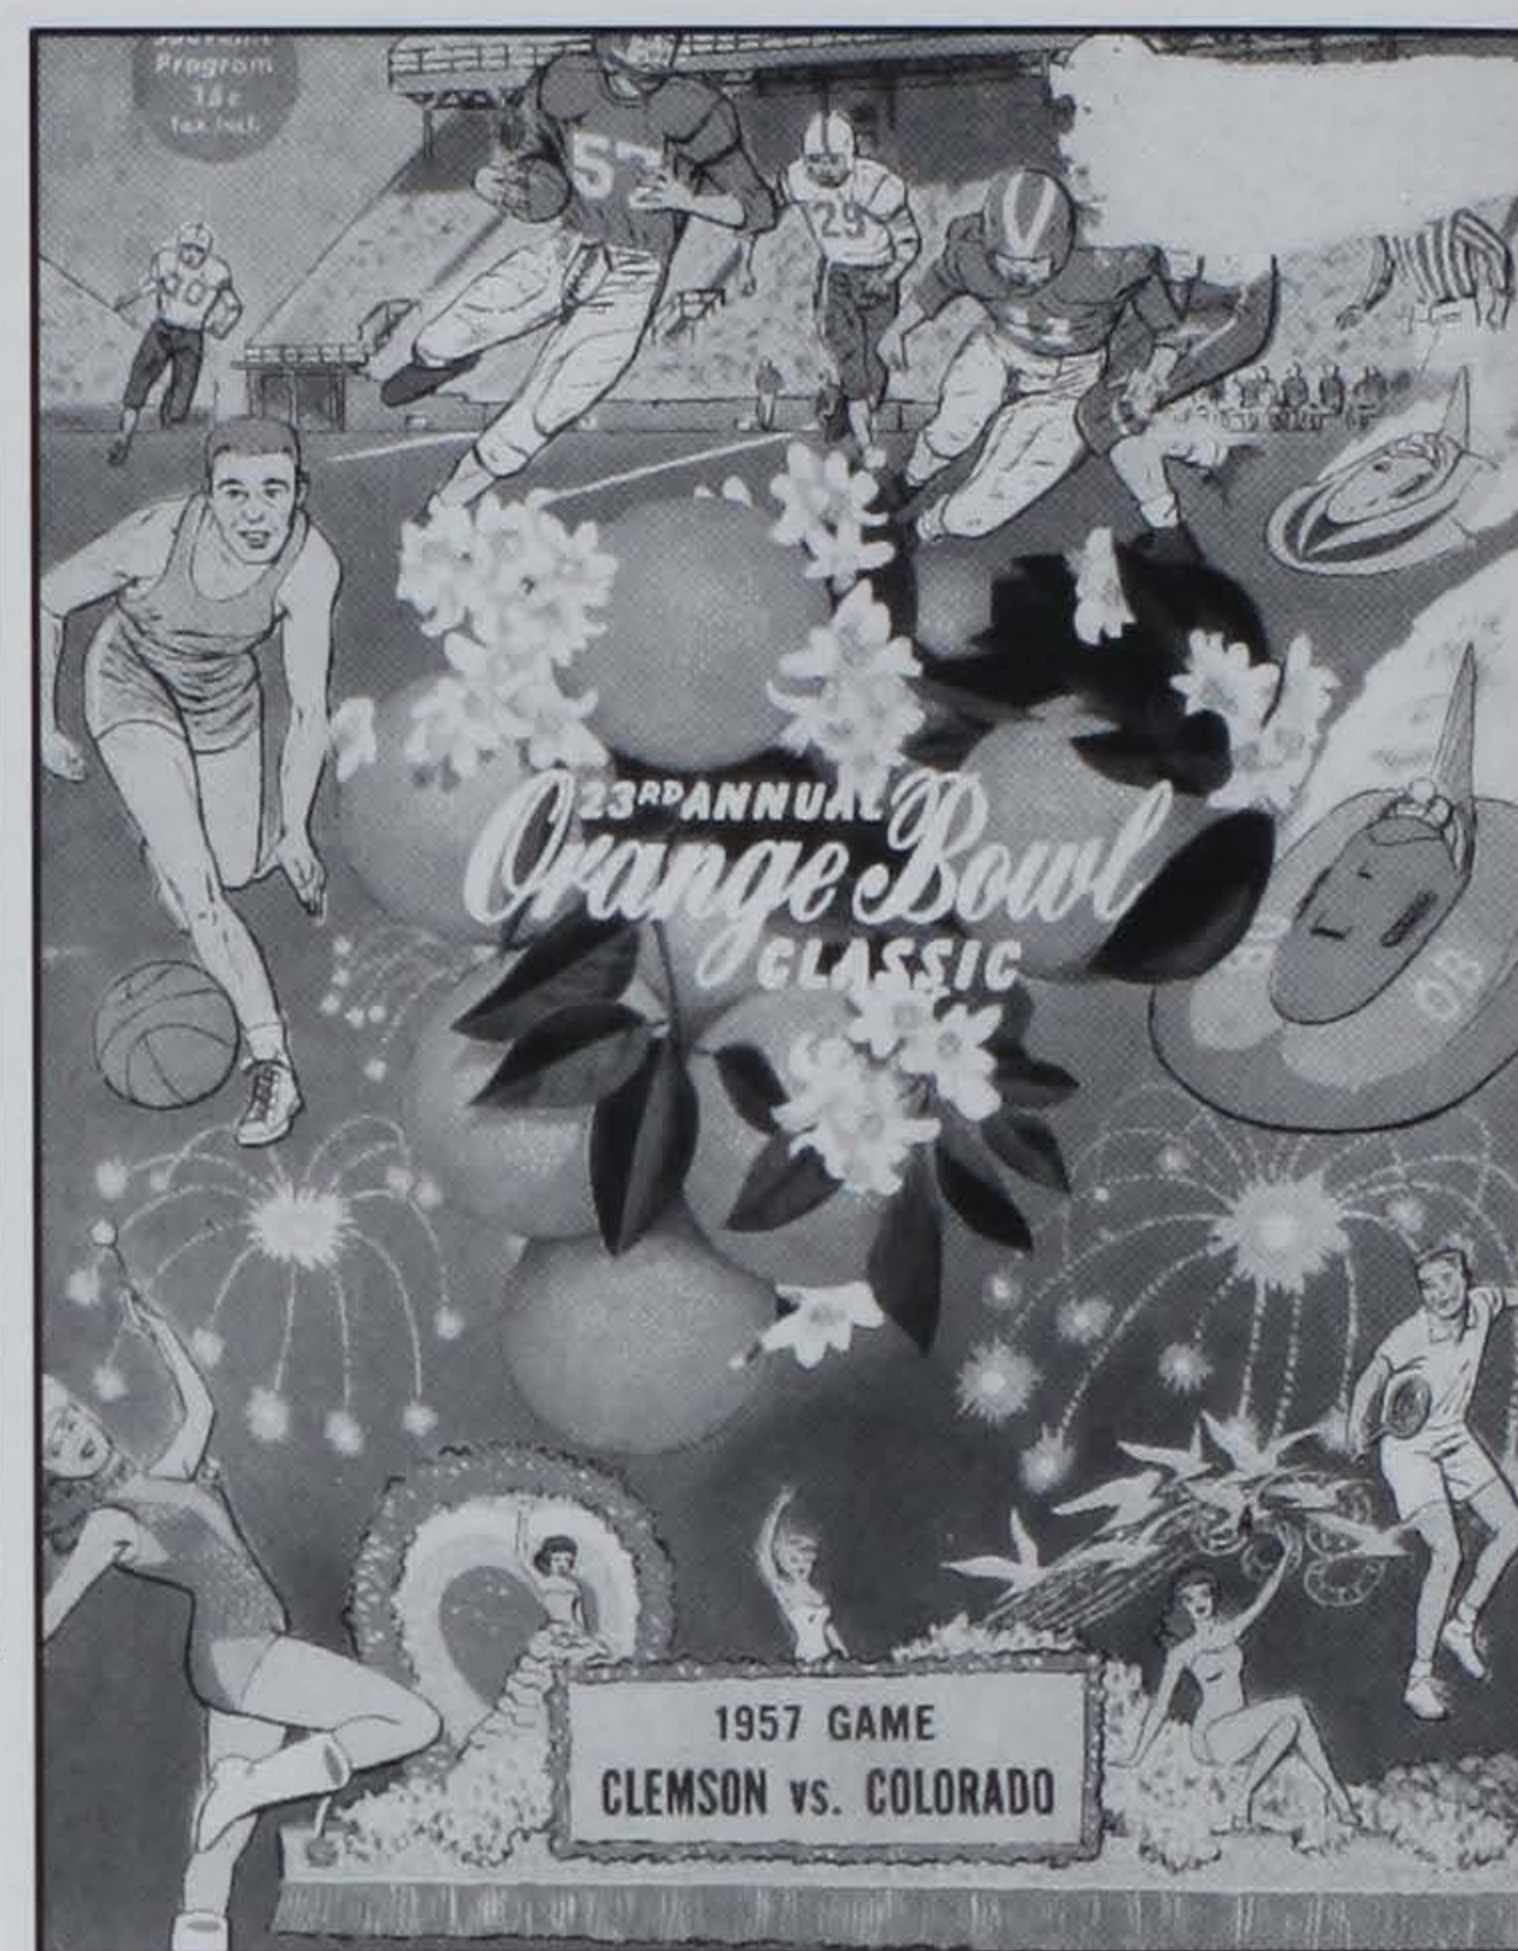

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led, 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

Frank Howard's threatened resignation during intermission inspired Clemson's comeback in the second half.

"I told them I was going to resign if they didn't play better in the second half. I told them I didn't want to be associated with any team that played like they did in the first half."

When Howard met Dal Ward, Colorado's Head Coach, at midfield, Ward asked him what was the matter with his team. Howard replied "I just don't know."

Later Howard explained that the Tigers just refused to block in the first half, but in the second half they got down to business. He had words of praise for John Bayuk, Colorado's big fullback, and said he was as good as any fullback that Clemson had faced all year.

Bob Spooner scored an important fourth-quarter touchdown for the Tigers.

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take a 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

LSU drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its first six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the LSU 27 on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, however, LSU got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for LSU at the Clemson 11.

LSU picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the end zone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and LSU led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the LSU 28, but Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was incomplete. LSU took over on downs and ran out the clock.

Star of the Game

George Usry had eight tackles, including five unassisted, to pace the Clemson defense that limited the 1958 National Champions to 182 yards and just seven points.

In his usual relaxed way, Coach Frank Howard of Clemson said he was pleased with his team.

"Hell! I think we'd have beat them if that boy had held onto that little screen pass," Howard said. "I was going for those two points and beat them."

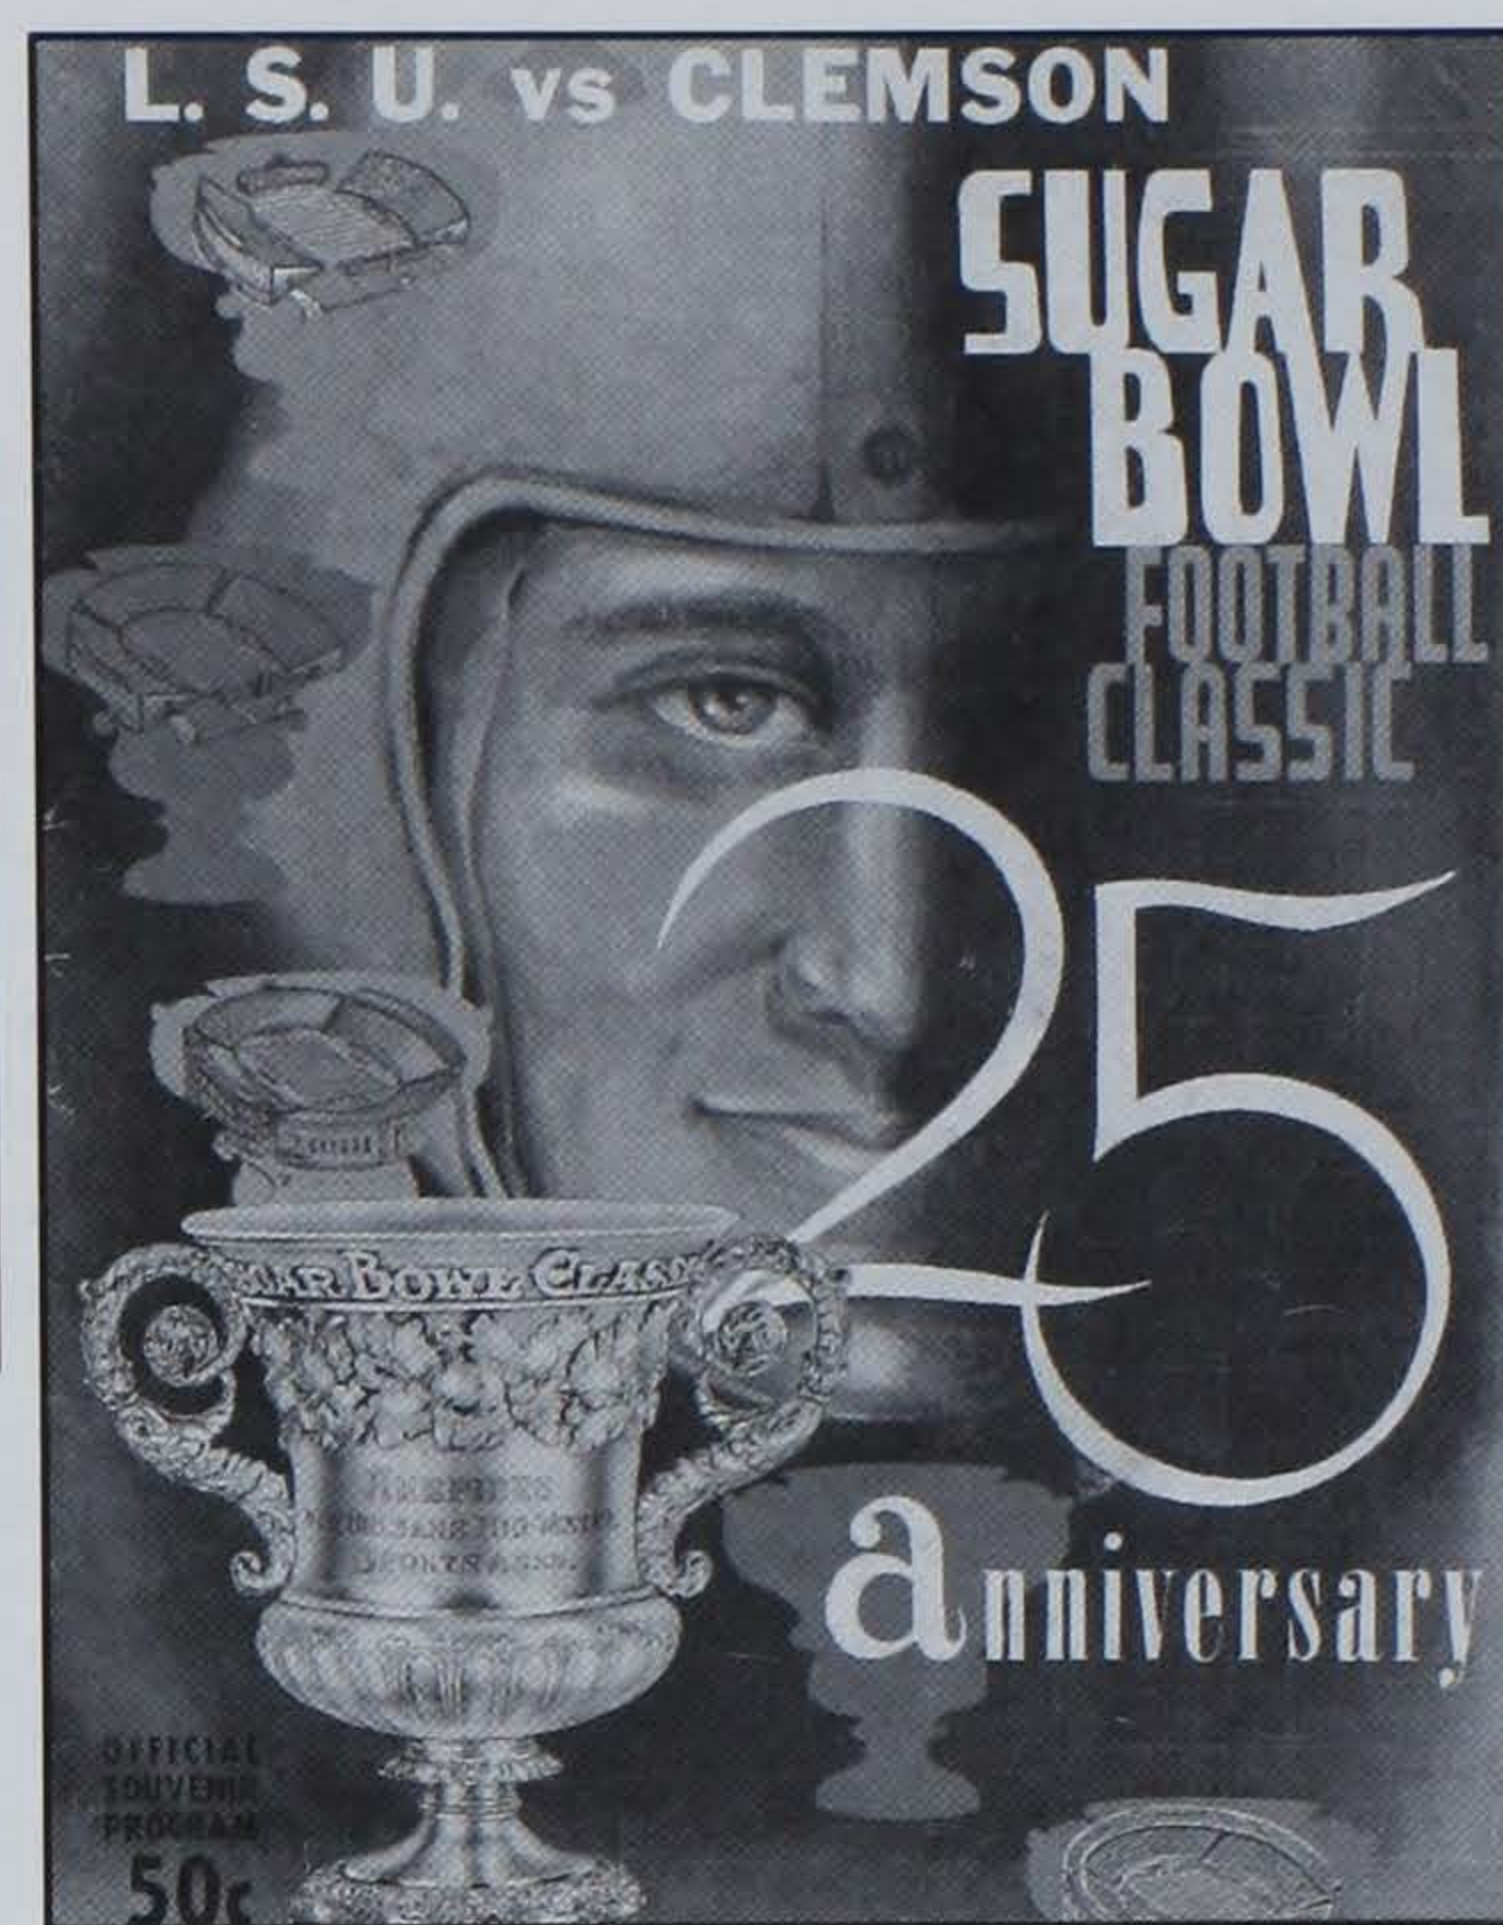

"I didn't think we would hold them to one touchdown, but I didn't think they would shut us out, either."

"LSU has a good team, they rate the No. 1 spot in the nation.

"Cannon is quite a boy. Deserves his All-American rating."

"It was a wonderful victory. They're just as fine when you win 'em, 7-0 as 30-0. I'm very happy that we won," said LSU Coach Paul Dietzel, who won the national championship at age 34.

"Clemson proved tougher than most people figured. But we knew we would have to play at our top peak to beat them. They were a good team."

1959 BLUEBONNET BOWL

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team. After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the TCU five, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started, to put Clemson up, 3-0.

Not to be outdone, TCU second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard halfback pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the TCU 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and TCU took over.

Lowndes Shingler was named the game's MVP for his all-around performance that included three rushes for 65 yards and 34 yards passing on 2-4 attempts. He had 51 yards in total offense over the last 12 minutes of the game and directed the Tigers to two scores.

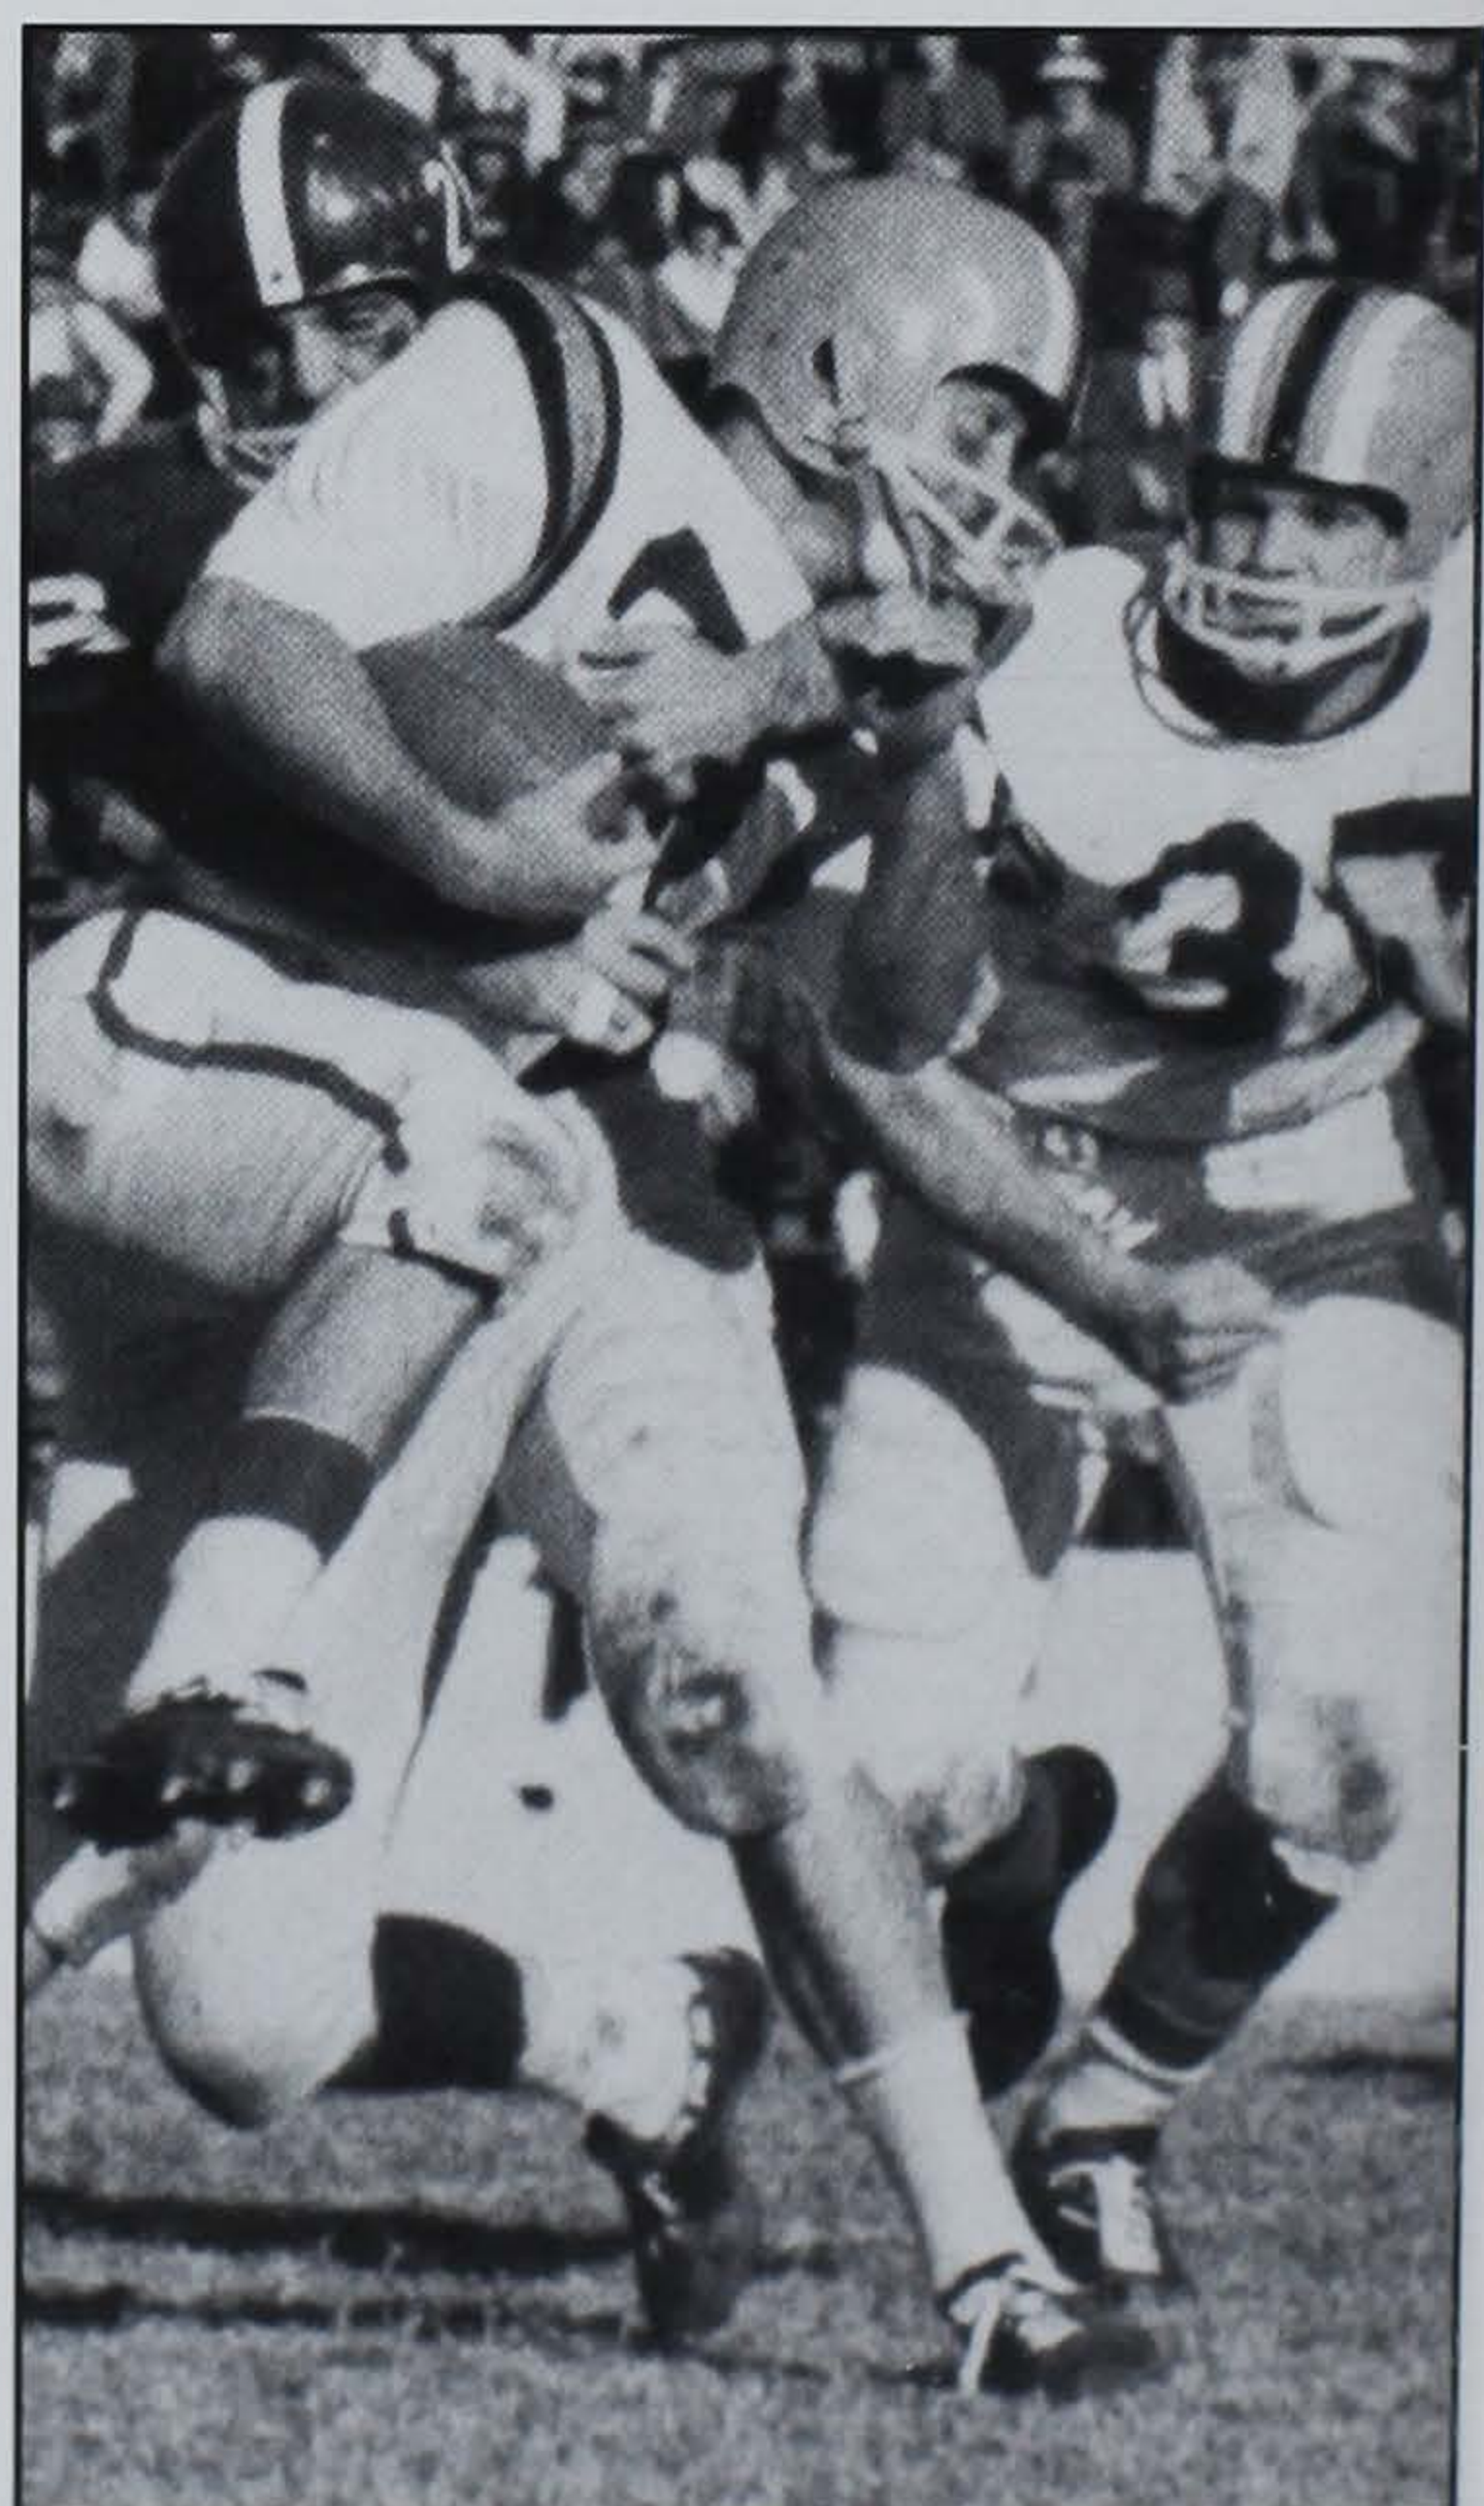

Harvey White and Gary Barnes connected on the key play of the game, a 68-yard scoring pass with 10:22 to go that gave Clemson the lead for good in the fourth period.

minutes and scored two touchdowns for a comfortable lead. With a third-and-18 situation at the Clemson 32, White threw to end Gary Barnes who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for a score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide, and Clemson led, 16-7.

Clemson returned to its running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the TCU one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for the score. Armstrong's kick put the game out of TCU's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making its first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and had come within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending National Champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history with a 34-3 score.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. Pitt set a Gator Bowl team record for passing yards and first downs, while Cavanaugh set the individual mark for passing yardage. If that was not enough, the Pitt defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers' offense did get on track.

Pitt was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pitt 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

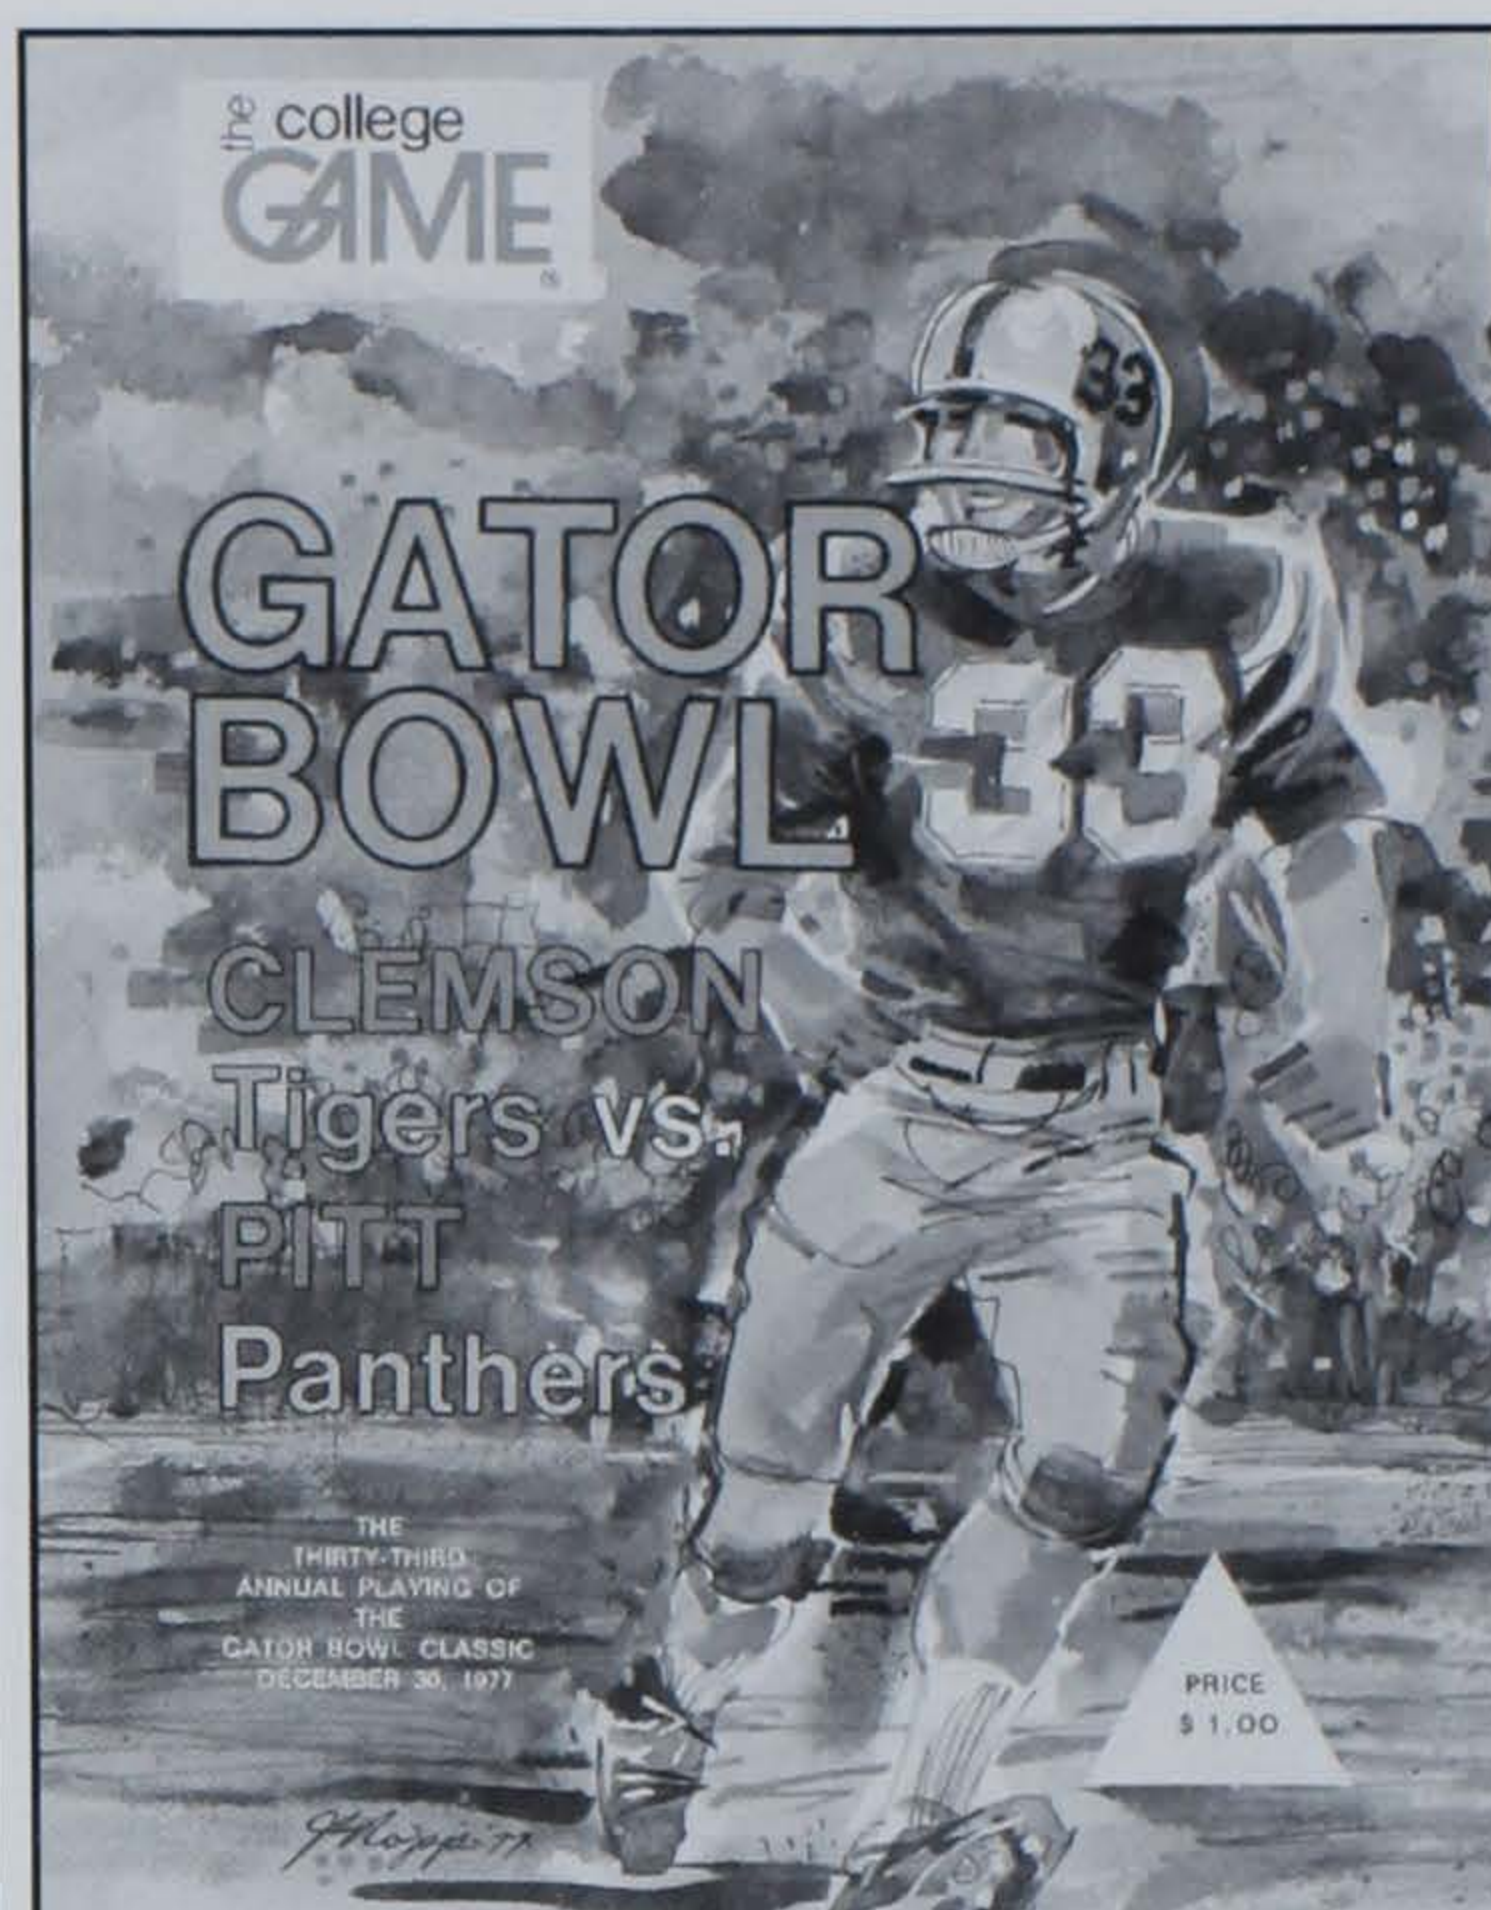

Although the Tigers were out-classed by Pittsburgh, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football pride for Clemson.

1978 GATOR BOWL

The Clemson team of 1978 was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The '78 team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the Gator Bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth-down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller himself ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead. Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-3.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 9-7.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal

Stars of the Game

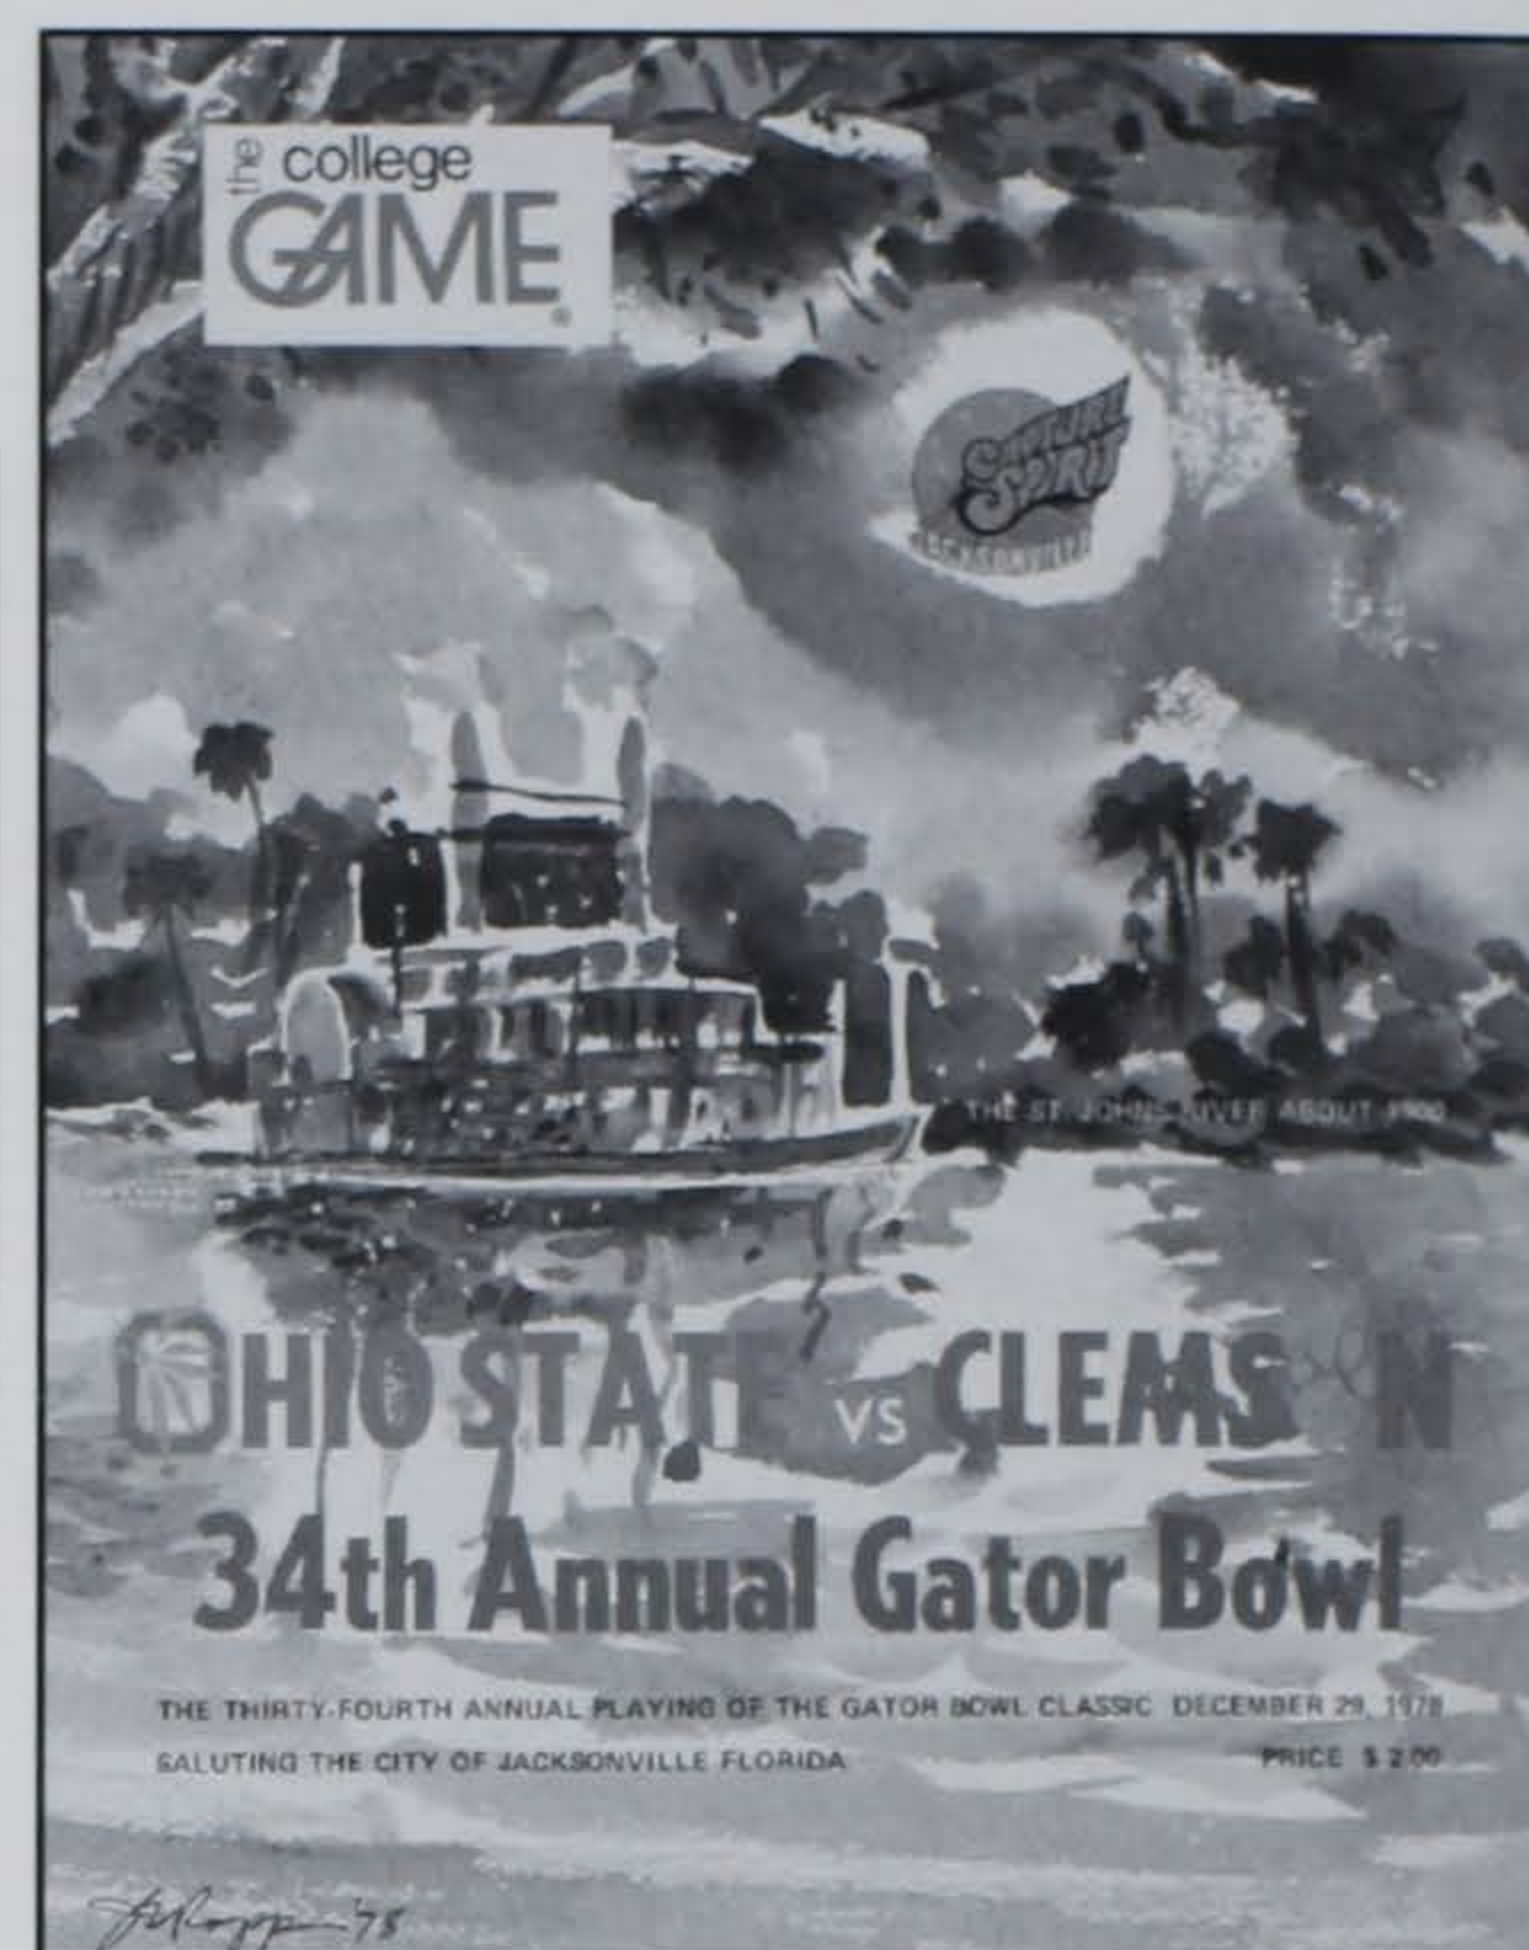

Steve Fuller was a coach on the field for the Tigers as he either passed or ran with the ball on 37 of Clemson's 80 plays. He gained 161 yards of total offense and scored one of Clemson's two touchdowns.

Charlie Bauman provided the key defensive play of the game with an interception at the Clemson 24 with just two minutes left. Ohio State never got the ball back. It was the only interception of Bauman's four-year career.

that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson still led at 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive. Faced with third-and-five at the Clemson 24, an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was run out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

Bubba Brown had 22 tackles against Ohio State, still the second highest single game figure in Clemson history.

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touch-

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining seconds for the win.

1982 ORANGE BOWL

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 24 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard half-back pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-American receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. For Tuttle, it was his eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis's 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Johnny Rembert, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive, then the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.

Homer Jordan won offensive MVP honors as he threw for 134 yards and was Clemson's second leading rusher with 46 yards. His running on Clemson's last possession allowed the Tigers to ice the game.

1985 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

Clemson met a Big 10 school for only the second time in history when it faced Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. It was an interesting matchup of teams that enjoyed moving the ball on the ground, as both clubs gained over 200 rushing yards in the contest. The team with the higher rushing total prevailed, a fact that was easily predictable, as the Gophers churned out 257 yards rushing in a 20-13 Minnesota win.

Clemson held a 13-10 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but for the fifth time in the last 13 games the Tigers could not hold the fourth-period lead. Valdez Baylor scored on a one-yard run with 4:56 left to give Minnesota a final ledger of 7-5. Clemson mounted a final drive in the last few minutes and advanced to the Minnesota 31, but a fourth-down pass for Ray Williams was overthrown.

Kenny Flowers had another outstanding day for the Tigers with a career high 148 yards, including a 32-yard run. It was his seventh 100-yard day of the year, his sixth century game in the last seven contests. Ray Williams caught five passes for 58 yards, while Terrance Roulhac had 63 yards in receptions and 90 yards in kickoff returns. Another wide receiver, Keith Jennings, scored Clemson's only touchdown when he caught a three-yard pass from Stacey Driver in the third period.

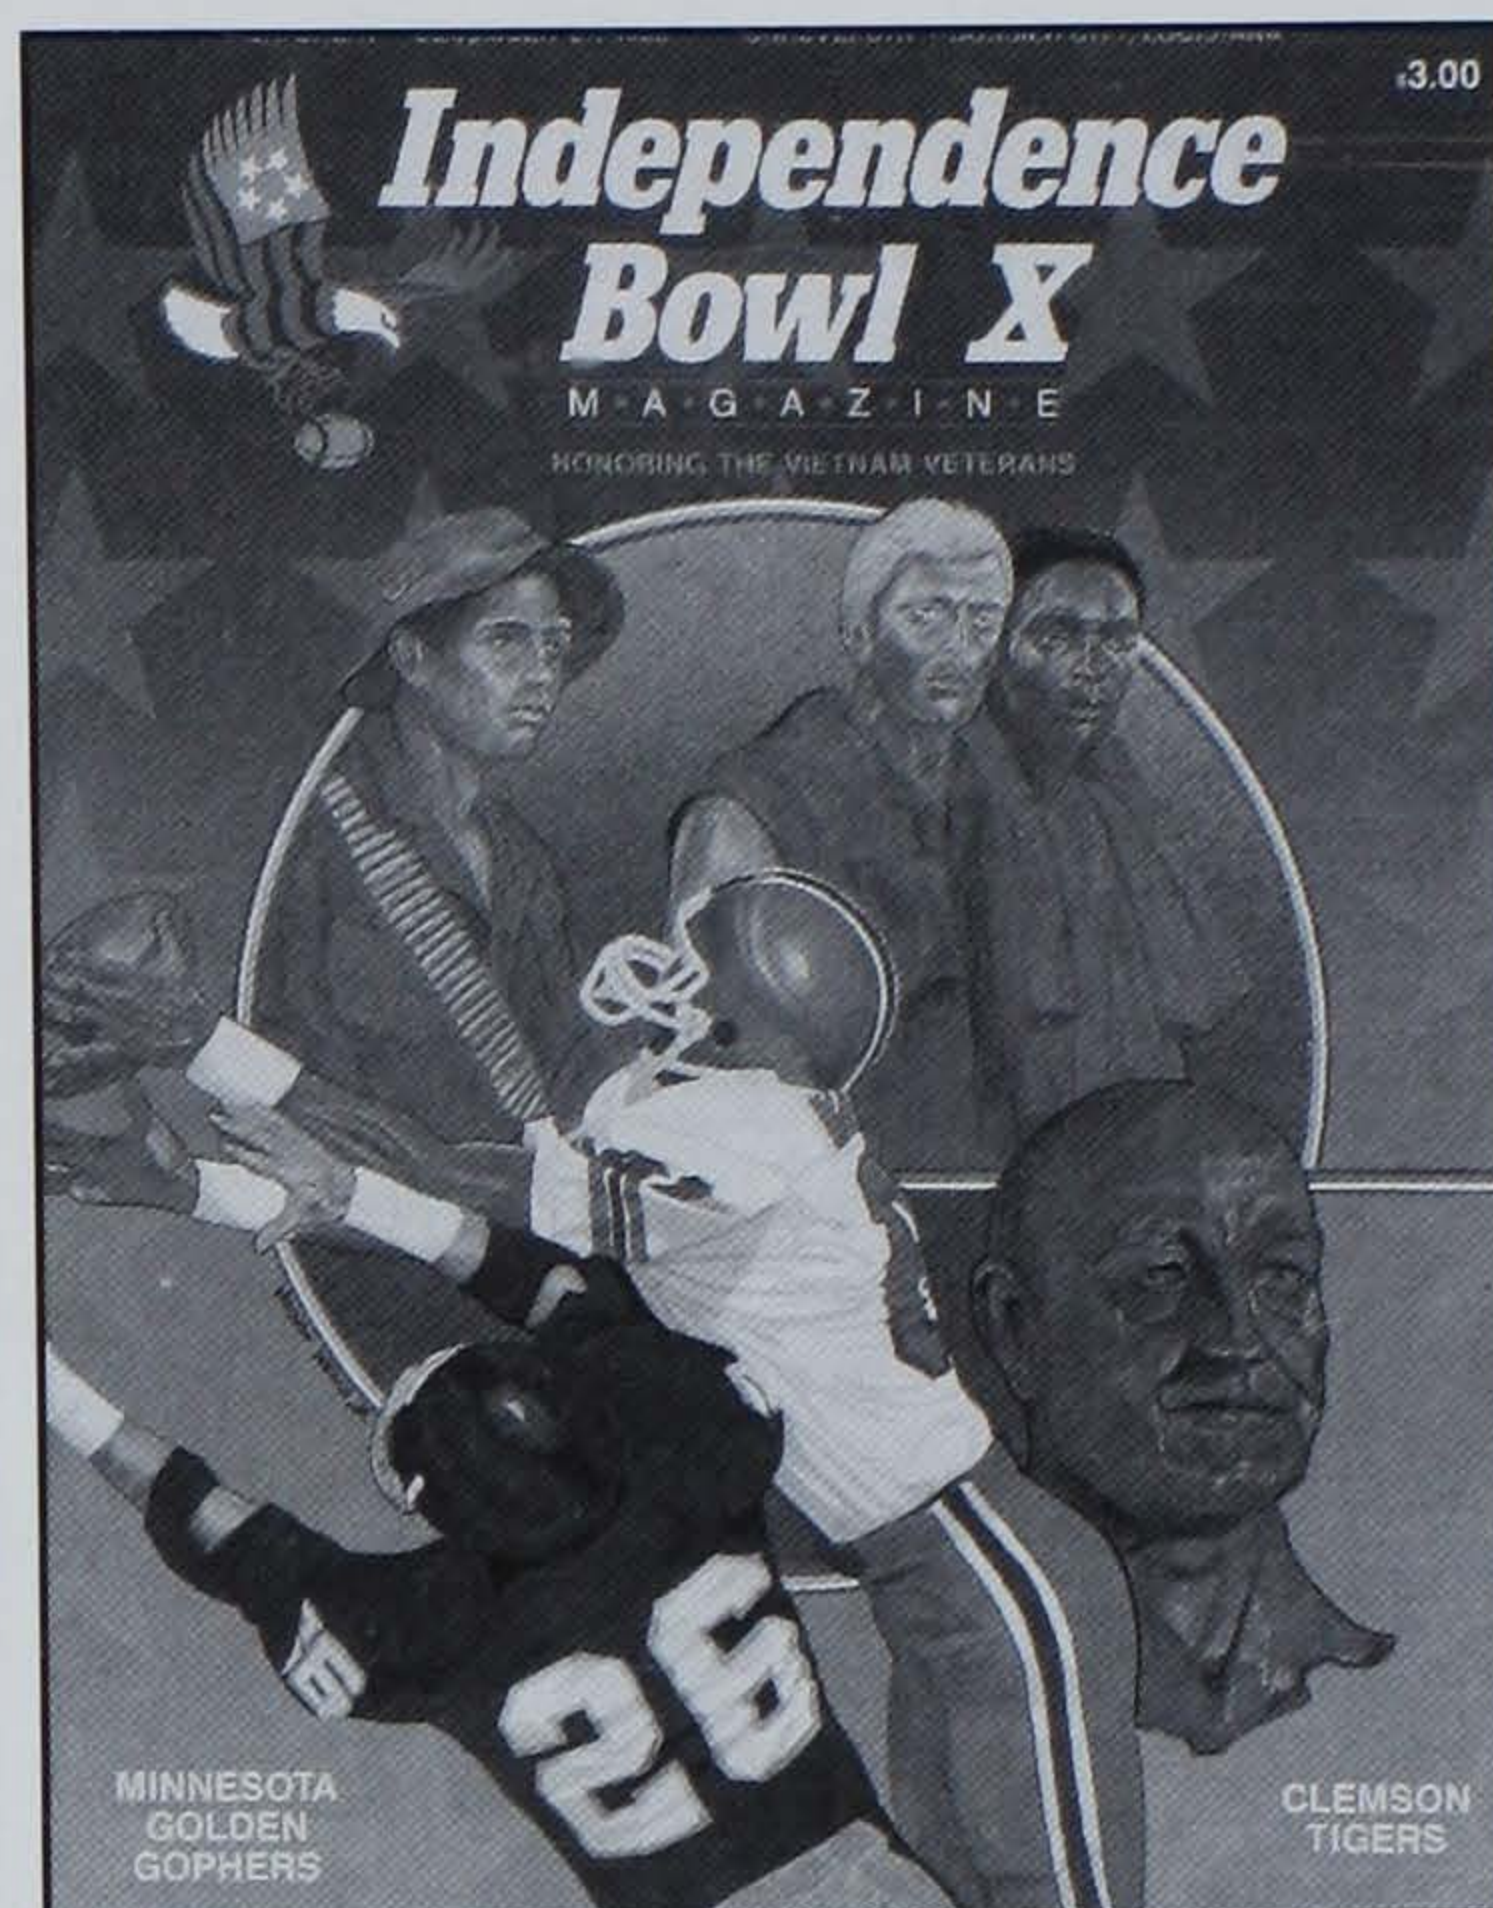

Henry Walls led Clemson defensively with 13 tackles, while A.J. Johnson was outstanding in the secondary with seven stops. Dwayne Meadows established a career high with 13 stops from his defensive line position.

1986 GATOR BOWL

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second-half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th-ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8 of 11 passes in the first half for the Tigers, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14 yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year on Clemson's next possession, putting the Tigers up 27-0 at the intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from halftime a different team. Kodak All-American tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touchdown and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

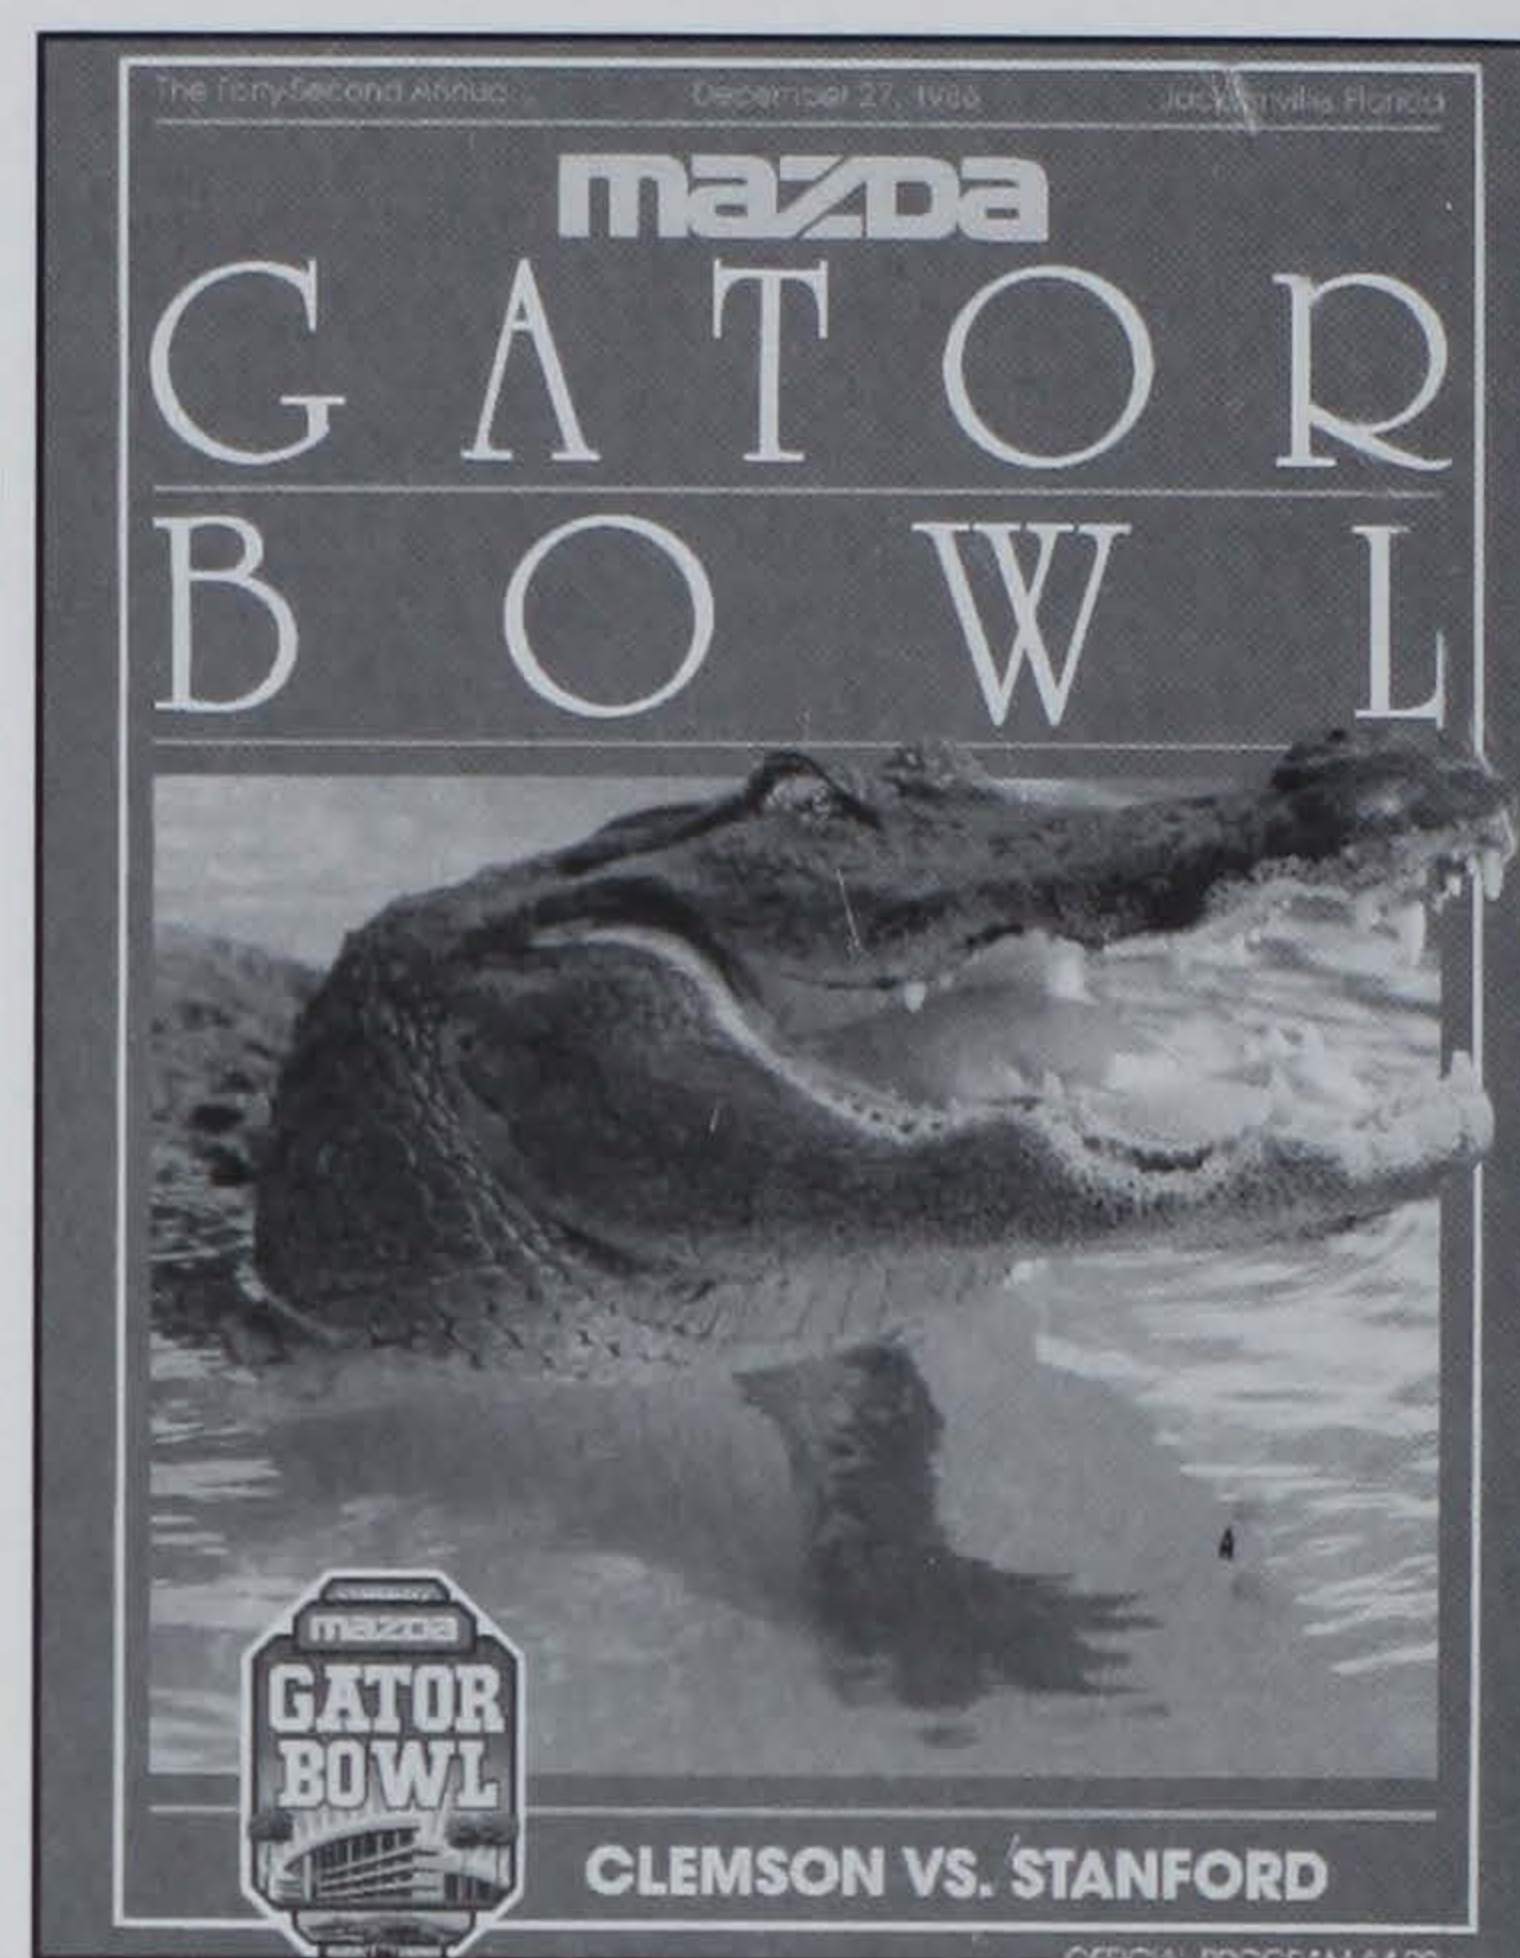

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goal-line situation in the first half.

1988 CITRUS BOWL

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team, 35-10. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most Valuable Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams' second bowl victory in his three-year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 14 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Gary Cooper also had four receptions for 56 yards against Penn State.

The Tigers rushed for 285 yards against Penn State. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards and another touchdown.

For the second straight year, Rodney Williams was named the MVP of a bowl game. Against Joe Paterno's Penn State team, Williams connected on 15-24 passes for 214 yards. His passing was a key reason Clemson had nearly 500 yards total offense.

Dorian Mariable won defensive MVP honors. The sophomore had five tackles, a tackle-for-loss, and a 46-yard interception return from the Clemson endzone that broke the spirit of the Nittany Lions.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles. Linebacker Dorian Mariable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

Tracy Johnson scored three TDs in Clemson's 35-10 win over Penn State, still the Lions worst bowl defeat in history.

1989 CITRUS BOWL

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a ninth-place ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford defeated the top-three winningest active coaches this decade with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Joe Paterno of Penn State.

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 yards, and zero touchdowns.

The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Jamelle Holieway at the 19. After an incomplete pass, the Sooners were forced to settle on a field goal and moved up 3-0.

Doug Brewster intercepted a Holieway pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers' first score, a 20-yard field goal by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A Clemson fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Clemson defense held and R.D. Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown, as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most

Oklahoma 6

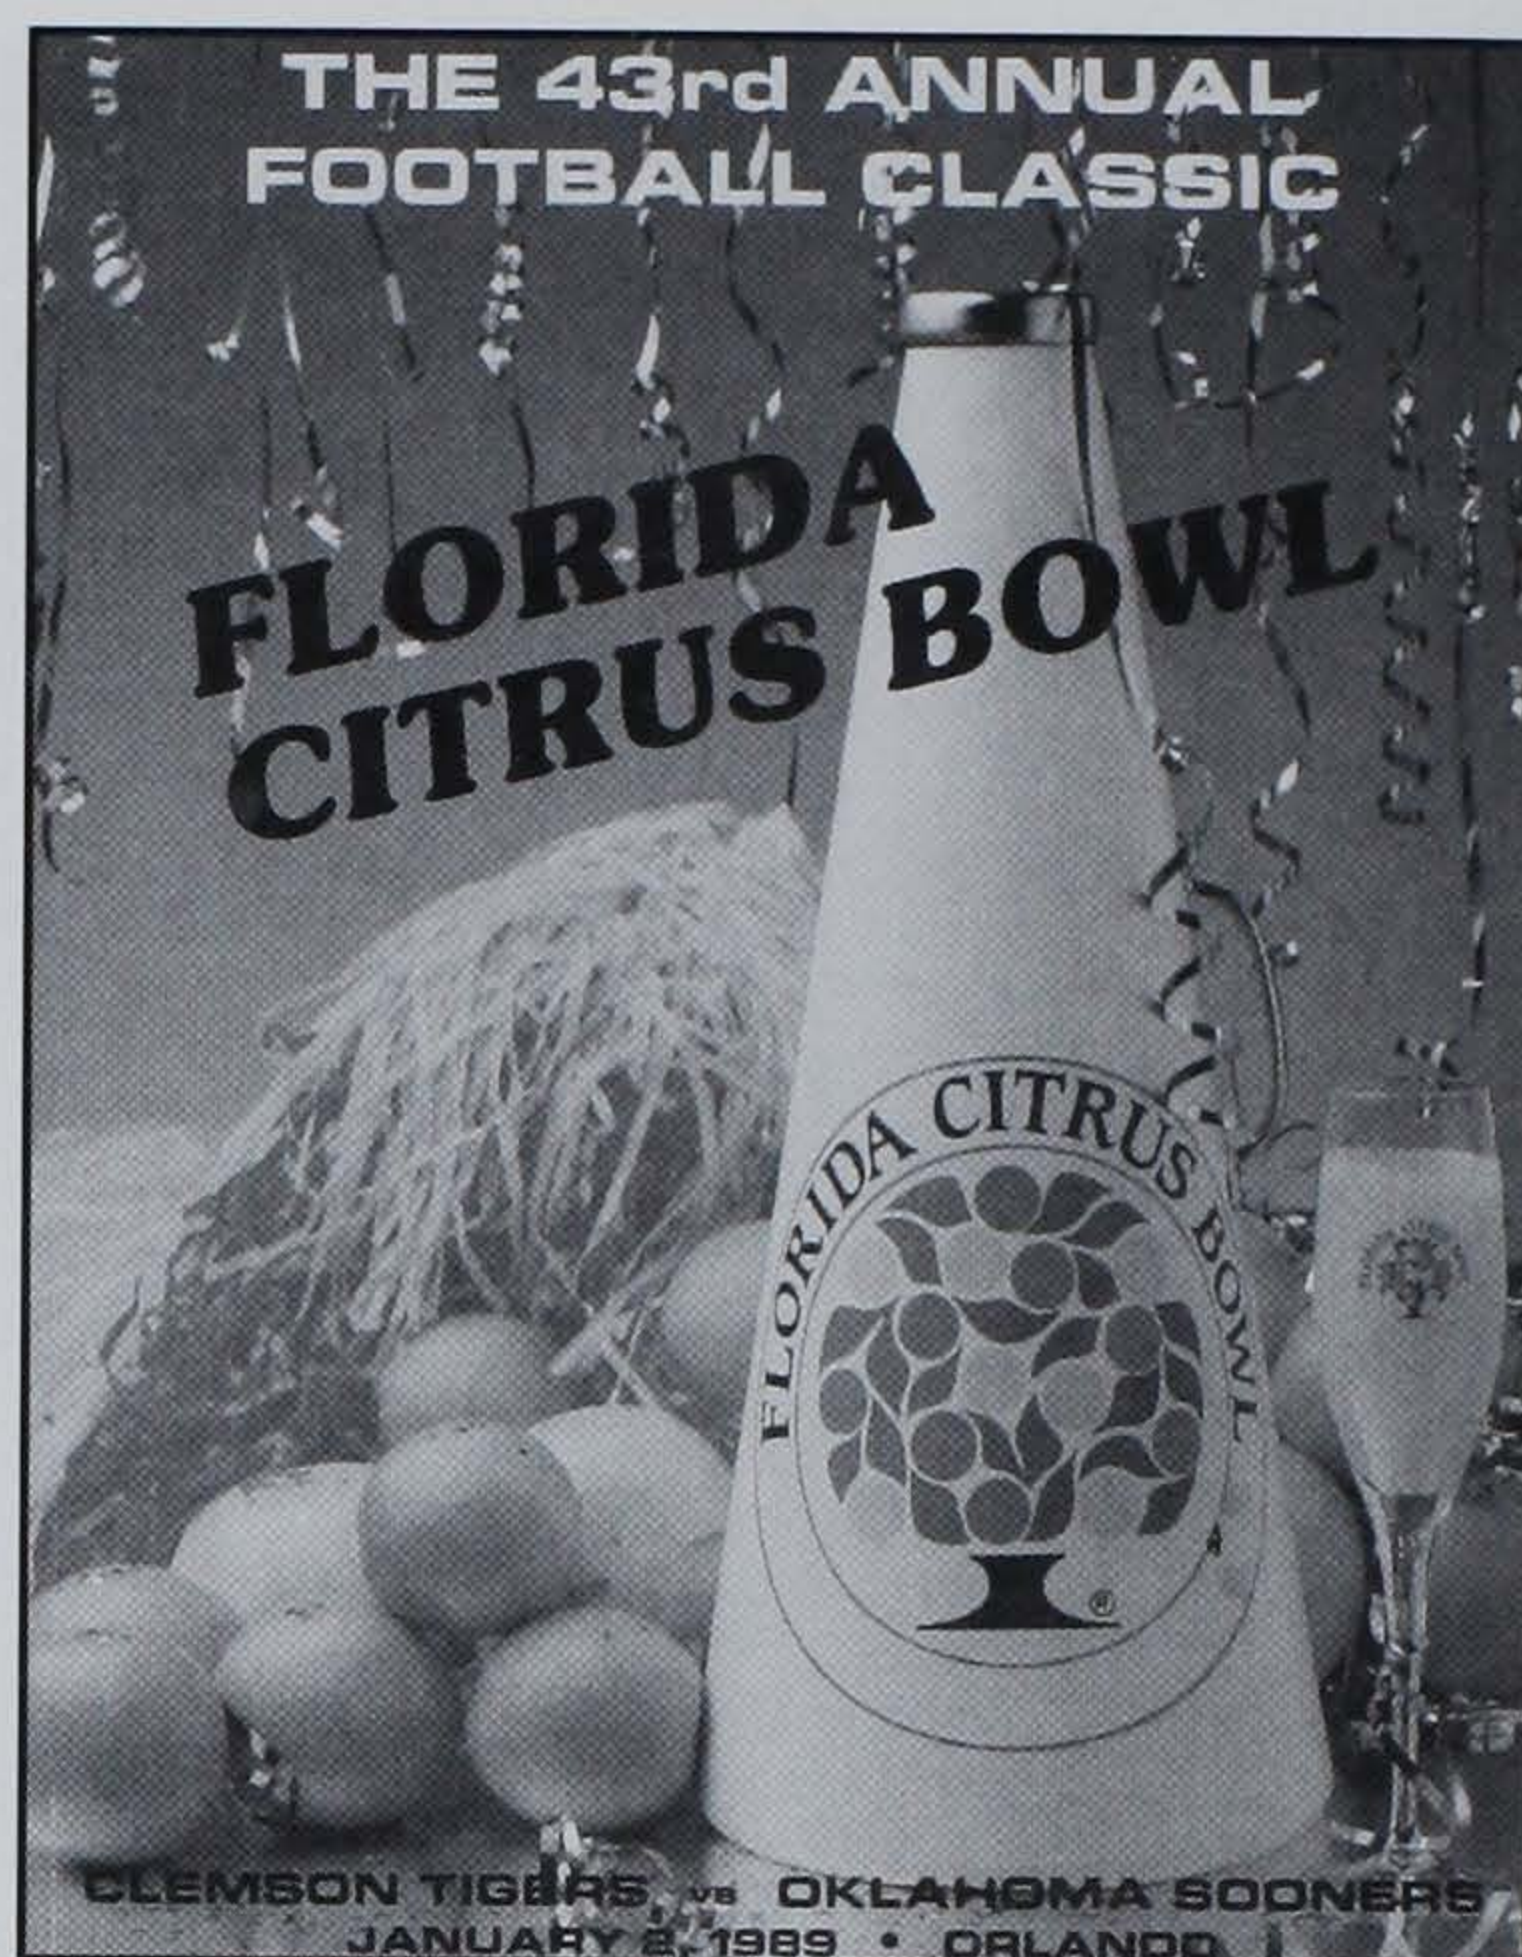

Stars of the Game

Terry Allen was the offensive MVP with 53 yards rushing and a career-high 47 yards receiving for 100 all-purpose yards in this defensive struggle. His four-yard touchdown run proved to be the game winner.

Jesse Hatcher was the defensive player of the game. He had nine tackles, a sack, two pass deflections and four quarterback pressures including one on the last play of the game that led to a thrilling pass deflection by Dexter Davis.

Valuable Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners' next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score before the final horn sounded. After the Tigers punted, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tiger secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tiger

Terry Allen was named the Citrus Bowl MVP for his performance. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes to lead all Clemson receivers. Bandit end Jesse Hatcher was named Defensive MVP for what was his best career performance as he racked up nine tackles, had two tackles for a loss of 33 yards, including an 18-yard sack, broke up two passes, caused and recovered a fumble, and had four quarterback pressures.

Jesse Hatcher had the best game of his career in his final game as a Tiger.

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

WVU quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in excellent field position as he posted a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63 yards. Defensively, inside linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.

John Johnson was one of four Tiger linebackers who put relentless pressure on Major Harris.

1991 HALL OF FAME BOWL

After a separation of 22 years, two coaches found themselves once again on the same football field. This time, however, they were on opposite sidelines. Ken Hatfield and John Mackovic, who had been graduate assistants together at Army in the 1960's, were reunited in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl.

The Clemson defense dominated the line by holding Illinois to 247 yards, 150 yards under their season average. The Clemson offense surprised the Illini defense with an unexpected aerial assault. Tiger quarterback and game MVP DeChane Cameron, who was less than a 50 percent passer in the regular season, completed 14 of 19 passes for a Hall of Fame Bowl record 73 percent.

Cameron's passing yardage totalled 141 yards and he completed TD passes to Doug Thomas and Howard Hall. It was the first TD reception for both players in their respective careers. Thomas caught five passes on the day for 57 yards, career highs for both categories for the senior in his last game as a Tiger.

Clemson took its opening possession 71 yards to the Illinois two where Chris Gardocki tapped in any easy three. After Illinois fumbled on its first offensive play of the game, Clemson scored a touchdown with a 14-yard pass from Cameron to Thomas. Clemson had not scored a passing touchdown in any of its four previous bowl victories.

In the second quarter, the Tigers would score two more touchdowns. The first was the result of a 17-yard Cameron pass to fullback Howard Hall. It was just the third TD

DeChane Cameron was named game MVP as he connected on 14-19 passes for 141 yards and two scores. His performance set a record for completion percentage in the Hall of Fame Bowl.

John Johnson had seven tackles, including a pair of sacks to lead a Clemson defense that shutout Illinois and held John Mackovic's team to just 247 yards of total offense, 59 on the ground.

pass to a Clemson fullback in the last 18 years. Clemson then put the contest out of reach just three plays later when Arlington Nunn scored on a 34-yard interception return. It was the senior's third TD on an interception return in 1990, a Clemson record.

The Clemson defense continued to hold Illinois throughout the remainder of the game. John Johnson led the Tiger pass defense as he picked up two sacks to lead a Clemson point prevention unit that had six sacks on the day. Illinois reached the Clemson eight-yard line in the fourth quarter, but the Tiger defense forced a fumble and Ed McDaniel picked up the ball. Illinois had the ball in Clemson territory just three times all day.

The Clemson defense earned its third shutout of the year. This was the first shutout at a Hall of Fame Bowl game and Clemson's third bowl shutout in 17 bowl appearances. The 30-0 triumph was a Tiger record for victory margin in a bowl game.

Arlington Nunn's interception return for a touchdown iced the victory for Clemson's #1 ranked defense.

Clemson's bowl game victory streak ended at five as the Tigers left the state of Florida with their first bowl loss since 1985, and their worst defeat since 1986, when the 14th-ranked Golden Bears of California defeated 13th-ranked Clemson 37-13 in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Also, for the first time since the 1988 season, the Clemson defense, which led the nation in rushing defense in 1991, allowed an opposing running back to rush for over 100 yards, as Cal's Russell White crossed the century mark with 103 yards.

The Golden Bears scored early and often in the first half, taking the opening kickoff 76 yards for a touchdown and adding a 31 yard field goal on their third possession. The Tigers were unable to gain a first down after the ensuing kickoff and were forced to punt. Although Chuck Lynch hit a 49-yard boot, California's Brian Treggs eluded the Tiger special forces unit and went the distance for a 72-yard touchdown. Clemson got on the boards for the first time with time running out in the first quarter as Nelson Welch connected on a 32 yard field goal on a drive highlighted by a 43-yard run by fullback Rudy Harris.

The highlight of the game for the Tigers came with just under five minutes remaining in the first half as quarterback DeChane Cameron broke loose for a 62-yard scoring romp. That play marked the longest run from scrimmage for a Clemson quarterback in 13 years, but also marked the DeChane Cameron had 189 yards in total offense, including a 62-yard touchdown run that is the second longest touchdown run by a Clemson quarterback in history.

Chester McGlockton, playing in his final game at Clemson, had six tackles, including three tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks.

only touchdown that Clemson would score that afternoon.

The only score for Clemson in the second half was a 36-yard field goal by Welch in the third period, while the Golden Bears would add a field goal and a touchdown on a 23-yard pass play. The Tiger defense managed to hold Cal scoreless through the fourth quarter, but Clemson could not put up any points, as they turned the ball over three times on interceptions and once on downs.

Two Tigers who were playing in their last game in Clemson uniform were named team MVPs in the loss. Defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, who had six tackles for the game, including three tackles for loss and one-and-a-half sacks, was named the Tigers' defensive MVP, while quarterback DeChane Cameron was named the Clemson's Most Valuable Offensive Performer, after he scored Clemson's only touchdown and had 189 yards in total offense.

1993 PEACH BOWL

Heading into the Peach Bowl contest with Kentucky, Clemson owned the seventh-best bowl winning percentage in college football history with a .611 mark. The Tigers upped that percentage in an exciting way with a 14-13 victory over Kentucky, putting Clemson's overall bowl record at 12-7. On the way to the victory, Tommy West became the first coach in NCAA history to win his first game for a school in a bowl game without serving as an assistant coach in that program during the regular season.

West's first game as Tiger head coach did not lack for excitement, as Clemson sealed the victory with a 21-yard touchdown pass from Patrick Sapp to Terry Smith with 20-seconds remaining in the fourth quarter to give the Tigers a one-point victory. Smith led all Clemson receivers with four grabs for 56 yards for the contest.

A tandem of running backs who hailed from Pensacola, FL, led the Clemson rushing attack, as starting tailback Rodney Blunt rushed for a season-high 58 yards on 15 carries to lead the team. But, it was red-shirt freshman Emory Smith who was named the Tigers' Offensive MVP, as he rambled for 45 yards from his fullback position, including a two-yard touchdown run. Smith also helped set up the winning score on a 57-yard pass reception late in the fourth quarter.

Kentucky took the opening kickoff and drove 79-yards to the Clemson one, before linebacker Mike Barber forced a fumble that was recovered by LB Tim Jones. Clemson took over at the two, and starting QB Dexter McCleon engineered a 98-yard scoring drive that culminated in a one-yard run by Emory Smith.

The Wildcats drove back down the field on their next possession, this time reaching the Clemson one again, where they decided to go for it on fourth down. The Clemson defense held once again, as Emory Smith rushed for 45 yards and a touchdown and caught a key 57-yard pass on the final drive of the game to lead the Tiger offense.

Brentson Buckner was named defensive player of the game. He had a career high tying 12 tackles and three tackles for loss as Clemson held Kentucky to 293 yards of total offense and just one touchdown.

defensive tackle Brentson Buckner stopped the UK ball carrier for no gain. Buckner was named the game's Defensive MVP after tallying a dozen tackles, including three tackles for loss, and pressured the Wildcat quarterback three times. Buckner became just the fourth Tiger defensive lineman in the last eight years to record at least a dozen tackles in a game.

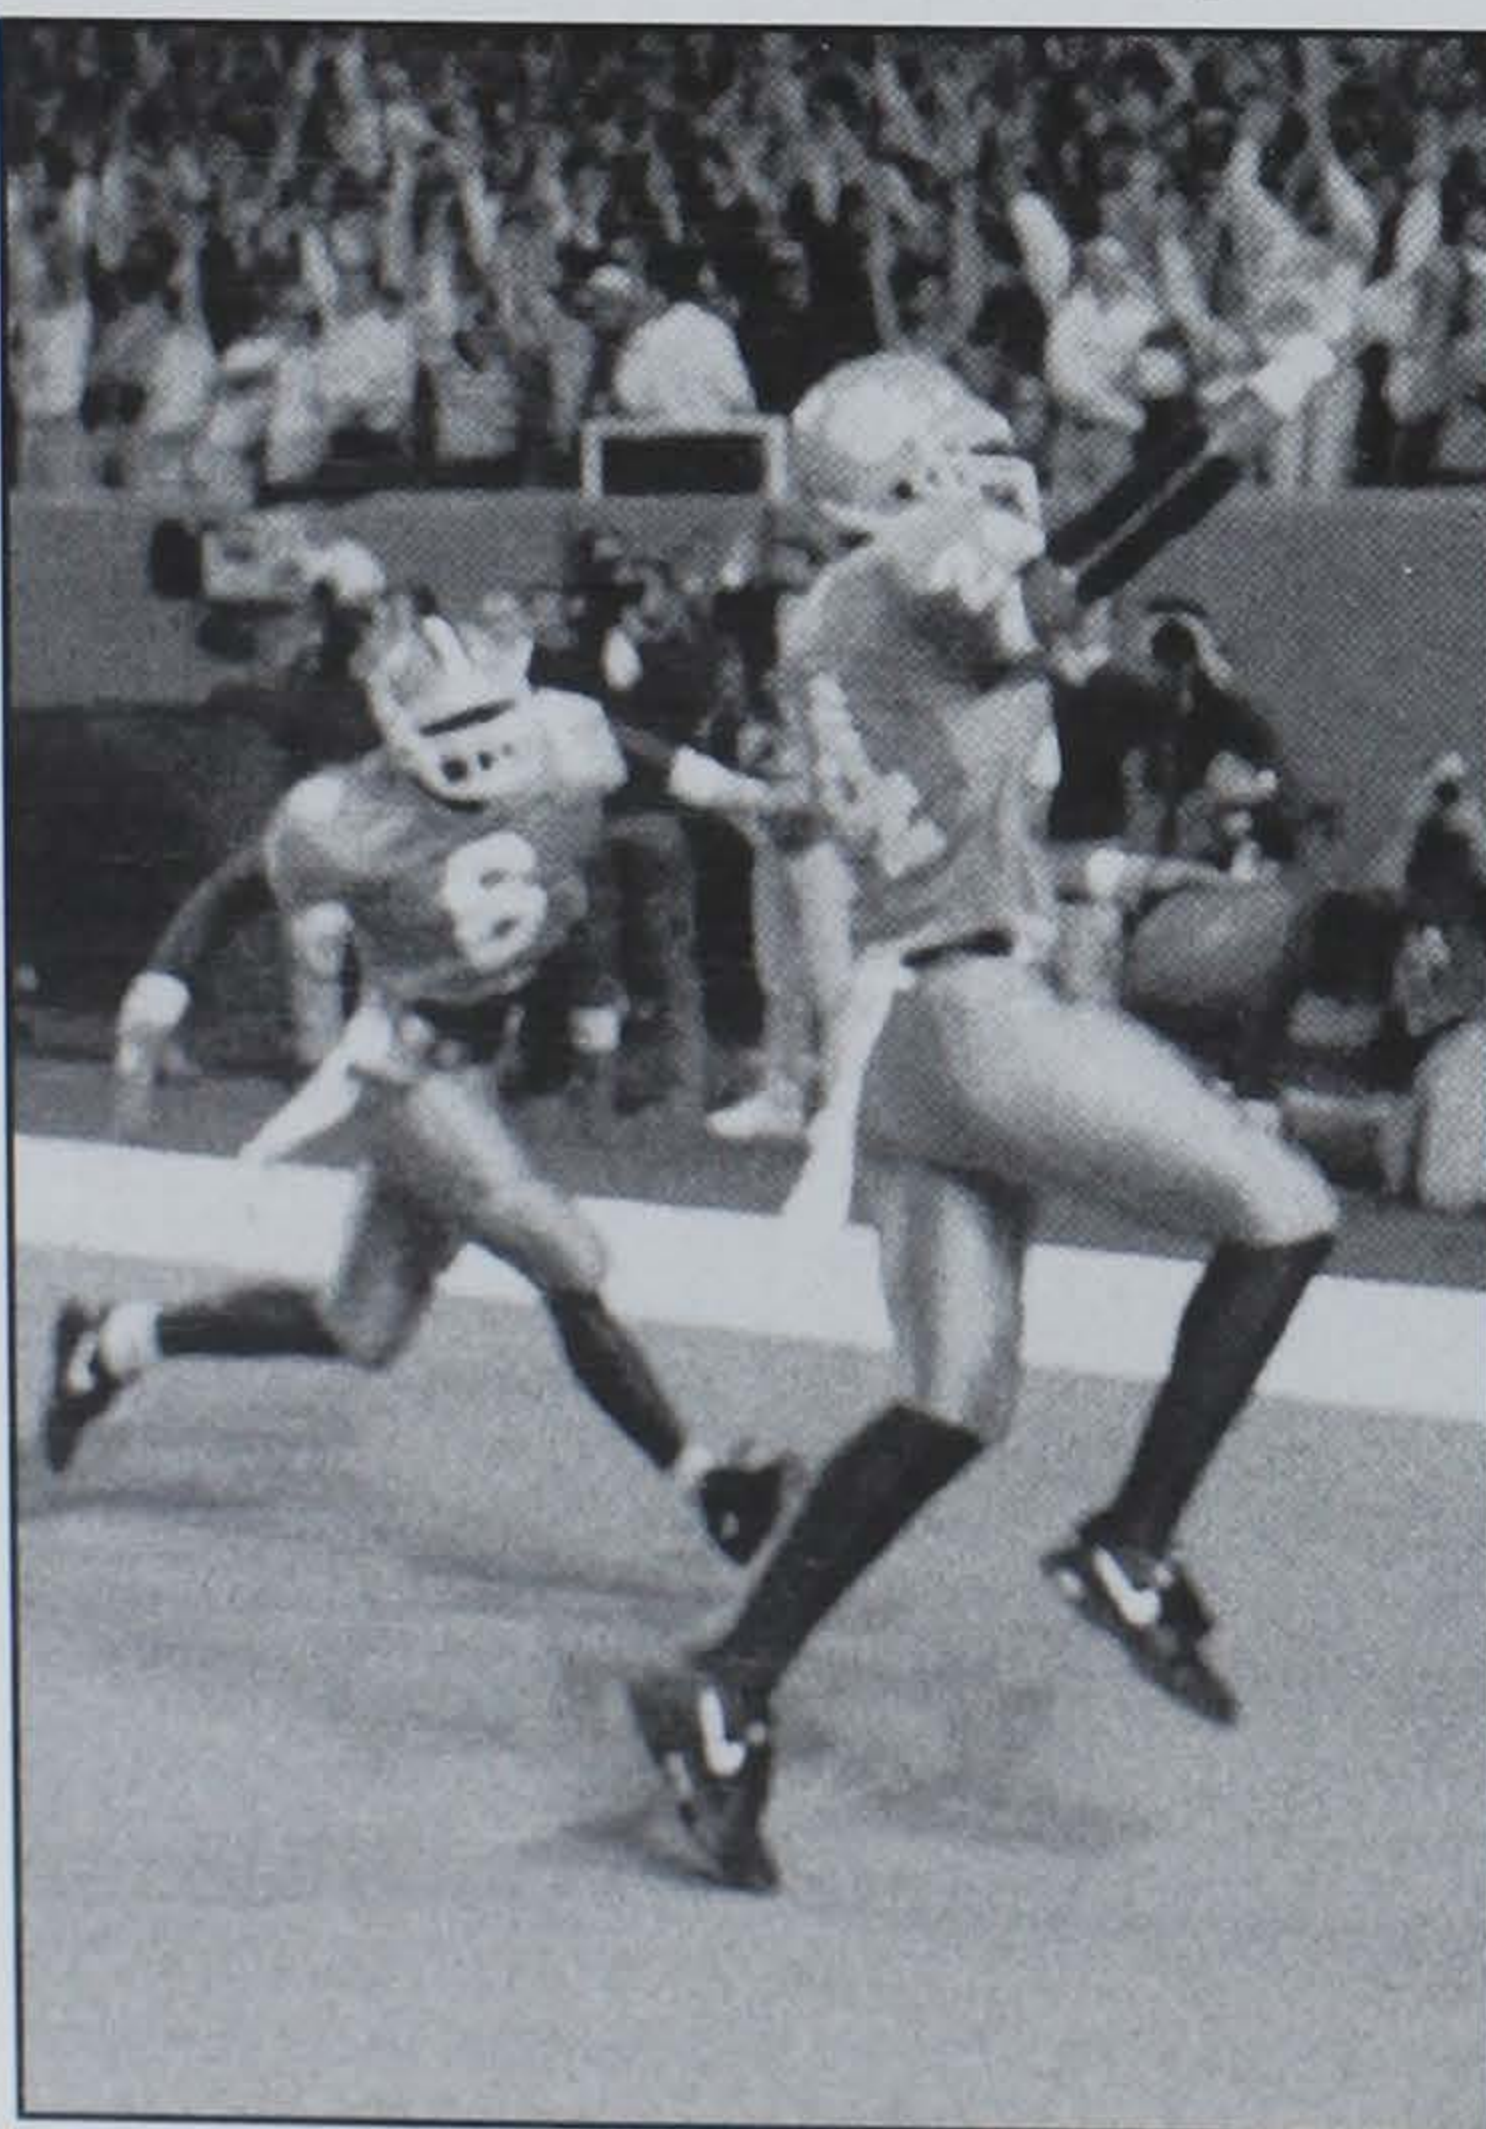

The Tigers were forced to punt after taking over at the one and Kentucky got on the scoreboard with a 17-yard field goal by Nicky Nickles. The score heading into the half stood at 7-3.

Neither squad scored in the third quarter, and barely into the fourth period, Kentucky took the lead with a 46-yard touchdown drive. On Clemson's next possession, McCleon was intercepted by Kentucky's Willie Cannon, and the Wilcats upped their lead to 13-7 on a 43 yard scoring drive, culminating in another Nickles field goal, this one from 26-yards.

With time running down in the fourth quarter, QB Patrick Sapp came off the bench after playing sparingly in the first half. The two teams exchanged punts before the Tigers got the ball at their own 18 with 3:50 left. On the first play of the drive, Sapp threw a screen to Emory Smith for 57 yards. With under a minute left, Kentucky linebacker Marty Moore intercepted a Sapp pass. But, on the return Stacy Seegars jarred the ball loose and Brent LeJeune recovered. With 20 seconds left in the game, Sapp connected with Terry Smith on a 21-yard TD and Nelson Welch hit the PAT to give the Tigers a one-point victory.

Clemson entered the 1996 Gator Bowl fresh off of five consecutive victories, including an emotional 38-17 win over arch-rival South Carolina. The Tigers had won six consecutive games away from Death Valley; but the streak ended there at the hands of Syracuse. The Orangemen handed Clemson its worst bowl defeat in its 20-game bowl history, 41-0.

In front of a rain-soaked crowd of mostly Tiger fans, freshman quarterback Donovan McNabb ran, passed, and beat the Tiger defense. McNabb, the MVP of the Gator Bowl, was unstoppable, as he threw three touchdown passes and ran for another. He completed 13 of 23 passes for 309 yards. Wide receiver Marvin Harrison was on the other end of many McNabb passes as he grabbed seven for 173 yards.

Malcolm Thomas scored less than two minutes into the contest on a one-yard run. On their next possession, McNabb led a 12-play, 62-yard drive that ended in a McNabb five-yard keeper for six. After a Kevin Abrams interception late in the first quarter, McNabb found Harrison wide open for a 38-yard touchdown reception.

In the second quarter, the Orangemen defense thwarted Clemson's best drive of the day. After Clemson had gone 53 yards on 11 plays down to Syracuse's six-yard-line, Clemson faced a crucial fourth-and-two situation. Down by 20 points, Clemson called a play action pass that was just out of the diving hands of tight end Lamont Hall.

Peter Ford was named Clemson's MVP of the Gator Bowl. The junior had an interception, five tackles, and a pass deflection.

Chris McNally set a Clemson bowl game record with a 49.3 average on six punts.

Dawkins and Patrick Sapp was a bitter-sweet one, although Sapp did register a sack for a nine-yard loss. The Tigers, who entered the game with the nations fourth best rushing attack could only manage 90 yards on 34 attempts. The Orangemen held Raymond Priester, the ACC's leading rusher, to just 36 yards on 15 carries.

Syracuse added two more touchdowns in the third quarter to put the game out of reach. After a 57 yard pass to Sir Mawn Wilson, Thomas ran two yards to the right for his second touchdown of the game. Thomas, a Jacksonville native, rushed for 71 yards on 14 carries. Each team traded prodigious third period punts, including a 73-yard effort by Sean Reali. The one bright spot for Clemson was senior punter Chris McNally, who averaged 49.3 yards on six punts. The Orangemen had their second one-play drive as McNabb hit Harrison over the middle for a 56-yard touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, Syracuse put the finishing touches on a brilliant performance as McNabb hit Kaseem Sinceno on third down in the right side of the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown reception. Syracuse ended the day 12 of 19 on third down and held the ball 10 minutes longer than the Tigers.

Brian Dawkins was Clemson's top tackler against Syracuse, his final game as a Tiger.
